Salesforce, Inc.	06/08/2023	Shareholder	18	Yes	Require Independent Board Chair	Against	Against	For	For	Two major components at the top of every public company are the running of the board, and the executive responsibilities of running of the company's business. There should be a clear division between the head of the company, and the chair of the board. When there is no clear division of independence between the executive and board branches of a company, poor executive and/or board actions often go unchecked to the ultimate detriment of shareholders. A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as it seeks the adoption of a policy that requires the board's chairman to be an independent director.

Sarepta Therapeutics, Inc.	06/08/2023	Management	5	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. There are significant concerns surrounding the company's decision to amend the CEO's performance option award, originally granted in 2017 with a five-year performance period, to extend the performance period for an additional three years. The amendment resulted in significant incremental value for the award, and diminished the at-risk nature of the original award by allowing for additional chances to earn the award that otherwise would not have been earned in full. In addition to these concerns, a substantial portion of LTI awards to other NEOs lack performance conditions.

Seagen Inc.	05/31/2023	Management	4	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Concerns are raised surrounding the new CEO's one-time awards valued by the company at over $57 million. While half of the awards are performance based and require stock price outperformance, the remaining half is entirely time-based. Although the company discloses that these awards were designed to offset forfeited equity, it did not disclose which portion was considered make whole. In addition, NEO Dansey also received a large one-time performance option award, which, when combined with his annual and long-term awards, resulted in outsized total pay that is more than two times that of the company median peer CEO pay. In addition, concerns are raised surrounding the annual LTI for other NEOs, which is majority time based. Further concerns are identified surrounding a separation arrangement that will allow the former CEO, who was terminated without cause in May 2022, to receive certain CIC benefits if a merger closes by the end of 2023. Also problematic, the company entered into agreements with CEO Epstein and NEO Dansey that will provide excise tax gross-up payments in connection with the recently announced merger.

Sempra Energy	05/12/2023	Shareholder	16	Yes	Require Independent Board Chair	Against	Against	For	For	Two major components at the top of every public company are the running of the board, and the executive responsibilities of running of the company's business. There should be a clear division between the head of the company, and the chair of the board. When there is no clear division of independence between the executive and board branches of a company, poor executive and/or board actions often go unchecked to the ultimate detriment of shareholders. A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as it seeks the adoption of a policy that requires the board's chairman to be an independent director.

ServiceNow, Inc.	06/01/2023	Management	11	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	Following a failed say-on-pay vote last year, the committee has demonstrated only a limited degree of responsiveness by responding to a primary shareholder concern regarding one-time awards, but the committee did not make meaningful structural improvements to the regular pay program to address shareholders' secondary feedback points. It is positive that the STIP was based primarily on financial metrics and the goals utilized were reasonable, even after a mid-year goal modification. However, there are continuing pay structure concerns that underscore a pay-for-performance misalignment. Specifically, the LTIP continues to utilize one-year measurement periods for primary metrics, with significant overlap to a STI metric and goal, and the CEO's LTI awards are relatively large in the year following a mega award. In light of these concerns, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted.

Simon Property Group, Inc.	05/04/2023	Management	11	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. A pay-for-performance misalignment exists for the year under review and mitigating factors could not be identified. The sharp increase in CEO pay was driven by a sizable, off-cycle discretionary cash bonus that lacks any performance- or time-vesting criteria. The structure of this sizable cash award is contrary to a pay-for-performance philosophy and the proxy lacks clear disclosure of the committee's rationale for the structure and magnitude of the award. Additionally, although the STI pool funding is tied to pre-set targets and a majority of LTIs are tied to performance goals, the proxy lacks disclosure of how performance translates into bonus pool funding levels, actual STI payouts are ultimately discretionary, and the proxy does not disclose forward-looking LTI goals.

Six Flags Entertainment Corporation	05/10/2023	Management	8	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. While there are some disclosure concerns under both incentive programs, annual incentives were primarily determined by pre-set objective metrics and below-target payouts generally aligned with the company's financial performance. While the use of front-loaded awards raises some concern, PSUs are measured over (and intended to cover) a three-year performance period. And although payout opportunities are high, performance goals appear rigorous, and the annualized amount of the awards somewhat mitigates concerns regarding opportunities. Nevertheless, close continued monitoring of future grants is warranted given the somewhat vague commitment to not grant additional awards during the performance period.

Skechers U.S.A., Inc.	06/12/2023	Management	4	Yes	Amend Certificate of Incorporation to Permit the Exculpation of Officers	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as such an expansion in exemption from liability would adversely impact officer's accountability in the event of a breach in fiduciary care, which may adversely impact shareholders' interests. In addition, the company is controlled and the board which will decide on the company's response to any shareholder litigation has a poor track record on corporate governance.
Skechers U.S.A., Inc.	06/12/2023	Management	5	Yes	Approve Omnibus Stock Plan	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted because the equity granted to the named executives during the last fiscal year exceeds 15 percent of total awards.
Skechers U.S.A., Inc.	06/12/2023	Management	6	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The CEO receives an outsized salary, and three executives including the CEO received significant perks and associated tax gross ups. Although annual incentives are based on a financial metric, all executives are eligible to receive potentially significant awards, a concern underscored by the CEO's FY22 award of an amount more than four times the median. Moreover, although long-term incentives are half performance-based, half of PRSUs are earned based on annual performance periods, and relative TSR PSUs target merely median performance with no disclosed payout cap for negative absolute TSR.

Skyworks Solutions, Inc.	05/10/2023	Management	11	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR the proposal is warranted. The annual bonus program was entirely based on pre-set financial metrics with clear disclosure of payout formula and performance targets, while target goals appear rigorous. In addition, the LTI program was majority performance based, with a significant majority of the performance equity grant utilizing a multi-year performance period. While relative metrics target above median performance in order to vest, continued monitoring of the relative TSR metric payout is warranted, as the proxy does not disclose a cap on vesting if absolute TSR is negative over the performance period. The annual equity grant also has the potential for a relatively high payout if the maximum goal is achieved.

The compensation committee was adequately responsive to last year's low say-on-pay vote result. The LTI program was majority based on performance equity with multi-year performance periods with rigorous forward-looking goals disclosed. However, the company allowed a former NEO to retain a sizeable cash bonus they would have been contractually obligated to pay back upon a voluntary resignation. Such an enhancement is considered a problematic pay practice.

SS&C Technologies Holdings, Inc.	05/17/2023	Management	4	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. The committee was sufficiently responsive to last year's failed say-on-pay vote, incorporating shareholder feedback into redesigning both the annual and long-term incentive programs. Further, CEO pay for the year in review declined significantly and the new annual bonus program incorporated clearly disclosed financial metrics. However, given expected high pay opportunities for FY23 in the first year of the new equity program, investors are advised to closely monitor pay levels and performance going into next year.

State Street Corporation	05/17/2023	Management	13	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. There remains some concern regarding the incentive determination process which, although guided by performance assessments and target opportunities, is ultimately discretionarily determined. Further, the proxy lacks certain key disclosures, such as individual metric weightings and quantified, pre-set target goals. While this issue warrants continued close monitoring, there are mitigating factors. Most notably, pay and performance are reasonably aligned for the year in review. Additionally, key financial metrics considered were generally consistent with the prior year, and the majority of long-term incentives are based on clearly disclosed multi-year goals. Lastly, while certain goals underlying PRSUs granted in 2022 were adjusted after grant, the committee provides a reasonable rationale for this decision.

The Allstate Corporation	05/23/2023	Management	13	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. There is some continuing concern regarding the STI structure and goal rigor, which warrants continued close monitoring. Although the STI pool is largely funded formulaically, payouts can be increased significantly based on a discretionary individual performance assessment, and two STI targets were set below the prior year's results. However, STI pool funding was reduced by 50 percent due to a net loss in 2022, and NEOs received below-target payouts at the funding level. Additionally, the company targets a majority of equity awards as multi-year performance shares, the relative TSR metric targets outperformance, and the one metric without forward-looking goal disclosure is growth-based.

The Bank of New York Mellon Corporation	04/12/2023	Management	12	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. There is some concern surrounding the structure of a retention award to a transitioning executive, the considerable room for discretion in determining cash incentives, and the rigor of relative TSR PSUs. However, these issues have not resulted in a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment. In addition, the incentive program uses a financial metric with a disclosed weighting and goals, and the use of discretion was judiciously applied. Further, the majority of equity awards are based on clearly disclosed, multi-year goals, and closing-cycle PSUs vested below target. Continued close monitoring on the program structure and pay decisions is warranted. A quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment going forward may be met with increased scrutiny of the program.

The Boeing Company	04/18/2023	Management	14	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Increases to both the CEO's incentive program opportunities were made on the backdrop of negative short- and long-term TSR performance. Further, these increases have contributed to a misalignment between pay and performance for the most recent fiscal year. While annual incentives were based on a primarily quantitative scorecard, the committee may increase payouts based on a subjective assessment of individual performance, and the CEO's award was increased for FY22. Long-term incentives were half performance-based, but FY22 grants provide for an opportunity to reduce the premium price of the stock options if the company's TSR meets merely a median performance hurdle. Lastly, the company provided a large corporate aircraft perquisite to the CEO.

Annual incentives were primarily determined by pre-set financial metrics and target goals were set above the previous year's actual results. In addition, a majority of the annual-cycle equity awards are performance conditioned and measured over a multi-year period. While the interim CEO's long-term incentives were entirely time-vesting, this concern is somewhat mitigated given the short-term nature of his position and because a portion of his awards were granted in connection with his role as executive chairman. Further, NEOs did not receive payouts under the annual incentive program and closing-cycle PSUs were not earned, which is generally aligned with recent financial and TSR performance.

The Travelers Companies, Inc.	05/24/2023	Management	17	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Concerns continue to be raised by the heavy reliance on compensation committee discretion in determining annual incentive payouts and the lack of certain shareholder-friendly disclosures such as per-metric weightings and target pay opportunities. Investors increasingly prefer a more formulaic STI design with key disclosures that provide more transparency into the pay-for-performance linkage. However, there are mitigating factors for the year under review. Specifically, the use of discretion has not resulted in a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment. Further, key financial metrics considered were consistent and the committee introduced a cap on the CEO's maximum bonus opportunity, which is positive. Moreover, equity awards are majority based on clearly-disclosed multi-year goals, and closing-cycle PSU vesting outcomes are in line with longer term company performance. Continued close monitoring of the STI structure and payouts is warranted. A quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment going forward may be met with increased scrutiny of discretionary determinations and outcomes.

Although the company implemented a performance equity program that utilizes rigorous goals, a significantly positive development, other concerns remain. The new triennial grant structure locks certain concerning features into the pay program until the next grant, which include a relatively low percentage of the grant that was in performance equity (for a front-loaded grant) and the award only utilizing annualized performance periods. In addition, the grant value, even when annualized, is relatively large. NEO base salaries were also relatively high, and one NEO received a large sign-on award that lacked performance-conditioned equity.

U.S. Bancorp	04/18/2023	Management	14	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. There is some concern regarding the significant increase to the CEO's target STI opportunity, given sustained TSR underperformance, and the lack of complete disclosure of target goals and achieved results under the STI program. Additionally, the relative LTI metrics target the median, which is not considered particularly rigorous. While these issues warrant continued close monitoring, there are mitigating factors. Notably, pay and performance are reasonably aligned for the year in review. Additionally, STI funding is based on pre-set financial goals and the majority of equity awards vest based on multi-year performance. Lastly, three-year realizable pay is directionally aligned with TSR performance over the same period. Continued close monitoring of pay program disclosure and resulting payouts is warranted.

The compensation committee demonstrated poor responsiveness to low support for last year's say-on-pay proposal. Concerns are raised by the magnitude of pay for all non-CEO NEOs, who each received greater total compensation than both the CEO and the company's peer median CEO due to significant off-cycle equity grants, as well as by the predominantly time-vesting nature of FY22 equity awards. The CEO also continues to receive an entirely time-vesting long-term incentive of significant value, resulting in multiple executives paid at the level of a CEO for whom the majority of their compensation is fixed.

