Assured Guaranty Ltd.	05/04/2022	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. The magnitude of CEO pay warrants continued close monitoring, although some mitigating weight is placed on the company's difficulty in selecting comparable peers. While investors would benefit from disclosure of STI threshold and maximum goals, the annual program is predominantly based on objective goals that appear reasonably rigorous. Further, the majority of LTI awards are earned based on clearly disclosed multi-year goals, with a relative TSR metric that targets outperformance and a cap on vesting in the event absolute TSR is negative. BankFinancial Corporation	05/27/2022	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	The 2021 say-on-pay proposal received low support from shareholders. The company failed to provide details regarding its engagement with shareholders and shareholder feedback; however, meaningful changes were made in the executive compensation program. The compensation committee demonstrated poor responsiveness to shareholder concerns following last year's low say-on-pay support. In addition, the pay-for-performance misalignment is not mitigated given that there is poor disclosure under the bonus plan and equity awards lack disclosed performance criteria. Barnes Group Inc.	05/06/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Annual incentives were earned above target against financial metrics that were set below last year's actual performance. While investors are generally understanding of lower year-over-year targets, given the pandemic's unexpected effect on 2020 target-setting, some may question why FY21 targets were set below performance actually achieved in 2020. This is particularly concerning for the year in review because the metrics accounted for 80 percent of the annual incentive payout, and both were earned at maximum. Lastly, the committee also increased the CEO's long-term incentive opportunity, amidst long-term TSR underperformance, with limited rationale.	Yes	No	No

In addition, On Dec. 29, 2021, BCB Community Bank (the "Bank"), wholly owned banking subsidiary of the company, implemented a defined benefit supplemental executive retirement plan (the "SERP") for the benefit of Thomas Coughlin (president and CEO). Cadence Bank	04/27/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Although the annual and long-term programs are predominately performance-based, there are concerns surrounding the lack of disclosed forward-looking goals for retention and integration awards granted to two NEOs in connection with a recent merger. In addition, although the weighting of PSUs significantly increased year-over-year, the increase in PSU weighting was effectuated through a significant increase to the CEO's target LTI opportunity, which comes amid long-term TSR underperformance and for which a compelling rationale is not disclosed in the proxy. In addition, the company entered into a problematic consulting agreement with the vice chair, which provides for a sizable consulting fee in exchange for a minimal monthly work requirement.	Yes	No	No

Callon Petroleum Company	05/25/2022	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Although some concern is raised by the annualized performance periods for the FY21 long-term performance award, the LTI program remained primarily performance based, and some improvements to the structure of the award will occur in FY22. In addition, a closing-cycle LTI grant vested below target, which was largely in line with performance, while the annual incentive awards were primarily based on pre-set, objective metrics.	No	No	No
Cambridge Bancorp	05/16/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted due to an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment. Concerns are raised with respect to the rigor of the goals used for long-term incentive awards as awards may be earned at median performance. In addition, the lack of disclosure on the actual results with respect to the metrics used in prior cycle awards is concerning, especially since awards were earned above target. Furthermore, the company maintains agreements with the CEO that contain a modified single trigger change in control provision.	Yes	No	No

Cargurus, Inc.	06/07/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The pre-set goals and actual results are not disclosed for the annual incentive, which impedes shareholders' ability to assess the merit of payouts and rigor of goals. In addition, no rationale for the payout structure of the annual bonus was disclosed, which may guarantee certain payments to executives if full-year performance targets are not met. Finally, the committee's decision to remove the performance vesting conditions for equity awards is viewed as egregious. This concern is compounded when considering the CEO's 2021 awards were front-loaded, essentially locking-in his awards to be entirely time-based for the covered four-year period.	Yes	No	No

Yes	Yes	No
Cass Information Systems, Inc.	04/19/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. The CEO's total pay is of significant magnitude, largely due to continuous increases to base salary, which has a ratcheting effect on the target bonus opportunity as well as the LTI grant value. However, both the annual bonus as well as closing cycle PSUs were earned below target for the year in review, which is in line with overall company performance. Furthermore, the STI was based entirely on a pre-set, financial metric and LTI awards are majority performance-based with forward-looking goals. Continued monitoring of the pay program is warranted to ensure that pay outcomes align with company performance.	No	No	No

Positive changes to the annual incentive program in FY21 included the introduction of a more formulaic approach to annual incentives, with a majority of annual incentives based on quantitative metrics. The proxy also demonstrated improved program disclosure for qualitative metrics and above-target payouts under the program appear aligned with the company's strong performance in FY21. A majority of the CEO's long-term incentives are also performance-based and the most recent vesting cycle was forfeited, in line with TSR underperformance over the period.	No	No	No
Central Pacific Financial Corp.	04/21/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	There are some concerns regarding a decrease in the CEO's PSU weighting amid a larger than normal grant, lack of complete LTI goal disclosure and LTI goal rigor. However, the company expects the weighting of the CEO's FY22 PSUs to increase, and the value of his award to return to a more typical size. In addition, annual incentives are predominately based on objective financial metrics with disclosed goals, PSUs are capped at target if absolute TSR is negative, and outstanding PSUs are currently tracking below target, which is aligned with long-term share price underperformance. On balance of these factors, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Given the concerns noted above, close continued monitoring of LTI awards and payouts is warranted.	No	No	No

The CEO's relatively high pay consists of a high base salary, an outsized discretionary bonus, and equity awards which were primarily time-vesting. Although the annual incentive is based on pre-set goals, objectives are described in primarily qualitative terms with limited disclosure of achieved results. Further concerns are raised by the entirely time-vesting long-term incentive awards. Although stock options for clinical-stage biopharmaceutical companies may be considered more performance-conditioned compared to other industries, many investors may expect the company to grant a portion of awards in performance shares given both that the company has reported positive revenue for several years and the CEO receives equity awards based on an above-median benchmark. Eagle Bancorp, Inc.	05/19/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	The STI and half of LTI awards are based on objective metrics, and the LTI utilizes multi-year goals that target outperformance. However, there are unmitigated concerns regarding the CEO's high target and maximum STI opportunities and STI program disclosure. The CEO's target STI opportunity is considerably larger than the median opportunity of peers, and her large maximum payout under the program contributed to a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment. Further, the proxy does not clearly disclose maximum STI goals on a per-metric basis, or how NEOs can achieve payouts above "target plus" opportunities, which is particularly concerning given that maximum payouts were earned in 2021 even though results for three of five metrics were achieved below target. Lastly, for the LTIP, the proxy does not disclose a vesting cap for negative absolute TSR. In light of the concerns noted above, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted.	Yes	No	No
Ecovyst Inc.	05/26/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted due to an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment. Majority of equity awards are time-vesting and the special equity awards vested in full after one year. Further, specific goals with respect to the performance-based portion of the equity awards are not disclosed. In addition, the company provided severance payments to the CEO upon a voluntary resignation. The payment of severance for a voluntary resignation is not a common market practice, as severance is intended as a protection against involuntary job loss.	Yes	No	No
Edgewell Personal Care Company	02/04/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Pay-for-performance concerns for the year in review are sufficiently mitigated, as executive compensation is reasonably performance-based. While there are concerns regarding performance equity goal rigor, disclosure of forward-looking performance goals improved, a majority of granted equity included performance conditions, and annual incentives were based entirely on objective financial metrics. Equity Bancshares, Inc.	04/26/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted. While a majority of the CEO's equity awards were time-vesting and a performance target under the bonus program was set below prior year actual performance without a sufficient rationale, these concerns are somewhat mitigated. The bonus program remains primarily based on pre-set performance goals and NEOs forfeited prior cycle PSUs when goals were not met.	No	No	No

EVO Payments, Inc.	06/08/2022	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	While the CEO's short- and long-term incentives are primarily performance-based, concerns are raised with the CEO's relatively high bonus opportunity and the long-term performance goals not being particularly rigorous given that they only required 10 percent stock price appreciation over a performance period of five years. In addition, the other NEOs received solely time-vesting awards. However, these concerns are somewhat mitigated given that in 2022 half of all NEO awards will be performance-based, and the awards will be subject to more rigorous performance goals. As such, a cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted.	No	No	No

Flowserve Corporation	05/12/2022	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The company's regular annual and long-term incentive programs appear to be strongly performance-based, with the entire annual incentive and half of the long-term incentive tied to objective and quantifiable performance measures, and below-target payouts under both programs were aligned with the company's performance. However, one-time retention equity grants made to all of the NEOs in FY21 raise significant concerns given that none of the grants are tied to performance conditions, and the grants were in addition to regular LTI awards. Further, the CEO's retention grant significantly elevated his total pay at a time when performance lagged comparators and shareholders experienced losses.	Yes	No	No

G-III Apparel Group, Ltd.	06/09/2022	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Following last year's failed say-on-pay vote, the committee demonstrated only limited responsiveness to shareholder concerns, with changes to the compensation program failing to address the major shareholder concerns regarding the structure and magnitude of annual bonuses and total compensation for CEO Goldfarb and NEO Aaron. Further concerns are raised by the pay program for the year in review. Although the committee implemented formulaic bonuses for two NEOs, disclosure of metric goals and payout formulas was incomplete, and CEO Goldfarb and NEO Aaron earned significantly outsized annual bonuses paid partially in fully-vested stock subject to relatively short holding periods. Although the committee modified FY22 long-term incentive awards from entirely time-vesting to half performance-based, forward-looking metrics were not disclosed. Lastly, concerns remain with respect to the large life insurance perquisite provided to the CEO.	Yes	No	No
Garrett Motion Inc.	05/26/2022	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A review of the company's executive pay program does not raise significant concerns at this time. Therefore, support FOR this proposal is warranted.	No	No	No
GCP Applied Technologies Inc.	05/03/2022	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted and pay and performance are reasonably aligned at this time. Shareholders should note that the compensation committee determined to remove the 2021 AIP's gateway performance metric in light of raw material and logistic costs due to inflation and the global pandemic, but capped bonus payouts at 40 percent of target. In addition, the company accelerated bonus payments and payout of equity awards to take advantage of tax planning opportunities, in anticipation of the company's acquisition later this year. However, they are subject to repayment if the NEOs' employment is terminated for cause/without good reason prior to the date that these otherwise would have been settled.	No	No	No

Gentherm Incorporated	06/02/2022	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted. The company reverted to its pre-pandemic annual incentive program. Although the adjustments caused an overachievement, the compensation committee exercised its discretion to limit the payout to target level. In addition, pay and performance are reasonably aligned at this time.	No	No	No
Genworth Financial, Inc.	05/19/2022	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. There are some concerns regarding STI program structure, LTI goal rigor and severance disclosure, which warrant continued monitoring. However, pay and performance are reasonably aligned for the year in review. In addition, the CEO's equity awards were delivered entirely in performance shares earned based on clearly disclosed multi-year goals.	No	No	No

Glaukos Corporation	06/02/2022	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. The CEO's annual incentive awards were entirely based on pre-set objective goals, although the proxy does not disclose the threshold and maximum goals for the operating expense metric. Half of the CEO's long-term incentive awards were performance based. The company introduced a multi-year measurement period with the 2021 PRSUs, where awards are earned based on receipt of regulatory approvals for designated pipeline products within a four-year period. Concern exists that half of the 2021 PRSUs were earned less than one year from date of grant. However, the grant-date value of the portion of the award that vested is not excessive, and the earned awards are subject to additional vesting criteria. Additionally, previously granted PRSUs were earned below target, and realizable pay outcomes aligned to shareholder returns over the most recent three-year period. Nevertheless, continued monitoring of the pay programs is warranted.	No	No	No
Global Blood Therapeutics, Inc.	06/14/2022	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. The committee was sufficiently responsive to last year's failed say-on-pay vote, committing not to grant off-cycle LTI awards to NEOs unless there are extraordinary circumstances, and implementing additional changes for the 2021 and 2022 compensation plans. However, continued monitoring of pay levels is warranted, to ensure equity values normalize, and also with regard to the annual-cycle long-term incentive awards, which were entirely time based, but are expected to include a performance-based component in 2022. Globus Medical, Inc.	06/02/2022	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	Although some concerns are noted, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned at this time.	No	No	No

GlycoMimetics, Inc.	05/18/2022	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. While concerns are raised given that a majority of equity awards are time-vesting, the pay-for-performance misalignment is mitigated at this time. The new CEO's pay consists primarily of new hire grants and the short-term incentive program is entirely based on corporate objectives.	No	No	No

GrafTech International Ltd.	05/12/2022	Management	Yes	7	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted given the following: * The CEO's equity awards in the most recent fiscal year lack performance-vesting conditions; * Equity award arrangements provide for single-trigger accelerated vesting upon a change in control; and * The company lacks compensation risk-mitigating policies such as a clawback policy, stock ownership guidelines, or holding period requirements for executives. Great Southern Bancorp, Inc.	05/11/2022	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	Support for this proposal is not warranted. Shareholders expressed a certain level of dissatisfaction with respect to the company's executive compensation practices. While the company did not disclose shareholder engagement efforts or their specific feedback, the company amended the pay program to address concerns reflected in the low vote result. However, several other concerns are highlighted with respect to the company's compensation practices. Equity award arrangements provide for automatic accelerated vesting upon a change-in-control, the company has legacy arrangements with Chairman W. Turner and CEO J. Turner that provide for a severance payment that exceeds three-times the sum of an executive's base salary and target bonus (the upper parameter of reasonable amounts under current market norms), the company does not disclose a sufficient compensation clawback policy, sufficient stock ownership guidelines, or holding period requirements for executives, and the company does not condition the vesting of long-term awards on achievement of performance goals.	Yes	Yes	No
Green Dot Corporation	05/19/2022	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted. The compensation committee demonstrated sufficient responsiveness to a certain degree to shareholder concerns following last year's low say-on-pay support. Concerns are raised with the executive compensation program, such as discretionary bonuses being paid when the gateway metric was not achieved, performance-based awards utilizing annual measurement periods, and the CEO's one-time award being entirely time-vesting. These concerns are somewhat mitigated given that no one-time awards will be made (except for new hires and promotions), future performance-based awards will incorporate a three-year performance period, and the 2022 bonus program does not appear to allow for upwards discretion. Griffon Corporation	02/17/2022	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Do Not Vote	Do Not Vote	Do Not Vote	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. Following a third consecutive low say-on-pay vote result, the company engaged with shareholders and disclosed certain feedback received from these discussions. However, the only disclosed change to the pay program was relatively minor and, given the year-over-year decline in support, investors likely expected a more robust response. Additionally, pay-for-performance concerns persist within the executive pay program. Although there are positive features within the short- and long-term programs, the magnitude of the annual long-term compensation to the CEO is outsized compared to peers. On top of high annual pay, the company granted the CEO a sizeable one-time award that consists entirely of time-vested equity.	No	No	No

GTY Technology Holdings Inc.	06/21/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The pay-for-performance misalignment is not mitigated given that a majority of equity awards are time-vesting and the goals for the performance awards were not disclosed. In addition, the company has not yet determined the size of NEO bonuses for fiscal 2021, making it more difficult to assess pay and performance. Furthermore, the company amended the CEO's employment agreement to provide for multi-year guaranteed time-vesting equity awards, which is a problematic pay practice.	Yes	No	No
Guess?, Inc.	04/22/2022	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Do Not Vote	Do Not Vote	Do Not Vote	The board's 2018 investigation was insufficient, there is a credible risk to the Guess brand posed by Paul Marciano's continued involvement with the company, and the board has been unable to separate him from the company despite a growing chorus of public allegations of sexual misconduct. As removal of the Marcianos appears to be the only course available to begin a clean break in this long and sordid thread in the company's history, shareholders should WITHHOLD support for both Paul and Maurice Marciano by voting on the dissident card. Cautionary support is warranted FOR Anthony Chidoni, a member of the 2018 special committee that investigated the previous round of allegations against Paul Marciano. Support is merited FOR Cynthia Livingston.	No	No	No
Guess?, Inc.	04/22/2022	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Against	Against	Against	Against	There are significant concerns regarding pay quantum and equity award design. Both the CEO and CCO have significant base salaries and relatively large target annual incentive opportunities. In the case of the CCO, the amount is augmented by a second bonus opportunity. Further, some investors may object to magnitude of the CEO's one-time award made in connection with the extension of his employment agreement, particularly when the company has not realized superior shareholder returns. There are also design concerns identified for performance equity awards, including a short sustainment requirement period for stock price goals, and certain awards utilizing an annual performance measurement period. In light of these concerns, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted.	No	No	No

Harley-Davidson, Inc.	05/12/2022	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The committee made changes to compensation programs in response to investor feedback; however, concerns regarding the structure and magnitude of pay remain, particularly as the CEO's compensation nearly doubled year-over-year. The CEO's base salary remained high, even after the anticipated reduction for FY22. However, more concerning were actions taken in the long-term incentive program. The committee reduced the performance period for annual cycle long-term incentives from a multi-year measurement period to annually measured performance goals, limiting the long-term focus of the program. Further, the CEO's RSUs vest after just one year and his performance option grant does not require that the stock price achievements be sustained beyond the initial 10-day average.	Yes	No	No

The company disclosed that these changes were made in response to the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on its business. However, annual incentives are primarily based on preset measures and are capped at target if the company's absolute TSR is negative. Innospec Inc.	05/04/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Although a concern is raised given that the corporate free cash flow target was set below the prior year's target and actual achieved performance without a clear explanation, annual incentives were based on pre-set objective measures. The increase in FY21 pay reflected the transition to a new CEO, who received new-hire related compensation. INTELLICHECK, INC.	05/04/2022	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted due to an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment. The CEO received a sizable discretionary bonus and equity awards that are subject solely to time-based vesting. In addition, the company does not disclose a sufficient compensation clawback policy, sufficient stock ownership guidelines, or holding period requirements for executives.	Yes	No	No
InterDigital, Inc.	06/01/2022	Management	Yes	8	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Although the CEO's new hire and annual LTI awards are majority performance-based, there are significant concerns regarding equity award structure and disclosure. The CEO's new hire performance awards are based on undisclosed milestones that may be achieved at any point through 2026, and 150 percent of the target award was deemed earned merely six months after grant. Similar disclosure concerns are identified in the annual LTI program, and the majority of other NEOs' equity awards are time-based. Further, the company made adjustments to outstanding equity awards in the final year of the interim measurement period, resulting in near-target vesting, which marks at least the second time in three years in which outstanding awards have been adjusted. In addition, only 20 percent of the STI program is based on quantified financial metrics with disclosed threshold, target and maximum goals, with the remainder based on individual performance or goals which appear to incorporate a significant degree of subjectivity. Additionally, the CEO received excessive gross-ups related to relocation benefits.	Yes	No	No

Pay-for-performance misalignment concerns are sufficiently mitigated at this time. Although the bonus plan places significant weight on individual performance, payouts were well below target and aligned with performance. In addition, a majority of equity awards were subject to performance conditions. All of former CEO Blonigan's 2021 equity grants were canceled in connection with his termination.	No	No	No

Jefferies Financial Group Inc.	03/29/2022	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	Following the second consecutive year of low support for the say-on-pay proposal, the company disclosed details of its shareholder engagement efforts and certain feedback received. However, disclosure of certain expressed concerns is vague, and shareholders may question whether the transition to a new pay program that places a greater emphasis on discretion fully addresses their concerns. Disclosure around these issues needs improvement, and the committee has demonstrated only a limited degree of responsiveness to low say-on-pay support. The new pay program's reliance on committee discretion to determine NEO pay raises concerns, and incomplete disclosure of target goals, per-metric weightings, and target pay opportunities for certain NEOs inhibits investors' ability to fully assess the pay-for-performance linkage. Further, although half of FY21 performance year equity awards are based on clearly disclosed multi-year goals, the transition awards granted to the CEO and President in FY21 lack pre-set, multi-year performance criteria and vest solely over time. The magnitude of compensation opportunities for the CEO and President exacerbates structural concerns. In light of the company's limited responsiveness to last year's say-on-pay vote result and an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted.	Yes	No	No
JELD-WEN Holding, Inc.	04/28/2022	Management	Yes	9	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Above-target payouts under the annual incentive were aligned with improved financial performance in FY21 and target goals were set well above prior year's actual results. KAR Auction Services, Inc.	06/02/2022	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Annual incentives were entirely based on pre-set objective measures, while the annual-cycle long-term incentive awards were primarily performance based, although concern is noted about the lack of disclosure of the forward-looking targets for the PRSUs. The NEOs' front-loaded equity grants were also primarily performance based and are intended to serve as half of their entire long-term incentive compensation for the next three years.	No	No	No
Karuna Therapeutics, Inc.	06/15/2022	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. CEO pay was again elevated for the year in review, and equity grant values increased year-over-year. Long-term incentives remain entirely delivered as time-vesting options, which do not require the achievement of performance criteria in order to vest. The company also benchmarks long-term incentive values at the 75th percentile of the peer group, a practice which is generally disfavored by investors and which can lead to increased compensation without requiring a link to performance. Further, annual incentives were earned above target based on the committee's subjective assessment of performance, with limited disclosure of specific targets and achievements considered.	Yes	No	No
KB Home	04/07/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company maintains agreements that contain a modified single trigger change in control provision.	Yes	Yes	No
Kemper Corporation	05/04/2022	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Notwithstanding a year-over-year decrease in annual incentive payouts, there are concerns raised with the structure of the annual incentive program. The annual incentive pool is funded as a percentage of adjusted net income, which does not require year-over-year growth in order for pool funding to occur, and individual payout determinations are discretionarily determined. Further, although the majority of the CEO's long-term incentives are delivered in performance shares earned based on clearly disclosed multi-year goals, there are concerns regarding goal rigor under the LTI program, as the relative TSR PSUs merely target median performance and there is no disclosed cap in the event of negative absolute TSR.	Yes	No	No
Kennedy-Wilson Holdings, Inc.	06/09/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Although the company returned to a more formulaic STI structure in 2021, a significant portion of the program was based on a discretionary assessment of strategic objectives. In addition, there are concerns regarding high base salaries and target STI opportunities for the CEO and certain NEOs, which resulted in large maximum payouts for the year in review. Further, although the weighting of performance shares under the annual LTI program increased, the value of the CEO's annual-cycle LTI awards also increased significantly without a clearly disclosed rationale, when the value of a special, off-cycle award granted in 2020 is excluded. Moreover, the relative TSR LTI metric targets merely the index, and the proxy does not disclose a cap on vesting if absolute TSR is negative for the performance period. Lastly, concerns remain with respect to the large life insurance and aircraft-related perquisites, as well as the problematic change in control provisions in existing agreements with executives. Kodiak Sciences Inc.	06/07/2022	Management	Yes	3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as the pay-for-performance misalignment is mitigated at this time. The NEOs received substantial front-loaded option awards which were previously approved by shareholders at an October 2021 special meeting and comprise the majority of 2021 compensation. The front-loaded option awards are purely performance-conditioned and require rigorous stock price goals to vest. In addition, annual incentives are sufficiently performance-based.	No	No	No

Kratos Defense & Security Solutions, Inc.	06/14/2022	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. While a significant portion of the annual incentive is based on poorly disclosed strategic metrics and the committee retains the discretion to grant bonuses at target despite actual performance, payouts are capped at target and no discretionary adjustments were made to FY21 awards. Further, although the CEO's FY21 LTI grant value was of significant magnitude, LTI awards are half performance-based with a multi-year performance period, and earned shares are also capped at target. Continued monitoring is warranted regarding the magnitude of long-term incentive awards.	No	No	No