Vertex Pharmaceuticals Incorporated	05/17/2023	Management	11	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. There continue to be concerns over the degree to which subjective assessments factor into the annual incentive, which also lacks fulsome disclosure. In addition, only 25 percent of the CEO's total performance year equity awards utilize multi-year performance conditions and the goals are not disclosed. However, these issues have not resulted in a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment for the year in review. Moreover, the above target annual incentive payout was aligned with improved financial performance and half of performance year equity is subject to performance conditions. Shareholders should continue to closely monitor these design and disclosure issues. Should a quantitative misalignment be identified moving forward, additional scrutiny may be warranted.

Walmart Inc.	05/31/2023	Management	13	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	The incentive program is predominantly based on objective financial criteria and annual target goals appear reasonably rigorous. However, there are significant concerns regarding equity award structure, as the LTI program utilizes solely one-year measurement periods, rather than multi-year performance periods. This concern is heightened as the company uses an overlapping metric between the short- and long-term programs, which resulted in maximum achievement for same goal under both programs. While the company provides a rationale for its pay program structure, investors generally expect a majority of long-term awards to be tied to long-term, multi-year performance goals. Lastly, the CEO's personal use of corporate aircraft perquisite provided in the last fiscal year is considered excessive. In light of these concerns, the quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment is not mitigated and a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted.
Walmart Inc.	05/31/2023	Management	14	Yes	Ratify Ernst & Young LLP as Auditors	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this item is warranted as the auditor's tenure at the company exceeds seven years.
Walmart Inc.	05/31/2023	Shareholder	15	Yes	Consider Pay Disparity Between CEO and Other Employees	Against	Against	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted for the following reasons: * Consideration of pay grades and/or salary ranges of all classification of company employees when setting target amounts for CEO compensation would serve to further eliminate excessive pay disparities; and * Excessive pay disparities could pose risks to long-term shareholder value, and impact employee morale as well as a company's standing in the communities in which it operates.
Walmart Inc.	05/31/2023	Shareholder	16	Yes	Report on Human Rights Due Diligence	Against	Against	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, as additional information regarding the processes the company uses for human rights due diligence would allow shareholders to better gauge how the company is managing human rights related risks.
Walmart Inc.	05/31/2023	Shareholder	17	Yes	Commission Third Party Racial Equity Audit	Against	For	For	For	A vote FOR this resolution is warranted, as such disclosure would allow shareholders to better assess the racial equity impacts and effectiveness of the company's policies and practices.
Walmart Inc.	05/31/2023	Shareholder	18	Yes	Report on Racial and Gender Layoff Diversity	Against	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company has appropriate policies and practices to give the board visibility to the company's workforce statistics.
Walmart Inc.	05/31/2023	Shareholder	19	Yes	Amend Bylaws to Require Shareholder Approval of Certain Provisions Related to Director Nominations by Shareholders	Against	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The proposal language may result in a bylaw amendment that is both overly restrictive of the board's ability to amend the bylaws, and not necessarily in the interest of shareholders. Further, there does not appear to have been any problematic bylaw amendment unilaterally adopted by the board that would suggest a need to impose the restrictions sought by this proposal.
Walmart Inc.	05/31/2023	Shareholder	20	Yes	Report on Risks Related to Fulfilling Information Requests for Enforcing Laws Criminalizing Abortion Access	Against	Against	For	For	A vote FOR this resolution is warranted, as additional information on the potential risks and costs associated with proposed or enacted state policies that restrict reproductive healthcare would allow shareholders to better assess how the company is managing such associated risks.
Walmart Inc.	05/31/2023	Shareholder	21	Yes	Report on Risks Related to Operations in China	Against	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted, as the company appears to provide shareholders with sufficient disclosure to understand to what extent corporate operations depend on China.
Walmart Inc.	05/31/2023	Shareholder	22	Yes	Oversee and Report a Workplace Health and Safety Audit	Against	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as an independent audit would help shareholders evaluate the effectiveness of the company's workplace safety policies, practices, and management of potential risks.

Warner Bros. Discovery, Inc.	05/08/2023	Management	6	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted given that the company recently modified the CEO's employment agreement without removing the entitlement to a problematic modified single-trigger cash severance. In addition, an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment exists for the year in review. The CEO continues to receive a large base salary as well as annual bonus opportunity. The strategic goal portion of the annual bonus is poorly disclosed, along with actual performance. This is compounded in the LTI program, as certain overlapping metrics are used in both programs, including a relatively short performance period. Disclosure of strategic metrics remains relatively poor in the LTI program, which makes up the majority of the program. Concerns are also raised with regards to the inordinate amount of the CEO's personal use of corporate aircraft perquisites and the total amount of perquisite compensation reported for the CEO that is deemed excessive. Though some positive changes were made in response to shareholder feedback, some changes appear to be merely incremental improvements, which will be further analyzed in next year's report.

While the CEO remains the lowest paid executive, there are significant concerns surrounding the structure of the pay program. Specifically, all other NEOs received relatively significant grants of entirely time-based equity, and executive pay was entirely fixed for the year in review following the elimination of the annual bonus program, raising concerns amid an extended period of financial underperformance. Moreover, the CEO was provided with a relatively large security prerequisite of excessive value, with no clear rationale provided.

The annual and long-term incentives are primarily based on pre-set financial metrics and the long-term performance units utilize a multi-year performance period. Wells Fargo & Company	04/25/2023	Management	14	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	There is some continuing concern regarding the annual incentive determination process, which is ultimately discretionary, paired with a lack of disclosed per-metric weightings and pre-set threshold, target and maximum goals. Additionally, base salaries for the CEO (and other NEOs) remain relatively high and the CEO's target total pay was increased during a period of long-term TSR underperformance. While these issues warrant continued close monitoring, there are mitigating factors. Notably, the discretionary annual incentive framework has not resulted in a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment. Additionally, the CEO's total incentive award was discretionarily reduced, and closing-cycle performance shares vested below target, each in directional alignment with shareholders' recent experience. Lastly, the majority of long-term incentives are based on clearly disclosed multi-year goals. On balance of these factors, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. A quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment going forward may be met with increased scrutiny of pay program structure.

Though financial metrics in the annual bonus program appear rigorous and qualitative metric disclosure has improved, disclosure of each metric's payout percentage is lacking. Furthermore, though all financial metrics in the annual bonus performed below target, the final payout still exceeded target due to the performance of the qualitative portion of the award. Concerns are also noted in the annual LTI; though a significant portion of LTI is in performance-conditioned equity that utilizes a multi-year performance period, relative TSR goals merely target median and the maximum vesting opportunity is relatively high, no relative TSR vesting cap is disclosed if absolute TSR is negative, and forward-looking goals for one metric are not disclosed. More concerning, however, is with the existence of a special grant, which was granted one month after a special award granted in December 2022. Though the grant is entirely in multi-year performance equity with reasonably rigorous goals disclosed, the repeated use of special grants in close proximity is concerning, given the additive pay opportunities provided by off-cycle awards. Investors generally expect that special grants are infrequent.

Workday, Inc.	06/22/2023	Management	6	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted because: * The new co-CEO received relatively outsized new-hire awards, the majority of which were completely time-based. * There is no disclosure of the specific performance targets underlying the annual incentive plan. * The company's regular equity awards remain entirely time-based. * The company provided an inordinate amount of security prerequisites and total prerequisite compensation to the co-CEO.

Further, there do not appear to have been any problematic bylaw amendments unilaterally adopted by the board that would suggest that support for this proposal is warranted.

Wynn Resorts, Limited	05/04/2023	Management	5	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR the proposal is warranted. In response to last year's low say-on-pay vote, the committee engaged with shareholders and disclosed the feedback received. In response, the company made positive changes to the FY23 pay program by increasing the proportion of FY23 PSUs in the LTI to 55 percent and providing additional disclosures in both the STI and LTI. In addition, the committee made certain assurances in a supplemental filing surrounding one-time awards and the structure of its incentive programs going forward. Accordingly, the compensation committee has demonstrated adequate responsiveness to last year's low say-on-pay vote result. While the committee did elect to reduce the proportion of annual equity awards that were performance-conditioned in FY22, the company provides a clear rationale for removing certain performance metrics, and as mentioned above, FY23 grants will be majority performance conditioned. In addition, while some concerns are raised surrounding forward-looking goals not being disclosed, the company improved its disclosure by providing closing cycle goals and actual performance, which is considered an improvement in the company's disclosure. Finally, the company provides additional details surrounding strategic goals in the annual incentive, and the majority of the program is based on clearly disclosed objective measures.

XPO, Inc.	05/17/2023	Management	11	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. While the compensation committee sufficiently responded to last year's low say-on-pay vote, an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment is present for the year in review. First, concerns are raised regarding two highly paid executives, with the new CEO's pay and the executive chairman's compensation each outpacing the compensation of CEO peers. This is particularly concerning given above-median benchmarking concerns. Additionally, certain LTI awards maintained relatively short performance periods and concerns are raised regarding the structure of the CEO's promotion grant. Lastly, the company converted prior performance awards to RSUs in connection with the spin-off, resulting in significant value to NEOs without the achievement of performance criteria.

Xylem Inc.	05/11/2023	Management	1	Yes	Issue Shares in Connection with Acquisition	For	For	For	For	The strategic rationale appears reasonable, as the combined company will have increased scale and the opportunity to leverage AQUA's water treatment solutions across XYL's platform to help accelerate top-line growth and international expansion. Zimmer Biomet Holdings, Inc.	05/12/2023	Management	12	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	Following last year's low support for this proposal, the committee demonstrated adequate responsiveness to shareholders' concerns, by disclosing engagement efforts, transparent shareholder concerns, and certain commitments and pay program changes in response to these concerns. There is some concern surrounding LTI goal disclosure. However, the proxy provides forward-looking disclosure of one 2023 PSU relative metric target, which represents enhanced disclosure, requires outperformance, and caps vesting if absolute TSR is negative (although the weight is not disclosed). Additionally, the STI is predominantly based on clearly disclosed financial goals and the company's recent spinoff of ZimVie is a reasonable rationale for certain lowered targets. Further, the company targets half of LTI awards as multi-year performance equity. On balance of these factors, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Close continued monitoring of LTI disclosure is warranted.

Approval of this proposal would result in the immediate provision of the right to call special meetings with a 25 percent ownership threshold. The shareholder proposal in Item 5 requests a special meeting right with a more reasonable 10 percent ownership threshold, which shareholders should also support.

Executives received large "refreshment" grants intended to cover four years of compensation and these grants lack pre-set performance criteria. In addition, some executives received grants intended to offset the lost value from a stock price decline on previous grants. Additionally, one NEO's new-hire package was large and also lacked performance criteria. Lastly, concerns are raised as the company provided sizable perquisites to the CEO.

While performance targets for the annual incentive appear rigorous, a significant portion of the final payout was subjectively determined and disclosure around the determination of individual performance is lacking. In addition, the structure of the company's long-term incentive plan, which included setting performance goals annually for previously granted tranches of PSUs and utilizing goals that overlap entirely with the annual incentive program, lacked a long-term focus and resulted in payouts for similar accomplishments in both programs. Disclosure around a new PSU goal structure used for FY22 promotion grants is limited, reducing transparency into the rigor of the goal. Finally, the magnitude of the promotion grants was outsized and added to already substantial equity grant values for the NEOs who received them.

Befesa SA	7	Approve Remuneration Policy	No	For	Against		Against	We would like to vote AGAINST item 7 (remuneration policy) and item 8 (remuneration report) as recommended by both ISS and TSCM research. While improvements to the remuneration policy are noted, per the research below, we would like to see Befesa's remuneration policy and absolute comp for the Chairman to come in line with industry peers. Specifically for the Chairman compensation, while the short term variable portion proposed is down 28% YoY, the stock performance in 2022 was even worse (-33% in 2022 and so far -18% YTD 2023). We believe the company has lots of room to improve in its disclosures to investors about business conditions which certainly don't warrant a premium compensation for Mr. Javier Molina.	Yes	No	Yes

								A vote AGAINST this item is warranted because: - Since 2018, the CEO has been receiving a guaranteed fee of EUR 2.55 million per year (38.3 percent of total pay in 2022): EUR 650,000 for retention purposes and EUR 1.9 million for post-contractual non-compete duty, which makes his pay package non-performance oriented. - The vesting conditions of SARs do not . - The company reports the CEO's annual bonus payout with a one-year lag, which falls short of local disclosure standards. - The board is not responsive to shareholder concerns over the company's remuneration practices

St. James's Place Plc	4	Approve Remuneration Report	No	For	Against		For	been identified in respect of the vesting of the 2020 LTIP award, which is judged to have significantly benefitted from 'windfall gains'. The share price used to determine the grant value was briefly impacted by the material uncertainty brought about the COVID-19 pandemic, leading to an increased number of shares being granted to cover the award. However, no amendment to the award at grant or vesting has been made and the Company's explanation is not considered to be sufficiently compelling. Additional Rationale: •ISS leans heavily on the Investment Association Principles of Remuneration, which state that in the event of a share price fall, grants should be scaled back. The ultimate aim of scaling these back is to "ensure that remuneration outcomes are reflective of executive performance and guard against payment for failure. Committees should confirm they have reviewed the vesting outcomes and should provide an explanation as to why a level of pay-out is appropriate, and how such a decision was reached." •I would argue that ISS' own analysis indicates that there is no "payment for failure." •There is a mix of pros and cons in the remainder of the remuneration policy/practice. On the negative: incentive payments are allowed for what might be considered executives "doing their day job" eg- Salesforce implementation. Positive: pension allowances for executives are being reduced, and post-cessation shareholding requirements are being elevated. Viewed holistically,	No	Yes	Yes

2U, Inc.	06/06/2023	Management	Yes	3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. In response to last year's low say-on-pay vote, the committee engaged with shareholders and disclosed the feedback received. In response, the company made positive changes to the FY23 pay program by increasing the proportion of FY23 PSUs in the LTI to 55 percent, and eliminating duplicate metrics in the STI and LTI programs. In addition, a supplemental filing disclosed that equity grants values for the CEO and other NEOs will be reduced by 40 percent in FY23. Accordingly, the compensation committee has demonstrated adequate responsiveness to last year's low say-on-pay vote result. While some concerns are noted surrounding the size and structure of the LTI, which utilizes annual performance measurement periods and a duplicate metric, these concerns are mitigated as the company will no longer have overlapping metrics in FY23, and target values will be reduced significantly. In addition, half of the CEO's PSUs are now based on three-year TSR relative to the Russell 3000 Index, with the target requiring outperformance. While the company made significant positive changes to the FY22 and F23 pay programs, shareholders should continue to monitor the structure of the LTI going forward.	No	No	No

Acme United Corporation	04/24/2023	Management	Yes	8	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted because: * The company maintains legacy agreements that contain a modified single trigger change-in-control provision; * Equity awards allow for auto-accelerated vesting upon a change-in-control event; * The company did not condition vesting of long-term awards on achievement of performance goals for awards granted in the most recent fiscal year; and * The company lacks risk-mitigating provisions such as a clawback policy, stock ownership guidelines or holding period requirements for executives.	Yes	Yes	No
ACNB Corporation	05/02/2023	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted given that the company recently restated and entered into NEO agreements that provide for problematic modified single-trigger cash severance and/or excise tax gross-up provisions. Other problematic pay practices include single-trigger equity vesting acceleration upon a change in control and the lack of preset performance criteria for the CEO's bonus and equity awards.	Yes	No	No
Acuity Brands, Inc.	01/25/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. The compensation committee adequately responded to shareholder concerns following last year's low say-on-pay vote result. The proxy provides clearly outlined shareholder feedback and concerns, and commensurate actions taken by the committee to increase the performance component of the LTI plan as well as plans to enhance disclosure under the STI plan relating to individual performance. Concerns regarding the misalignment between CEO pay and company performance are also sufficiently mitigated for the year under review. Financial measures comprise 80 percent of the STI and all measures had targets set above the prior year's actual results. The CEO's equity mix is also 75-percent performance-contingent, tied to multi-year, pre-set objectives.	No	No	No

Adaptive Biotechnologies Corporation	06/09/2023	Management	Yes	3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. In response to last year's low say-on-pay vote, the committee engaged with shareholders and a recent supplemental filing disclosed additional details surrounding its outreach efforts and specific feedback received. In response, the company implemented certain positive changes to the pay program. In addition, concerns regarding the misalignment between CEO pay and company performance are mitigated for the year under review. CEO pay decreased significantly year-over-year, and the annual bonus program was primarily based on pre-set objective metrics, with clearly disclosed target goals and actual results. Further, the CEO's annual equity grant is now half performance conditioned and measured over a multi-year period.	No	No	No

ADTRAN Holdings, Inc.	05/10/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The primary driver for the significant increase in CEO pay were equity awards, which includes an equity grant and incremental value from modified awards in connection with the July 2022 business combination. Majority of the equity awards lack performance conditions and the PSUs granted post-business combination can be earned at target with median performance and there is no cap on payouts when TSRs are negative. In addition, while annual bonuses were paid out below target, the STI program's performance goals were not disclosed.	Yes	No	No

While the incentive scorecard utilizes a relatively large number of metrics and threshold performance is not disclosed, these concerns are mitigated. Air Lease Corporation	05/03/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Annual incentives were primarily based on pre-set objective metrics and long-term incentives were majority performance-vesting, with closing-cycle PSUs forfeited in line with performance. However, there are significant concerns surrounding the executive chairman's total pay exceeded that of the CEO, which includes a high base salary at $1.8 million. Further, there are significant goal rigor concerns, as the company lowered metric goals for the annual bonus for the second consecutive year, with awards paid out above target despite a discretionary reduction by the committee. Airgain, Inc.	06/21/2023	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	The pay-for-performance misalignment is mitigated at this time. The CEO's pay significantly decreased during a period of poor stock performance. In addition, the company introduced performance awards, the performance goals for the CFO's awards appear rigorous, and short-term incentives were primarily performance-based and earned below target in line with performance. However, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted given that the compensation committee demonstrated poor responsiveness to shareholder concerns following last year's low say-on-pay support. Ambac Financial Group, Inc.	06/22/2023	Management	Yes	8	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	Following last year's low support for the say-on-pay proposal, the committee demonstrated sufficient responsiveness to shareholder's disclosed concerns. However, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted due to an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment. The company increased the weighting of financial STI metrics for 2023 and the majority of annual LTI awards are based on clearly-disclosed, multi-year goals. However, the two financial STI metrics carried over from the prior year were set at less rigorous levels as compared to the prior year's results without a corresponding reduction in payout opportunity, and were achieved at maximum, contributing to an above-target payout for the CEO. Additionally, there are continuing concerns regarding the magnitude of the CEO's equity awards, which was on par with the median total pay of company-selected peer CEOs, which contains several firms significantly larger than the company in terms of revenue and market capitalization. Though the STI awards were primarily based on objective metrics, most targets and some results were undisclosed, making it difficult for shareholders to evaluate the rigor of the goals. Ameresco, Inc.	06/13/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The CEO's salary was significantly increased again in FY22 and remains relatively high as compared to peers. American Equity Investment Life Holding Company	06/08/2023	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Annual and long-term incentives were sufficiently performance-based for the year in review, but there are significant concerns with a special equity award granted to the CEO. The award is entirely based on achieving share price goals; however, the structure may result in vesting without requiring long-term sustained share price appreciation through the end of the performance period. Additionally, the award provides for vesting of the first tranche upon a CIC even if no performance goals are achieved. The award is also relatively large, follows another special award granted in late 2020 and early 2021, and there is no indication based on proxy disclosure that the 2022 special award covers, or offsets, future pay. In light of these concerns, the quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment is not mitigated. Additionally, the committee provided problematic severance benefits to an NEO in connection with a departure that is not clearly disclosed as involuntary. Specifically, the NEO received continued vesting of equity awards, which appears to be a discretionary enhancement. Providing enhanced equity treatment in connection with a departure that is not clearly disclosed as involuntary in considered problematic.	Yes	No	No

Balchem Corporation	06/22/2023	Management	Yes	3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The CEO received a relatively large one-time retention award during the year in review, without disclosure of compelling rationale regarding the need for an additional equity award. Yes	Yes	No
Bank of Hawaii Corporation	04/28/2023	Management	Yes	15	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. The CEO's target equity value is relatively high, and some concern exists regarding the use of similar metrics between the annual and long-term incentive programs. However, annual and long-term incentives are substantially tied to rigorous performance goals, and performance shares are limited to target payout and appear to require more rigorous performance at target than annual incentives. Concern regarding the magnitude of an NEO's front loaded equity award is mitigated given that the award is entirely performance-based, with rigorous relative goals over a four-year performance period, the NEO is ineligible for any other annual long-term awards during the performance period, and the annualized amount of the award over four years is not excessive. Given these factors, pay-for-performance concerns are mitigated for the year under review. However, continued monitoring of the pay program is warranted given the CEO's relatively high pay, and investors would benefit from improved disclosure surrounding future signing and make-whole awards. Barnes Group Inc.	05/05/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. After last year's failed say-on-pay vote, the company engaged with investors, shareholder feedback was adequately disclosed in a supplemental filing, and changes to the program adequately address shareholder concerns. In addition, although a pay-for-performance misalignment exists for the year under review, sufficient mitigating factors have been identified. The new CEO's large cash and equity award was a make-whole award, with the equity portion entirely in the form of performance-conditioned options. Annual and long-term incentives were sufficiently performance-based, and annual incentives paid out below target, in line with performance. While some concern exists with respect to LTI goal rigor, changes for FY23 will address those concerns.	No	No	No

Cadence Bank	04/26/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	There is some concern surrounding median target setting for certain PSU metrics and a reduction in performance share weighting. However, CEO pay declined substantially following last year's one-time retention and integration awards, and the annual and long-term incentives were entirely based on objective metrics with forward-looking disclosure of goals. Accordingly, the quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment is mitigated. However, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted, as the compensation committee demonstrated poor responsiveness to last year's low say-on-pay vote. Although the proxy provides some details about meetings with shareholders, certain engagement details are lacking. Further, the proxy does not disclose any specific shareholder feedback, which makes it impossible to ascertain what actions would be responsive to shareholders' concerns as evidenced by last year's low say-on-pay vote result. Calix, Inc.	05/11/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Although the STI and LTI programs grant awards entirely based on pre-set financial performance metrics, the annual equity grant is based on performance over a single annual performance period, raising concerns regarding the pay program's relatively short-term focus. Moreover, executives' FY22 equity awards were majority time-vesting as a result of significant off-cycle equity awards granted in entirely time-based stock options, undermining the program's link between pay and performance as well as raising concerns regarding the magnitude of total compensation for multiple NEOs. Finally, the CEO received a promotional award entirely in time-vested equity. Promotional awards are exceedingly rare, and large grants that lack any pre-set performance criteria are disfavored by investors.	Yes	No	No

Cass Information Systems, Inc.	04/18/2023	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. The CEO's total pay is of significant magnitude following continuous annual increases to base salary, which has had a ratcheting effect on the target bonus opportunity as well as the LTI grant value. A concern is also noted regarding goal rigor in the annual bonus. However, LTI awards are majority performance-based with forward-looking goals disclosed, while closing-cycle LTI awards were earned in line with performance. Continued monitoring of the pay program is warranted to ensure that pay outcomes continue to align with company performance.	No	No	No
Castle Biosciences, Inc.	05/25/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Despite the compensation committee's sufficient responsiveness to shareholder concerns as evidenced by the prior year's failed say-on-pay vote, an unmitigated misalignment between CEO pay and company performance persists during the year in review. CEO pay remains relatively high and increased from the prior year despite stock price underperformance. Furthermore, some concerns remain with regards to the company's disclosure of performance targets, as the forward-looking revenue target underlying the PSU awards is not disclosed.	Yes	No	No