While the proxy does indicate the amount of compensation each NEO receives from the parent, the company does not disclose the breakdown of fixed versus variable pay nor does it report metrics, if any, used to determine variable pay amounts. Without this information, shareholders cannot make a fully informed decision on this say-on-pay proposal. In addition, the company does not disclose a sufficient compensation clawback policy, sufficient stock ownership guidelines, or holding period requirements for executives.	Yes	No	No

Laredo Petroleum, Inc.	05/26/2022	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	Support is warranted FOR this proposal. Annual incentives are primarily based on an objective scorecard and the committee simplified the program for FY21. Further, while the annual incentive payouts may be modified by subjectively determined strategic performance, the committee did not adjust the corporate score for the year in review. Long-term incentives are half performance-based with a multi-year performance period and clearly disclosed forward-looking goals. While the CEO's grant value increased year-over-year, he received fewer underlying shares, somewhat mitigating windfall risk. However, the committee intends to increase components of CEO pay in FY22, so investors should monitor overall pay levels next year.	No	No	No

Annual and long-term incentives for the CEO and executive chairman are entirely tied to quantitative performance goals that are well-disclosed and appear to be rigorous, although concern is noted that incentive programs for the other NEOs lack a strong connection to objective performance metrics. Although high pay opportunities and CEO-level pay for both the CEO and executive chairman remain ongoing concerns at the company, their incentive payouts appear to be aligned with the company's strong TSR and financial performance. Medpace Holdings, Inc.	05/20/2022	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Shareholder engagement efforts and investor feedback following the low vote result are only vaguely disclosed. The committee disclosed its actions and considerations specifically with respect to equity grants for 2021 and certain other positive changes to the pay program, however, it is unclear whether these adequately address shareholders' concerns given that there's no disclosure on specific shareholder feedback. As such, the compensation committee demonstrated only limited responsiveness to shareholder concerns.	Yes	No	No

Mersana Therapeutics, Inc.	06/09/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. The annual bonus was based on pre-set metrics with a reasonable maximum payout cap, though a concern is noted regarding the disclosure of metric weightings and how actual performance relates to final payout. Of major concern, however, is the increase in the CEO's target equity grant value, increasing over 300 percent year-over-year. The proxy does not disclose any rationale for such a significant increase.	Yes	No	No
Meta Financial Group, Inc.	02/22/2022	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, but with caution. The company established an LTI program for the CEO and CFO in the year under review that will expand to include all NEOs in FY22. There is concern regarding the rigor of the relative TSR metric under the new LTI program and the committee's decision to remove a financial metric from the CFO's in-progress FY21 PSUs. However, the STI is predominately based on pre-set objective goals, and the awards granted under the new LTI program were entirely performance-based. Further, the removal of one metric from mid-cycle PSUs only affects one NEO and doesn't appear motivated by a desire to increase payouts, as performance under the eliminated metric was achieved at maximum for FY21. Continued monitoring of the new LTI program structure and resulting outcomes is warranted, given the concerns noted above.	No	No	No

Movado Group, Inc.	06/23/2022	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted in light of the unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment. Although the funding pool is based on a pre-set financial metric, annual bonus payouts are determined at the discretion of the committee and the CEO received a bonus award of relatively significant magnitude. In addition, long-term incentive awards remained entirely time-vesting, resulting in a compensation program for which pay is predominantly not linked to objective performance measures. The CEO's large life insurance perquisite and the provision that allows for single-trigger vesting of equity upon a change in control raise further concerns.	Yes	No	No
Mr. Cooper Group Inc.	05/19/2022	Management	Yes	9	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. MRC Global Inc.	05/05/2022	Management	Yes	9	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. The pay-for-performance misalignment is mitigated at this time given that the short-term incentive program is entirely performance-based and the long-term incentive program is targeted to be half performance-based. In addition, there is a cap on LTI payouts when TSR is negative, the company placed a cap on STI payouts when it lowered performance goals compared to prior year actual performance, and prior cycle performance awards were forfeited when goals were unmet. Nabors Industries Ltd.	06/07/2022	Management	Yes	9	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Despite additional supplemental disclosure, the committee demonstrated only limited responsiveness following last year's failed say-on-pay vote. Further, pay-for-performance concerns are again raised for the year in review. While annual incentives were entirely based on a financial metric, annual bonuses were paid out above target despite the financial target being set lower than FY20's achieved performance. Further, although long-term incentives are entirely performance-based, with improved disclosure of performance targets, the majority of awards use just a one-year performance period. The awards also lack disclosure of threshold and maximum goals, limiting investors' ability to assess the potential performance and vesting ranges. This portion of the grants was then earned near maximum level. Moreover, concerns are raised with respect to change-in-control arrangements that provide for a modified single trigger severance and automatic equity vesting acceleration, and the absence of several risk mitigators in the company's executive pay program.	Yes	No	No
NACCO Industries, Inc.	05/18/2022	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	Votes FOR this proposal are warranted at this time.	No	No	No
NanoString Technologies, Inc.	06/17/2022	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Following adjustments made last year to the FY19 equity grants, the committee then also adjusted goals for the FY20-21 grants. While the changes to goals for the FY19 awards cited both the COVID-19 pandemic and a corporate transaction, adjustments made in FY21 were only pandemic-related. Investors may question the decision to make consecutive adjustments to long-term incentive awards, particularly as those adjustments have contributed to a pay-for-performance misalignment for the year in review. In addition, the company does not disclose a sufficient compensation clawback policy, sufficient stock ownership guidelines, or holding period requirements for executives.	Yes	No	No
National Bank Holdings Corporation	05/03/2022	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned and no significant concerns were identified at this time.	No	No	No
National Bankshares, Inc.	05/10/2022	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Although half of the other NEOs' annual incentives continues to be based on individual performance and the company has not provided a rationale for its decision to not utilize a long-term incentive program, the CEO's annual incentive remains to be based pre-dominantly on a pre-set financial metric, and payouts were earned below target aligned with company performance.	No	No	No
National Fuel Gas Company	03/10/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	Although a concern is noted, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned at this time.	No	No	No
National Instruments Corporation	05/10/2022	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned and no significant concerns are highlighted at this time.	No	No	No
Natural Gas Services Group, Inc.	06/16/2022	Management	Yes	2	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	The compensation committee demonstrated sufficient responsiveness to last year's failed say-on-pay proposal. In addition, the pay-for-performance misalignment is mitigated at this time. The CEO's salary and target bonus were relatively high, but concerns with respect to equity awards have been addressed for fiscal 2022. However, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted because of a problematic pay practice. The company will pay sizable severance to the CEO next year upon his retirement, that does not appear to be involuntary.	Yes	No	No
Nature's Sunshine Products, Inc.	05/04/2022	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	Although a concern is noted, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned at this time.	No	No	No
Natus Medical Incorporated	06/15/2022	Management	Yes	9	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The payment of severance and equity award vesting acceleration upon the former CEO's separation, which was described as a resignation, is problematic. Severance is appropriate only for involuntary or constructive job loss. Investors expect clear and forthright disclosure around the nature of an executive's termination and how the board determined to pay severance.	Yes	No	No
NBT Bancorp Inc.	05/17/2022	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as no significant concerns were identified and pay and performance are reasonably aligned at this time.	No	No	No
NCR Corporation	05/06/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company provided an inordinate amount of corporate aircraft perquisite to the CEO.	Yes	Yes	No

Nektar Therapeutics	06/08/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. The annual incentive and equity awards were largely based on performance measures, though certain disclosures could be improved. In addition, base salaries for certain NEOs remain high relative to peer company CEOs.	No	No	No
Nelnet, Inc.	05/19/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	Although a concern is noted, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned at this time.	No	No	No
NeoGenomics, Inc.	06/02/2022	Management	Yes	8	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. While the company's adjustment of its annual incentive calculation resulted to below-target average executive payouts, the replacement of one-time PSUs with larger time-vesting restricted stock awards is cause for concern.	Yes	No	No
NetSol Technologies, Inc.	06/07/2022	Management	Yes	7	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted due to the following: * The company maintains employment agreements with certain executives that provide for excessive severance multiple and excise tax gross-ups on change in control severance. * The company provided sizable perquisites to the CEO. * The company lacks risk mitigating features such as a sufficient compensation clawback policy, sufficient stock ownership guidelines, or holding period requirements for executives. Yes	Yes	No
Oceaneering International, Inc.	05/27/2022	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. While some concern is raised regarding the disclosure of actual performance for annual incentives and closing-cycle long-term incentives, both programs are largely performance-based, with clear disclosure of forward-looking goals and the payout formula. The TSR portion of closing-cycle LTI was capped because of negative TSR, while the committee used discretion to reduce the earnout for the EBITDA portion following a change to the definition of adjusted EBITDA. Nevertheless, investors should monitor long-term incentive values going forward, as the company increased the RSU grant value to the CEO without compelling rationale.	No	No	No
OceanFirst Financial Corp.	05/25/2022	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Pay-for-performance misalignment concerns are sufficiently mitigated at this time in light of the following factors. Bonus plan goals were set above 2021 actual achievements and while payouts were earned above target, the committee exercised negative discretion to reduce the size of bonus payouts. Although the annual performance measurement periods under the performance-based restricted stock awards continue to be a concern, actual achievement with respect to the annual goals has historically been below target (except 2021). Furthermore, the company intends to implement a three-year cliff-vesting performance period for performance awards granted in 2022.	No	No	No

PacWest Bancorp	05/10/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The compensation committee demonstrated only a limited degree of responsiveness to shareholders' concerns that led to a failed say-on-pay vote last year. While the company provides enhanced disclosure surrounding the CEO's retention award and other aspects of the compensation program and CEO succession planning, the actions taken by the committee do not meaningfully address all of shareholders' expressed concerns, which is paramount following a failed vote. In addition, concerns with respect to goal rigor under the annual and long-term incentive programs underscore a pay-for-performance misalignment. In the wake of shareholder feedback expressing concern regarding goal rigor, some shareholders may find the lowering of certain annual incentive goals concerning given payouts well above target. In addition, relative metrics under the LTI program target the median of peers, which is not considered particularly rigorous. Lastly, concerns are also raised with regards to the tax gross-up paid for the CEO's personal use of aircraft prerequisites.	Yes	No	No
Palomar Holdings, Inc.	05/26/2022	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Actual performance results and payout formulas for the annual incentive are not disclosed. Although annual-cycle long-term incentives introduced performance-based equity, these awards remained predominantly time-vesting, PSUs utilize only a single annual performance period, and disclosure surrounding PSU metrics was poor. Further, the CEO and multiple NEOs received special retention awards of significant magnitude without sufficiently compelling rationale.	Yes	No	No

The annual bonus was largely based on pre-set financial metrics, and concerns regarding disclosure are mitigated for the year in review due to the compensation committee's discretion, significantly decreasing payout. The LTI program is predominately based on performance-conditioned equity and utilizes a multi-year performance period, though a concern is noted regarding relative TSR target setting. Continued monitoring of the CEO's relatively large base salary is warranted.	No	No	No

Planet Fitness, Inc.	05/02/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted given that significant concerns regarding the structure of the pay program were identified for the year under review. In particular, although the annual incentive for the CEO is generally based on pre-set, objective measures, the STI plan provides for additional payouts if the bonus funding pool is not fully utilized. For FY21, the application of this practice under the STI plan resulted in the CEO's receiving a significant increase in his bonus payments outside of the formulaic determination of 1H 2021 and 2H 2022 performance outcomes. Furthermore, the committee granted entirely time-vesting equity in FY21 and supplanted in-flight PSU awards that were unlikely to be earned with time-vesting grants. These actions are not generally viewed as a reasonable reaction to account for the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic.	Yes	No	No

While NEOs did not receive equity awards in FY2021, NEO pay continued to be very high and with concerning features. The NEOs continue to participate in bonus plans that provide for an uncapped, outsized bonus opportunities and outsized annual retention bonuses which appear to be guaranteed. These payments will be made annually from 2021 through 2024. Despite the positive changes to the executive compensation program beginning in FY2022, the proxy does not disclose if the current problematic bonus arrangements will be discontinued. Lastly, the CEO was provided with a security perquisite in an amount that is considered excessive.	Yes	No	No

Primis Financial Corp.	05/26/2022	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	The compensation committee appears to have utilized significant discretion with respect to the payout determination under the annual incentive program and the specific performance goals under the long-term incentive program are not disclosed. However, such concerns are somewhat mitigated at this time given that the annual incentive program utilizes pre-set objective measures, and the payouts were earned at target. In addition, long-term incentive awards were pre-dominantly performance-conditioned and utilize a multi-year performance period. In light of this, support FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Shareholders should continue to monitor the company's pay programs.	No	No	No

PVH Corp.	06/16/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Annual incentives are entirely based on financial performance, and half of the CEO's equity is performance conditioned. In addition, total CEO pay decreased as compared to compensation for the prior CEO in 2020, and PSUs tied to 2019-2021 performance were forfeited when the threshold goals were not met. However, continued monitoring of long-term incentives is warranted in light of the one-year measurement period for a portion of 2021 PSUs, and given that NEOs' equity awards are primarily time-based. Quotient Technology Inc.	06/29/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Although pay and performance were reasonably aligned for the year in review, there are significant concerns identified with respect to the terms of the former CEO's separation agreement. Pursuant to the agreement, the board lowered the exercise prices of outstanding stock options without obtaining shareholder approval, which is considered a problematic pay practice. Additional problematic actions are also identified, as the board extended the term of outstanding options beyond their original expiration date and provided the former CEO with severance payments and benefits that are significantly greater than the payments and benefits the former CEO was otherwise entitled to under his existing arrangements upon an involuntary termination. Ranpak Holdings Corp.	05/25/2022	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted due to an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment. RBB Bancorp	05/18/2022	Management	Yes	15	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The company demonstrated poor responsiveness to shareholder concerns following last year's low support for the say-on-pay proposal. Other problematic pay practices are also raised including single-trigger equity vesting acceleration of equity awards, lack of preset performance criteria for the former CEO's bonus and equity awards, and the company's lack of risk mitigating provisions. Realogy Holdings Corp.	05/04/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted given concern regarding goal rigor. Although the compensation committee demonstrated adequate responsiveness to the prior year's low say-on-pay vote result, an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment exists for the year in review. There are concerns regarding the structure and disclosure of the CEO's new hire awards, which are amplified given the magnitude. Although the majority of the award is based on the achievement of certain milestones, many investors may expect a greater weighting ascribed to performance-vesting given the magnitude. Semtech Corporation	06/09/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	There are some concerns raised by the heavy reliance on individual performance assessments to determine the performance bonuses for NEOs other than the CEO. Further, the performance LTI design has certain issues, including a relative TSR metric that targets merely median performance and a stock price goal that may be achieved based on short-term achievement. However, there are mitigating factors for the year in review. The CEO's STI was based primarily on objective financial metrics with reasonably rigorous targets. The company has adhered to its intention not to award the CEO additional LTI through 2023. Further, the LTI for other NEOs was majority performance-based, the stock price goal required significant appreciation, and vesting for relative TSR is capped at target for negative absolute TSR. On balance of these factors, a cautionary vote FOR this proposal warranted. Shareholders should continue to monitor incentive programs, as noted design concerns may exacerbate if pay and performance become further misaligned.	No	No	No

SI-BONE, Inc.	06/16/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	Although concerns are raised by the lack of performance-vesting criteria attached to annual equity awards, there are mitigating factors for the year in review. Notably, the committee has introduced performance-conditioned equity for 2022, which will comprise half of the CEO's equity mix, in response to shareholders' concerns. Moreover, disclosure under the STI plan was improved year-over-year, and incentives were largely based on pre-set, objective measures. Additionally, the committee modified Executive Chairman Dunn's employment agreement to eliminate the single-trigger severance provision, replacing it with a double-trigger severance provision, in direct response to shareholder concerns. On balance of these factors, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted.	No	No	No

Silicon Laboratories Inc.	04/21/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. In connection with the CEO's voluntary retirement, the company and the outgoing CEO entered into an agreement that will entitle him to severance payments. The payment of cash upon a voluntary termination is not a common market practice, as cash payments are generally intended as a protection against involuntary job loss. Additionally, while the pay-for-performance misalignment is sufficiently mitigated for the year in review, concern is noted regarding the use of annualized performance periods in a portion of the PSU grant. SilverBow Resources, Inc.	05/17/2022	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted because the company modified the 2021 portion of the 2020 cash incentive award so that payout for the 2021 performance period of the award would be capped at target and be time-based. Simmons First National Corporation	04/27/2022	Management	Yes	18	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted due to a pay-for-performance misalignment. Performance metrics under the long-term incentive program target merely median performance and it does not appear payouts are capped in the event absolute TSR is negative over the performance period. In addition, certain goals associated with previously granted equity awards were lowered, and the company did not disclose the achievement level for the performance metrics associated with the 2019-2021 performance cycle, making it difficult to assess whether the payout resulting from the adjustment is reasonable. SiriusPoint Ltd.	05/19/2022	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Although half of the annual incentive funding pool is based on strategic objectives, disclosure of such objectives is thorough, and the objectives were deemed critical to integrate the legacy entities following the merger. In addition, approximately half of the annual long-term incentive grants are performance-conditioned and vest over a multi-year period. Moreover, certain NEOs received sign-on equity awards. While majority of these awards are time-vesting, it is not uncommon for NEOs to receive sizeable equity awards in connection with their commencement of employment following a merger transaction and such awards are not expected to recur. SolarWinds Corporation	05/26/2022	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted due to an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment. Tenneco Inc.	06/07/2022	Management	Yes	15	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. While reported CEO pay more than doubled year-over-year, a large portion of the increase was due to the inclusion of FY20 performance equity awards in FY21 pay, as the committee delayed goal-setting during the early part of the pandemic. Although concerns are raised regarding the company's goal-setting practices, particularly in the annual incentive program where one of the financial targets was set below last year's actual performance, payouts for annual and closing cycle long-term incentives were near-target and in line with performance over the respective periods. Nevertheless, investors would benefit from additional disclosure of long-term incentive goals, particularly after the performance period has been completed.	No	No	No

Territorial Bancorp Inc.	05/19/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Some concerns are raised with the executive compensation program, such as a relatively high salary for the CEO and performance targets being set below prior year actual performance without a clear rationale. However, the pay-for-performance misalignment is somewhat mitigated at this time given that the short-term incentive program is entirely performance-based, half of equity awards are performance-based, and prior cycle PSUs were earned below target in line with performance. Texas Capital Bancshares, Inc.	04/19/2022	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Although CEO pay was elevated in FY21 due to new hire awards, including a $14.5 million make-whole equity grant, the annual pay program had multiple concerning changes. The new CEO's target bonus was relatively high, and a large portion of the annual bonus payout is based on qualitative metrics with payouts based on the compensation committee's discretion. Further, in the LTI, although a majority of the grant is in performance equity, the EPS metric shifted from a three-year performance period to three one-year performance periods, with no disclosure of forward-looking goals. In addition to the pay program concerns, the company paid cash severance to the former CFO upon a voluntary resignation.	Yes	No	No

TFS Financial Corporation	02/24/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted because the company provides an excessive amount for the CEO's financial/tax planning and enhanced life insurance perquisites; offers equity awards that allow for auto-accelerated vesting upon a change-in-control event; and lacks risk-mitigating provisions such as a clawback policy, stock ownership guidelines or holding period requirements for executives. The Brink's Company	05/06/2022	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. The committee was sufficiently responsive to last year's failed say-on-pay vote, committing not to grant off-cycle LTI awards to NEOs that are exclusively short term and time vested, and implementing additional changes for FY22 equity awards. However, continued monitoring of pay levels is warranted, particularly given the leadership transition, to ensure equity values normalize. The Chefs' Warehouse, Inc.	05/13/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company paid an excessive tax gross-up related to the CEO's executive life insurance. Additionally, although the annual bonus was capped at target and was based on pre-set objective metrics, multiple concerns exist within the LTI program. The company granted replacement grants to executives after cancelling their 2019 and 2020 performance equity grants due to poor performance. However, these replacement grants are half based on time-vested equity, and no disclosure exists regarding why a replacement grant for performance equity would be partially time based. Additionally, the stock price portion for both the annual performance equity grant as well as the performance portion of the replacement grant targets a stock price below the grant date stock price, and appears to have been met within 20 trading days of grant. The First of Long Island Corporation	04/19/2022	Management	Yes	7	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as no significant concerns were identified and pay and performance are reasonably aligned at this time.	No	No	No

The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company	04/11/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Although the compensation committee made positive changes to pay programs in response to last year's low say-on-pay vote, concerns are raised regarding FY2021 decisions. The company continued to use annually set goals in the long-term incentive program, limiting the long-term nature of those awards. More concerning, however, was a potentially uncapped retention agreement the company entered into with the CEO and another NEO. The agreements seek to incentivize the NEOs to delay retirement until after FY23; however, the structure of the agreements may result in sizable, non-performance-based payments in the event interest rates increase between 2021 and the date of their respective future retirements.	Yes	No	No
The Greenbrier Companies, Inc.	01/07/2022	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. While certain goal-rigor and disclosure concerns remain, the annual incentive program is predominantly based on pre-set objective metrics, and the CEO's below-target payout was granted in time-based equity. In addition, LTI awards are primarily based on multi-year performance, and closing-cycle PSUs vested well below target, in line with company performance.	No	No	No

The ONE Group Hospitality, Inc.	05/18/2022	Management	Yes	8	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted due to an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment. CEO pay was elevated due to sizable equity awards that are subject solely to time-based vesting. In addition, the compensation plan features above-median benchmarking which targets the CEO's total compensation at the 75th percentile of its peers, a problematic modified single-trigger severance in existing agreement and a lack of risk mitigators.	Yes	No	No
The RMR Group Inc.	03/10/2022	Management	Yes	7	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as:* The company does not disclose any pre-set metrics and goals for the CEO's bonus and equity awards;* The company's change-in-control agreements with certain executives contains single-trigger equity vesting acceleration; and* The company lacks risk-mitigating provisions. The Simply Good Foods Company	01/20/2022	Management	Yes	9	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted for the unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment. The CEO received a large one-time grant comprised entirely of time-vesting options, in addition to his annual LTI award. The Western Union Company	05/19/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	On balance, a cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Certain concerns are identified with respect to pandemic-related changes to the way annual and LTI goals are measured. In addition, greater disclosure surrounding strategic and individual goals and achievements under the annual incentive plan would benefit shareholders. However, there are mitigating factors for the year in review. Pay is elevated for the new CEO due to make-whole cash and equity awards granted to compensate him for awards he forfeited by leaving his former employer. In addition, annual and long-term awards are predominantly tied to objective performance metrics and goals appear reasonably rigorous, as STI financial metrics are growth-based and the relative TSR target and maximum goals require outperformance. TrueBlue, Inc.	05/11/2022	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Turning Point Therapeutics, Inc.	06/16/2022	Management	Yes	3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Although the STI program is tied to the achievement of certain corporate goals, the goals are generally described in qualitative terms, payouts are discretionarily determined, and disclosure regarding performance results under the program is limited. In addition, although the committee introduced performance shares into the LTI program, the large majority of the CEO's sizable equity awards consisted of time-vesting RSUs and stock options. While acknowledging that stock options are considered more strongly performance-based at clinical-stage biopharmaceutical companies, many investors may expect performance shares to comprise a larger portion of the CEO's equity awards, given their magnitude and the fact that the company has reported positive revenue in recent years. In addition, in an 8-K announcing the entry into a merger agreement between the company and Bristol-Myers Squibb Company, the company discloses that the board approved and authorized agreements that provide for the payment of golden parachute excise tax gross-ups for the CEO and certain NEOs in connection with the merger agreement. Golden parachute excise tax gross-ups are not the market norm, and the provision of such gross-ups is considered a problematic pay practice.	Yes	No	No
Tutor Perini Corporation	05/18/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The compensation committee demonstrated poor responsiveness to shareholder concerns following last year's failed say-on-pay proposal. The company also entered into a new CEO agreement which includes an excessive cash severance provision. In addition, the pay-for-performance misalignment has not been mitigated given that significant concerns have been identified in the executive compensation program. The CEO's already high salary and target bonus were further increased during fiscal 2021, and his new target long-term incentives also became relatively high. In addition, performance targets under the short-term incentive program were set below prior year actual performance without a clear rationale, performance-based awards may pay out at target for median performance, and there is no disclosed cap on payouts when TSR is negative. Lastly, concerns remain with respect to the magnitude of CEO perquisites.	Yes	No	No

However, a cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted given that the company demonstrated only limited responsiveness to last year's low say-on-pay support. While the company engaged with shareholders and committed to provide enhanced disclosure in the event of any unique separation arrangements in the future, the company only disclosed feedback and many other pay program changes related to the failed vote in 2020. United Therapeutics Corporation	06/27/2022	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Although the CEO's base salary remains relatively high, annual incentives were based on objective financial and operational goals, with financial targets that appear rigorous. In addition, in accordance with its stated commitment and in response to shareholder feedback, the committee did not grant equity awards to the NEOs in FY21.	No	No	No

Universal Display Corporation	06/23/2022	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	Following last year's failed say-on-pay vote, the committee demonstrated adequate responsiveness to shareholder concerns. However, although disclosed changes to next year's compensation program will reduce the magnitude of LTI award values and increase the proportion of performance-based equity, significant concerns remain, particularly regarding the long-term incentive program. Neither forward-looking goals for PSU metrics nor performance results and vesting of closing-cycle awards are disclosed, precluding investor assessment of the link between pay and performance for equity awards of significant magnitude. Further, multiple NEOs received total compensation that was greater than total peer median CEO pay and, despite reductions to the value of FY22 LTI awards, one NEO will continue to receive total compensation equal to that of the CEO; investors may question the necessity of paying multiple executives at the level of a CEO. Lastly, the company maintains agreements that contain excise tax gross-up provisions. Accordingly, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted.	Yes	No	No
Universal Electronics Inc.	06/07/2022	Management	Yes	7	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company maintains legacy agreements that contain problematic change-in-control provisions such as modified single trigger payment and excise tax gross-up. In addition, the company did not condition vesting of long-term awards on achievement of performance goals for awards granted in the most recent fiscal year.	Yes	Yes	No
Universal Insurance Holdings, Inc.	06/10/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted given that the company demonstrated sufficient responsiveness to last year's low say-on-pay vote. Upland Software, Inc.	06/08/2022	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as a pay-for-performance misalignment has been identified. Upwork Inc.	06/02/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted given the significant concern regarding equity awards for the year in review. While the special award to the CEO maintains rigorous performance goals and requires sustainment over 90 days, the magnitude of the award is more than six times the peer median of similarly situated CEOs. Additionally, equity awards to other NEOs are majority time-vesting and the performance-based shares in the annual cycle equity program utilize an annual measurement period with the same metric and goal as in the annual incentive program. Vector Group Ltd.	06/28/2022	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The compensation committee has not adequately responded to below majority support for the prior year's say-on-pay proposal, as it is not clear that compensation program changes have meaningfully addressed the primary shareholder concerns underlying the low vote result. In addition, a pay-for-performance misalignment is underscored by several concerns including the CEO's high base salary, the rigor of the CEO's long-term incentive goals, and that equity for other NEOs lacks performance conditions. Concerns are also raised with respect to the company's practice of paying dividends and distributions on unexercised options and the large automobile-related perquisite provide to the CEO. Furthermore, the company allows single-trigger vesting of equity upon a change in control and maintains an employment agreement with the CEO that provides for excise tax gross-ups on change in control severance. While annual incentives and equity awards were primarily performance-conditioned, concerns are raised regarding the committee's decision to accelerate vesting of certain equity awards in advance of the expected merger. The committee accelerated the vesting of both time- and performance-based equity awards that were expected to be earned in 2022 and 2023. While the merger has been approved by shareholders, equity acceleration is generally disfavored in advance of closing. Xerox Holdings Corporation	05/19/2022	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The company failed to demonstrate adequate responsiveness to last year's say-on-pay vote, despite receiving significantly less than majority support. While the company engaged with investors following the annual meeting and disclosed specific shareholder feedback, the committee failed to implement changes to the compensation program so as to sufficiently address the concerns underlying the failed 2021 vote. Below-target payouts on both annual and long-term incentive awards were reasonably in line with performance for their respective performance periods, and although FY21 annual bonuses and equity awards utilize overlapping metrics, metrics are measured over differing performance periods and this overlap has been eliminated for FY22 awards, mitigating pay-for-performance concerns. Xperi Holding Corporation	04/29/2022	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. XPO Logistics, Inc.	05/18/2022	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Following last year's failed say-on-pay vote, the committee demonstrated only limited responsiveness. It is unclear what portion of shareholder engagement regarding compensation occurred subsequent to the failed vote, and changes to the pay program do not adequately address all of the disclosed shareholder concerns. Given the failed vote result, investors likely expected a more robust response. Further concerns are raised by the pay program for the year in review. Although annual incentive awards were based on a pre-set financial metric, the program allows for an unclear degree of discretion and disclosure of metric goals and payout formulas remained incomplete. The CEO did not receive additional long-term incentive awards in FY21, but outstanding awards utilize relatively short performance and vesting periods while actual performance results for completed performance periods are not disclosed. Yellow Corporation	06/01/2022	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. Although pay and performance are reasonably aligned for the year in review, the company demonstrated only limited responsiveness to a second consecutive low say-on-pay vote result. Although outreach efforts were disclosed, the proxy provides only a broad discussion of shareholder feedback and lacks specific disclosure regarding the investor concerns that led to the most recent low vote. Finally, without specific investor feedback, it is difficult to discern if the changes made to the compensation program fully address the concerns that led to the low vote.	Yes	No	No
Yelp Inc.	06/02/2022	Management	Yes	9	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as the compensation committee demonstrated sufficient responsiveness to last year's low say-on-pay vote. Additionally, pay and performance are reasonably aligned at this time.	No	No	No
YETI Holdings, Inc.	05/05/2022	Management	Yes	3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted given that pay and performance are reasonably aligned.	No	No	No
Yext, Inc.	06/14/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company did not condition vesting of long-term awards on achievement of performance goals for awards granted in the most recent fiscal year, provided a large security-related perquisite to former CEO Lerman, and does not disclose a sufficient compensation clawback policy, sufficient stock ownership guidelines, or holding period requirements for executives.	Yes	Yes	No
Zedge, Inc.	01/12/2022	Management	Yes	8	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	Although some concerns are noted, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned at this time.	No	No	No
Ziff Davis, Inc.	05/10/2022	Management	Yes	7	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned and no significant concerns were identified at this time.	No	No	No
Zurn Water Solutions Corporation	05/05/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Concerns are raised regarding the board's use of discretion to increase the annual incentive payout for CEO Adams above his maximum payout cap and discretion utilized to accelerate performance shares in connection with the spin-off and merger transaction despite the transaction not constituting a change in control under the company's compensation plans.	Yes	No	No

Company Name	Meeting Date	Proponent	Votable Proposal	Proposal Sequence Number	Proposal Text	Management Recommendation	ISS Recommendation	Voting Policy Recommendation	Vote Instruction	Voting Policy Rationale	Vote Against Management	Vote Against ISS	Vote Against Policy
10X Genomics, Inc.	6/15/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	Although a concern is noted, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned at this time.	No	No	No
3M Company	5/10/2022	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR the proposal is warranted. The annual bonus was largely based on pre-set objective metrics with clearly disclosed performance targets that appear rigorous. In addition, half of the LTI program is in performance-conditioned equity with clearly disclosed forward-looking goals. A prior performance equity grant vested below target, which is largely in line with recent company performance.	No	No	No
A. O. Smith Corporation	4/12/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted because:" The company maintains a severance plan for executives that provide for excise tax gross-ups on change-in-control payments;" The company maintains tax gross-up provision under the executive supplemental retirement plan; and" Equity awards allow for auto-accelerated vesting upon a change-in-control event.	Yes	Yes	No
Abbott Laboratories	4/29/2022	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. The majority of pay is conditioned on objective financial performance metrics resulting in an alignment between CEO pay and company performance.	No	No	No
AbbVie Inc.	5/6/2022	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company provided an inordinate amount of personal use of corporate aircraft perquisite to the CEO.	Yes	Yes	No
Acadia Healthcare Company, Inc.	5/19/2022	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned and no significant concerns were identified at this time.	No	No	No
Accenture plc	1/26/2022	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company provided excessive personal use of corporate aircraft perquisite to the CEO.	Yes	Yes	No
Activision Blizzard, Inc.	6/21/2022	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company provided a large life insurance perquisite to the CEO. Further, the COO's employment agreement provides a problematic life insurance perquisite to the executive's spouse. Such spousal life insurance perquisite is highly unusual, and the value is considered to be relatively large.	Yes	Yes	No
Acuity Brands, Inc.	1/5/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The company failed to demonstrate adequate responsiveness to last year's say-on-pay vote, despite receiving less than majority support for the second year in a row. While the company engaged with investors following the annual meeting, shareholders' feedback is disclosed only in vague terms. In addition, it is not clear that the company has made any changes to address the concerns underlying the failed 2021 vote. Pay-for-performance concerns are mitigated in light of recent improvements to the company's incentive programs. The weight of the individual performance component in the annual incentive program was reduced from 50 percent to 20 percent, and a concerning secondary funding mechanism was removed. Further, the grant date value of the CEO's equity awards was lower in 2021 compared to 2020. Finally, beginning in 2022 the CEO will participate in the ordinary long-term incentive program.	Yes	No	No

The newly implemented total incentive assessment scorecard is predominantly based on quantified and objective goals with disclosed targets. While the significant number of metrics and lack of disclosed threshold goals warrants continued monitoring, the new scorecard provides significantly more transparency into pay decisions compared to the separate STI and LTI assessments utilized in prior years, each of which relied heavily on committee discretion. Transparency is further enhanced by the introduction target incentive opportunities and pre-set formula for cash and equity awards. In addition, LTI awards are majority based on clearly disclosed multi-year goals, target and maximum LTI goals increased, and the percentage of the award that vests for threshold performance was reduced without a reduction in the threshold goal. Continued monitoring of the pay program structure is warranted, given the significant changes in incentive program structure and metric selection.	No	No	No

Air Lease Corporation	5/4/2022	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Though annual incentives are primarily based on pre-set, objective metrics, a concern is noted regarding target setting, as the revenue goal was set below the prior year's actual performance with a corresponding reduction in a target bonus opportunity for executives. Furthermore, the strategic goal targets are not clearly disclosed. These issues are compounded as the executive chairman's base salary and target bonus opportunity each exceed the CEO's. These concerns are mitigated for the year in review, however. Although the mix of performance-contingent equity was reduced 10 percentage points in 2021, LTI awards remained majority performance-based and require a long-term improvement in book value and relative TSR outperformance for target payout. Moreover, performance-contingent equity will revert to a 75 percent mix for the 2022 LTI award, and a closing cycle performance equity award vested below target, which was in line with company performance. Alteryx, Inc.	5/25/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	The company introduced performance-conditioned equity awards, which is a positive change, but there are noted design and magnitude concerns. The CEO's total equity award value was large, driving relatively large total pay for the year in review, on the backdrop of poor short- and long-term TSR performance. The new performance awards utilize a relatively short two-year period and share a metric in the STI program. There are also concerns around the disclosure of goals for sizable sign-on equity awards, which utilized a short-term measurement period. Moreover, while the STI program is predominantly based on a financial metric, there is poor disclosure around individual performance factors. Analog Devices, Inc.	3/9/2022	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. A large increase in CEO pay was due to a sizable special grant of performance options in FY21. While there is some concern regarding the large value of the award, it is entirely contingent on achievement of pre-set share price hurdles. The proxy also includes a robust description of the compensation committee's rationale as well as a statement that they do not intend to grant the CEO an additional special award during the performance period of this award. Additionally, although there are some goal rigor concerns, annual incentives are entirely based on pre-set financial metrics. Although the proxy states the committee will reduce the CEO's 2022 equity awards to maintain alignment with the market, the number of shares underlying long-term incentive grants significantly increased in FY21, creating a potential windfall opportunity in the event of a stock price rebound. Apple Inc.	3/4/2022	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted, due to concerns around equity award design and pay magnitude. While the CEO's FY21 equity award marks his first LTI award since his mega award 10 years ago, half of the $75 million award is purely time-based, and the award would continue to vest in full in the event of his retirement. Further, the company does not disclose that the award is intended to cover multiple years of future awards, despite its large size, and CEO Cook received another sizable grant of equity after the end of the fiscal year. In addition, notwithstanding that Apple is the largest company in its peer group, other NEOs consistently receive equity awards with values that approach the median total CEO pay of peers, and CEO Cook's relatively high base salary contributes to significant STI payout opportunities. In response, the committee states its acknowledgement that adjusting in-flight awards or making special awards are tools to only be used in extraordinary circumstances. In addition, the company does not disclose a meaningful cap on executives' carried interest and incentive fee payments, which increased significantly, year-over-year, nor does the proxy disclose exactly how such payments are calculated, which makes it difficult for investors to assess the pay-for-performance linkage. While pay and performance were reasonably aligned for the year in review, CEO Smith and other NEOs had significant equity vesting and option exercises in FY21, related to previous special grants. The substantial value associated with these vesting/exercise events highlights concerns related to large, front-loaded equity awards. In the case of the CEO, over $500 million in options were exercised in FY21. Investors should continue to monitor pay levels at the company.	No	No	No

Bank of America Corporation	4/26/2022	Management	Yes	15	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	Annual incentive pay determinations were guided by a wide-ranging performance assessment, but they are ultimately determined discretionally, which raises concern. Further, for consecutive years, financial factors used to assess the CEO's performance scorecard have changed without specific rationale provided. While these issues warrant continued close monitoring, there are sufficient mitigating factors. Specifically, CEO pay and company performance are aligned for the year in review, and the increase in the CEO's incentive awards directionally aligns with the company's improved financial and stock price performance. Further, the CEO's long-term equity incentives are predominantly performance-conditioned with clearly disclosed multi-year goals and a vesting design that has no upside potential. On balance of these factors, a cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Although the annual program is funded formulaically, payouts are determined primarily based on compensation committee discretion and performance factors considered by the committee appear to be highly subjective, a concern which is magnified by the CEO's high target award as a multiple of base salary. In addition, performance for the 2021 PSUs, which had larger values in light of retention concerns, are based on annually set goals and the metrics and measurement period for the first tranche were identical to the metrics and measurement period for the 2021 annual incentive awards. While STI awards are predominantly based on pre-set financial goals, the program's design incorporates a significant degree of discretion for the individual performance multiplier. CEO Tan received his first equity grant following three years of no grants after he received a multi-year equity award in 2017. The equity grant is entirely performance-based, but the target goal is not viewed as particularly rigorous. In addition, CEO Tan received another sizable equity award in FY22, including a one-time award. Besides, three NEOs received sizable promotion grants, half of which are performance-based, but also with a goal that is not particularly rigorous. The grant will also vest after a relatively short period of time, with 40 percent of the award vesting less than 18 months after the grant date. Ceridian HCM Holding Inc.	5/3/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	While pay and performance appear reasonably aligned at this time, some concerns are raised regarding incentive program actions and structures in FY21 and for FY22. While performance shares were introduced in FY21, performance is measured over a one-year period with the same metrics and goal as the annual incentive program. The compensation program therefore lacks a true long-term performance aspect and risks providing significant payouts for short-term performance. Continued monitoring of pay outcomes in FY22 is also warranted as the company implements a co-CEO leadership structure. Moreover, the compensation committee has demonstrated only limited responsiveness to last year's failed say-on-pay vote. While the company has committed to certain additional compensation program changes in FY22, some of the responsive actions were known to shareholders prior to the 2021 annual meeting and do not meaningfully address all of shareholders' concerns. Chevron Corporation	5/25/2022	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. A pay-for-performance misalignment persisted for the year under review and sufficient mitigating factors were not identified. Annual incentive payouts are heavily impacted by individual performance factors, for which the committee provides limited disclosure of the considerations made when determining payouts. In addition, while the company added certain targets to the annual incentive plan scorecard, threshold and maximum goals are lacking, and disclosure of qualitative goals and achievements is also limited. Lack of such disclosure limits transparency into the pay-for-performance alignment of the program, impeding investors' ability to assess payouts and goal rigor from year to year. Lastly, in the LTI program, performance for the new ROCE metric targets merely the median of peers and, as the peer group is relatively small, a portion of the award will vest for any performance level that is not the bottom of the peer group. The TSR-based performance awards also continue to allow for above-target vesting for negative returns.	Yes	No	No

Citigroup Inc.	4/26/2022	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	There is concern raised by annual incentive pay determinations which, although guided by wide-ranging performance assessments, are ultimately determined discretionally. Moreover, investors may question the need for additional award opportunities in furtherance of goals to address problems around risk and control, when related performance assessments resulted in incentive pay reductions in the prior year. While these issues warrant continued close monitoring, there are sufficient mitigating factors. Specifically, CEO pay and company performance are aligned for the year in review, and the increase in the CEO's incentive awards for the 2021 performance year directionally aligns with the company's modestly improved financial performance. Further, the CEO's long-term incentives are predominantly performance-conditioned with clearly disclosed multi-year goals that were recently increased. Lastly, in a supplemental filing the board has elaborated on the proxy's disclosure regarding the rationale and mechanics of the one-time awards. While the additional disclosure does not fully mitigate concerns, it does address several deficiencies in disclosure in the proxy statement. On balance of these factors, a cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Citizens Financial Group Inc.	4/28/2022	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Concerns continue to be raised by the heavy reliance on compensation committee discretion in determining total executive pay. In addition, the forward-looking goals for the performance shares remain undisclosed and the committee granted retention awards to senior executives, including NEOs. While these issues warrant continued shareholder monitoring going forward, there are mitigating factors. Notably, the use of discretion has not resulted in a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment and the increase in performance year pay is directionally aligned with overall company performance. Moreover, equity awards, including the retention awards, are largely performance based and utilize a multi-year measurement period, and the goals are disclosed retroactively. Shareholders are advised to monitor the company's incentive pay structure, particularly should CEO pay and company performance become misaligned going forward.	No	No	No

CME Group Inc.	5/4/2022	Management	Yes	19	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. The company provided the CEO with a $5 million discretionary bonus in connection with extending the term of his employment agreement for one year, and the proxy does not disclose any clawback or repayment provisions if he were to resign or retire. Furthermore, the annual pay program's goal setting is concerning. The financial metric target used in the annual bonus was set below the prior year's actual performance for the third consecutive year without a compelling rationale disclosed or a corresponding reduction in pay opportunity. Goal setting concerns also exist in the LTI program, as performance equity merely targets median performance.	Yes	No	No

CNA Financial Corporation	4/27/2022	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. There are goal rigor and disclosure concerns identified under the STI program: the proxy does not disclose the relative weighting of the corporate and individual performance metrics, and target goals continue to be set below the prior year's results without a clearly disclosed, compelling rationale or corresponding reduction in pay opportunity. Further, the CEO's target STI opportunity is relatively large. Structural concerns are also identified in the LTI program; although the program is entirely performance-based, the company uses the same corporate metric, goals and annual performance period utilized in the STI program, exacerbating goal rigor concerns and providing for duplicative payouts for the same performance results. Concerns are also raised that the company provided an inordinate amount of personal use of corporate aircraft perquisite to the CEO.	Yes	No	No

ConocoPhillips	5/10/2022	Management	Yes	15	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. While acknowledging the company's strong financial and share price performance for the year in review, a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment is identified and underscored by several concerns regarding incentive programs. First, annual incentives, while based on an objective scorecard, lack clear disclosure of threshold and maximum goals for many metrics. This limits investor ability to assess payouts and goal rigor from year to year. The committee also used discretion to increase payouts in FY21. Long-term incentives, while mostly performance-based, target merely median performance and lack a cap on vesting for negative TSR. This is particularly concerning as PSUs have been earned above target for the last four performance cycles.	Yes	No	No

Coterra Energy Inc.	4/29/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	Annual incentives and granted equity for legacy Cabot Oil NEOs were predominantly based on pre-set objective metrics. Additionally, while the combined company granted the current CEO and certain other NEOs, each former Cimarex NEOs, entirely time-based equity post-merger, equity grants will revert to majority performance-based starting in 2022. However, the company materially amended the employment agreement and change-in-control agreement with its former CEO, who remains as executive chairman, without removing entitlements to excise tax gross-up payments. While the majority of the CEO's FY21 equity awards are performance-based with multi-year goals, some goal rigor concern is noted as the relative TSR metric does not target index outperformance and no vesting cap is disclosed in the event of negative TSR. Additionally, while the majority of the NEOs' annual incentives were based on rigorous financial goals, with payouts capped at target, there are concerns about the continued limited disclosure on individual performance assessments. CSX Corporation	5/4/2022	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The committee used discretion for the second consecutive year to increase the CEO's annual incentive payout. While the FY20 adjustment was clearly explained and related to the COVID-19 pandemic, this year's proxy provided limited rationale regarding the committee's decision to again use discretion to increase payouts. Further, FY20 bonuses remained below target opportunities, while the FY21 adjustment increased the payout to maximum-level. This also came in the same year as an increase to the CEO's salary and bonus target. Many investors may question the decision to use discretion to adjust payouts in consecutive years, particularly with limited rationale. Further, the majority of the CEO's LTI mix is time-based using Public Fund Advisory Services valuation, and the company granted a retention RSU award to one NEO that lacks performance-vesting criteria. However, there are mitigating factors for the year in review. Specifically, the committee positioned the new CEO's target short- and long-term incentives lower than his predecessor's in recognition of the shorter service. Further, the annual incentive is based on an objective financial criterion and the target goal was set higher than the prior year's achieved result. Elanco Animal Health Incorporated	5/18/2022	Management	Yes	7	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Annual and long-term incentives are predominantly tied to pre-set, objective performance measures with goals that appear to be rigorous. However, certain concerns are noted with respect to the LTI program, including the use of relatively short two-year performance periods and the lack of forward-looking disclosure of goal targets. Although pay for performance concerns are mitigated for the year under review, continued monitoring of the pay program is warranted given the increasing value of the CEO's LTI awards and the reduction of the performance-based portion of LTI awards in FY22. Exxon Mobil Corporation	5/25/2022	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. CEO Woods' pay increased year-over-year, in line with the company's financial recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic. Despite small improvements in disclosure, including providing accomplishments for each NEO and additional "focus areas" for compensation, concerns regarding the use of compensation committee discretion remain. Annual bonuses and equity award values continue to rely heavily on the committee's subjective assessment of performance, although the company provides certain considerations for executive pay decisions in the proxy. Further, equity awards do not carry performance vesting criteria, though awards use long time-vesting periods and maintain certain retention requirements. Nevertheless, for the year in review, these structural concerns were mitigated by rebounded financial performance and the alignment between pay and performance for the year in review. However, noted concerns around subjective pay determination and program structure warrant continued close monitoring, particularly should pay and performance not remain closely aligned going forward. The company's regular annual and long-term incentive programs appear to be strongly performance-based, with the entire annual incentive and half of the long-term incentive tied to objective and quantifiable performance measures, and below-target payouts under both programs were aligned with the company's performance. However, one-time retention equity grants made to all of the NEOs in FY21 raise significant concerns given that none of the grants are tied to performance conditions, and the grants were in addition to regular LTI awards. Fortive Corporation	6/7/2022	Management	Yes	9	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Certain factors have been identified that mitigate a pay-for-performance misalignment for the year under review. Although concern exists with respect to the fact that a significant portion of annual incentives are based on qualitative individual performance factors that lack disclosure, the compensation committee exercised negative discretion to reduce annual incentive payouts for FY21. In addition, the committee is moving in a positive direction on long-term incentives by increasing the proportion that is performance-based. Further, the three-year TSR metric is rigorous and below-target payout on the most recent completed PSU cycle indicates alignment with performance. Some concern is raised with respect to the magnitude of a sign-on equity award given to a new NEO; however, over a third of the award was tied to a rigorous multi-year performance goal and the committee responded to shareholder feedback by including enhanced disclosure around sign-on awards. Globe Life Inc.	4/28/2022	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	There is some concern surrounding above-median benchmarking at the company, which is heightened given the company's co-CEO structure. The potential impact of committee discretion in determining annual incentive awards also raises some concern. Many investors may prefer the use of a target grant value for equity awards rather than the company's practice of granting awards as a percentage of market capitalization. However, the annual incentive program is funded formulaically, initial payout determinations are based on pre-set disclosed goals, and the committee has used discretion to adjust payouts sparingly in practice. In addition, performance shares are earned based on clearly disclosed multi-year goals, and closing cycle awards were earned below target, which is directionally aligned with lagging three- and five-year TSR. On balance, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted, but with caution. Close continued monitoring of award sizes and pay determinations is warranted, given the concerns noted above.	No	No	No