Central Pacific Financial Corp.	04/27/2023	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. While there are some concerns regarding the increased pay opportunities for the CEO and goal rigor under both the annual and long-term incentive programs, sufficient mitigating factors have been identified or the year in review. The appointment of a new CEO in early 2023 was accompanied with a recalibration of target opportunities for FY23. In addition, the STI program is predominantly based on pre-set, objective goals, and the company provided enhanced disclosure of individual performance considerations. Further, half of LTI awards are based on multi-year goals, and vesting for the relative TSR component is now capped at target if absolute TSR is negative. The company also included retrospective disclosure for closing-cycle awards, which provides additional insight into the pay-for-performance linkage.	No	No	No

Compass Minerals International, Inc.	02/15/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Annual incentives are performance-based, with clearly disclosed goals, and long-term incentives are also predominantly performance contingent. While certain concerns are raised regarding the goal-setting for performance equity awards, FY22 grants were entirely performance contingent and the closing cycle grants were earned below-target. However, investors should continue to monitor long-term incentives given the increase in the value of equity awards as well as the expected removal of certain performance criteria for FY23 grants. Duluth Holdings Inc.	05/25/2023	Management	Yes	9	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	The decrease in CEO total pay does not fully mitigate concerns regarding pay structure and disclosure. The company does not disclose the threshold, target or maximum goals for the STIP, which impedes shareholders' ability to assess the program. Moreover, LTI awards entirely lack performance criteria and the CEO's grant value increased amid sustained negative shareholder returns. In light of these concerns, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted.		Yes	No	No
Dun & Bradstreet Holdings, Inc.	06/15/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted in light of an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment. Although the annual incentive program is sufficiently tied to rigorous objective performance criteria, there are significant concerns with the magnitude and structure of the long-term incentives. Specifically, retention grants to the NEOs were outsized and, in addition the NEOs' annual LTI grants for FY22, significantly elevated pay for four of the five NEOs, including the CEO. Further, although FY22 equity grants were entirely tied to performance conditions, the performance shares utilized a short-one year period and the option grant share price hurdle does not require sustained performance. Eagle Bancorp, Inc.	05/18/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	The compensation committee demonstrated adequate responsiveness to last year's low support for the say-on-pay proposal. Nevertheless, there are ongoing concerns that underscore the quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment. Specifically, the magnitude of the CEO's pay opportunities remains very large, even after a recent reduction. There are also concerns regarding the structure and disclosures of the STI program, including a lack of clarity as to the quantified performance results that will result in maximum payouts. Further, while performance equity utilizes rigorous multi-year goals, some shareholders may object to the large grant size in light of sustained negative shareholder returns. In light of these concerns, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted.		Yes	No	No

Ecovyst Inc.	05/10/2023	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted. The compensation committee demonstrated only limited responsiveness to shareholder concerns following last year's low say-on-pay support. In addition, significant concerns are raised with the pay program for fiscal 2022, given that a majority of equity awards are time-vesting, NEOs received significant additional time-vesting retention awards with a short vesting period, and forward-looking performance goals were not disclosed. These concerns are somewhat mitigated given that the CEO's pay significantly decreased, the company will return to an equity pay mix that is at least half performance-based, performance awards were either forfeited or earned below target in line with performance, and the short-term incentive program is entirely performance-based. Continued monitoring is warranted with respect to the use of retention awards as there is no firm commitment regarding such grants being used only in extraordinary circumstances, or for such grants to be performance-based in the future. Element Solutions Inc	06/06/2023	Management	Yes	9	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Although annual and long-term incentives are predominantly based on pre-set, objective performance metrics, the committee made discretionary adjustments to allow for annual incentive payouts that otherwise would have been forfeited. Additionally, the committee granted an additional special equity award upon the vesting of the special award granted in FY19. Investors generally expect for special awards to be used sparingly, and the magnitude of the CEO's special award in FY22 was excessive. In addition, the company lacks risk-mitigating provisions such as a clawback policy, stock ownership guidelines or holding period requirements for executives, Equity awards allow for auto-accelerated vesting upon a change-in-control event, and excessive differentials between CEO pay and the pay of other named executive officers at the firm. Enerpac Tool Group Corp.	02/03/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	Although some concerns are noted, support for the say-on-pay proposal is warranted. While there was significant executive turnover and associated payments during the year in review, the company does not anticipate additional grants of similar magnitude in the future. In addition, annual incentives were based on pre-set financial measures, and long-term incentives were at least half performance-conditioned, with a multi-year measurement period.	No	No	No

Enstar Group Limited	06/01/2023	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Base salaries for the CEO and other select NEOs are high and contribute to large STI opportunities. Additionally, pre-set target goals are not disclosed for the majority of the restructured STI program. Further, the committee extended the performance period and term of an in-flight CEO equity award shortly before the end of the original performance period, which circumvents a pay-for-performance outcome. Accordingly, the quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment is not mitigated. There are also problematic pay practices identified for the year in review. The committee amended the CEO's employment agreement that increases the potential magnitude of a change-in-control payment in respect of the amended award, even if performance conditions are not achieved. Moreover, the amended employment agreement maintains a separate problematic single trigger change-in-control cash payment, which is akin to single-trigger severance.	Yes	No	No
Enterprise Bancorp, Inc.	05/02/2023	Management	Yes	8	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted because: * the company maintains agreements that contain a modified single-trigger change-in-control provision; * equity awards allow for auto-accelerated vesting upon a change-in-control event; and * the company paid dividends on unvested performance-based equity awards. Esquire Financial Holdings, Inc.	05/25/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. The CEO's base salary is relatively high and continues to grow, while the annual bonus payout is based entirely on the compensation committee's discretion. In addition, the LTI program was entirely in time-vested equity. Furthermore, concerns are raised with respect to the problematic provisions embedded in the company's existing change-in-control agreements with certain executive officers, such as excessive severance basis, modified single-triggered cash severance payment, and excise tax gross-up; the sizable perquisites provided to the CEO, and the company's lack of risk mitigating features that may benefit shareholders. Euronet Worldwide, Inc.	05/18/2023	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. There is some concern surrounding the LTI structure, as a relatively small portion of total equity awards vest based on a true, multi-year performance period. Additionally, the CEO's equity awards increased amid sustained TSR underperformance. However, equity awards are entirely performance-conditioned and forward-looking goals are disclosed. Additionally, the STI program is entirely based on an objective financial metric with a rigorous target and maximum payouts under the program are substantiated by generally strong financial performance in FY22. Continued close monitoring of the LTI program and equity award magnitude is warranted.	No	No	No

Farmer Bros. Co.	01/12/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. While the compensation committee demonstrated sufficient responsiveness to a certain degree following last year's low say-on-pay support, the pay-for-performance misalignment is not mitigated at this time. The CEO's pay is relatively high during a period of poor long-term stock performance. While the bonus program is entirely performance-based, the CEO's performance awards are based on the same performance metric which appears to be measured annually during the performance period. When short- and long-term awards are based on the same performance metrics, this could result in duplicative payouts for the same performance. Fastly, Inc.	06/14/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as relatively large one-time equity awards to the new CEO contributed to a misalignment between executive pay and company performance during the year in review. FirstCash Holdings, Inc.	06/08/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	There are some concerns raised by the relative TSR metric, in both the STIP and LTIP, that targets merely median performance. Further, the company does not disclose most forward-looking LTIP targets, which impedes a full assessment. Further, the majority of the LTIP awards were performance-conditioned with a multi-year measurement period, and goals are disclosed retrospectively for closing cycle awards. Furthermore, equity awards to the CEO in the most recent fiscal year lack performance vesting conditions.	Yes	Yes	No

FuelCell Energy, Inc.	05/22/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Concerns regarding the rigor of the LTI program continue; however, the equity awards were half performance-based with a multi-year measurement period, and earned PSUs are capped if absolute TSR is negative for the period. The CEO's equity award value was also reduced in FY22, amidst these changes to PSUs. Additionally, annual incentives were largely determined with pre-set objective financial metrics.	No	No	No

Gates Industrial Corporation Plc	06/08/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Annual incentives continue to incorporate significant discretion and adjustments to financial metrics resulted in increased payouts in FY22. Further, equity awards do not disclose the forward-looking performance target for the largest portion of performance equity and the relative TSR portion targets merely median performance. Lastly, the committee made a sizable grant of time-based equity to NEOs, with limited rationale.	Yes	No	No
Gates Industrial Corporation Plc	06/08/2023	Management	Yes	11	Approve Remuneration Report	For	Against	Against	Against	As the company is reporting as a U.S. domestic issuer and given that the focus of this proposal is on top executive pay, the recommendation for this proposal is aligned with the U.S. say-on-pay analysis. G-III Apparel Group, Ltd.	06/08/2023	Management	Yes	15	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Following low say-on-pay support last year, the board did not make any meaningful changes to address shareholders' expressed concerns. Further, an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment exists for the year in review. Although CEO pay declined in FY23, concerns remain with the structure of the STI, which has the potential to provide for outsized bonuses. In addition, while these awards are based on a financial metric, the selected metric does not require year-over-year improvement. Further, while CEO Goldfarb and NEO Aaron's LTI is entirely performance based, some concern is also raised surrounding the lack of forward-looking goals.	Yes	No	No

Global Industrial Company	06/05/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted, as excessive differentials exist between CEO pay and the pay of other named executive officers at the firm. In addition, the company provided an inordinate amount of automobile perquisites to the CEO. Finally, the company does not disclose performance goals.	Yes	Yes	No

Gold Resource Corporation	06/15/2023	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as the pay-for-performance misalignment has been mitigated at this time. Performance-based awards were introduced for fiscal 2022 and CEO pay was relatively high during long-term stock underperformance as a result of fiscal 2021 awards being deferred until fiscal 2022. CEO pay is expected to decrease going forward. In addition, short-term incentives were entirely performance-based and earned below target in line with performance.	No	No	No

Hope Bancorp, Inc.	05/18/2023	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Although the CEO's annual incentive was primarily determined by pre-set financial metrics, the disclosure around the strategic component is limited. Additionally, multiple performance targets were set below the previous year's actual results. This concern is compounded given that a portion of PSUs utilize one-year performance periods and an overlapping metric with the annual incentive program. Moreover, while the bonus pool for the other NEOs is funded based on financial metrics, final payouts are ultimately determined by the committee's discretion. Furthermore, although half of equity awards are performance conditioned, relative performance metrics target merely median performance.	Yes	No	No

Hovnanian Enterprises, Inc.	03/28/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	Although certain concerns exist with respect to the structure of the CEO's annual bonus opportunity and the use of relatively short performance periods for a portion of the long-term incentive awards, annual and long-term incentive programs are entirely performance-based, and the increase in the CEO's total pay for FY22 was largely driven by maximum-level annual and long-term incentive payouts, in line with actual performance. Given these factors, the quantitative misalignment between pay and performance is mitigated for the year in review.	No	No	No