Halliburton Company	5/18/2022	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Following last year's failed say-on-pay vote, the compensation committee has demonstrated only a limited degree of responsiveness to investor concerns. Further, for the year in review, ongoing concerns with respect to the long-term incentive program underscore a pay-for-performance misalignment. While acknowledging reporting challenges associated with the change in long-term incentive programs, the CEO's total target annual LTI award value has increased over the past two years without clear rationale, providing larger payout opportunities. The performance metrics also target merely median performance and have resulted in maximum payouts for several consecutive years, even resulting in maximum-level vesting when performance was negative in each of the last two cycles. Harley-Davidson, Inc.	5/12/2022	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The committee made changes to compensation programs in response to investor feedback; however, concerns regarding the structure and magnitude of pay remain, particularly as the CEO's compensation nearly doubled year-over-year. The CEO's base salary remained high, even after the anticipated reduction for FY22. However, more concerning were actions taken in the long-term incentive program. The committee reduced the performance period for annual cycle long-term incentives from a multi-year measurement period to annually measured performance goals, limiting the long-term focus of the program. Further, the CEO's RSUs vest after just one year and his performance option grant does not require that the stock price achievements be sustained beyond the initial 10-day average.	Yes	No	No

Although the company disclosed engagement efforts, certain feedback received from shareholders, and addressed one area of concern expressed by shareholders through certain changes to the LTI program, feedback surrounding two other areas of concern – a special bonus and enhanced retirement benefits – is vague. Further concerns are raised by the pay program for the year in review. CEO Plant received a significant special equity award for the third year in a row, despite the committee's previous statement that FY20 grants would cover three years. The award consists entirely of time-based RSUs with a relatively short vesting period and the committee's rationale for the grant is not viewed as compelling. Intel Corporation	5/12/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	There are concerns regarding the compensation committee's limited degree of responsiveness to last year's failed say-on-pay vote. While the proxy discloses engagement efforts and shareholders' feedback, not all concerns are clearly fully addressed. Moreover, other pay program changes that were made following shareholder outreach are not all clearly positive. This falls short of the robust response that is expected following a failed vote. There are also unmitigated pay-for-performance concerns for the year in review. Annual incentive payouts were made well above target against goals that were lowered after their initial establishment due to a shift in company strategy. Further, NEO participation in a second bonus opportunity is questionable, when the primary program provides substantial pay opportunities (including the new CEO's relatively high target STI opportunity). Moreover, the company will reduce the proportion of performance-conditioned equity for non-CEO NEOs beginning with FY22 grants. Some investors may also find that the disclosed changes to both STI and LTI programs for next year do not clearly improve program rigor based on the current level of disclosure. Lastly, concerns are also raised with respect to the CEO's large security-related perquisite. Jefferies Financial Group Inc.	3/29/2022	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	Following the second consecutive year of low support for the say-on-pay proposal, the company disclosed details of its shareholder engagement efforts and certain feedback received. However, disclosure of certain expressed concerns is vague, and shareholders may question whether the transition to a new pay program that places a greater emphasis on discretion fully addresses their concerns. Disclosure around these issues needs improvement, and the committee has demonstrated only a limited degree of responsiveness to low say-on-pay support. The new pay program's reliance on committee discretion to determine NEO pay raises concerns, and incomplete disclosure of target goals, per-metric weightings, and target pay opportunities for certain NEOs inhibits investors' ability to fully assess the pay-for-performance linkage. Further, although half of FY21 performance year equity awards are based on clearly disclosed multi-year goals, the transition awards granted to the CEO and President in FY21 lack pre-set, multi-year performance criteria and vest solely over time. The magnitude of compensation opportunities for the CEO and President exacerbates structural concerns. In light of the company's limited responsiveness to last year's say-on-pay vote result and an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted.	Yes	No	No

Johnson & Johnson	4/28/2022	Management	Yes	15	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Following low support for the 2021 say-on-pay proposal, the company engaged with shareholders, disclosed their feedback in the proxy statement, and made improvements to 2022 proxy statement disclosure to address investors' concerns. In particular, the company provided greater disclosure of the factors considered by the compensation committee relating to non-GAAP adjustments and disclosed that the board has adopted new procedures for routinely evaluating such adjustments. In addition, incentive programs remain largely performance-conditioned, and CEO pay and company performance are reasonably aligned for the year in review. Further, although incentive metrics for 2021 were adjusted to exclude litigation-related expenses, the size of the adjustment was significantly lower than in 2019 and 2020, and the company affirms that the adjustments were not related to opioid litigation. However, greater details in the proxy regarding the reconciliation of GAAP and non-GAAP metrics would be beneficial to shareholders.	No	No	No

JPMorgan Chase & Co.	5/17/2022	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	The increase in reported CEO pay is primarily the result of a sizable, one-time award of stock appreciation rights. Although the CEO's annual LTI is entirely based on clearly disclosed multi-year goals, there are significant concerns regarding the structure of the one-time award, as the award lacks rigorous performance-vesting criteria, or even a premium exercise price. This structural concern is heightened given the substantial pay opportunities this off-cycle award provides. The executive pay program's reliance on discretion to determine annual incentives remains an ongoing concern, even when such discretion is guided by performance assessments against consistent metrics. While the company's recent improved performance may provide context to an increase in performance year pay, some investors may nonetheless question an increase in the CEO's annual-cycle award while long-term TSR lagged the S&P 500 and when the regular award was preceded by such a sizable one-time award. In light of these concerns, the quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment is not mitigated and a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted.	Yes	No	No

Kemper Corporation	5/4/2022	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Notwithstanding a year-over-year decrease in annual incentive payouts, there are concerns raised with the structure of the annual incentive program. The annual incentive pool is funded as a percentage of adjusted net income, which does not require year-over-year growth in order for pool funding to occur, and individual payout determinations are discretionarily determined. Further, although the majority of the CEO's long-term incentives are delivered in performance shares earned based on clearly disclosed multi-year goals, there are concerns regarding goal rigor under the LTI program, as the relative TSR PSUs merely target median performance and there is no disclosed cap in the event of negative absolute TSR. Kilroy Realty Corporation	5/19/2022	Management	Yes	8	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	The company disclosed the details of its outreach and engagement efforts with shareholders, as well as specific feedback received. However, the board does not appear to have made any material changes to severance-related issues since last year's say-on-pay vote that received only 55 percent support. The company re-affirmed that the legacy provision at issue in a former NEO's prior employment agreement will not be included in any new company employment agreements in the future, but that commitment was already disclosed by the company prior to the 2021 vote. It is also highly concerning that the company maintains an agreement containing an excessive severance entitlement with the current CEO that far exceeds market norms, on the backdrop of consecutive years of low say-on-pay support and where outsized severance was a noted shareholder concern. The committee's statement in the 2022 proxy that "it will again consider, as it has in the past, the severance arrangements provided to our CEO when his contract is up for renewal" does not represent a meaningful commitment to reduce the CEO's problematic, excessive severance entitlement. Based on this, the committee demonstrated only a limited degree of responsiveness. As such, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted.	Yes	No	No

Las Vegas Sands Corp.	5/12/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. While executives did not receive annual equity awards or payouts under the annual incentive program in 2021, the one-time awards granted to NEOs are problematic. The value of the awards, which were granted for retention purposes and in light of the lack of regular-cycle incentive awards for two consecutive years, is excessive, and vesting is subject to performance over a relatively short period. NEOs received additional one-time grants of RSUs in connection with new employment agreements; these awards are entirely time-vesting and lack a compelling rationale. Finally, the CEO and COO each received sizable gross-up payments on excessive perquisites, which are provided by their employment agreements and are considered to be problematic.	Yes	No	No
Lazard Ltd	5/18/2022	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. The company utilizes a co-CEO structure in addition to employing an Executive Chairman, whose total target pay opportunity is set above the pay of both CEOs. The concerns with this structure, which pays three executives at a CEO level, are further exacerbated by the annual bonus program, where payouts are not capped. The uncapped payouts in FY21 to each executive led to payouts at nearly double the total pay of peer CEOs, and year-over-year pay increases of over 50 percent. Shareholders may question the necessity of compensating three executives well above the level of the chief executive at other companies.	Yes	No	No

Meta Platforms, Inc.	5/25/2022	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	There are several ongoing pay program and disclosure concerns. The company's award determinations remain discretionary, and incentive programs lack disclosed performance metrics and quantified goals. Disclosure around individual performance assessments is also poor, and the design allows for such considerations to have a potentially large impact on annual bonuses. Executives again received very large equity awards that lack performance vesting criteria. Moreover, the CEO's and COO's security costs, as well as the CEO's total amount of perquisite compensation, are exceedingly large. Despite several consecutive years of relatively low support for this proposal, the compensation committee has again failed to demonstrate meaningful responsiveness to shareholders' concerns. In addition, there are ongoing significant concerns regarding NEO pay structure. Pay almost entirely consists of base salaries and grants of fully-vested option awards, the specific allocation of which is at the individual's election, resulting in excessive base salaries for certain NEOs. Further, the lack of time- or performance-vesting incentives eliminates at-risk pay and diminishes the incentive value of compensation. In addition, although the CEO's pay declined year-over-year given that he did not receive any one-time awards or payouts, his total pay remained relatively high. The compensation committee demonstrated only a limited degree of responsiveness to shareholders' concerns that led to a failed say-on-pay vote last year. While the company provides enhanced disclosure surrounding the CEO's retention award and other aspects of the compensation program and CEO succession planning, the actions taken by the committee do not meaningfully address all of shareholders' expressed concerns, which is paramount following a failed vote. In addition, concerns with respect to goal rigor under the annual and long-term incentive programs underscore a pay-for-performance misalignment. In the wake of shareholder feedback expressing concern regarding goal rigor, some shareholders may find the lowering of certain annual incentive goals concerning given payouts well above target. In addition, relative metrics under the LTI program target the median of peers, which is not considered particularly rigorous. Planet Fitness, Inc.	5/2/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted given that significant concerns regarding the structure of the pay program were identified for the year under review. In particular, although the annual incentive for the CEO is generally based on pre-set, objective measures, the STI plan provides for additional payouts if the bonus funding pool is not fully utilized. For FY21, the application of this practice under the STI plan resulted in the CEO's receiving a significant increase in his bonus payments outside of the formulaic determination of 1H 2021 and 2H 2022 performance outcomes. Furthermore, the committee granted entirely time-vesting equity in FY21 and supplanted in-flight PSU awards that were unlikely to be earned with time-vesting grants. These actions are not generally viewed as a reasonable reaction to account for the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic.	Yes	No	No

Prologis, Inc.	5/4/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	Following last year's low say-on-pay vote result, the compensation committee engaged with shareholders, disclosed specific feedback received, and implemented positive pay program changes and disclosure improvements. Accordingly, the committee has demonstrated adequate responsiveness. There continue to be some concerns regarding the complex nature of the company's multiple equity incentive programs, particularly with respect to the PPP program, and the rigor of LTI goals. However, these concerns have not resulted in a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment for the year in review. In addition, the annual LTI and outperformance programs are entirely performance-based, and the value of the CEO's PPP awards decreased significantly year-over-year. Further, the committee increased the rigor of the annual LTI goals for future award cycles and eliminated the committee's ability to provide discretionary payouts when threshold goals are not achieved. Lastly, the annual program for all NEOs is now predominately based on pre-set, quantified goals with all targets clear disclosed, following an increase in the weighting of the corporate performance component for non-CEO NEOs and disclosure enhancements made in response to shareholder feedback. On balance of these factors, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Close continued monitoring of grant practices and pay outcomes under the long-term and outperformance programs is warranted given the concerns identified above.	No	No	No

The proxy also notes commitments and pay program changes that were made in response to these shareholder concerns. Additionally, the pay-for-performance misalignment is mitigated for the year in review. The STI program was entirely based on pre-set financial metrics, while 50 percent of the LTI grant is in performance-conditioned equity. Some concerns about the LTI program are noted, including that 100 percent of the FY21 grant and 50 percent of the FY22 grant will be based on annualized performance periods. The relative TSR metric also merely targets the 50th percentile, though the company added a feature that caps vesting at target if absolute TSR is negative.	No	No	No

Reinsurance Group of America, Incorporated	5/25/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. The increase in pay for the year in review is due to an off-cycle one-time equity grant, which comes amid multiple years of forfeited performance equity. The one-time grant, which was only half based on performance-conditioned equity and does not disclose any forward-looking targets, appears to also have a relatively short performance period, and both the time-vesting and performance-vesting portions of the award can vest within two years of grant. There is an expectation that one-time awards utilize rigorous goal targets and are predominately performance-based over a long-term performance period. In the annual pay program, the annual bonus replaced a financial goal with a strategic scorecard with disclosure concerns, and multiple financial goals were set below the prior year's actual performance. The LTI mix also lowered the portion that was based on performance-conditioned equity, an action that shareholders generally disfavor.	Yes	No	No

Sempra Energy	5/13/2022	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. The change in pension value again constituted a large portion of the CEO's reported pay, though the committee also increased his long-term incentive opportunity without specific rationale. However, concerns regarding the pay-for-performance misalignment were mitigated for the year in review. The annual incentive program primarily relied on a financial metric with a target set above actual performance in the prior year, and while a portion of long-term incentives target merely median TSR, the closing cycle TSR-based awards were earned below target, consistent with underperformance. Lastly, while CEO pay increased again in FY21, investors may expect reported pay levels to decline as the CEO's SERP valuation stabilizes.	No	No	No

ServiceNow, Inc.	6/9/2022	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. NEOs received sizable one-time option awards in FY21 in addition to their regular annual LTI awards. While the options maintain performance vesting conditions, the magnitude of the grants is excessive, particularly for the CEO at approximately $200 million. The CEO's regular incentive opportunities were also increased in FY21, further compounding pay magnitude concerns. In addition, while the annual and long-term incentives are primarily performance-based for FY21, certain concerns remain regarding the lack of disclosure of performance metric achievement and the continued over-reliance on a single performance measurement period for both programs. Further, while the company provided disclosure about the rationale, the continued use of primarily one-year performance periods under the LTI program is concerning, particularly as shareholders have expressed a desire for long-term performance metrics under the program and a new three-year relative TSR metric only applies to a fraction of the annual LTI awards. Skilz Inc.	5/12/2022	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Some concerns are raised with the executive compensation program, such as discretionary bonuses and a majority of NEO awards (other than the CEO) being time-vesting. The CEO received an entirely performance-based award which was even larger than the award received during fiscal 2020, and the size of the awards in consecutive years is concerning. However, the board determined to cancel the award after fiscal year end, eliminating concerns with the award size. Continued monitoring is warranted, especially if a similar award is granted in the future.	No	No	No

Following a failed say-on-pay vote result, the compensation committee disclosed engagement efforts with shareholders as well as the feedback received in these engagements. The proxy also notes meaningful commitments and pay program changes that were made in response to these shareholder concerns. Additionally, pay and performance are sufficiently aligned for the year in review. Annual and long-term incentives are primarily performance-based, with half of the performance shares utilizing a multi-year performance period. While the annual incentives continue to rely on semi-annual periods, the committee indicates its intention to return to an annual period once market conditions stabilize. However, the relative TSR equity awards continue to lack a payout cap for negative absolute TSR results.	No	No	No

Larger concerns are raised regarding the company's equity award practices. Splunk Inc.	6/16/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	Following last year's failed say-on-pay vote, the committee demonstrated adequate responsiveness to shareholder concerns. However, although disclosed changes to next year's compensation program eliminate metric overlap in the incentive programs, concerns remain regarding the vesting structure for PSUs. FY22 awards are earned over a single annual performance period with a third of awarded shares vesting immediately, and changes for next year's awards continue to allow for annual payouts of fully vested shares, undermining the long-term nature of the program. Further concerns are raised by the structure and magnitude of new hire cash and equity awards granted to two NEOs, rendering them the highest and third-most highly compensated executives in the company for FY22. These awards include significant make-whole awards, paid in cash and subject to only limited repayment requirements, in addition to relatively large equity awards. Investors may question the necessity of paying multiple executives at the level of a CEO. Furthermore, concerns are raised as several NEOs received notable tax gross-up payments. Furthermore, the annual bonus payout value was relatively large and entirely discretionary, lacking any payout formula or targets. There are also concerns regarding a lack of forward-looking goal disclosure and the grant practice of targeting a number of shares instead of a grant value, which is not common market practice. Finally, a non-CEO NEO was compensated above the company's peer group median CEO value, which warrants continued monitoring.	Yes	No	No

State Street Corporation	5/18/2022	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	Annual incentive determinations are guided by a corporate performance assessment and individual performance modifier, but are ultimately determined discretionarily, which raises some concern. While this issue warrants continued monitoring, there are sufficient mitigating factors. Specifically, CEO pay and company performance are reasonably aligned for the year in review, and the increase in the CEO's incentive awards directionally aligns with generally improved company performance. Further, the CEO's incentives are delivered entirely in equity-based pay, and his long-term incentives are predominantly performance-conditioned with clearly disclosed multi-year goals. The Allstate Corporation	5/24/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	There is some concern regarding STI structure and goal rigor. Although the STI pool is funded formulaically, individual payouts are ultimately discretionary. In addition, the company does not disclose forward-looking goals for one LTI metric or a cap on relative TSR vesting if absolute TSR is negative. However, the CEO received an STI payout at the formulaic funding level, consistent with past practice, and the committee provides a reasonable rationale for setting certain targets below 2020 results. In addition, the company targets a majority of equity awards as multi-year performance shares, the LTI metric for which goals are not disclosed is growth-based, and the relative TSR metric targets outperformance. Further, the proxy does not disclose a meaningful cap on the CIO's carried interest payment, which increased significantly year-over-year. The CEO's total target LTI award value was significantly elevated due to a new strategic equity award that was granted in addition to an annual performance-based RSU grant under another ongoing program. Although the CEO's awards were entirely performance-based, both programs utilized one-year performance periods, and the new strategic equity award was tied to the same metric and target as the ongoing performance-based RSUs, essentially providing multiple payouts for the same single achievement. A significant portion of the STI payout is based on individual performance with limited disclosure of metric performance, while the financial metric target was set below the prior year's actual performance without a corresponding decrease in target payout. In addition, each executive's target bonus opportunity was relatively high. Though some improvements were made to the LTI program, including an increased performance period, a majority of the annual equity grant is still in time-vested equity, and the relative TSR target was not disclosed. Furthermore, each non-CEO NEO received a special equity grant in FY21, which one NEO received for the second consecutive year.	Yes	No	No

The TJX Companies, Inc.	6/7/2022	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. A significant increase in reported CEO pay was driven by discretionary adjustments to multiple cycles of previously granted PSUs, and concerns regarding the $9.4 million in incremental value attributed to the 2019-2021 PSU adjustment are compounded by the additional $2.7 million in value related to the adjustment of the 2020-2022 PSUs. Investors generally do not view the modification of previously granted incentive awards to be an appropriate response to the pandemic and may be particularly concerned by consecutive adjustments that increased payouts. Further, annual incentive awards were earned near maximum and a significant portion of payouts were determined based on the compensation committee's subjective assessment of performance.	Yes	No	No

The Trade Desk, Inc.	5/26/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as there are several significant concerns with respect to executive pay and factors cannot be identified that sufficiently mitigate a pay-for-performance misalignment for the year under review. Significant concern is raised with a special stock option award granted to the CEO, which, while tied to achieving stock price hurdles, is excessive at $806.7 million (Public Fund Advisory Services valuation), and the board does not make a firm commitment not to grant the CEO additional equity while the options are outstanding. In addition, although annual incentives were formulaically determined based on a revenue goal that appeared to be rigorous, the CEO received an additional discretionary cash bonus that was sizable and lacks disclosure. The regular annual LTI program is also not sufficiently performance-based as awards lack any performance conditions.	Yes	No	No
The Travelers Companies, Inc.	5/25/2022	Management	Yes	15	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. Although the pay program remains relatively unchanged, an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment exists for the year in review. The majority of long-term incentives are based on clearly disclosed multi-year goals, however, the value of the CEO's performance year equity award increased while long-term TSRs lagged the S&P 500. In addition, while the annual bonus payout is informed by certain financial metrics with disclosed targets, payouts are ultimately discretionarily determined. Further, the proxy does not disclose target or maximum STI opportunities, threshold or maximum goals, or per-metric weightings. Investors increasingly prefer an STI structure that emphasizes objective and transparent determinations, and the lack of such key disclosures limits transparency into pay decisions, which is particularly important in years in which a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment is identified. The Walt Disney Company	3/9/2022	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. While meaningful improvements were made to address shareholders' concerns following last year's low say-on-pay vote, and pay and performance were reasonably aligned for the year in review, certain concerns are raised regarding goal-setting that warrant continued monitoring. In the annual incentive program, two financial targets were set well below actual performance in the prior year, without corresponding reductions to payout opportunities. In addition, improved disclosure would benefit shareholders, as a portion of long-term incentives also use undisclosed annual ROIC targets. Certain concerns are identified with respect to pandemic-related changes to the way annual and LTI goals are measured. In addition, greater disclosure surrounding strategic and individual goals and achievements under the annual incentive plan would benefit shareholders. However, there are mitigating factors for the year in review. Pay is elevated for the new CEO due to make-whole cash and equity awards granted to compensate him for awards he forfeited by leaving his former employer. In addition, annual and long-term awards are predominantly tied to objective performance metrics and goals appear reasonably rigorous, as STI financial metrics are growth-based and the relative TSR target and maximum goals require outperformance. The LTI program's financial component utilizes only a one-year measurement period and shares a metric with the STI program. Further, the new CEO received a large promotion award that lacks performance-vesting criteria. Universal Display Corporation	6/23/2022	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	Following last year's failed say-on-pay vote, the committee demonstrated adequate responsiveness to shareholder concerns. However, although disclosed changes to next year's compensation program will reduce the magnitude of LTI award values and increase the proportion of performance-based equity, significant concerns remain, particularly regarding the long-term incentive program. Neither forward-looking goals for PSU metrics nor performance results and vesting of closing-cycle awards are disclosed, precluding investor assessment of the link between pay and performance for equity awards of significant magnitude. Further, multiple NEOs received total compensation that was greater than total peer median CEO pay and, despite reductions to the value of FY22 LTI awards, one NEO will continue to receive total compensation equal to that of the CEO; investors may question the necessity of paying multiple executives at the level of a CEO. The program appears largely discretionary, as half of awards were earned based on individual performance and the remainder was based on corporate goals that are mostly described in qualitative terms, with minimal disclosure of pre-set, quantified targets and results. The company's rationale for this structure is not considered compelling for FY21, and the structural concerns identified are not mitigated by discretionary reductions to STI payouts. Walgreens Boots Alliance, Inc.	1/27/2022	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. In response to last year's failed say-on-pay vote, the proxy included disclosure regarding feedback received from shareholders. However, disclosure of engagement efforts was incomplete and, more concerning, the pay program changes did not fully address the most prominent shareholder concern regarding the use of positive discretion to increase 2020 closing cycle LTI earnouts. Additionally, mitigated pay-for-performance misalignment exists for the year in review. The annual bonus was based on pre-set objective metrics with clear disclosure regarding the payout structure, targets, and actual performance, though a concern is noted regarding the use of an individual performance modifier, particularly given shareholder feedback regarding the use of positive discretion. The long-term incentive program is half performance-conditioned equity, which utilizes a multi-year performance period. Though forward-looking targets were not disclosed, these goals are disclosed retroactively at the end of the performance period. Lastly, the CEO received significant tax gross-ups related to relocation payments.	Yes	No	No

Wells Fargo & Company	4/26/2022	Management	Yes	15	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	Following last year's low support for say-on-pay, the committee engaged with shareholders, disclosed specific feedback received, and implemented pay program changes and incremental disclosure improvements. Accordingly, the committee has demonstrated sufficient responsiveness. While the increase in CEO performance year pay is directionally aligned with improved company performance, there are ongoing concerns regarding the impact of committee discretion in ultimately determining incentive payouts, and a lack of key disclosures under the total incentive assessment. Concerns around discretion are underscored by the fact that financial accomplishments highlighted for the FY21 performance year are not entirely consistent with those highlighted in the prior year without specific rationale provided. In addition, the proxy does not disclose quantified pre-set target or maximum goals, nor per-metric weightings, which inhibits investors' ability to assess the pay-for-performance linkage. Lastly, there are ongoing concerns regarding high base salaries for the CEO and other NEOs, and the target goal for the reintroduced relative metric under the LTI program is not considered particularly rigorous. Given these concerns, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted.	Yes	No	No

WestRock Company	1/28/2022	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as the increase in CEO pay was due primarily to the sign-on equity grants awarded to the new CEO. WEX Inc.	5/12/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Whirlpool Corporation	4/19/2022	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, as pay and performance were reasonably aligned for the year in review. STI and LTI awards are primarily performance-based with objective metrics. White Mountains Insurance Group, Ltd.	5/26/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR the proposal is warranted. Although concerns are noted in the LTI program regarding duplicative metrics between the STI and LTI as well as an increase in the CEO's LTI grant value without a disclosed rationale, these concerns are largely mitigated, as the LTI program utilizes a multi-year performance period and discloses rigorous growth goals. The STI program is entirely based on a pre-set financial metric and did not pay out in FY21, which largely aligns with recent company underperformance.	No	No	No
Willis Towers Watson Public Limited Company	6/8/2022	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, as pay and performance are reasonably aligned for the year in review. Workday, Inc.	6/22/2022	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted because: * The executive pay program lacks a strong connection to objective performance criteria. Annual bonuses were guided by performance assessments, but ultimately determined by committee discretion. Further, equity awards were entirely time-based. Wynn Resorts, Limited	5/5/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The company has demonstrated poor responsiveness to low vote support for the 2021 say-on-pay proposal. Specifically, disclosure regarding shareholder feedback is limited and it is not clear that the company has made meaningful changes to the pay program to address shareholders' concerns. In addition, a pay-for-performance misalignment is underscored by the former CEO's high base salary and target STI opportunity, and goal disclosure issues. Further, while annual equity awards were 50 percent performance-conditioned, the newly appointed CEO received a large equity grant that was entirely time-based. Finally, disclosure surrounding transition payments made to the former CEO is not sufficient.	Yes	No	No
Xcel Energy Inc.	5/18/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Xerox Holdings Corporation	5/19/2022	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The company failed to demonstrate adequate responsiveness to last year's say-on-pay vote, despite receiving significantly less than majority support. While the company engaged with investors following the annual meeting and disclosed specific shareholder feedback, the committee failed to implement changes to the compensation program so as to sufficiently address the concerns underlying the failed 2021 vote. Below-target payouts on both annual and long-term incentive awards were reasonably in line with performance for their respective performance periods, and although FY21 annual bonuses and equity awards utilize overlapping metrics, metrics are measured over differing performance periods and this overlap has been eliminated for FY22 awards, mitigating pay-for-performance concerns. YUM! Brands, Inc.	5/19/2022	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted, due to significant concerns regarding pay program structure and one-time decisions. The STI payout formula allows for a large increase in total payouts based on the committee's subjective assessment of individual performance. The CEO also has a relatively high maximum STI opportunity that could allow for outsized bonuses. With respect to equity incentives, the entirety of the 2021-23 PSUs are based on a relative TSR metric that targets merely median performance. Moreover, the committee significantly increased the CEO's regular LTI grant value in the same year they awarded a sizable one-time equity award. The special award utilizes only a two-year measurement period and the metric is shared under the annual incentive program. Lastly, the company continues to provide an inordinate amount of personal use of corporate aircraft perquisite to the CEO.	Yes	No	No
Zebra Technologies Corporation	5/12/2022	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company maintains agreements that contain excise tax gross-up provisions.	Yes	Yes	No
Zimmer Biomet Holdings, Inc.	5/13/2022	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. Although the annual pay program is reasonably performance-based, the company made a problematic one-time pay decision after the fiscal year end. In connection with a spinoff, performance equity granted in 2020 and 2021 was converted into time-vested equity, without disclosure of sufficient rationale. In addition, despite the 2020 performance equity tracking to not earn a payout due to underperformance, that grant was determined to vest at 50 percent of target, which undermines a pay-for-performance philosophy. Zscaler, Inc.	1/5/2022	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted, driven by concerns surrounding the CEO's equity awards. While the awards are entirely performance-based, they utilize the same financial metrics as the annual incentive plan, are measured over a one-year performance period, and lack disclosure of both targets and actual performance. While the same target number of PSUs was granted as in the previous year, the CEO's FY21 equity grant value was substantially larger than the median total pay of both Public Fund Advisory Services' and the company's selected peers. Most other NEOs' equity awards were only subject to time-based vesting.	Yes	No

Contested Meetings Overview

Company	Ticker	ISS Governance QualityScore	Meeting Date	Position Value (USD)*	ISS Recommended Slate	Slate Voted	Key Takeaways
McDonald's Corporation	MCD	7	26-May-2022	3.3 M	Management	Management	&gt; Carl Icahn, who engaged with MCD prior to the company's 2012 commitment to source pork from producers that do not house pregnant sows in gestation stalls, is nominating two candidates to replace incumbent directors Sheila Penrose and Richard Lenny, the two longest-tenured directors serving on the Sustainability and Corporate Responsibility Committee (SCRC). &gt; On balance, the dissident campaign has not made a sufficient case, on an issue-specific or broader view of ESG, that the immediate replacement of incumbent directors is necessary at this time. However, in recognition of the issues presented and the apparent room for improvement in the company's ESG efforts and communication, cautionary support is warranted for targeted directors Lenny and Penrose. Shareholders should consider this vote within the context of their specific ESG agendas and may wish to engage directly with the SCRC members to determine whether the board is adequately focused on these issues; those who prioritize such concerns may opt to withhold support from these directors as a way of signaling a view that more attention is needed at the board level. &gt; Shareholder support for Item 4 warrants support, as it would further enhance the existing shareholder right to call special meetings. &gt; Support for the shareholder resolution on reducing plastic use (Item 5) is warranted, as shareholders would benefit from additional information on how the company intends to reduce plastic in its business. &gt; Support for the shareholder resolution on overseeing a civil rights audit (Item 8) is warranted as such disclosure would allow shareholders to better assess the civil rights impacts and effectiveness of the company's policies and practices. &gt; Support for the proposal requesting lobbying payments and policy (Item 9) is warranted, as additional disclosure on direct and indirect lobbying and board oversight would help shareholders better assess risks and benefits associated with the company's participation in the public policy process.
Aerojet Rocketdyne Holdings, Inc.	AJRD	5	30-Jun-2022	764,108.5	Management	Management	&gt; Two internal factions – one led by CEO Eileen Drake, and the other by executive chair Warren Lichtenstein – have submitted competing slates to overhaul the eight-member board. The Drake Slate includes Drake, three other incumbent directors (Kevin Chilton, Thomas Corcoran, and Lance Lord), and four new nominees. Although Lichtenstein has the backing of three other incumbent directors, the Lichtenstein Slate itself includes Lichtenstein, one other incumbent director (Martin Turchin), and six new nominees.

							&gt; This contest has its origins in the abandoned transaction with Lockheed Martin, which was announced in December 2020 and scuttled earlier this year. Lichtenstein argues that after announcement of the deal, AJRD deteriorated as Drake prioritized her personal financial interests, and that he was frozen out by Drake after attempting to ensure that AJRD had a contingency plan should the deal not close. Drake instead argues that Lichtenstein was never a true proponent of the transaction, so he sought to undermine the combination and her leadership, with the aim of replacing her with another candidate if the deal broke, thereby allowing him to pursue a self-serving strategy. &gt; This contest is the least desirable way to address the untenable board dynamic that has taken hold at AJRD. However, the deadlock must be addressed as soon as possible. Lichtenstein – who hired and oversaw Drake over several years, during which both were well compensated – has not made a sufficient case that management change is necessary at this point. Drake also has the support of the only long-tenured incumbent directors with no apparent ties to either side, the facts demonstrate that Lichtenstein bears significant responsibility for the organizational rot that enabled this contest, and there are concerns with Lichtenstein's recent actions. Therefore, although either slate would be better than the status quo, a board free from the direct influence of Lichtenstein is preferable. As such, support for the Drake Slate on the WHITE card is warranted.
Aerojet Rocketdyne Holdings, Inc.	AJRD	5	25-May-2022	360,779.9	Dissident	Did Not Vote	In a situation that exemplifies the perils of maintaining an even-numbered board, Aerojet Rocketdyne's eight-member board finds itself deadlocked in the wake of the company's abandoned merger with Lockheed Martin, which the bidder terminated in February due to apparent regulatory impediments. The opposing factions, one aligned with CEO Eileen Drake, and one aligned with Executive Chairman Warren Lichtenstein, are at odds over the latter's delay in calling this year's AGM; the former is therefore seeking consent from shareholders to call an EGM, at which the two sides will vie for control of the board. On balance, shareholders appear better served by supporting the Drake Group's consent solicitation, which should allow for a more expeditious vote on the substantive issues at hand, resolving an unproductive stalemate that has posed substantial risk to company, and allowing a reconstituted board to focus on matters most relevant to investors.
Ventas Inc.	VTR	8	27-Apr-2022	353,486.5	Management	Management	• Land &amp; Buildings, a 0.2 percent shareholder, is seeking one seat on the 11-member board. • Although Ventas' fundamental performance has moved in the same direction and with a similar magnitude to its closest competitor, its TSR and valuation have persistently lagged. • The board's refreshment, management's tangible steps to improve investor communications, and the acknowledgement by company leadership that it must reduce the multiple gap, lead to the conclusion that the dissident has not made a compelling case for immediate change - though its campaign may have helped to sharpen management's focus on key issues for shareholders. Support is therefore warranted for the management nominees on the management card, but shareholders are advised to monitor the company's efforts. • There are structural concerns identified in the STI program that was redesigned for FY21

							due to pandemic uncertainties, which appears largely discretionary. There are also concerns around retention arounds that lack performance criteria.
Kohl's Corporation	KSS	1	11-May-2022	216,464.0	Dissident	Dissident	&gt; Macellum Advisors, which owns approximately 5 percent of outstanding shares, is seeking 10 seats on what will be a 13-member board after this AGM. &gt; Last year, Macellum teamed up with three other investors to launch a proxy fight at Kohl's, which was ultimately settled with the company agreeing to appoint two of the dissidents' nominees and a third, mutually agreed nominee. &gt; Macellum launched a repeat proxy fight on Jan. 18, 2022, arguing that KSS' continued underperformance signaled a need for more meaningful change. Several days later, media reports emerged that the company had received an unsolicited bid from Acacia Research at $64.00 per share in cash. The company has since launched a formal sale process, though it has been criticized by the dissident as insincere. &gt; Although the dissident has raised certain valid concerns, it has not made the case for a full board overhaul. Nevertheless, some incremental change at the board level may provide added comfort to investors that the strategic alternatives available are being weighed against the upside and risks associated with the standalone plan, and add expertise in the oversight of the company strategy should a deal not materialize. Shareholders are recommended to vote FOR dissident nominees Pamela Edwards and Jeffrey Kantor.
Hasbro, Inc.	HAS	8	08-Jun-2022	197,202.7	Management	Management	Alta Fox Capital Management, an approximately 2.6 percent holder, is nominating three candidates to the Hasbro board, seeking to replace Chair Richard Stoddart, compensation committee chair Lisa Girsch, and nomination and governance committee chair Edward Philip, the longest-tenured director, who has served on the board for 20 years. On April 4, 2022, a little over a month after the dissident's nomination, Hasbro disclosed that it had expanded the board from 11 to 13 members by appointing Elizabeth Hamren and Blake Jorgensen to the board effective immediately and that it expects to reduce the board to 12 members in 2023 and to 11 members in 2024. The dissident campaign highlighted some valid concerns, including inadequate disclosures, a questionable track record of capital allocation, the dilutive and expensive eOne acquisition, and lack of refreshment at the board level. While there may be some lingering concerns in this regard, the recent TSR outperformance, the appointment of Cocks as CEO, who has been on the job for less than 100 days, and the addition of directors with much needed gaming expertise, have reduced the urgency for significant change at the board level in the near term. At the current juncture, although there is a limited case for change, the downside risk of all three dissident nominees getting elected outweighs the upside of potentially strengthening the capital allocation expertise with one replacement. Given these considerations, withholding on the longest-tenured director would serve as a way for shareholders to signal their displeasure with the pace of refreshment and possibly add weight to the new voices on the board. As such, shareholders are

							recommended to WITHHOLD votes for incumbent director Edward Philip on the management card.
US Foods Holding Corp.	USFD	3	18-May-2022	150,239.1	Management	Management	&gt; Sachem Head, which owns 8.7 percent of shares outstanding, is seeking five seats on what will be an 11-member board after this AGM. &gt; The company, the second largest broadline food distributor in the United States, was heavily impacted by the COVID pandemic and has been recovering since the introduction of the COVID vaccines in November 2020. Pre-pandemic and post-vaccine, the board does not appear to have held management accountable for lagging adjusted EBITDA margins and underwhelming margin expansion. The persistence of the margin gap since the company's 2016 IPO, which represents the tenure of the current CEO, argues against giving the board more time. &gt; The dissident has made a compelling case for further change. Dissident nominees James Barber adds supply chain and executive experience, Scott Ferguson provides the perspective of a significant independent shareholder, and Jeri Finard brings robust public board and relevant executive experience. In combination with other independent voices already on the board, the addition of these three dissident nominees should be sufficient to ensure that management is held accountable for reducing or eliminating the company's relative underperformance. &gt; The Teamsters filed an exempt solicitation to urge shareholders to reject the dissident's nominees because of the dissident's proposal to consolidate the company's distribution center network. &gt; Support for the shareholder proposal requesting that the company set GHG emissions targets is warranted, as it would allow shareholders to better assess how the company is managing a transition to a low carbon economy and climate change related risks. The board takes no position on the proposal. &gt; Cautionary support is warranted for the say-on-pay proposal. Annual equity grants were entirely time-vesting for 2021, however equity awards for 2022 will be 50 percent performance-conditioned and one-time PRSUs granted in 2021 require significant TSR growth to vest. While the addition of the one-time grants did not result in excessive pay levels, and CEO pay and company performance remain reasonably aligned, continued monitoring of the company's equity grant practices and long-term incentive program structure is warranted.
Southwest Gas Holdings, Inc.	SWX	4	19-May-2022	146,021.2	Management	Management	&gt; Carl Icahn, who owns 4.8 percent of shares, is seeking to replace all 10 members of the SWX board. Icahn also launched a tender offer in October 2021 at $75.00 per share, which has since been increased to $82.50 per share. &gt; Since the CEO took over in March 2015, SWX has demonstrated directionally-positive TSR, has proven competent as an operator at the core utility business level, and has avoided major corporate governance controversies. However, a series of recent developments – beginning

							with the acquisition of Questar in late 2021 – has revealed a less stable state of affairs than meets the eye. &gt; In a complication of matters, the board announced a strategic review on April 18, less than a month before this AGM, in response to an inbound bid. The focus of this contest has therefore evolved to incorporate the aim of ensuring the best outcome for shareholders in the strategic review process. &gt; The dissident has gained the backing of Cohen &amp; Steers Capital Management (1.2 percent), while Carronade Capital has joined the fray in criticizing the company. &gt; The dissident has made a compelling case for change. The board would benefit from the addition of Walter Higgins and Andrew Evans, who have extensive independent industry experience, Andrew Teno, who has the perspective of a direct shareholder, and Nora Brownell, who previously served as a FERC commissioner. Together, these additions should collectively ensure a thorough strategic review and address current needs that will remain relevant should a transaction not materialize.
American Vanguard Corporation	AVD	2	01-Jun-2022	104,248.3	Dissident	Dissident	&gt; Cruiser Capital, a 2.5 percent shareholder, is seeking three seats on the nine-member board. &gt; Top-line growth has not been accompanied by meaningful progress elsewhere on the income statement, which is particularly concerning given AVD's M&amp;A strategy. Coupled with deficiencies in board refreshment, this inability to execute has translated into TSR underperformance. These and other concerns make it challenging for investors to embrace the go-forward plan articulated by the board, which is designed to capitalize on tailwinds in a cyclical agriculture industry that is emerging from a prolonged downcycle. &gt; The dissident has made a compelling case for the addition of all three dissident nominees. Patrick Gottschalk, Mark Bassett, and Keith Rosenbloom should collectively assist in addressing concerns with operational performance, corporate governance, and AVD's ability to capitalize on industry tailwinds. &gt; While certain executive pay concerns are noted, they are sufficiently mitigated by reasonably performance-based incentive programs and the alignment of CEO pay and company performance for the year in review.
Genworth Financial, Inc.	GNW	2	19-May-2022	53,802.0	Management	Management	Scott Klarquist, who is a 0.01 percent shareholder and the CIO of Seven Corners Capital Management, has filed a competing proxy statement urging shareholders to withhold votes from compensation committee members and vote against the say-on-pay proposal. The dissident argues that executive compensation does not properly align the financial incentives of the company's senior executives with those of shareholders. The dissident therefore contends that compensation committee members have failed shareholders and therefore need to be removed. Multiple structural or disclosure concerns with the executive pay program are noted that merit continued monitoring, though pay

							and performance appear reasonably aligned for the year in review. These concerns do not rise to a level to warrant an adverse vote recommendation against directors or the say-on-pay proposal. Support for all director nominees and the say-on-pay proposal is warranted.
Guess?, Inc.	GES	9	22-Apr-2022	45,980.6	Dissident	Dissident	Legion Partners, a 2.5 percent holder of company shares, is seeking votes against two of the four members standing for reelection on the company's seven-member classified board: co-founders Paul and Maurice Marciano, who together hold 41.3 percent of company shares.Models and prospective models, among other women, have accused Paul Marciano of a wide spectrum of sexual misconduct since the 1980s. The allegations emerged no later than the 1990s and have continued to come to light as recently as 2021.In February 2018, after a series of media articles detailing alleged encounters with and abuse by Paul Marciano, the company formed a two-member all-male special committee to investigate. The committee concluded its investigation approximately four months later. Marciano resigned his co-chairmanship but remained on the board and in his position as chief creative officer, a role which he stated he would not seek to continue after his employment agreement expired in January 2019. In late January 2019, the board unanimously agreed to ask him to remain as chief creative officer, a post he continues to hold today.The company's 2018 investigation was troublingly inadequate in design, transparency, and result achieved. The brand and reputation of the company do not appear to have been an emphasis of the inquiry. The measures enacted to prevent future sexual misconduct, or allegations thereof, by Paul Marciano, were seemingly ineffective; allegations of post-2018 sexual misconduct emerged in early 2021 in the form of several lawsuits. The company nonetheless maintains that Paul Marciano is essential to its success, and does not have a discernable succession plan for the chief creative officer role.The board's 2018 investigation was insufficient, there is a credible risk to the Guess brand posed by Paul Marciano's continued involvement with the company, and the board has been unable to separate him from the company despite a growing chorus of public allegations of sexual misconduct. As removal of the Marcianos appears to be the only course available to begin a clean break in this long and sordid thread in the company's history, shareholders should withhold support for both Paul and Maurice Marciano by voting on the dissident card. In addition, cautionary support is warranted for Anthony Chidoni, one of the two members of the all-male 2018 special committee that investigated the previous round of allegations against Paul Marciano.The company announced on March 4, 2022 that the annual meeting date would be held on April 22, approximately two months earlier than its customary mid-June meeting date. The company did not file its definitive proxy until April 6, giving shareholders a very short window in which to consider the numerous issues raised by Legion's Vote No campaign and cast their votes.There are concerns regarding large incentive target opportunities, pay quantum and equity award design. These issues underscore the quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment for the year in review (Item 2).

§ 18730. Provisions of Conflict of Interest Codes.

(a) Incorporation by reference of the terms of this regulation along with the designation of employees and the formulation of disclosure categories in the Appendix referred to below constitute the adoption and promulgation of a conflict of interest code within the meaning of Section 87300 or the amendment of a conflict of interest code within the meaning of Section 87306 if the terms of this regulation are substituted for terms of a conflict of interest code already in effect. A code so amended or adopted and promulgated requires the reporting of reportable items in a manner substantially equivalent to the requirements of article 2 of chapter 7 of the Political Reform Act, Sections 81000, et seq. I Purpose

The Board of MCERA recognizes its constitutional and statutory fiduciary duty to administer the retirement system prudently for the benefit of the members and their beneficiaries. The Board adopts this Due Diligence Policy to promote the Board's ability to achieve these goals. The Board conducts such due diligence to complement the due diligence performed on its behalf by its investment consultant.

This Due Diligence Policy sets forth the guidelines governing the ~~Trustees'~~ responsibilities of the Trustees and the Retirement Administrator in conducting due diligence activities in connection with MCERA's investment portfolio. These guidelines are intended to complement the Board's Education and Travel Expense Policies. Users of the portable devices should not modify security settings or add software to the device that has not been authorized by MCERA.
5. Board members and staff should consult with the MCERA Retirement Administrator prior to downloading or installing any software onto any MCERA portable electronic devices.

If MCERA Board or staff members discuss, or engage in other conduct of, MCERA business on their private (non-MCERA) email accounts, they will be required to respond substantively to MCERA staff within five (5) business days regarding any California Public Records Act request for such email communications.
11. Every Board and staff member must acknowledge in writing that he or she has read, understood and will comply with all terms of this policy before that individual may be provided with any MCERA portable electronic devices.