Hudson Technologies, Inc.	06/07/2023	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted due to the following: * The company maintains an employment agreement with the CEO that provides for modified single-trigger change-in-control cash severance. * Equity award arrangements allow automatic accelerated vesting upon a change-in-control. * Equity awards to the CEO in the most recent fiscal year lack performance vesting conditions. * The company provides a large life insurance-related perquisite to the CEO. * The company lacks certain risk-mitigating provisions, such as a clawback policy, stock ownership guidelines, or holding period requirements for executives. IMAX Corporation	06/08/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote on Executive Compensation Approach	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The company on balance made positive changes to the pay program following a failed say-on-pay vote result. Further, concerns regarding a pay-for-performance misalignment were mitigated, as the short-term program is largely based on pre-set financial metrics, while the LTI program is half in performance equity and utilizes a multi-year performance period. However, the CEO entered into an amended employment agreement in FY22 which included single-trigger transition payments upon a change in control. This is considered a problematic pay practice, as the provision was not removed when the agreement was amended and the company maintains agreements that contain a single trigger change in control provision. Informatica Inc.	06/13/2023	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Annual incentives were sufficiently performance-based. Although long-term incentives were targeted to be half performance-based, PSUs utilize only a single annual performance period with one metric which completely overlaps a metric in the annual incentives. Moreover, the committee made several decisions regarding equity awards which significantly increased the magnitude of CEO Walia's pay and contributed to the misalignment between pay and performance, including the granting of a half time-based special award in February 2022, the accelerated granting of the time-based portion of FY23 awards, and the modification of outstanding performance options to allow for vesting without achievement of the corresponding performance goals. Innodata Inc.	06/08/2023	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted because: * The committee awarded the CEO significantly larger option grants than in prior years, without a compelling rationale. Further, equity awards are entirely in stock options and do not require the achievement of pre-set performance criteria in order to vest; * The company provides for single-trigger equity vesting acceleration upon a change-in-control event; * The company has not adopted risk-mitigating features that may benefit shareholders; and * Equity awards to the CEO lack any performance-contingent pay elements. Inogen, Inc.	05/31/2023	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. The PRSUs utilize annual performance periods, and the PRSU revenue metric and revenue target for the 2022 performance period overlap with the short-term incentives. However, half of the annual equity is performance based, and the annual incentives were based on objective financial metrics. Additionally, the 2022 tranches of the PRSUs granted in 2021 and 2022 were earned below threshold and target level, respectively, in line with company performance. Although the CEO's FY22 LTI grant value declined slightly, the magnitude of his award, and thus his overall pay, remains relatively high, and a significant portion of the annual incentive appears to be based on the committee's discretionary assessment of strategic performance. Nevertheless, payouts for both the annual and long-term incentive awards are capped at target, with the FY22 annual incentive paid out below target in line with company performance, and LTI awards are half performance-based with a multi-year performance period. LendingTree, Inc.	06/21/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Annual incentives were entirely determined by a pre-set financial metric and NEOs did not earn bonuses, which generally aligned with the company's FY22 financial performance. In addition, the CEO did not receive long-term incentives for the year in review following a front-loaded award granted in FY20. However, continued monitoring is warranted given that Lebd's front-loaded award is also intended to cover equity compensation for FY23 and the remaining NEOs' annual-cycle awards were entirely time-vesting. M.D.C. Holdings, Inc.	04/17/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted given the unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment. While the CEO and executive chairman's annual incentives are measured against objective metrics, there are goal rigor concerns, which is particularly concerning given the high maximum payout opportunities for the CEO and executive chairman. Further, the other NEO's annual incentive appears to be determined by qualitative objectives without clearly disclosed target goals and achievements. In addition, the CEO and executive chairman's long-term incentives were delivered entirely in fully-vested stock options with exercisability restrictions, and the total number of shares underlying awards increased significantly, which may lead to a considerable windfall for executives. Lastly, the executive chairman receives higher total compensation than the CEO, and shareholders may question the need for multiple executives to receive CEO-level compensation, which exacerbates the multiple concerns regarding pay design and magnitude. Magnolia Oil & Gas Corporation	05/03/2023	Management	Yes	8	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted with caution. While there are some concerns regarding goal rigor under the annual incentive program, payouts are primarily based on pre-set objectives with clear disclosure of per-metric weights and performance targets. In addition, while FY22 PRSUs may lack a long-term focus, this is partially mitigated as FY23 LTIs will incorporate multi-year performance periods with payouts capped at target in the event absolute TSR is negative. Nabors Industries Ltd.	06/06/2023	Management	Yes	9	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Following the failed say-on-pay vote, the committee demonstrated only limited responsiveness to investor concerns. Further, the CEO's salary remains large, impacting his annual incentive opportunity. Concerns are also raised regarding long-term incentive awards, which primarily use a one-year performance period with several subjectively measured goals. The FY22 grant was again earned near maximum. The proxy also does not indicate if the new multi-year ROIC performance awards will replace a portion of the CEO's existing grant value or if this addition is expected to result in increased CEO pay levels. Additionally, the company maintains agreements that contain a modified single trigger change in control provision.	Yes	No	No

National Western Life Group, Inc.	06/22/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. CEO pay was driven higher due to an increase in equity compensation, which was relatively large, and with no rationale provided in the proxy as to why the magnitude of his stock awards increased so significantly. Furthermore, the large majority of equity awards lack performance-vesting criteria and the forward-looking performance goals underlying the PSU grants are not disclosed. Additionally, disclosure of the STI program is incomplete, and proxy disclosure indicates individual metrics do not have maximum goals, which has the potential to result in significant payouts for strong performance in one metric, even if performance against the remaining metrics is poor. Finally, equity awards allow for auto-accelerated vesting upon a change-in-control event, and the company lacks risk-mitigating provisions such as a clawback policy, stock ownership guidelines or holding period requirements for executives. Nektar Therapeutics	06/08/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Relatively high CEO granted pay remains a concern particularly in light of long-term TSR performance that significantly lags peers. However, annual and long-term incentives are sufficiently tied to performance conditions and outcomes under those programs are aligned with the company's actual performance. In FY22, the termination of one of the company's major drug candidate programs is reflected in incentive program outcomes, as the company did not make adjustments to awards to mitigate the impact. Continued monitoring of the pay program is warranted to ensure that pay outcomes continue to be aligned with performance.	No	No	No

New York Community Bancorp, Inc.	06/01/2023	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. While a concern is noted regarding the goal rigor for the two financial metrics, annual incentives were primarily measured against pre-set objective metrics, and the disclosure of the strategic/qualitative scorecard was robust. nLIGHT, Inc.	06/08/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Following last year's failed say-on-pay vote, the company contacted a substantial portion of its shareholders and disclosed details of those engagement efforts, including shareholders' feedback and concerns. In response, the committee then made several meaningful changes to the compensation program to address shareholders' expressed concerns. In addition, while some concerns are noted regarding the annual incentive program, these appear to be largely mitigated by the incorporated changes for FY23. Further, half of long-term incentives are performance conditioned with multi-year performance periods, and pay outcomes under both incentive programs were below target, which generally aligned with the company's financial and TSR performance. Oil States International, Inc.	05/09/2023	Management	Yes	3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay-for-performance concerns are mitigated at this time. Annual incentives were based on pre-set financial measures and half of long-term incentives are subject to the achievement of objective performance goals. No	No	No
Old National Bancorp	05/10/2023	Management	Yes	17	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. The increase in CEO pay is driven by pay decisions made in connection with the merger of equals between the legacy company and First Midwest Bancorp, including increases to STI and LTI opportunities, and a one-time integration award of PSUs. Although the performance-condition for the one-time award overlaps with an STI metric and goal, the weighting of the STI metric is relatively small and the committee's rationale for utilizing the metric in both vehicles is reasonable. Additionally, the CEO's award is 100 percent performance-based, and all merger-related one-time awards were granted in exchange for the executive agreeing to waive good reason rights that would qualify them for severance. There is some concern surrounding STI and LTI goal rigor, which warrants continued close monitoring. However, the STI program is entirely based on quantified, pre-set goals, and the majority of LTI awards are earned based on clearly disclosed multi-year goals. Continued close monitoring of pay program goal rigor, outcomes and pay levels is warranted.	No	No	No

Park-Ohio Holdings Corp.	05/17/2023	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted given that the pay-for-performance misalignment is not mitigated at this time. While the CEO's pay significantly decreased during a period of poor company performance and the CEO's bonus is performance-based, ongoing concerns remain with the pay program. Equity awards are entirely time-vesting, the CEO's maximum bonus opportunity is excessive, and other NEO bonuses are largely discretionary.	Yes	No	No

Pathward Financial, Inc.	02/28/2023	Management	Yes	3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with some caution. Reported CEO pay includes two years of equity grants, given a transition in incentive award structure and, as a result, investors should expect CEO pay to normalize going forward. There is some concern regarding the use of annually set goals in the long-term incentive program. However, results are averaged at the end of three years. Additionally, annual incentives are predominantly based on pre-set objective goals with improved disclosure of individual performance factors for non-quantitative metrics, although enhanced disclosure would benefit shareholders. PBF Energy Inc.	05/03/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted with caution. Annual incentives were primarily determined by pre-set objective metrics and the disclosure around actual results improved compared to the previous year. While NEOs were granted discretionary bonuses for FY22, this concern is mitigated for the year in review as the portion of annual incentives tied to committee discretion was reduced from 20 percent to 2.5 percent. Regarding long-term incentives, a majority of awards are performance conditioned and measured over multi-year periods. Although TSR targets merely median performance, payouts are capped in the event absolute TSR is negative. However, continued monitoring is warranted as the CEO's base salary remains relatively high and his target long-term incentive was increased during FY22.	No	No	No

The board has demonstrated sufficient responsiveness to shareholder concerns contributing to low support for the 2022 say-on-pay proposal and implemented positive changes to the pay program to address their feedback. In addition, pay-for-performance concerns are mitigated. Annual incentives were primarily based on objective measures, and the company improved its disclosure on the achievements related to non-financial metrics, in response to shareholder feedback. Half of the equity awards were performance conditioned and were forfeited upon failure to achieve the 2022 performance goal. Additionally, in response to shareholder feedback, the committee introduced a multi-year performance period for the performance equity awards granted in 2023.	No	No	No

Penns Woods Bancorp, Inc.	05/16/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The CEO's base salary remains excessive, and the equity awards lack objective performance criteria. PennyMac Financial Services, Inc.	06/13/2023	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	The STI is predominantly based on a quantified, pre-set metric and half of LTI awards are based on clearly-disclosed, multi-year goals. However, the financial STI metric target was set below the prior year's results without a corresponding pay reduction and disclosure regarding the individual strategic component is severely limited. These STI concerns are heightened given large STI opportunities and what appears to be a maximum payout under the strategic component. Accordingly, the quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment is not mitigated. Additionally, an NEO received material severance payments and benefits in connection with a separation that is not clearly disclosed as involuntary, which is considered problematic. In light of the unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment and problematic severance payments and benefits, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted.	Yes	No	No

Perrigo Company plc	05/04/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Playtika Holding Corp.	06/08/2023	Management	Yes	8	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. CEO total pay remains outsized compared to peers and is not substantiated by superior performance. Although the annual incentive program is based on a pre-set financial metric, the CEO's annual target cash opportunity is relatively high, and the NEOs continued to receive significant payouts under the retention bonus plan, a portion of which appears guaranteed. Additionally, while the long-term incentives were entirely based on performance, the PSUs utilize annual performance periods and goals for all four performance periods were lowered, with no compelling rationale provided. Additionally, the decision to offer a non-shareholder approved exchange program that allows NEOs to exchange underwater stock options for RSUs is considered problematic. Lastly, concerns are also raised with respect to the excise tax gross-up payment and single-trigger equity vesting acceleration in the event of a change in control, the excessive security-related perquisite provided to the CEO, and the tax gross-ups on certain executives' perquisites. Ranpak Holdings Corp.	05/25/2023	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted given that the compensation committee demonstrated poor responsiveness to shareholder concerns following last year's low say-on-pay support. The pay-for-performance misalignment is mitigated at this time. While concerns are raised that performance-based awards are earned based on annual performance periods utilizing the same metric as cash incentives, these concerns are mitigated at this time. Short- and long-term incentives are entirely performance-based and were not earned when goals were not met. The CEO's entire pay consisted of performance awards, which he forfeited.	Yes	No	No