INTRODUCTION

The Marin County Employees' Retirement Association ("MCERA") was established to provide retirement benefits to county employees and other local public agencies. The Board of Retirement (the "Board" and/or the "Board of Retirement") is comprised of the County Director of Finance, four members appointed by the County Board of Supervisors, four members elected by the membership, plus one alternate retiree and one alternate safety member. The Director of Finance may also designate a deputy, who is employed under the Director of Finance's authority, to act in his or her place and stead on the Board or any of its committees.

MCERA was organized in accordance with the provisions of California's 1937 County Employees Retirement Law ("1937 Act"). The powers and duties of the Board of Retirement are set forth in the 1937 Act and in Article XVI, section 17, of the State Constitution. This document provides a framework for the investment of the assets of MCERA. The Board of Retirement has established a standing Investment Committee, which is composed of all members of the Board of Retirement ("Investment Committee" or "Committee"). As set forth in the Investment Committee's Charter, the Committee has been delegated all investment authority of MCERA as set forth therein. The purpose of the Investment Policy is to assist the Board, through the Investment Committee, in effectively supervising and monitoring the assets of MCERA (the "Plan" or the "Fund"). Specifically, it will address the following issues:

- The general goals of the investment program;
- The policies and procedures for the management of the investments;
- Specific asset allocations, rebalancing procedures and investment guidelines;
- Performance objectives; and
- Responsible parties.

The Investment Committee establishes this investment policy in accordance with applicable local, State, and Federal laws. The Board and Committee members exercise authority and control over the Plan, by setting policy which the Staff executes either internally or through the use of external prudent experts. The Board and Committee oversee and guide the Plan subject to the following basic fiduciary responsibilities:

- Solely in the interest of, and for the exclusive purpose of, providing benefits to participants and their beneficiaries, minimizing contributions thereto, and defraying reasonable expenses of administering the Plan.
- Invest and manage Fund assets as a prudent investor would, by considering the purposes, terms, distribution requirements, and other circumstances of the Fund. In satisfying this standard of care, the trustees shall exercise reasonable care, skill, and caution.
- Diversify the investments of the Plan so as to minimize the risk of loss and to maximize the rate of return, unless under the circumstances it is clearly prudent not to do so. Diversification is applicable to the deployment of the assets as a whole.

This policy statement is designed to allow for sufficient flexibility in the management oversight process to capture investment opportunities as they may occur, while setting forth reasonable parameters to ensure prudence and care in the execution of the investment program.

DRAFT

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

The policies and procedures of MCERA's investment program are designed to maximize the probability that the investment goals will be fulfilled. Investment policies will evolve as Fund conditions change and as investment conditions warrant.

Asset Allocation Policy

MCERA adopts and implements an asset allocation policy that is predicated on a number of factors, including:

- A projection of actuarial assets, liabilities and benefit payments and the cost of contributions;
- Historical and expected long-term capital market risk and return behavior;
- An assessment of future economic conditions, including inflation and interest rate levels; and
- The current and projected funding status of the Plan.

This policy provides for diversification of assets in an effort to maximize the investment return of the Plan consistent with market conditions. Asset allocation modeling identifies asset classes the Plan will utilize and the percentage that each class represents of the total Fund. Due to the fluctuation of market values, positioning within a specified range is acceptable and constitutes compliance with the policy. It is anticipated that an extended period of time may be required to fully implement the asset allocation policy, and that periodic revisions will occur. MCERA's Staff and external consultants will monitor and assess the actual asset allocation versus policy and will evaluate any variation deemed significant.

The Board and Committee will implement the asset allocation policy (i) through the use of investment managers to invest the assets of MCERA in accordance with the investment guidelines incorporated into the investment management agreements executed with MCERA and/or (ii) through its investment in limited liability partnerships, limited liability corporations, commingled funds, group trusts or other commonly used investment vehicles, which invest allocated assets in accordance with the governing documents for the investment vehicle. When appropriate, passive management strategies may also be utilized.

INVESTMENT GOAL STATEMENT

The Plan's general investment goals are broad in nature. The objective shall be to efficiently allocate and manage the assets dedicated to the payment of Plan benefits and administrative expenses. The following goals, consistent with the above described purpose, are adopted:

- The overall goal of MCERA's investments is to provide Plan participants with retirement, disability, and death and survivor benefits as provided for under the County Employees Retirement Law of 1937. This will be accomplished through a carefully planned and executed long-term investment program.
- MCERA's assets will be managed on a total return basis. While MCERA recognizes the importance of the preservation of capital, it also adheres to the principle that varying degrees of investment risk are generally rewarded with compensating returns.
- The total portfolio over the long term will be expected to:
  1. Meet or exceed a long-term total portfolio real (above inflation) return commensurate with the target asset allocation contained in Appendix A to this document (annualized, net of fees, over a full market cycle, normally defined as 5-7 years);
  2. Meet or exceed the assumed actuarial rate of return over long-term periods; and
  3. Meet or exceed a weighted index of the total Plan's asset allocation policy and component benchmarks over rolling five-year periods by an appropriate amount (annualized, net of fees, over a full market cycle).
- MCERA's Investment Policy has been designed to produce a total portfolio, long-term real return. Consequently, prudent risk-taking is warranted within the context of overall portfolio diversification to meet this goal. The investment activities are designed and executed in a manner that serves the best interests of the members and beneficiaries of the Association.
- All transactions undertaken will be for the sole benefit of MCERA's members and beneficiaries and for the exclusive purpose of providing benefits to them, minimizing contributions to the Plan and defraying reasonable associated administrative expenses.
- MCERA has a long-term investment horizon, and utilizes an asset allocation plan that encompasses a strategic, long-run perspective of capital markets. It is recognized that a strategic long-run asset allocation plan implemented in a consistent and disciplined manner will be the major determinant of the Plan's investment performance.

Investment recommendations and subsequent actions are expected to comply with "prudent expert" standards. Board and Committee members are expected to comply with "prudent investor" standards.

Manager Utilization and Selection

The selection of investment managers is accomplished in accordance with all applicable local, State and Federal laws and regulations. Each investment manager and consultant functions under a formal contract which delineates responsibilities and appropriate performance expectations. A formal set of investment guidelines and investment administrative requirements for each investment manager has been established and is provided as an addendum to this document. With regard to investment in limited liability partnerships, limited liability corporations, commingled funds, group trusts or other commonly used investment vehicles, the management of the relevant investment vehicle and the investment guidelines will be as set forth in the fund's legal documentation.

Manager Authority

The Plan's investment managers, unless otherwise noted in their contract, shall have designated discretion to direct and manage the investment and reinvestment of assets allocated to their accounts in accordance with this document; applicable local, State and Federal statutes and regulations; and individual management investment plans and executed contracts. Commingled investments, including but not limited to investments in mutual funds, trusts, limited liability partnerships, limited liability corporations, group trusts or other commonly used investment vehicles, are expected to comply with the guidelines established in the governing documents or fund prospectus.

The Board, Committee, and Staff will consider the comments and recommendations of consultants in conjunction with other available information in making informed, prudent decisions.

Proxy Voting

MCERA acknowledges that the ownership of equities requires proxies to be voted. MCERA commits to managing its proxy voting rights with the same care, skill, diligence and prudence as is exercised in managing its other assets. As responsible fiduciaries, the Board of Retirement will exercise its proxy voting rights in the sole interest of the Plan's members and beneficiaries in accordance with all applicable statutes and MCERA's Proxy Voting and Corporate Governance Policy.

Securities Lending

The Board and/or Committee may authorize the execution of a "Securities Lending Program" which will be performed by the Plan custodian or qualified third-party securities lending agent(s). The program will be established by a written agreement authorized by the Board and/or Committee and monitored and reviewed by the Staff.

The following are the general guidelines for the securities lending program:

1. The lending program may be implemented through the use of agent lenders or principal lenders;

2. The lenders may lend financial securities including, but not limited to, U.S. and non-U.S. equities, corporate bonds, and U.S. and non-U.S. government securities;
3. If an agent program is implemented, the agent shall have full discretion over the selection of borrowers and shall continually review the creditworthiness of potential borrowers through extensive analysis of relevant information;
4. All loans shall be fully collateralized with cash, government securities or irrevocable bank letters of credit;
5. Cash collateral received from securities borrowers will be deposited upon receipt in a pre-approved short-term investment vehicle or vehicles;
6. Loans of U.S. securities are initially collateralized at 102% of the market value of the borrowed securities if the borrowed securities and the collateral are denominated in the same currency and at 105% if the borrowed securities and the collateral are denominated in different currencies. As the market value of the collateral falls below 102% (105%) of the market value of the borrowed securities, the borrower is marked to market each business day using yesterday's closing prices, subject to the lending agent's de minimis rules of change;
7. Securities on loan should be marked-to-market on a daily basis to assess adequacy of collateralization;
8. The lender shall provide periodic performance reports to MCERA;
9. The securities lending program should in no way inhibit the portfolio management activities of the other investment managers of the system;
10. Staff shall be responsible for making an annual report to the Board and/or Committee on securities lending activity; and
11. All other operational aspects of MCERA's securities lending program are hereby delegated to Staff.

Derivatives and Leverage

MCERA's investment managers may be permitted under the terms of individual investment guidelines to use derivative instruments to implement market decisions and security positions and to control portfolio risk. Derivatives are contracts or securities whose returns are derived from the returns of other securities, indices or instruments including, but not limited to, futures, forwards, options, swaps and options on futures. Examples of appropriate applications of derivative strategies include hedging interest rate and currency risk, rebalancing portfolio exposures, securitizing Fund level and manager cash, maintaining exposure to a desired asset class while effecting asset allocation changes and adjusting portfolio duration for fixed income. Portfolio liabilities associated with investments (i.e. mortgage forward bond purchases, futures, in-the-money short puts, reverse repurchase agreements, etc.) shall be backed by cash equivalents or deliverable securities.

MCERA's investment managers are not allowed to utilize derivatives for speculative purposes. All derivatives must be backed by collateral in the form of deliverable securities equal to or greater than the value of the total derivative exposure. In no circumstances can individual managers borrow funds to purchase derivatives. No derivatives positions can be established that create portfolio characteristics outside of portfolio guidelines. Managers must ascertain and carefully monitor the creditworthiness of any third parties involved in derivative transactions.

Rebalancing

Staff shall, on an ongoing basis in accordance with market fluctuations, rebalance the Fund's portfolio so as to remain within the range of targeted allocations and distributions among investment managers and asset allocations. MCERA has a long-term investment horizon and utilizes an asset allocation plan that encompasses a strategic, long-run perspective of capital markets. It is recognized that a strategic long-run asset allocation plan implemented in a consistent and disciplined manner will be the major determinant of the Plan's investment performance.

MCERA will not attempt to time rises or falls in equity or bond markets by moving away from long-term targets.

Systematic rebalancing, implemented when the asset classes move outside their target ranges or when significant cash flows occur, will be used to maintain or to move asset allocations within these appropriate ranges.

GENERAL INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES AND GUIDELINES

Equity Portfolios

Each equity investment manager retained by MCERA will follow a specific investment style and will be evaluated against a specific market index that represents their investment style. In addition, in the case of active managers, investment results may also be compared to returns of a peer group of managers with similar styles. Benchmarks for the various equity portfolios may include the following indices as well as those proposed by the managers reviewed by the Staff and approved by the Investment Committee or Board:

Domestic Equity Portfolio – Russell 3000 Index

Large Cap Stocks – Russell 1000 Index

Small Cap Stocks – Russell 2000 Index

International Equity Portfolio – MSCI ACWI ex-US IMI Index

International Large Cap Stocks – MSCI EAFE Index

International Small Cap Stocks – MSCI EAFE Small Cap Index

International Emerging Markets Stocks – MSCI Emerging Markets Free Index

General equity guidelines for active managers include the following:

- American Depositary Receipts (ADRs) and foreign securities listed on a major US stock exchange or on the NASDAQ are permitted if specified in the manager's guidelines.
- Convertible securities may be held in equity portfolios and shall be considered equity holdings.
- Securities must be traded on a regulated stock exchange, or listed on the NASDAQ or a comparable foreign market operation.
- Forward or futures contracts for foreign currencies may be entered into for hedging purposes or pending the selection and purchase of suitable investments in, or the settlement of, any such securities transactions only in international equity portfolios.
- The following transactions are not permitted unless specifically authorized in the investment manager agreement or in the specific manager guidelines in the appendix:
  - The use of borrowed funds
  - Short sales or margin sales
  - Private placements (except 144As)
  - Futures, options, currency forwards and futures, and other derivative securities.

Fixed Income Portfolios

The fixed income portfolios will be managed on a total return basis, following specific investment styles and evaluated against specific market indices that represent a specific investment style or market segment. In addition, investment results may also be compared to returns of a peer group of managers investing with a similar style. The benchmarks for the various fixed income portfolios may include the following indices:

Fixed Income Portfolio – Blended Benchmark (50% Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate, 25% Bloomberg Intermediate Credit, 25% FTSE World Government Bond Index USD Unhedged)

U.S. Core Plus Fixed Income – Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index

U.S. Intermediate Credit Fixed Income – Bloomberg U.S. Intermediate Credit Index

Global Fixed Income – FTSE World Government Bond Index (USD Unhedged)

General fixed income guidelines include the following:

- Unless specified in the manager’s guidelines, the minimum average quality rating of the securities in any portfolio will maintain an average weighted credit quality of not more than 2 rating notches below the benchmark’s average weighted credit quality, at all times. For the avoidance of doubt, if the benchmark is rated AA-, then 2 notches below would be A.
- Ratings method: The ratings method used to test both the benchmark’s average credit rating and the portfolio’s average credit rating will be “split to the highest rating” of the three major rating agencies.
- Derivatives, including forward or futures contracts for foreign currencies, may be used to hedge the portfolio, or to effect portfolio management decisions in a timely, cost-effective manner. Borrowed funds shall not be used.
- An individual investment manager’s portfolio shall have an effective duration between 75% - 125% of the effective duration of the appropriate index, unless a broader range is permitted with the specific manager guidelines in the Appendix.
- The following transactions are prohibited unless specifically authorized by the Investment Committee or Board or by the specific manager guidelines in the Appendix:
  - Private placements (except 144As);
  - Interest Only CMOs, Principal Only CMOs, inverse floaters and any tranche that has a leveraged component embedded in the structure.

Real Estate Portfolios

The Real Estate portfolios will be managed on a total return basis, through a combination of income and appreciation, following specific investment styles and evaluated against a specific market index. In addition, investment results may also be compared to returns of a peer group of managers investing with a similar style. The benchmark for the various Real Estate portfolios may include the following index:

Real Estate Portfolio – NFI-ODCE Equal Weighted Index (Net)

Core Real Estate – NFI-ODCE Equal Weighted Index (Net)

- All investments in real estate shall be managed by external advisors.
- MCERA may invest in real estate through diversified institutional commingled vehicles. The vehicles can be limited liability partnerships, limited liability corporations, group trusts or other commonly used investment vehicles.
- The vehicle's manager(s) will have discretion with respect to the management of the fund's investment program, operating within the parameters delineated in the fund's legal documentation.

Real Assets Portfolio

The real assets portfolio will be managed on a total return basis, following specific investment styles and evaluated against specific market indices that represent a specific investment style or market segment. In addition, investment results may also be compared to returns of a peer group of managers investing with a similar style. The benchmarks for the various real assets portfolios may include the following indices:

Real Assets Portfolio – Blended Benchmark (25% Bloomberg US TIPS Index, 25% Bloomberg Commodities Index, 25% S&P Global Natural Resources Index, 25% Dow Jones US Select Real Estate Securities Index)

Treasury Inflation Protected Securities – Bloomberg US TIPS Index

Commodities – Bloomberg Commodities Index

Real Estate Investment Trusts – Dow Jones US Select Real Estate Securities Index

- MCERA may invest in real assets through separate accounts or diversified institutional commingled vehicles.
- The vehicle's manager(s) will have discretion with respect to the management of the fund's investment program, operating within the parameters delineated in the fund's legal documentation.

- The investment objective of the real asset program is to create a portfolio of high-quality real asset investments that will enhance long-term investment performance, meet inflation objectives, and diversify the asset base for the entire MCERA investment portfolio.

Private Equity Portfolios

MCERA will invest in private equity through institutional closed-end, finite-life commingled private equity fund-of-funds vehicles. The fund-of-funds vehicles will be limited liability partnerships, limited liability corporations, group trusts or other commonly used investment vehicles.

- Private equity investments will consist primarily of limited partnership investments in diversified private equity portfolios (e.g., venture capital, acquisition, special situation, subordinated debt, restructuring funds, and others).
- The vehicle's manager(s) will have discretion with respect to the management of the fund-of-funds investment program, operating within the parameters delineated in the investment vehicle's legal documents.
- The investment objective of the private equity allocation is to achieve consistent positive real returns and to maximize long-term total return net of fees within prudent levels of risk through capital appreciation and diversification.
- While the investment guidelines of each investment vehicle will be determined by the fund-of-funds legal documentation, the fund's manager, in managing the portfolio, should take prudent care.

Opportunistic Portfolio

MCERA may invest in opportunistic investments that will vary by assignment. Performance objectives or guidelines will be defined by MCERA in its retention of managers or selection of suitable investments and will be evaluated to test progress toward attainment of longer-term goals.

- MCERA may invest in opportunistic investments through separate accounts and diversified institutional commingled vehicles which may include limited liability partnerships, limited liability corporations, group trusts or other commonly used investment vehicles.
- The manager(s) will have discretion with respect to the management of the separate account or fund's investment program, operating within the parameters delineated in the separate account or fund's legal documentation.
- The investment objective of the opportunistic allocation is to achieve consistent positive real returns and to maximize long-term total return net of fees within prudent levels of risk through capital appreciation and diversification.

Short Term Investment/Cash Equivalents

MCERA is restricted from investing short term funds and cash equivalents in investment vehicles other than the Treasurer's Pool, the State Pool and the STIF funds maintained at the custodian bank. Retirement funds shall be invested in investments with an average maturity of one year or less.

Any exemption from these general guidelines requires prior written approval from the Board or Investment Committee.

Policy Implementation Overlay

The Board or Investment Committee may retain a "policy overlay manager" to rebalance portfolio exposures, bridge exposure gaps during transitions, 'securitize' Fund level cash, and securitize residual cash positions held by each manager. The policy overlay manager may use futures or swaps, when appropriate, to gain market exposure on existing cash positions. The manager will not use futures or other derivative instruments for speculative purposes.

INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT POLICY

MCERA will utilize externally managed portfolios based on specific styles and methodologies. The manager will acknowledge in writing, as more particularly set forth in Appendix B, that they are fiduciaries to MCERA with respect to the assets they manage and/or invest on MCERA's behalf, and will have discretion and authority to determine investment strategy, security selection and timing within their asset class and subject to the Policy guidelines and any other guidelines specific to their portfolio. Performance of the portfolio will be monitored and evaluated on a regular basis relative to each portfolio component's benchmark return and relative to peer groups of managers with similar investment styles where applicable.

Investment managers, as prudent experts, will be expected to know MCERA's investment policies (as outlined in this document) and any specific guidelines for their portfolios, and to comply with those policies and guidelines. It is each manager's responsibility to identify policies that may have an adverse impact on performance, and to initiate discussion with Staff toward possible amendment to said policies through Board or Investment Committee action.

The Investment Committee and Staff will also review each investment manager's adherence to its investment policy, and any material changes in the manager's organization (e.g., personnel changes, new business developments, etc.). The investment managers retained by MCERA will be responsible for informing the Investment Committee and Staff of all such material changes on a timely basis.

Investment managers under contract with MCERA shall have discretion to establish and execute transactions with established regional and national securities broker/dealers as needed. Unless otherwise authorized by the Board or Investment Committee, these investment managers must obtain the best available prices and most favorable executions with respect to all of the portfolio transactions as market conditions permit.

Unless specifically authorized by the Board or Investment Committee, the following transactions will be prohibited: short sales; selling on margin; "prohibited transactions" as defined under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA); transactions that involve a broker acting as a "principal", where such broker is also the investment manager who is making the transaction, and any or all investment activities forbidden by the SEC or other applicable governing bodies.

Selection Criteria for Investment Managers

Criteria will be established for each manager search undertaken by MCERA, and will be tailored to MCERA's needs in such a search. In general, eligible managers will possess attributes including, but not limited to, the following:

- The firm must be experienced in managing money for institutional clients in the asset class/product category/investment style specified by MCERA.

B.4.a

- The firm must display a record of stability in retaining and attracting qualified investment professionals, as well as a record of managing asset growth effectively, both in gaining and retaining clients.
- The firm must have an asset base sufficient to accommodate MCERA's portfolio. In general, managers should have at least $100 million of discretionary institutional assets under management, and MCERA's portfolio should make up no more than 20% of the firm's total asset base. Exceptions shall be made on a case-by-case basis.
- The firm must demonstrate adherence to the investment style sought by MCERA, and adherence to the firm's stated investment discipline.
- The firm's fees should be competitive with industry standards for the product category.
- The firm must comply with the "Duties of the investment managers" outlined herein and conform to the CFA Institute standards for performance reporting.

Criteria for Investment Manager Termination and Watchlist

MCERA reserves the unilateral right to terminate a manager at any time for any reason. The occurrence of certain events will result in specific actions being taken. This section describes these events, the course of action that will be taken and the responsible parties. It also establishes a "Watchlist" as a means of monitoring and evaluating managers who meet any of the items identified under the Criteria For Investment Manager Termination. If a manager is on the Watchlist no additional assets will be allocated to the manager until the manager has been removed from the Watchlist, provided however that if the Investment Committee determines, after review and discussion with staff and its Investment Consultant, that it is appropriate and in alignment with the other goals established under this policy to make additional funds to a manager on the Watchlist then the Committee can vote to direct the staff to take this action. The Investment Committee will determine where to invest any additional assets that would otherwise have been allocated to the manager. Each manager on the Watchlist will be monitored closely by Staff and the Consultant and may be required to make special presentations to the Investment Committee and Staff if requested. MCERA may place a manager on the Watchlist at any time and when it is deemed warranted due to improved conditions, a manager may be removed from the Watchlist.

Illegal or Unethical Practice. The manager will report this event in writing to the Retirement Administrator not later than the close of the business day following discovery of the illegal or unethical practice. The Retirement Administrator will inform the Investment Committee in writing of this practice as soon as administratively possible. If the illegal or unethical practice has a material adverse effect upon the MCERA portfolio, or any attempt was made by the manager to hide this practice, the manager will normally be terminated upon review and action by the Investment Committee. If the practice is procedural and has been properly referred to the appropriate regulatory authorities, the Retirement Administrator will recommend to the Investment Committee whether or not to terminate the manager.

Guideline Violation. The manager will report any guideline violation in writing to the Retirement Administrator not later than the close of the second business day following discovery along with the manager's proposed remedy. If the violation results in a loss to MCERA, the manager will compensate MCERA for this loss. If the manager refuses to correct this violation, or if other violations occur, the Retirement Administrator may recommend termination of the manager to the Investment Committee. Guideline violations that have been corrected will be reported to the Investment Committee at their next regular meeting. Violations that have not been corrected, or violations that persist, will be reported to the Investment Committee as soon as administratively possible.

Deviation from Investment Process. If the Retirement Administrator determines that the manager has deviated materially from its stated investment process or philosophy, the Retirement Administrator will report to the Chair of the Investment Committee as soon as possible. The Retirement Administrator may also recommend termination of the manager, as soon as administratively possible, to the Investment Committee.

Loss of Key Personnel or Change in Ownership. The manager will inform the Retirement Administrator in writing within 24 hours following the loss of key personnel or a change in ownership. Loss of key personnel may result in termination of the manager. A material change in the ownership of the manager may result in the termination of the manager. The Retirement Administrator will make a recommendation regarding termination to the Investment Committee as soon as administratively possible.

Lack of Cooperation with Reasonable Requests. The manager is required to provide information, attend meetings and comply with other reasonable requests. Failure to do so may result in a recommendation to terminate the manager.

Underperformance. MCERA understands the cyclical nature of investment performance and the potential for its investment managers not to meet objectives over short-term periods. While it is not the Investment Committee's intention to terminate a manager for short-term underperformance relative to objectives, the Investment Committee has implemented the following process as a means of monitoring and evaluating managers that have experienced performance difficulties in the short-term to assess the impact on longer-term performance.

If a manager trails its relevant benchmark by more than 100 basis points (net of fees) and ranks in the bottom quartile of its peer universe (gross of fees ranking) for the trailing three years, or if a manager trails its relevant benchmark (net of fees) or ranks below median of its peer universe (gross of fees ranking) for the trailing five years, then the manager may be placed on the Watchlist.

If the underperformance of a manager on the Watchlist persists over a reasonable period in the future (as defined by the Staff, Investment Committee and Consultant based on the unique circumstances surrounding the manager and current market conditions), the Investment Committee may and will consider termination.

Procedures Following the Initiation of Watch Status.

The watch period will be established for a one-year total duration.

If at the end of the watch period, performance has improved to above-benchmark and/or above the manager median over a market cycle, the manager will be removed from the Watchlist.

If at the end of the watch period, the manager is underperforming the manager may be terminated or remain on the Watchlist for a period defined by the Investment Committee.

Unlike open-end funds and separate accounts for public market securities which are more easily liquidated, exiting open-end or closed-end commingled funds for private markets may have liquidity constraints. For these reasons, the Watchlist and terminating procedures used for traditional public market vehicles are not applicable for private market vehicles. Staff with the assistance of the Investment Consultant will make appropriate recommendations for exiting such positions.

PRIVATE EQUITY POLICY

MCERA's private equity investments allocation will consist primarily of limited partnership investments in diversified private equity portfolios (e.g., venture capital, acquisition, special situation, subordinated debt, and restructuring funds and others). MCERA will invest in private equity through institutional closed-end, finite-life commingled private equity fund-of-funds vehicles. The fund-of-funds vehicles will be limited liability partnerships, limited liability corporations, group trusts or other commonly used investment vehicles. Investments directly in stand-alone corporate finance limited partnerships and direct investments in companies are not currently considered appropriate. The vehicle's manager(s) will have discretion with respect to the management of the fund-of-funds investment program, operating within the parameters delineated in the fund's legal documentation. The investment manager of the fund-of-funds will acknowledge in writing by side letter or otherwise that they are Plan fiduciaries and will acknowledge having read and understood the guidelines set forth in this section of the Investment Policy Statement and any other guidelines specific to their portfolio as more particularly set forth in Appendix C.

To maintain an appropriate funded status on a net asset value basis, MCERA may be required to make periodic commitments to additional fund-of-funds vehicles managed by either the same or different fund-of-funds managers. MCERA's staff will work with the investment consultant and the managers to determine appropriate commitment timing and amounts and present a recommended plan to the Investment Committee annually.

To ensure adequate access and diversification, MCERA may utilize multiple fund-of-funds providers. There is no specific limit on the number of vendors to be utilized. However, to avoid unnecessary administrative burdens, MCERA will limit the number of vendors employed to the extent practical. Only those firms committed to providing ongoing access to the private equity arena through fund-of-funds offerings, who have a demonstrated record of investing client funds in top tier private equity partnerships and who limit assets accepted for management to sums that can in fact be committed in top tier funds will be considered.

MCERA recognizes that many well-qualified fund-of-funds providers make direct private equity investments within the fund-of-funds vehicle (e.g. secondary or co-investments). Such investments are permissible provided that they constitute a comparatively small portion of the total fund-of-funds' asset base (typically less than 35%).

Investment Objectives

The investment objective of the private equity allocation is to achieve consistent positive real returns and to maximize long-term total return within prudent levels of risk through capital appreciation and diversification. MCERA's holdings will be professionally managed on a cash-to-cash basis and will have broad exposure to key private corporate finance strategies (e.g., venture capital, acquisition, special situation, etc.), with allocations to the various strategies diversified in a manner consistent with institutional private equity programs generally.

Selection Criteria for Private Equity

Partnership Selection

As requested by MCERA, the investment consultant shall develop a proposed “Manager Candidate Profile” that will serve as the basis for evaluation of potential fund-of-funds providers consistent with MCERA’s investment policy. This document will specify the minimum selection criteria for potential vendors and also detail preferred characteristics. The consultant will then evaluate prospective candidates and submit a listing of those firms that appear to best meet the requirements and preferences. Staff and consultant will discuss these candidates and identify those that should be advanced for Board and/or Investment Committee consideration. Ultimately, the Investment Committee will determine which firms shall be retained.

The targeted private equity investments will be fund-of-funds vehicles that are commingled, closed-end, and finite-life limited liability entities.

Due to the inevitability of short-term market fluctuations that may cause variations in the investment performance, it is intended that the performance objectives outlined below will be achieved by the fund-of-funds over the life of the vehicle(s), generally 15 years. The Investment Committee will evaluate the Funds’ interim performance to test progress toward attainment of these longer-term goals. However, it is understood that there are likely to be short-term periods during which performance will deviate from expectations. Minimum expectations are as follows:

- For policy benchmarking purposes, over the long-term (rolling 10-year periods) the private equity portfolio is expected to generate returns in excess of the combined benchmark, consisting of 60% Russell 3000 and 40% MSCI ACWI ex-US IMI, employing a time-weighted return calculation.
- The private equity portfolio and manager returns will also be measured employing a dollar-weighted, internal rate of return (IRR) calculation and benchmarked against relevant peer group information from a recognized private equity database provider. The portfolio will also be benchmarked employing standard private equity performance ratio measures: Total Value to Paid-In Capital (TVPI) and Distributed Value to Paid-In Capital (DPI). IRR and ratio performance should be above median relative to recognized private equity industry peer database returns. Measures should be focused on returns net of all partnership fees and expenses.

Attainment of these objectives does not guarantee future investment by the Investment Committee in a specific manager’s fund-of-funds vehicles, nor does failure to achieve these guidelines ensure a lack of future investment support for follow-on vehicles. Providers are selected at the discretion of the Investment Committee.

In addition, the following stipulation(s) apply:

- The investment manager of the fund-of-funds vehicle shall be a Bank or a registered investment advisor under the Investment Advisors Act of 1940 (1940 Act).
- If the fund-of-funds vehicle provides distributions in cash or securities, the Fund will opt to receive cash.

Reporting Requirements

Reporting requirements will be governed by the fund-of-funds legal documentation, which at a minimum will provide for quarterly unaudited financial statement and other relevant investment holdings related exhibits, and annual audited financial statements and relevant investment holdings-related exhibits.

It is expected that the fund-of-funds investment managers will meet with the Board or Investment Committee as reasonably requested and at least annually.

Coordination with Total Fund Performance Reporting

MCERA relies on its custodian to generate short-term time-weighted performance statistics. This information is utilized by the Fund's investment consultant to evaluate ongoing investment performance. An integral part of the performance evaluation is a comparison of the total Fund's return in relation to a policy benchmark index comprised of market indices weighted in the same manner as the Fund's strategic asset allocation policy.

Given the private market nature of private equity investments and the long lead-time associated with such investments, a public market equity index shall be used in lieu of the private equity database return set forth in Appendix B for the private equity component of the total portfolio. The index used shall be a composite of the equity component of MCERA's total policy benchmark: 60% Russell 3000 and 40% MSCI ACWI ex-US IMI.

DUTIES OF RESPONSIBLE PARTIES

Duties of the MCERA Board of Retirement and Investment Committee

The Board of Retirement has the responsibility for administration of MCERA for the benefit of plan participants. The County Employees Retirement Law of 1937, Government Code Chapter 3, Part 3, Division 4, Title 3, Article 5, permits the Board of Retirement at its discretion to invest the assets of the Plan through the purchase, holding or sale of any form or type of investment, financial instrument or financial transaction when prudent in the informed opinion of the Board. In the interest of efficient and prudent administration of MCERA and investment of its assets, the Board of Retirement has delegated its responsibilities with respect to the investments to the Investment Committee, which consists of all members of the Board of Retirement. Although it is not the intent of the Investment Committee to become involved in the day-to-day investment decisions, the Investment Committee or its designee(s) will adhere to the following procedures in the management of MCERA's assets:

- The Investment Committee develops and approves guidelines for the execution of MCERA's investment program. Only the Board, through the Investment Committee, in its sole discretion can delegate its decision-making authority regarding the investment program. Staff is responsible for the timely implementation and administration of these decisions.
- A formal review of MCERA's investment structure, asset allocation and financial performance will be conducted annually or more frequently as the need arises. The review will include recommended adjustments to the long-term strategic asset allocation to reflect any changes in applicable regulations, long-term capital market assumptions, actuarial assumptions or MCERA's financial condition.
- The Investment Committee shall review MCERA's investments quarterly, or as needed, to ensure that policy guidelines continue to be met. The Investment Committee shall monitor investment returns on both an absolute basis and relative to appropriate benchmarks and peer group comparisons. The source of information for these reviews shall come from Staff, outside consultants, the custodian and MCERA's investment managers.
- The Investment Committee is comprised of all Board members.
- The Investment Committee may retain investment consultants to provide services such as conducting performance reviews, asset allocation, manager reviews and investment research. The comments and recommendations of the consultants will be considered in conjunction with other available information to aid the Investment Committee in making informed, prudent decisions.
- Trustees shall direct questions from managers regarding MCERA's Investment Policy or other matters relating to the Plan to the Retirement Administrator and/or investment consultant.

- The Investment Committee shall be responsible for taking appropriate action if investment objectives are not being met or if policies and guidelines are not being followed. Reviews for separate portfolios managed by external managers will focus on:
  1. Material changes in the managers' organizations, such as investment philosophy, personnel changes, acquisitions or losses of major accounts, etc. The managers will be responsible for keeping MCERA advised of any material changes in personnel, investment strategy, or other pertinent information potentially affecting performance.
  2. Investment performance relative to each manager's stated performance benchmark(s) as set forth in the manager's investment guidelines.
- The Investment Committee shall expect Staff to administer MCERA's investments in a cost-effective manner subject to Committee approval. These costs include, but are not limited to, management, consulting and custodial fees, transaction costs and other administrative costs chargeable to MCERA.
- The Board shall be responsible for selecting a qualified custodian with advice from Staff.
- The Investment Committee shall perform due diligence on each new manager prior to funding, and on each existing manager in accordance with the Due Diligence policy found at: <https://www.mcera.org/retirementboard/governance-policies>
- To maintain and strengthen the investment management of MCERA's Plan, Staff and Board/Investment Committee members shall be expected to participate in educational conferences/seminars related to their direct responsibility for the investment activities of MCERA in accordance with the Education Policy found at:
  - <https://www.mcera.org/retirementboard/governance-policies>

Duties of the Staff

The Retirement Staff, as designated by the Board and/or Investment Committee, plays a significant role in the management and oversight of the Plan. Staff duties include:

- Provide the Plan with proof of liability and fiduciary insurance coverage. Updated policy information will be provided to MCERA upon renewal and/or changes to the policy.

APPENDIX A*MCERA'S LONG-TERM STRATEGIC ASSET ALLOCATION TARGETS AND RANGES

The strategic asset allocation targets have been developed as a function of the returns and risks of various asset classes and a rigorous analysis of MCERA's liabilities, taking into account the Board and Investment Committee's risk tolerance and long-term objectives. As asset class values change over time, deviations from the asset allocation targets may occur. Rebalancing the portfolio may be necessary to return the asset class allocations to targeted weights so as to ensure that the Board's intended strategy is consistently maintained over time. Rebalancing actions are the responsibility of the Staff and shall be reported to the Board or Investment Committee on a periodic basis.

Staff is authorized and directed (in the normal course of events) to act in accordance with this policy. Where particular circumstances arise and Staff determines rebalancing is not prudent, because doing so may generate unnecessary costs or otherwise not be in the best interests of MCERA, a full report of the actions taken or not taken shall be made to the Board or Investment Committee at the earliest opportunity.

MCERA's actual asset allocation shall be reviewed at the end of each quarter at a minimum and shall be based on current asset valuations. Estimated values may be used when current asset valuations are not available.

By using statistical models and employing a diversified portfolio strategy, MCERA seeks to create an efficient frontier, which is an optimal portfolio profile that accomplishes the lowest possible level of risk for a certain level of return. While asset allocation targets are an essential part of MCERA's investment policy, the inputs used to develop these benchmarks are not known with certainty. Indeed, the targets were derived using estimates of future returns and estimates of the risk of loss for each asset class. Because future results are only estimates based on historical returns and volatility for each asset class, a range of different allocations other than the target percentage may be statistically identical in risk-return terms to the targeted benchmark even though the actual allocations may be outside of the targeted percent. Thus, the efficient frontier is really a range of targeted allocations, rather than a strict target percent of asset allocations in a portfolio. In other words, the portfolio is on the efficient frontier if the allocations to each asset class are within a range around the target allocations.

B.4.a

The strategic policy asset allocation and rebalancing triggers are set out in the table below:

Asset Class	Target Percent	Allowable Range
US Equity	32.0%	28.0% - 36.0%
Large Cap Core	24.0%	21.0% - 27.0%
Small Cap Core	8.0%	6.0% - 10.0%
Non-US Equities	22.0%	19.0% - 25.0%
International Large Cap Value	6.6%	5.6% - 7.6%
International Large Cap Growth	6.6%	5.6% - 7.6%
International Small Cap Core	4.4%	3.9% - 4.9%
International Emerging Markets	4.4%	3.9% - 4.9%
Fixed Income	23.0%	20.0% - 26.0%
US Core Plus Fixed Income	11.5%	8.5% - 14.5%
US Intermediate Credit Fixed Income	5.75%	4.75% - 6.75%
Global Fixed Income	5.75%	4.75% - 6.75%
Real Assets	7.0%	4.0% - 10.0%
Treasury Inflation Protected Securities	1.75%	1.5% - 2.0%
Commodities	1.75%	1.5% - 2.0%
Global Natural Resources Equity	1.75%	1.5% - 2.0%
Real Estate Investment Trusts	1.75%	1.5% - 2.0%
Real Estate	8.0%	4.0% - 12.0%
Private Equity	8.0%	0.0% - 12.0%*
Opportunistic	0.0%	0.0% - 5.0%

* MCERA acknowledges that because of the nature of private equity investment, it may take several years to fund the private equity allocations and during the initial funding period, its allocation to private equity in market value terms may fall below the 8% target. During the initial funding period, as a proxy for private equity, MCERA intends to keep the assets committed to private equity partnerships invested in domestic and international equity. The result will be overweights in both of these asset classes relative to the long-term targets described above.

The following principles apply when asset allocations are outside the allowable ranges noted above:

1. Cash held by MCERA and cash awaiting investment in private equity investments or other alternative investments may be securitized with exchange-traded futures to a Fund policy mix by MCERA's overlay manager. The use of derivative instruments is permitted as long as it does not create economic leverage in the portfolio and the instruments comply with the Derivatives section of this investment policy.

2. In order to rebalance as efficiently as possible and save transactions costs, allocations may be brought back within the allowable range rather than exactly to the target percentage.
3. Private market portfolios, such as Real Estate, Private Equity, and certain Opportunistic allocations, because of their illiquid nature, are very costly to rebalance. MCERA's Staff will make reasonable attempts to keep these asset classes within the allowable ranges defined above. Given their illiquidity, the risk of these asset classes moving outside of the allowable ranges for an extended period is heightened. In these cases, MCERA's Staff will document a plan to rebalance the allocations within the allowable ranges in the most timely and cost-efficient manner possible given market and other conditions. It is noteworthy that the risk of these asset classes drifting outside of the efficient frontier is mitigated by the relatively small exposure to these classes as a percentage of the entire portfolio.
4. When physical securities are traded, assets will be moved between investment managers in accordance with the following principles:
  - a) Assets will be taken from investment managers in the overweight asset class(es) with consideration given to asset class structure, investment manager target weights, and confidence in the investment managers themselves. With respect to private market allocations, the illiquid nature of these classes will be taken into account and trading will normally be avoided where possible.
  - b) Primary emphasis should be on significantly different asset classes (e.g. equity vs. fixed income).
  - c) Assets will be directed to investment managers in the underweight asset class(es) with consideration given to the same factors listed above.

In general, with respect to companies eligible for purchase the higher the relative market capitalization of the U.S. small cap company, the greater its representation in the Managed Assets. Manager may also adjust the representation within the Managed Assets of an eligible company, or exclude a company, after considering such factors as market capitalization, free float, momentum, trading strategies, liquidity, profitability, and other factors that Manager determines to be appropriate, given market conditions.

- Wellington may invest up to 20% of the portfolio in securities rated below investment grade by all three of the major credit rating agencies. In the case of split ratings in which the three agencies have different ratings, the highest rating will be used in determining the credit rating of the security. Both long and short foreign currency positions may be held without owning securities denominated in such currencies.
- Wellington may invest up to 20% of the portfolio in private placements, including those issued pursuant to Rule 144A and/or Reg S and other restricted securities, the liquidity of which Wellington Management deems consistent with the Portfolio's investment objective.

Retirement Administrator's Certificate

I, Jeff Wickman, the duly appointed Retirement Administrator of the Marin County Employees' Retirement Association, hereby certify the amendment of this Policy.

Dated: May 5, 2021

Retirement Administrator

MARIN COUNTY EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT ASSOCIATION (MCERA)
CODE OF FIDUCIARY CONDUCT, ETHICS AND GOVERNANCE

Adopted: January 9, 2008

Amended: July 8, 2009

Reviewed: August 8, 2012

Amended: December 11, 2013

Amended: December 14, 2016

Reviewed: January 8, 2020

Reviewed:

WHEREAS, Article XVI, Section 17 of the California Constitution provides in pertinent part as follows:

Notwithstanding any other provision of law or this Constitution to the contrary, the retirement board of a public pension or retirement system shall have plenary authority and fiduciary responsibility for investment of moneys and administration of the system, subject to all of the following:

- (a) The retirement board shall have the sole and exclusive fiduciary responsibility over the assets of the system in a manner that will assure prompt delivery of benefits and related services to the participants and their beneficiaries. The assets . . . are trust funds and shall be held for the exclusive purposes of providing benefits to participants . . . and their beneficiaries and defraying reasonable expenses of administering the system.
- (b) The members of the retirement board of a public pension or retirement system shall discharge their duties with respect to the system solely in the interest of, and for the exclusive purposes of providing benefits to, participants and their beneficiaries, minimizing employer contributions thereto, and defraying reasonable expenses of administering the system. A retirement board's duty to its participants and their beneficiaries shall take precedence over any other duty.
- (c) The members of the retirement board . . . shall discharge their duties with respect to the system with the care, skill, prudence, and diligence under the circumstances then prevailing that a prudent person acting in a like capacity and familiar with these matters would use in the conduct of an enterprise of a like character and with like aims.
- (d) The members of the retirement board of a public pension or retirement system shall diversify the investments of the system so as to minimize the risk of loss and to maximize the rate of return, unless under the circumstances it is clearly not prudent to do so.
- (e) The retirement board . . . , consistent with the exclusive fiduciary responsibilities vested in it, shall have the sole and exclusive power to provide for actuarial services in order to assure the competency of the assets of the public pension or retirement system.

WHEREAS Chief Judge Benjamin Cardoza, in 1928, set forth the standard for fiduciary conduct, as follows:

A trustee is held to something stricter than the morals of the market place. Not honesty alone, but the punctilio of an honor the most sensitive, is then the standard of behavior. As to this there has developed a tradition that is unbending and inveterate. Uncompromising rigidity has been the attitude of courts of equity when petitioned to undermine the rule of undivided loyalty by the “disintegrating erosion” of particular exceptions. Only thus has the level of conduct for fiduciaries been kept at a level higher than that trodden by the crowd . . . .

WHEREAS, the National Conference on Public Employee Retirement Systems has published NCPERS’ Model Code of Ethics, the Guiding Principles of which are as follows:

1. Service to the beneficiaries of public pension funds is the primary function of public pension fund trustees.
2. The beneficiaries of public pension funds are sovereign and the trustees of those funds are ultimately responsible to them.
3. In those situations where the law is not clear, the best interests of the fund beneficiaries must be served. Conscience is critical. Good ends never justify unethical means.
4. Efficient and effective administration and investment management is basic to public pension funds. Misuse of influence, fraud, waste or abuse is unacceptable conduct.
5. Safeguarding the trust of fund beneficiaries is paramount. Conflicts of interest, bribes, gifts or favors which subordinate fund trustees to private gains are unacceptable.
6. Service to public pension fund beneficiaries demands special sensitivity to the qualities of justice, courage, honesty, equity, competence and compassion.
7. Timely and energetic execution of fiduciary responsibilities is to be pursued at all times by pension fund trustees.

WHEREAS, the Political Reform Act of 1974 and Government Code section 1090 set forth specific circumstances which require public officials to disqualify themselves from making, participating in, or attempting to influence governmental decisions which may affect any of their financial interests.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Board of the Marin County Employees’ Retirement Association (the “Board”) hereby adopts the following Code of Fiduciary Conduct, Ethics and Governance:

PREAMBLE

The Board of Retirement of the Marin County Employees' Retirement Association ("MCERA") is an independent fiduciary board whose members function as pension trustees under the authority of the County Employees Retirement Law of 1937 (Government Code Title 3, Division 4, Part 3, Chapter 3 and 3.9, Sections 31450-31899.10), governed by the principles of Article XVI, Section 17 of the California Constitution ("Proposition 162"). The management of MCERA is vested in the Retirement Board.

MCERA was established July 1, 1950, in accordance with a vote of the people of Marin County, as an organization that was created to administer retirement benefits. The actions of MCERA affect officials, eligible employees, eligible retirees and government sponsors of the following agencies:

- County of Marin
- Marin County Courts
- City of San Rafael
- Novato Fire Protection District
- Marin City Community Services District
- Tamalpais Community Services District
- Southern Marin Fire Protection District
- Marin/Sonoma Mosquito & Vector Control District
- Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO)

The members of MCERA's Board are mindful of the positions of trust and confidence held by them. They adopt this Code to ensure the proper administration of MCERA, and to foster unquestioned public confidence in MCERA's institutional integrity as a prudently managed and fiduciarily governed public pension system.

MCERA's Code of Fiduciary Conduct, Ethics and Governance provides a fiduciary framework for the proper conduct of MCERA's affairs.

1. FIDUCIARY DUTIES.

Each member of MCERA's Board shall execute their duties as set forth in the County Employees' Retirement Law of 1937, as amended, with the care, skill, prudence, and diligence under the circumstances then prevailing that a prudent person acting in a like capacity and familiar with these matters would use in the conduct of an enterprise of a like character and with like aims.

Each member of MCERA's Board shall discharge his or her duties with respect to the system solely in the interests of, and for the exclusive purposes of providing benefits to, participants and their beneficiaries, minimizing employer contributions thereto, and defraying reasonable expenses of administering the system, with the duty to the participants and beneficiaries taking precedence over any other duty. (California Constitution Article XVI, Section 17(b).)

Each member of MCERA's Board shall diligently attend to the business of the Board and shall not leave to other Board members control over the administration of the affairs of the Board.