Yes	No	No
Sage Therapeutics, Inc.	06/15/2023	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The compensation committee demonstrated adequate responsiveness to last year's low support for the say-on-pay proposal. Nevertheless, there are ongoing concerns that underscore the quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment. While it is noted that CEO total pay declined, and certain positive changes will be made in FY23, significant concerns remain surrounding disclosures and the structure of its incentive programs. Specifically, in the LTI, while it is noted that the company increased the proportion of PSUs, the company provides limited disclosure surrounding quantifiable targets for certain milestones to be achieved. Further, the proxy does not disclose a timeframe under which the milestones must be achieved. In addition, concerns remain in STI, as the award is based on goals that are generally described in qualitative or vague terms, which inhibits shareholders' ability to fully assess the rigor of the program and the pay-for-performance linkage. Schnitzer Steel Industries, Inc.	01/25/2023	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Total CEO pay declined amid poor TSR performance, annual incentives are largely based on rigorous pre-set financial goals, and half of equity awards were performance-based with a multi-year measurement period. Nonetheless, annual incentive award opportunities remain relatively high and shareholders would benefit from improved disclosure of performance share goals. These issues warrant continued monitoring.	No	No	No
Schrodinger, Inc.	06/15/2023	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. While certain concerns remain surrounding the CEO's LTI which consisted entirely of stock options, mitigating factors are present for the year in review. Specifically, CEO pay declined significantly for the year in review, following the company's IPO in 2020. Further, the company introduced performance-based equity to the LTI in FY23, which represents a significant improvement, particularly given it will make up approximately half the CEO's LTI. In addition, the company improved its disclosure of category weightings and achievement in FY22 STI, and below target payouts appear to be in-line with company performance. However, continued close monitoring of the pay program is warranted. Investors should expect more fulsome STI disclosure in future years and may expect enhanced disclosures surrounding goal setting for PSUs in FY23.	No	No	No

Select Medical Holdings Corporation	04/27/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted because the company maintains legacy agreements that contain modified single trigger change-in-control provision. In addition, the company did not condition vesting of long-term awards on achievement of performance goals for awards granted in the most recent fiscal year.	Yes	Yes	No

SentinelOne, Inc.	06/29/2023	Management	Yes	3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Although certain positive changes to next year's pay program were disclosed, the pay-for performance misalignment was not sufficiently mitigated. Annual incentives were entirely discretionary, while long-term incentives were granted exclusively in time-vesting equity. Significant concern is raised by the magnitude of pay for NEO Srivastan, who received greater total compensation than the CEO due to a significant new hire equity award granted entirely in time-vesting RSUs. The CEO also received an entirely time-vesting long-term incentive award of relatively high magnitude. Lastly, concerns are raised regarding the company's provision of an inordinate amount of home security perquisites to the CEO, as well as the company's lack of risk-mitigating provisions such as a clawback policy, stock ownership guidelines, or holding period requirements for executives.	Yes	No	No

Shutterstock, Inc.	06/08/2023	Management	Yes	3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. A pay-for-performance misalignment for the year under review is mitigated given that the CEO's sizable new hire equity grant is half performance-based and annual and long-term incentives are otherwise also sufficiently tied to rigorous performance goals. However, a problematic pay practice has been identified relating to NEO severance arrangements. An NEO received severance payments upon his resignation from the company, and although his cash severance was modest, accelerated vesting of his equity awards is a problematic enhancement given that the disclosure does not clearly indicate that the separation was involuntary.	Yes	No	No
SI-BONE, Inc.	06/09/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR the proposal is warranted. The annual bonus program was based on pre-set objective metrics, and the long-term incentive is predominately performance conditioned with clearly disclosed goals. This represents a significant improvement, as the FY21 LTI was entirely time-based. While there are some concerns with certain STI financial goals that were set quarterly, the aggregate financial target goals appear rigorous, and payouts were in-line with company performance. As the company matures, shareholders should continue to monitor the rigor of the LTI, as the company targets merely the median for the relative TSR metric.	No	No	No
Sierra Bancorp	05/24/2023	Management	Yes	9	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted for the following reasons: * The company targets NEO's total compensation between the 50th and 75th percentile. * Equity award arrangements provide for automatic accelerated vesting upon a change-in-control. * The company does not disclose a sufficient compensation clawback policy, sufficient stock ownership guidelines, or holding period requirements for executives. SiriusPoint Ltd.	06/01/2023	Management	Yes	3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. A pay-for-performance misalignment exists for the year under review, however certain mitigating factors have been identified. Sign-on awards to the new executives, including the new CEO, are reasonable in magnitude and include stock options that are either premium-priced or vest only upon reaching stock price appreciation goals. The reintroduction of performance-based equity awards in FY23 mitigates concern regarding the lack of such awards in FY22. Finally, the annual incentive program is substantially tied to financial objectives with clearly disclosed goals. However, a problematic pay practice has been identified with respect to the severance paid to former CEO Sankaran. The terms of Sankaran's severance raise significant concern given that the severance was paid at the level of an involuntary termination when his termination is not clearly disclosed as such. Skechers U.S.A., Inc.	06/12/2023	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The CEO receives an outsized salary, and three executives including the CEO received significant perks and associated tax gross ups. Although annual incentives are based on a financial metric, all executives are eligible to receive potentially significant awards, a concern underscored by the CEO's FY22 award of an amount more than four times the median. Moreover, although long-term incentives are half performance-based, half of PRSUs are earned based on annual performance periods, and relative TSR PSUs target merely median performance with no disclosed payout cap for negative absolute TSR. Sleep Number Corporation	05/11/2023	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Pay-for-performance concerns are somewhat mitigated at this time with the CEO's equity awards being predominantly performance-conditioned, as well as no bonuses being paid when goals were unmet. However, continued monitoring is warranted as the company granted significantly more shares in a period of stock price underperformance and the forward-looking goals for the PSUs are not disclosed. SolarWinds Corporation	05/25/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR the proposal is warranted, with caution. The STI program was entirely based on pre-set financial metrics, and no payout was earned when goals were unmet. Further, half of the LTI program utilized performance criteria. However, there are concerns regarding the lack of goal disclosure in both the STI and LTI programs as well as the relatively short-term focus of the LTI program, which warrants continued monitoring. Sotera Health Company	05/25/2023	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Although annual incentives were primarily determined by a pre-set financial metric, significant concerns are noted as equity awards were entirely time-vesting, including the relatively large one-time retention awards. Shareholders generally expect one-time awards to be contingent on rigorous performance-vesting conditions, particularly when considering the total value of the CEO's equity awards.	Yes	No	No
SoundThinking, Inc.	06/21/2023	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted due to a pay-for-performance misalignment. Southern First Bancshares, Inc.	05/16/2023	Management	Yes	7	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted given that the company recently entered into a new agreement with a NEO, which agreement provides for a severance payment if he terminates his employment for "good reason" after a change in control. The company provides a problematic definition of "good reason" in its proxy statement. Further, other notable concerns include the provision of large miscellaneous perquisites to the CEO, the absence of several risk-mitigating policies, and the lack of any pre-set metrics and goals for long-term awards. TechnipFMC plc	04/28/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Following last year's low say-on-pay vote, the company contacted a broad portion of its shareholders, disclosed details of engagement efforts, and made several positive changes to the compensation program to address concerns. In addition, half of the annual incentives were determined by pre-set financial metrics, with clear disclosure of performance goals and achieved results. Although some concerns are noted regarding committee discretion, the disclosure around the ESG Scorecard was improved from the previous year and included the committee's rationale in recommending payouts. Moreover, a majority of long-term incentives were performance conditioned and measured over a multi-year period. While TSR targets merely median performance, this was increased from the previous year in response to shareholder feedback. Further, payouts are capped at target in the event absolute TSR is negative.		No	No	No

Telos Corporation	05/08/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted due to an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment. Concerns are raised with respect to the long-term incentive program. Total NEO compensation was mostly comprised of equity awards which lack objective performance criteria. Texas Capital Bancshares, Inc.	04/18/2023	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	The committee demonstrated sufficient responsiveness to low vote support for the 2022 say-on-pay proposal. However, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted due to an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment. The committee returned to a multi-year measurement period in the LTI, although forward-looking goals are not disclosed. The FY22 STI program was predominantly based on strategic goals and the remainder on 14 financial metrics for which no individual weightings, pre-set targets, or results alongside the metrics were disclosed. While the company increased the proportion of quantitative metrics for the 2023 annual incentives, the proxy does not disclose whether such metrics will be based on pre-set, disclosed threshold, target and maximum goals. These STI concerns are exacerbated given a maximum payout on a relatively high target opportunity for the CEO.		Yes	No	No

The Boston Beer Company, Inc.	05/17/2023	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Although some concerns are raised by the somewhat limited disclosure in the annual and long-term incentive programs, as well as the decision to adjust performance goals for mid-flight bonus awards with limited rationale. The Brink's Company	05/05/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Following the CEO transition, the new CEO's pay level was set much lower than his predecessor's compensation. While there are certain ongoing concerns regarding transparency in the incentive programs, including how individual performance impacts STI payouts and a lack of target disclosure for long-term incentive awards, there are also positive features identified for FY22. The STI payout to the new CEO was aligned with the financial performance targets and the committee increased the proportion of equity granted as performance shares. The Gap, Inc.	05/09/2023	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Annual incentives were primarily determined by pre-set financial metrics and target goals were set above the previous year's actual results. In addition, a majority of the annual-cycle equity awards are performance conditioned and measured over a multi-year period. While the interim CEO's long-term incentives were entirely time-vesting, this concern is somewhat mitigated given the short-term nature of his position and because a portion of his awards were granted in connection with his role as executive chairman. Further, NEOs did not receive payouts under the annual incentive program and closing-cycle PSUs were not earned, which is generally aligned with recent financial and TSR performance.	No	No	No

The CEO's performance-based equity awards are subject to a retesting feature given that awards allocated to 12-month calculation periods when goals were not met may be earned in full at a later time. In addition, other NEOs received purely time-based equity awards, with certain awards vesting in full one year after grant. In addition, concerns are raised with respect to the company's use of above-median benchmarking which targets the CEO's total compensation at the 75th percentile of its peers, a lack of risk mitigators, the inclusion of single-trigger equity vesting acceleration and problematic modified single-trigger severance in existing change in control agreement. While the transformation retention awards granted to NEOs in FY22 are performance based, the target value of the CEO's retention award is larger than his annual awards and the maximum payout opportunity is very high at 450 percent of target. NEOs (other than the CEO) also received retention awards in FY21 that lacked performance conditions, and compelling rationale for granting retention awards in consecutive years is not disclosed. In addition, a majority of PSUs are measured over one-year periods with annually set performance targets, and TSR targets merely median performance.	Yes	No	No

TrustCo Bank Corp NY	05/18/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	There are certain issues that warrant continued monitoring, including that the pay program's reliance on relative measures and that the LTI is settled entirely in cash. However, there are significant mitigators for the year in review. Firstly, the STI is based entirely on financial metrics and the metrics all target outperformance, and the increase in the CEO's award is substantiated by strong relative performance. The LTI program is majority performance-based with multi-year goals that also target outperformance. On balance of these factors, a cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted.	No	No	No

Tutor Perini Corporation	05/17/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The compensation committee did not demonstrate adequate responsiveness to shareholder concerns following last year's failed say-on-pay proposal. After 12 consecutive failed votes, the committee provided only vague disclosure of engagement efforts, no specific new shareholder feedback, and did not disclose any new or upcoming pay program changes. Additionally, an unmitigated misalignment between CEO pay and company performance persists, as the CEO's base salary and target annual and long-term incentive awards remain relatively high. While the CEO's equity awards are 50 percent performance-conditioned, a portion of the award may be earned at target for merely median TSR performance and there is no cap on payouts if absolute TSR is negative. Lastly, concerns remain with respect to the magnitude of perquisites provided to the CEO.	Yes	No	No