Each member of MCERA's Board shall comply with MCERA's Code of Fiduciary Conduct, Ethics and Governance.

2. FIDUCIARY CONFLICTS OF INTEREST.

Each member of MCERA's Board shall abide by the provisions of California Government Code Sections 1090 et seq., which prohibit Board Members from being financially interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract made by the Board.

Each member of MCERA's Board shall abide by the provisions of the Political Reform Act, Government Code sections 81000, et seq. including section 87100 which prohibits Board Members from making, participating in making, or using their positions to influence Board and Association decisions in which they have a financial interest.

No member of MCERA's Board shall engage in any employment, activity, or enterprise for compensation which is inconsistent, incompatible, or in conflict with, his or her duties as a member of MCERA's Board, or with the duties, functions, or responsibilities of MCERA's Board.

No member of MCERA's Board shall perform any work, service, or counsel for compensation outside his or her Board responsibilities where any part of his or her efforts will be subject to approval by any other members of the Board on which he or she serves.

Each member of MCERA's Board shall abide by the provisions of California Government Code Sections 87200 et seq., which require the public disclosure of economic interests as prescribed therein.

In keeping with the provisions of the Government Code, a member of MCERA's Board shall not become an endorser, surety, or obligor on, or have any personal interest, direct or indirect, in the making of any investment for the Board, or in the gains or profits accruing therefrom. These people are prohibited from having any financial interest in any contract made by them in their official capacity and from making or influencing official decisions in which they have a financial interest.

Each member of MCERA's Board shall strive to avoid activities which may impair the ability to exercise independent judgment in the discharge of official duties.

In order to maintain the highest standards of conduct and ethics above the minimum requirements of the California Government Code and to avoid even the appearance of a conflict of interest, each member of MCERA's Board should conduct official and private affairs so as to avoid giving rise to a reasonable conclusion that he or she can be improperly influenced in the performance of his or her public duty. In addition, each member of MCERA's Board should conduct official and private affairs so as to avoid giving rise to the reasonable conclusion that he or she is using his or her position on the Board to further his or her own financial interests.

Members of the MCERA Board shall be accountable for recognizing a potential or actual conflict of interest and for disqualifying themselves from making, participating in, or attempting to influence Board decisions which may affect any of their financial interests. Immediately prior to the Board's consideration of the matter, a Member shall publicly disclose the actual or potential conflict in detail sufficient to be understood by the public, recuse himself or herself from participating, and, if required by law, leave the room until the matter is concluded. Disclosure during Board meetings may be made 1) orally or 2) by handing a written statement to the Chair of the MCERA Board, with a copy to all trustees and the Retirement Administrator, which will be available to the public. Such a disclosure shall be reflected in the official record of the meeting. To the extent a matter on which one or more Board members have recused themselves returns to the Board for further consideration on multiple occasions, the minutes will reflect both the continued recusals and the rationale for the recusals, but Board members need not orally or in writing repeat the disclosure at each such meeting.

3. LIMITATIONS ON GIFTS, HONORARIA AND PERSONAL LOANS; AND DISCLOSURE OF GIFTS ON THE RECORD.

Each member of MCERA's Board and designated staff shall comply with the gift limitation provisions and the prohibition on acceptance of honoraria under California Government Code Sections 89500 et seq.

Each member of MCERA's Board and designated staff shall abide by the loan limitation provisions of California Government Code Sections 87460 et seq., which prohibits receiving personal loans from any officer, employee, member, consultant, or contractor with the MCERA.

In addition to the minimum gift limitation requirements of California Government Code Sections 89500 et seq., MCERA Board Members shall not accept or solicit gifts, favors, services or promises of future benefits which might compromise or impair the Board Member's exercise of independent judgment, or which the Board Member knows, or should know, are being offered with the intent to influence that Board Member's official conduct.

If a Board Member or designated staff has received gifts, either directly or through MCERA, of $50.00 or more in the immediate preceding twelve months from a person, firm or entity seeking to conduct business with the MCERA Board, before the Board considers an item involving that donor, the Board Member or designated staff shall disclose the receipt of the gift(s), the donor's name, and the nature and value of the gift(s) to the Board in open session. All gift disclosures required by law, including but not limited to those required by this Code, shall also be included on each Board Member's and designated staff's Form 700.

4. CONTACTS WITH VENDORS, CONSULTANTS AND ADVISORS.

- (a) Prospective Vendors, Consultants and Advisors. No member of the MCERA Board or staff shall accept any gifts, favors, or services from any current or prospective vendor, consultant or advisor (a “service provider”) that the Board Member or staff knows has responded to a Request for Proposal from MCERA, or is otherwise a candidate in a non-RFP selection process by MCERA. Furthermore, each member of the Board shall refrain from any discussions with any current or prospective service provider who is a finalist in the selection process regarding the Request for Proposal outside of an open public meeting, other than as part of a regularly scheduled interview during the selection process.
- (b) Existing Vendors, Consultants and Advisors. Business meetings and discussions, including meetings which include meals, with current service providers may provide useful information of benefit to the Board member, and are not prohibited by this Code of Fiduciary Conduct, Ethics and Governance.

5. USE OF MCERA RESOURCES AND FACILITIES FOR PRIVATE GAIN.

No member of the MCERA Board shall use Board consultants or staff, or MCERA facilities, equipment, materials or supplies for any purpose other than the discharge of his or her responsibilities to the retirement system.

6. USE OF OFFICIAL POSITION.

No MCERA Board member shall use his or her Board position either to negotiate on behalf of the MCERA Board or to become involved in personnel matters outside of any process established for that purpose. Furthermore, no Board member shall use his or her official position to secure a special privilege or exemption for himself or herself or on behalf of others.

7. CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION.

No member of the MCERA Board shall obtain or use for personal reasons or for private gain any confidential information acquired as a result of his or her position as a member of the Board.

Each Board Member shall abide by the provisions of Government Code section 54963, which prohibits the disclosure of confidential information acquired during authorized closed sessions.

8. CONDUCT AND ATTENDANCE AT RETIREMENT BOARD MEETINGS.

The MCERA Board shall provide fair and equal treatment for all persons and matters coming before the Board or any Board committee.

Board members shall listen courteously to all discussions at meetings and avoid interrupting other speakers, including other Board members, staff or committee members, except as may be permitted by established Rules of Order.

Board members shall refrain from abusive or disruptive conduct, personal charges or verbal attacks upon the character, motives, ethics, or morals of others.

In keeping with their fiduciary obligations, Board members shall make every reasonable effort to attend all meetings of the Board and all meetings of Committees on which they serve. When Board members are unable to attend a meeting of the Board or Standing Committee, they shall notify the Retirement Administrator as soon as possible to help ensure that a quorum will be achieved.

As provided by the Brown Act, the Board or a Standing Committee may permit one or more of its members to participate in their meetings by teleconference (audio or video), so long as the notice, public access, roll call voting and other procedural requirements of the Brown Act are met. It is the policy of the MCERA Board that if a trustee is unable to be physically present at a Standing Committee meeting, other than the Investment Committee, that trustee may request to participate from a remote location by teleconference. The trustee will timely contact the Chair of the Standing Committee to notify the Chair of his or her desire to participate via teleconference. The Committee Chair will, in his or her sole discretion, determine if the remote access request will be granted. Such request will also only be granted if the Retirement Administrator first determines that MCERA is reasonably able to comply with all Brown Act requirements with respect to the proposed teleconferencing location.

Board members may attend any meeting of a Standing Committee of which they are not a member, but only as observers. Only Committee members may vote on matters before the Committee. Board members may not attend meetings of Ad Hoc Committees of which they are not members unless the meeting agenda has been posted and all the requirements of the Brown Act have been met.

9. COMMUNICATIONS WITH SERVICE PROVIDERS AND OTHER NON-MCERA PERSONS AND ENTITIES.

A Board member shall be respectful of the Board and its decisions, and of committees and their recommendations, in all external communications, even if he or she disagrees with such decisions or recommendations.

As a means to provide correct, timely and uniform information regarding MCERA administration, the provision of MCERA benefits, and related matters, inquiries on such matters from services providers, the media, and other non-MCERA entities and individuals should be directed to the MCERA Administrator. If Board members receive inquiries from non-MCERA entities and individuals regarding MCERA and choose to respond to such inquiries, such Board members shall clarify that they are not speaking on behalf of the Board, unless the communication is specifically authorized by the Board.

A Board member shall not correspond with a non-MCERA person or entity using MCERA letterhead or as a spokesperson on behalf of the Board unless the communication is authorized by the Board.

Copies of all written communications from a Board member to a current service provider (vendor, consultant or advisor), or person or entity related to a current service provider, relating to MCERA's business (other than purely personal or social correspondence) shall be provided to the MCERA Administrator for possible subsequent distribution to all members of the Board.

A copy of any written business related communication (other than routine announcements, generally distributed newsletters, and similar material) received by a Board member from a current MCERA service provider, and not received by any other Board Member, shall be forwarded to the MCERA Administrator for possible subsequent distribution to all members of the Board.

10. COMMUNICATIONS TO THE ELECTORATE.

The Board may publicly express an opinion with regard to the merits of a proposed ballot measure that is reasonably expected to impact MCERA members or their beneficiaries with respect to their retirement or the operation of the retirement system. MCERA may provide information to its membership regarding the measure that is fair and impartial, avoids advocacy of any particular vote, and is provided to membership as part of normal communications as to which MCERA is not expending additional funds. MCERA may not, however, expend retirement system funds or other MCERA resources (such as staff time) to mount a campaign, or otherwise advocate, on any measure before the electorate or on behalf of any particular candidate on a ballot. In addition, unless authorized by the Board, individual Board members shall not use their retirement system titles when expressing an opinion regarding any ballot measure or candidate for office, unless the individual specifically identifies his or her opinion as personal and not that of the Board or retirement system. MCERA shall consult with its counsel prior to speaking officially, or expending MCERA resources, on any items that will be brought before the electorate so as to avoid any potential misuse of trust funds.

11. COMMUNICATIONS WITH PLAN MEMBERS.

Board members shall be aware of the risk of communicating inaccurate information to plan members (both active members and retirees), and the potential exposure to liability and possible harm to a plan member that may result from such miscommunications.

Board members shall mitigate the risk of miscommunication with plan members and thereby avoid creating additional plan liability by refraining from providing specific advice or counsel with respect to the rights or benefits to which a plan member may be entitled under the MCERA plan.

Where explicit advice or counsel, with respect to retirement plan provisions, policies or benefits is needed, Board members will refer inquiries to the MCERA Administrator or appropriate designee.

12. NON-COMPLIANCE SANCTIONS.

Violation of this Code of Fiduciary Conduct, Ethics and Governance is grounds to remove the offender from the position of Chair or Vice-Chair of the MCERA Board, or from any other assignment on behalf of the Board, and may also subject the offender to censure by the Board.

The Board may also pursue all of its legal remedies against any Board member who violates the provisions of this Code of Fiduciary Conduct, Ethics and Governance.

13. POLICY REVIEW.

The Board shall review this Code of Fiduciary Conduct, Ethics and Governance at least every three years to assure its efficacy and relevance. The Board may amend this policy, from time to time, by majority vote of the Board.

INTEREST CREDITING POLICY

AMENDED: February 9, 2011
REVIEWED: March 12, 2014
REVIEWED: December 14, 2016
REVIEWED: January 8, 2020
REVIEWED:

I. BACKGROUND TO THIS POLICY

The MCERA Board of Retirement (Board) has not previously adopted an interest crediting policy. Government Code section 31592.2 defines “excess” or “surplus” earnings as an amount accumulated by MCERA during any year “in excess of the total interest credited to contributions and reserves during such year,” plus at least one percent (1%) of the total assets of the retirement fund (the “Statutory Contingency Reserve”). In order to facilitate the determination of any “excess earnings” as provided by statute, the Board determined that it should develop this Interest Crediting Policy.

Reasonable advance notice of the proposed establishment of this Policy, as well as of any proposed changes to the Policy by the Board once it has been established, will be provided to recognized retired employee organizations in accordance with Government Code section 31592.5.

II. PURPOSES OF THIS POLICY

The purposes of this policy are to establish MCERA’s methodology:

1. To credit interest to certain MCERA reserves in compliance with CERL;
2. To track and attempt to correct any “deficiencies in interest earnings in other years” that MCERA may experience, as described in Government Code sections 31592 and 31592.2; and
3. To establish a non-valuation Statutory Contingency Reserve in accordance with Government Code section 31592.2.

III. GOVERNING LAW

MCERA is governed by article XVI, section 17 of the California Constitution, the applicable provisions of CERL, as well as other state and federal laws that govern public retirement systems.

CERL provides, in pertinent part, that in connection with the Board's adoption of MCERA's actuarial valuation, the Board will identify the rates of interest to be credited to members' and plan sponsors' contributions and reserves, and that such rates may, in the Board's sound discretion, be higher or lower than the interest assumption rate set forth in the actuarial valuation; however, the rates may not be set such that they reduce individual benefits provided under CERL and thus the interest credited to the Employee and Retiree Reserves may not be less than zero. See Gov. Code secs. 31453, 31454, 31472.

In addition, interest crediting rates must be set consistent with the Board's fiduciary duties of prudence and loyalty. The Board's duty of prudence requires it to inform itself of applicable laws and actuarial and funding principals so as to make an informed and reasonable decision regarding the interest crediting rates it sets. The Board's duty of loyalty requires it to balance the interests of the active, deferred, and retired members of MCERA and their survivors and beneficiaries (collectively "Members") and determine, in its sound and reasonable discretion, that the policy it adopts serves the current overall best interests of MCERA's Members.

Further, under CERL, the Statutory Contingency Reserve must be filled before any "surplus" in earnings may be transferred to employer reserves to pay benefits. See Gov. Code sec. 31592.2; see generally Gov. Code sec. 31616. The Statutory Contingency Reserve thus provides a buffer against "deficiencies in interest earnings in other years, losses on investments and other contingencies," as set forth in Government Code section 31592. In order to provide such a buffer effectively, assets in the Statutory Contingency Reserve should be held as non-valuation assets.

Assets held in Internal Revenue Code section 401(h) accounts for retiree health benefits must by law be accounted for separately from assets held for retirement/pension benefits and are not subject to this policy.

IV. INTEREST CREDITING

Step 1- Determine "Available Earnings" for the following plan sponsor valuation groups: County of Marin, City of San Rafael and Novato Fire Protection District ("Employer Group") for the current plan year as the sum of:

- A. Earnings of the retirement fund allocated to each Employer Group for the period based on Market Value of Assets, less allocated portions of MCERA administrative budget. This could be a negative amount.
- B. The most recent closing balance remaining in the Undistributed Earnings and Contingency Reserves for each Employer Group.

Step 2 - Credit interest to the valuation reserves:

Credit all valuation reserves (other than the Undistributed Earnings Reserves) with interest at the “Valuation Rate”, by Employer Group. Valuation reserves are described in the glossary that is attached to this Policy.

Step 3 – Contra Account:

If Available Earnings are insufficient to credit to reserves of any Employer Group at the assumed Valuation Rate, track all deficiencies in interest crediting for that year in the Contra Account applicable to that Employer Group.

If Available Earnings are sufficient for such interest crediting at the Valuation Rate for any Employer Group, reduce the balance tracked in the Contra Account for the Employer Group sufficient to make up for the historical under-crediting of those valuation reserves below the Valuation Rate, calculated as of December 31, 2009.

Step 4 – Restore the Statutory Contingency Reserve:

Transfer any remaining positive Available Earnings into the non-valuation Statutory Contingency Reserve for each Employer Group up to one percent (1%) of market value of MCERA’s total assets.

V. EFFECTIVE DATE, LACK OF VESTED RIGHTS, AND PERIODIC REVIEW

This policy, including its attached Glossary, is effective with the six-month interest crediting period ending December 31, 2010.

This policy remains subject to revision by the Board at any time, does not create any vested rights for any Members, and will be reviewed for potential modification by the Board at least once every three (3) years.

I, Jeff Wickman, the duly appointed Retirement Administrator of the Marin County Employees’ Retirement Association, hereby certify the review of this policy by the Marin County Employees’ Retirement Association.

GLOSSARY

Selected Policy Terms and Definitions

The following list defines certain technical terms relevant to this Policy:

Earnings:

The earnings of the Plan from its investments, including interest, dividends and capital gain, and loss adjustments, computed on a fair market value basis.

Valuation Rate:

This is approximately one-half of the interest rate adopted by the Board from the actuarial valuation that established the employer and employee contribution rates for that fiscal year.

Employee Reserve:

This valuation reserve represents that total accumulated contributions of members within an Employer Group plus the semi-annual interest credited to those contributions under this Policy.

Employer Reserve:

This valuation reserve includes the total accumulated contributions of the employer within an Employer Group held for the benefit of non-retired Miscellaneous and Safety members on account of service rendered as a member of the retirement system, plus semi-annual interest credited to those contributions under this Policy.

Retiree Pension Reserve:

This valuation reserve represents total accumulated contributions of the employer within an Employer Group held for the benefit of retired members on account of service rendered as a member of the retirement system, plus semi-annual interest credited to those contributions under this Policy, less the pension payments made to retired members.

Retiree Annuity Reserve:

This valuation reserve includes the total accumulated contributions of retired members within an Employer Group for annuity benefits, plus semi-annual interest credited to those contributions under this Policy, less the annuity payments made to the members.

Survivor Death Benefit and Continuance Reserves:

These valuation reserves represent the accumulated contributions of the employer and members within an Employer Group, plus semi-annual interest credited to those contributions under this Policy, to be used to pay death and survivorship benefits.

Cost of Living Reserve:

This valuation reserve represents the accumulated contributions of the employer and the members within an Employer Group, plus semi-annual interest credited to those contributions under this Policy, to be used to pay cost of living payments.

Statutory Contingency Reserve:

This non-valuation reserve represents earnings in excess of the total interest credited to valuation reserves, up to one percent (1%) of market value of MCERA's total assets maintained by Employer Group. The Contingency Reserve is treated as a Non-Valuation asset and is used as a reserve against deficiencies in Available Earnings in other years, as provided by Government Code sections 31592 and 31592.2.

Undistributed Earnings Reserve:

This valuation reserve represents earnings in excess of the total interest credited to all other reserves that have not been allocated by the Board to other reserves, maintained by Employer Group.

Contra Account:

The "Contra Account" is an accounting informational mechanism, not a reserve, that is used to track any historical shortfalls of Available Earnings credited to valuation reserves other than the Undistributed Earnings Reserve on or after December 31, 2009 relative to the earnings required to credit interest at the full Valuation Rate to those valuation reserves, maintained by Employer Group.

MARIN COUNTY EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT ASSOCIATION (MCERA) UNRESTRICTED EARNINGS POLICY

ADOPTED: October 13, 2010

AMENDED: February 9, 2011

REVIEWED: March 12, 2014

REVIEWED: December 14, 2016

REVIEWED: January 8, 2020

REVIEWED:

I. BACKGROUND TO THIS POLICY

MCERA has not previously adopted an unrestricted or "excess" earnings policy.

During 2009, the MCERA Board of Retirement (Board) directed staff, MCERA's actuary, and counsel to assist it in developing a policy regarding the use of "excess" earnings of MCERA, as those earnings are defined in, among other provisions, Government Code sections 31592.2 and 31874.3. For the reasons set forth therein, this policy is to be read in conjunction, and consistently, with MCERA's Interest Crediting Policy.

Reasonable advance notice of the proposed establishment of this policy, as well as of any proposed changes to the policy, or of any proposed changes to the uses of unrestricted earnings under it, by the Board once it has been established, will be provided to recognized retired employee organizations in accordance with Government Code section 31592.5.

II. PURPOSE OF THIS POLICY

The purpose of this policy is to establish a methodology to administer the unrestricted earnings of MCERA in compliance with the County Employees' Retirement Law of 1937 (Cal. Gov. Code sec. 31450 et seq.) ("CERL").

III. GOVERNING LAW

MCERA is governed by article XVI, section 17 of the California Constitution, the applicable provisions of CERL, as well as other state and federal laws that govern public retirement systems.

CERL provides MCERA members with statutory rights to certain retirement and related benefits, and affords MCERA's plan sponsors options to grant their employees those benefits on a vested or, in some cases non-vested, basis in accordance with applicable law. CERL also provides the MCERA Board with the authority and discretion to use unrestricted earnings of the retirement system to provide non-vested benefits to certain MCERA members on the conditions set forth by statute, and consistent with the Board's fiduciary duties of prudence and loyalty.

The Board's duty of prudence requires it to inform itself of applicable laws and actuarial and funding principals so as to make an informed and reasonable decision regarding the terms of this policy. The Board's duty of loyalty requires it to balance the interests of the active, deferred, and retired members of MCERA and their survivors and beneficiaries (collectively "Members") and determine, in its sound and reasonable discretion, that the policy it adopts serves the current overall best interests of MCERA's Members.

This policy, including any changes to it that the Board may choose to make in the future, provides guidelines to be followed by the Board in administering the benefits granted by the County of Marin ("County") and MCERA's other plan sponsors in compliance with CERL and other applicable law, and in managing the assets that pay those benefits as well as other benefits permitted to be paid with unrestricted earnings.

Assets held in Internal Revenue Code ("IRC") section 401(h) accounts for retiree health benefits must by law be accounted for separately from assets held for retirement/pension benefits and are not subject to this policy. In addition, under IRC section 401(h), assets held by a federally tax-qualified plan such as MCERA to pay retirement/pension benefits, may not be used to fund retiree health benefits.

IV. POSSIBLE USES OF UNRESTRICTED EARNINGS

After completing MCERA's interest crediting and establishing a non-valuation contingency reserve for each employer valuation group (currently, the County, City of San Rafael, and Novato Fire Protection District) ("Employer Group"), as provided by the MCERA Interest Crediting Policy, then

Step 1: MCERA will first credit to the Retiree Reserves of an Employer Group an amount sufficient to bring the amounts in those reserves up to the level that MCERA's actuary recommends will fund 100% of the present value of the projected benefits to be paid from those reserves to the retirees as of the most recent valuation date.

Step 2: If Available Earnings remain after completing Step 1, then the Board may, in its sound discretion, consider the following:

A. If at least one percent (1%) of MCERA's total retirement system assets are collectively maintained in the Employee Group Statutory Contingency Reserves and the overall funded status of the plan is 80% or greater, the Board may consider a transfer to a non-valuation reserve or designation to pay an ad hoc supplemental COLA as permitted by law. Ideally, before transferring any assets to such non-valuation reserve, the overall funded status of the plan should be approximately 100%.

- B. Transfer to a reserve or designation for other uses as permitted by law.
- C. Continue to maintain the funds in the Unrestricted Earnings valuation reserve.

Prior to implementing A or B above, the Board must obtain: (1) from MCERA's actuary, an analysis of the impact of such actions on factors such as (i) future annual contributions rates, (ii) the unfunded actuarial accrued liability of MCERA and each of its employer valuation groups; and (iii) resulting funding ratios; and (2) the advice of MCERA's legal counsel. The Finance and Risk Committee will review these results and recommend to the Board if either action A or B should be implemented.

V. EFFECTIVE DATE, LACK OF VESTED RIGHTS, AND PERIODIC REVIEW

This policy is effective on the same date as the Interest Crediting Policy that is referenced herein.

This policy remains subject to revision by the Board at any time, does not create any vested rights for any Members, and will be reviewed for potential modification by the Board at least once every three (3) years.

VI. RETIREMENT ADMINISTRATOR'S CERTIFICATE

I, Jeff Wickman, the duly appointed Retirement Administrator of the Marin County Employees' Retirement Association, hereby certify the review of this policy by the Marin County Employees' Retirement Association.