Universal Insurance Holdings, Inc.	06/08/2023	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The company made certain positive pay program changes, including a transition to a more formulaic STI structure, an increase in performance equity weighting and the lengthening of the performance period in the LTI program. While these changes are positive, they generally only apply to the CEO and executive chairman. Moreover, despite a reduction in the CEO's target compensation levels, the executive chairman's FY22 compensation was on par with CEO-level pay as a result of multiple equity awards granted in FY22. Concerns are also raised by the committee's decision to pay out a portion of the CEO's annual stock option grant in cash following elimination of stock options from the LTI program. While the committee provides a rationale for this decision, the rationale does not sufficiently mitigate concerns, and the cash payment in lieu of stock options does not appear to contain any vesting or performance conditions. Viad Corp	05/24/2023	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. Though some positives are noted, the LTI program in FY22 was entirely in time-vested equity. Though the company's rationale is included in the proxy, as well as a commitment to return to majority performance-conditioned equity for FY23, investors tend to oppose annual equity grants that lack multi-year performance criteria, and this grant marks the second consecutive year that the proportion of performance equity granted to executives during a fiscal year decreased. Vicor Corporation	06/23/2023	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted due to the following problematic pay practices: * The absence of risk-mitigating features under the executive pay program; * The lack of any pre-set performance criteria for the CEO's bonus and equity awards; and * Equity awards allow for auto-accelerated vesting upon a change-in-control event. W&T Offshore, Inc.	06/16/2023	Management	Yes	7	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. While the committee engaged with investors following last year's low say-on-pay vote, specific concerns were not disclosed, nor was the breadth of the outreach. The lack of disclosure of specific shareholder feedback impedes an assessment of the committee's responsiveness. While the company made several changes to pay programs, without disclosed investor concerns, it is unclear if these changes were responsive. Further, for the year in review, pay-for-performance concerns are raised and CEO pay increased substantially. While the proxy discloses planned reductions in cash compensation for FY23, the CEO's long-term incentive opportunity will be increased and the proxy continued to disclose above-median benchmarking of his pay levels. Concerns are also raised regarding long-term incentives that target merely median performance. Lastly, concerns are raised with regards to the total amount of perquisite compensation reported for the CEO that is deemed excessive, notably corporate aircraft-related perquisite.	Yes	No	No
Walker & Dunlop, Inc.	05/04/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted given that the pay-for-performance misalignment is mitigated at this time. Short- and long-term incentives are primarily performance-based. While the CEO's target bonus is relatively high, cash incentives were earned below target and the compensation committee applied further negative discretion in consideration of stock price performance. Winmark Corporation	04/26/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company demonstrated only limited responsiveness to last year's low say-on-pay support. Other problematic pay practices in the company's pay program include single-trigger equity vesting acceleration provision in CIC agreements, the lack of pre-set metrics and goals for the CEO and other NEOs' bonus and equity awards, and the lack of risk-mitigating features in the firm's compensation program. WisdomTree, Inc.	06/16/2023	Management	Yes	30	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	None	For	For	For	There is some concern surrounding the discretionary nature of incentive award determinations, the rigor of certain target goals, and majority time-based equity awards for certain NEOs. However, these issues have not contributed to a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment for the year in review. Additionally, the company provided enhanced disclosure of threshold and maximum goals under the incentive pool funding component, and the CEO's incentive was paid out at the funding level. Lastly, half of his equity awards are based on clearly-disclosed, multi-year goals. On balance, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Given the concerns noted above, continued close monitoring of the pay program structure is warranted. A quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment going forward may be met with increased scrutiny of discretionary pay determinations.	No	No	No
Wolverine World Wide, Inc.	05/03/2023	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. The company's incentive programs remain largely performance-conditioned. Annual incentives were mostly based on objective performance measures and payouts were earned below target in line with company performance. World Fuel Services Corporation	06/15/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The CEO received a sizable off-cycle equity award. While a supplemental filing discloses the forward-looking goals of the off-cycle equity award, there are concerns about the magnitude of the award, which was granted in addition to the CEO's annual-cycle equity awards. Further, some concern is noted about the lack of goal disclosure surrounding the portion of the STI based on strategic goals, which represented 40 percent of the STIP, as well as the lack of forward-looking goal disclosure for the annual-cycle PRSUs. Xerox Holdings Corporation	05/25/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR the proposal is warranted. The STI program was largely based on pre-set objective metrics, financial metric disclosure was robust, and the below-target payout aligned with company performance. A majority of the LTI program was in performance-conditioned equity that utilizes a multi-year performance period. Concerns are noted regarding the lack of forward-looking goal disclosure as well as a promotional grant to the CEO and a new-hire grant to an NEO that did not utilize performance criteria, though a previous LTI grant did not vest when goals were unmet, which again was aligned with recent company performance. XPO, Inc.	05/17/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. While the compensation committee sufficiently responded to last year's low say-on-pay vote, an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment is present for the year in review. First, concerns are raised regarding two highly paid executives, with the new CEO's pay and the executive chairman's compensation each outpacing the compensation of CEO peers. This is particularly concerning given above-median benchmarking concerns. Additionally, certain LTI awards maintained relatively short performance periods and concerns are raised regarding the structure of the CEO's promotion grant. Lastly, the company converted prior performance awards to RSUs in connection with the spin-off, resulting in significant value to NEOs without the achievement of performance criteria.	Yes	No	No

Zurn Elkay Water Solutions Corporation	05/04/2023	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted as the compensation committee only demonstrated sufficient responsiveness to a certain degree following last year's failed say-on-pay proposal. Continued monitoring is warranted given that the company has not made a specific commitment not to repeat in the future a problematic action raised by shareholders as a concern. The expectation that the actions were one-time and will not be repeated somewhat mitigates this concern.	No	No	No

3M Company	05/09/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted because the company provided an inordinate amount for the CEO's personal corporate aircraft, financial planning and life insurance perquisites.	Yes	Yes	No
A. O. Smith Corporation	04/11/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company maintains agreements that contain excise tax gross-up provisions, as well as auto-accelerated equity vesting provisions. Concerns are also raised by the Compensation Committee's decision to discretionarily increase annual incentive payouts and its continued limited disclosure of annual incentive metric performance goals and actual results of the executive pay program.	Yes	Yes	No
Abbott Laboratories	04/28/2023	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. There are concerns surrounding incomplete disclosure in the proxy of actual achieved performance for the closing cycle PSUs, which does not allow for shareholders to fully evaluate the rigor of the program. In addition, the company continues to use an annual performance period in the LTI, and STI target goals were set below the prior year's actual results. However, there are mitigating factors for the year in review. Specifically, the majority of the incentive program was performance based, and total CEO pay declined year-over-year, partially due to the company utilizing discretion to award its CEO a below-target STI payout. In addition, only one-third of the PSU award can vest in each year, and there is no upside potential for the performance shares.	No	No	No
AbbVie Inc.	05/05/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company provided an inordinate amount of personal use of corporate aircraft perquisites to the CEO. Accenture Plc	02/01/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company provided an inordinate amount of personal use of corporate aircraft perquisites to the CEO, and the total amount of perquisite compensation reported for the CEO is considered excessive. Activision Blizzard, Inc.	06/21/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company continues to provide a large life insurance-related perquisite to the CEO.	Yes	Yes	No
Acuity Brands, Inc.	01/25/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. The compensation committee adequately responded to shareholder concerns following last year's low say-on-pay vote result. The proxy provides clearly outlined shareholder feedback and concerns, and commensurate actions taken by the committee to increase the performance component of the LTI plan as well as plans to enhance disclosure under the STI plan relating to individual performance. Concerns regarding the misalignment between CEO pay and company performance are also sufficiently mitigated for the year under review. Financial measures comprise 80 percent of the STI and all measures had targets set above the prior year's actual results. The CEO's equity mix is also 75-percent performance-contingent, tied to multi-year, pre-set objectives.	No	No	No
Adobe Inc.	04/20/2023	Management	Yes	15	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company provided excessive personal use of corporate aircraft perquisite to the CEO.	Yes	Yes	No

Advance Auto Parts, Inc.	05/24/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned. Although there is some concern regarding goal setting, annual incentives are based entirely on objective financial measures, and equity grants remain largely performance-based.	No	No	No
Advanced Micro Devices, Inc.	05/18/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as CEO pay and company performance are reasonably aligned at this time. Annual incentive performance targets were set above the prior year's results, resulting in below target payouts during the year in review, and half of the CEO's equity awards are conditioned on long-term financial performance metrics. Nevertheless, shareholders would benefit from increased disclosure of the forward-looking performance goals underlying the PRSUs.	No	No	No
AECOM	03/31/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned and no significant concerns were identified at this time.	No	No	No
Affiliated Managers Group, Inc.	05/25/2023	Management	Yes	9	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. While the incentive scorecard utilizes a relatively large number of metrics and threshold performance is not disclosed, these concerns are mitigated. Pay and performance are reasonably aligned at this time, short- and long-term incentives are primarily performance-based, and the performance period for half of PSUs was increased to five years.	No	No	No
Aflac Incorporated	05/01/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as CEO pay and company performance are reasonably aligned at this time. Additionally, the majority of pay is conditioned on clearly disclosed financial performance metrics, and the equity awards granted to NEO's were entirely performance-conditioned.	No	No	No

Agilent Technologies, Inc.	03/15/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned. A majority of incentives are tied to pre-set objective measures and pay outcomes are aligned with short- and long-term performance.	No	No	No
Air Lease Corporation	05/03/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Annual incentives were primarily based on pre-set objective metrics and long-term incentives were majority performance-vesting, with closing-cycle PSUs forfeited in line with performance. However, there are significant concerns surrounding the executive chairman's total pay exceeded that of the CEO, which includes a high base salary at $1.8 million. Further, there are significant goal rigor concerns, as the company lowered metric goals for the annual bonus for the second consecutive year, with awards paid out above target despite a discretionary reduction by the committee. Air Products and Chemicals, Inc.	01/26/2023	Management	Yes	9	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned for the year under review. Although concerns are noted, annual incentives are primarily determined by a pre-set financial metric, and long-term incentives are a majority performance conditioned and measured over a multi-year period.	No	No	No
Airbnb, Inc.	06/01/2023	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company provided an inordinate amount of miscellaneous perquisites to certain executives. In addition, the company did not condition the vesting of NEOs' long-term awards on achievement of performance goals for awards granted in the most recent fiscal year.	Yes	Yes	No
Akamai Technologies, Inc.	05/11/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Although some concerns continue to be noted about the annual goals utilized by a portion of the equity awards and the related goal overlap with the STIP, the annual and long-term incentives are primarily performance based, with rigorous annual incentive goals. Alexandria Real Estate Equities, Inc.	05/16/2023	Management	Yes	8	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, as maximum payouts under both incentive plans are commensurate with the company's robust performance over the longer-term. That being said, concerns remain regarding the CEO and executive chairman structure, as each receive CEO level pay, and the committee's continued use of discretionary awards.	No	No	No
Align Technology, Inc.	05/17/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. CEO pay declined year-over-year and a significant majority of the LTI grant was performance-based. While some goal rigor concerns are raised surrounding the relative TSR metric targeting merely median performance, vesting outcomes were reasonable, and the CEO's realizable pay shows directional alignment with the company's long-term stock price performance. In addition, short-term incentives were based primarily on objective metrics with rigorous target goals, resulting in no annual bonuses paid to NEOs following below-threshold performance.	No	No	No
Allegion Plc	06/08/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the CEO received gross-ups related to relocation benefits.	Yes	Yes	No
Alliant Energy Corporation	05/23/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR the proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned at this time. Some concern is noted about a portion of the performance equity awards, which target median performance with no cap on awards in the event of negative absolute TSR. That being said, the long-term incentives are majority performance based, with all performance equity utilizing a multi-year performance period. Additionally, the annual incentive plan is predominately based on a pre-set financial metric.	No	No	No
Allison Transmission Holdings, Inc.	05/03/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned and no significant concerns were identified at this time.	No	No	No
Ally Financial Inc.	05/03/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted due to an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment. Notwithstanding a decrease in performance year pay and an LTI program under which half of awards are based on clearly disclosed multi-year goals, there are significant concerns surrounding the incentive determination process. The company's framework for determining total incentive pay (including STI awards) incorporates a significant degree of committee discretion and lacks key disclosures, such as category or individual metric weightings, quantified, pre-set goals, and target and maximum STI opportunities. This structure and the lack of key disclosures preclude an assessment of the merit and boundaries of total pay.	Yes	No	No
Alnylam Pharmaceuticals, Inc.	05/18/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	Although a concern is noted, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned at this time.	No	No	No

Alphabet Inc.	06/02/2023	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. A number of concerns are noted in the annual pay program for non-CEO NEOs. First, an annual bonus program was established based on ESG goals. However, pre-set goals were not disclosed, with the proxy only noting performance achievements after the fact, with the award appearing to pay out based on the committee's discretionary assessment of performance. Though the ESG bonus payout was halved at the committee's discretion due to "macroeconomic conditions," NEO base salaries were increased in FY22 and are relatively high. Further concerns are noted in the annual LTI program, which inexplicably switched to an LTI mix predominantly in time-vested equity in FY22, with no rationale for the change disclosed in the proxy. On top of that, two NEOs received equity grants with values in excess of the total median CEO pay for the company's peer group. The relative TSR target was non-rigorous and no vesting cap was disclosed if absolute TSR were to be negative over the performance period. CEO Pichai received a triennial equity grant in FY22, which, even on a per-year annualized basis, was relatively large compared to peers. Merely 60 percent of the award was in performance equity, half of which utilized a two-year performance period. Though the target goal was rigorous, in situations where an equity grant is intended to cover multiple years of equity, shareholders prefer that a significant percentage of the grant be in performance equity with a long-term performance period. Additionally, due to a combination of award structure and total magnitude, even with relative TSR performing well-below target, CEO Pichai would realize substantially more pay than a significant portion of his CEO peers, undermining a pay-for-performance philosophy. Lastly, concerns are raised as CEO Pichai's security costs remain exceedingly large, and a sufficient	Yes	No	No
Alteryx, Inc.	05/17/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted, given insufficient mitigating factors for the pay-for-performance misalignment. The CEO received a one-time grant of PSUs that, while tied to rigorous stock price hurdles over a seven-year period, is exceptionally large and is not intended to replace annual LTI grants. In addition, concerns exist regarding the use of overlapping metrics between the short- and long-term incentive programs and the short performance period of annual PSUs, as well as the addition of a short-term incentive payout mid-cycle. Moreover, the company exchanged outstanding underwater stock options without prior shareholder approval.	Yes	No	No
Altria Group, Inc.	05/18/2023	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted although some concerns are noted. The increase in the CEO's incentives were largely due to the transition from end-to-end to overlapping cycles which will end after the FY21-FY23 cycle. In addition, the company targets above median benchmarking for the CEO's total compensation; however, this does not appear to cause a pay-for-performance misalignment at this time. In addition, annual incentives are primarily based on pre-set financial goals, and a majority of the long-term incentives were performance-based and measured over a multi-year performance period. Amazon.com, Inc.	05/24/2023	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Following last year's low say-on-pay vote, the compensation committee engaged with shareholders, disclosed specific feedback, and provided further details surrounding the company's compensation programs and long-term strategy. However, the company did not make material changes to the compensation program to address shareholder concerns. In addition, while CEO Jassy's pay declined following the prior year's mega promotion award, consisting only of base salary and certain perquisites, a review of the pay program reveals persistent concerning features. Specifically, compensation for other NEOs consisted primarily of time-vesting restricted shares, with incentive programs lacking objective performance metrics and quantified goals. In addition, the magnitude of an NEO's recent $41 million grant is concerning, as it comes only one year after he received an $81 million sign-on grant. Lastly, concerns remain with respect to the inordinate amount of security-related perquisite provided to certain executives.	Yes	No	No

American Airlines Group Inc.	05/10/2023	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company paid tax gross-up for the CEO's personal use of aircraft. American Electric Power Company, Inc.	04/25/2023	Management	Yes	16	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, as pay and performance are reasonably aligned for the year in review. The majority of compensation continues to be conditioned on objective performance metrics with clearly disclosed goals under both the annual and long-term incentive plans.	No	No	No
American Express Company	05/02/2023	Management	Yes	16	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	The increase in CEO pay is primarily driven by a one-time equity award valued by the company at $15 million. On the positive side, the award requires significant TSR appreciation to vest. However, the sustainment requirement period is relatively short and may reward short-term spikes in share price without long-term sustained share price appreciation. Additionally, although annual LTI awards are predominantly based on rigorous, clearly disclosed goals, there are significant concerns regarding STI program structure and disclosure. The majority of the corporate component is based on goals for which quantified targets are not disclosed. The proxy also does not disclose threshold or maximum goals for any metrics, individual metric weightings, nor sufficient details around the CEO's individual performance component (which was achieved at maximum). Lastly, concerns remain with respect to the excessive personal use of corporate aircraft perquisite provided to the CEO. In light of the concerns noted above, the quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment is not mitigated and a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted.	Yes	No	No

American International Group, Inc.	05/10/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. There are significant concerns surrounding the magnitude and structure of a large off-cycle award granted to the CEO in connection with entering into a five-year employment agreement. On the positive side, the award has a relatively long five-year cliff vesting period. However, the award, which was granted amid back-to-back increases in target LTI opportunities, lacks performance-vesting criteria. With respect to regular incentive awards, some concern is raised by the STI program structure, as awards may be substantially increased by discretionary assessments of individual performance and have been for the CEO's awards for consecutive years. Further, the relative TSR metric in the LTI program, although not heavily weighted, provides for target vesting for below median performance against a relatively small peer group. Lastly, concerns are also raised with respect to the excessive corporate aircraft perquisite provided to the CEO.	Yes	No	No
American Tower Corporation	05/24/2023	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Annual incentives were primarily based on pre-set financial metrics. Equity awards were largely performance-conditioned and performance shares were based on multi-year performance periods.	No	No	No
American Water Works Company, Inc.	05/10/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance were reasonably aligned for the year in review.	No	No	No
Americold Realty Trust	05/16/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as no significant concerns were identified and pay and performance are reasonably aligned at this time.	No	No	No
Ameriprise Financial, Inc.	04/26/2023	Management	Yes	9	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted, as the company provided an inordinate amount of personal aircraft use perquisites to the CEO. Concerns also remain over the lack of certain key disclosures for the annual incentive program, which limits transparency. In addition, certain target goals were lowered amid an increase in target award opportunity for the annual cash incentive.	Yes	Yes	No
AmerisourceBergen Corporation	03/09/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted given the pay and performance alignment for the year in review. Annual incentives and the majority of long-term incentives are based on financial performance. In addition, performance shares utilize multi-year performance periods, and the relative TSR modifier targets above-median performance and subjects performance awards to a payout cap for negative absolute TSR results.	No	No	No
AMETEK, Inc.	05/04/2023	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR the proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned. Some concerns are noted regarding the rigors of the long-term incentives. However, the STI is primarily based on financial objectives and half of the long-term incentives are targeted to be performance based, with PRSUs utilizing a multi-year performance period.	No	No	No
Amgen Inc.	05/19/2023	Management	Yes	15	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned for the year in review. Although some concern exists that financial targets for the annual incentives were set below the prior year's targets and actual performance, annual incentives are predominantly tied to pre-set objective measures, and half of the equity awards are performance-conditioned.	No	No	No
Amphenol Corporation	05/18/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. CEO pay was aligned with company performance during the year in review, and annual incentive awards are based entirely on financial performance metrics. Nevertheless, concerns remain regarding the company's equity awards lacking any performance-conditions.	No	No	No

Annaly Capital Management, Inc.	05/17/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	There is some concern regarding the total incentive award determination process, as the scorecard contains certain features that add complexity for investors attempting to assess the pay-for-performance linkage. Additionally, the target goal for one metric is only described in vague terms and individual metrics appear to receive guaranteed minimum scores regardless of the level of performance achievement. While these issues warrant continued close monitoring, there are mitigating factors. For FY22, the committee introduced a total threshold score under which no awards will be made, and discretionarily reduced awards to below target to align with company performance. Further, half of LTI awards are earned based on clearly disclosed multi-year goals, and relative metrics under the scorecard and LTI program target outperformance and cap payouts if absolute TSR is negative. On balance of these factors, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Continued close monitoring of the scorecard structure and pay outcomes is warranted.	No	No	No
ANSYS, Inc.	05/12/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, as pay and performance are reasonably aligned at this time and the majority of CEO pay is conditioned on objective financial performance metrics. However, a concern is noted regarding annually set performance goals in the LTI program.	No	No	No
Antero Midstream Corporation	06/06/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	Although a concern is noted, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned at this time.	No	No	No
Antero Resources Corporation	06/06/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The committee elected to increase the pay benchmark for all executives to the 75th percentile, contributing significantly to the pay for performance misalignment identified for the year in review as the target value of the CEO's annual-cycle award more than doubled, year-over-year. The granting of significant off-cycle awards in half time-vesting equity to all executives further increased pay magnitude, while performance equity used primarily annual performance periods and set less rigorous goals for a metric shared with the annual incentive. Moreover, the committee set certain annual incentive targets lower than the prior year's performance and utilized their discretion to further increase actual payouts without a compelling rationale.	Yes	No	No
Aon plc	06/16/2023	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, as pay and performance are reasonably aligned. Although some concerns are noted regarding the lack of goal disclosure, the annual incentives are primarily based on pre-set financial metrics and the long-term incentives are entirely performance-based. APA Corporation	05/23/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. The compensation committee sufficiently responded to last year's relatively low say-on-pay vote result with improvements to the annual and long-term incentive programs and improved disclosure. In addition, there are certain factors that mitigate a pay-for-performance misalignment for the year under review, including the company's strong TSR and financial performance, improved transparency under the annual incentive program, a reduction in the CEO's target LTI award value, and LTI awards that are majority tied to multi-year performance metrics. Continued monitoring of the program is warranted given concerns surrounding short- and long-term goal rigor and lack of complete disclosure of LTI goals.	No	No	No

Apple Inc.	03/10/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company provided an inordinate amount of personal use of corporate aircraft and security perquisites to the CEO. Concerns are further raised by the $75 million equity grant to the CEO in FY22, the second consecutive year he received a grant of such magnitude, as well as the relatively high CEO and NEOs' pay opportunities that remain unchanged for FY23.	Yes	Yes	No
Applied Materials, Inc.	03/09/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	Concerns continue to be raised regarding the annual incentive program, which are at least half based on strategic metrics and lack disclosure of metric objectives and some performance results, precluding analysis of program rigor. Nevertheless, pay and performance are reasonably aligned, with annual incentive awards paid out below target and at least half of long-term incentives granted in performance equity with three-year goals. A vote FOR this proposal is therefore warranted, although shareholders may wish to continue monitoring the annual incentive program.	No	No	No

Aptiv PLC	04/26/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Concerns are raised with respect to the target LTI value increase for the CEO and non-disclosure of forward-looking goals for performance equity awards. However, STI awards were primarily based on objective financial metrics and, in a supplemental filing, the company discloses clearly the target goals and quantified performance results, both before and after certain adjustments made by the committee, as well as the corresponding impact on individual awards. Moreover, the committee capped the STI payouts (post-adjustments) to target level in recognition of negative stock price performance during the year.	No	No	No
Aramark	02/03/2023	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Pay-for-performance concerns are sufficiently mitigated during the year in review. The majority of CEO pay is conditioned on objective financial performance metrics and the PSUs which were eligible to vest in FY2022 were completely forfeited. While some concerns remain regarding the lack of disclosure of performance goals underlying the PSUs granted during the year in review, prior cycle PSU awards were not earned, in-line with recent company performance. Ball Corporation	04/26/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. While the goal-setting formula in the STI program may result in non-rigorous targets, annual incentives are based entirely on a pre-set financial goal, and the majority of long-term incentives depend on multi-year performance. Bank of America Corporation	04/25/2023	Management	Yes	15	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. This marks the first time in several years in which a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment has been identified at BAC. On the positive side, CEO performance year pay decreased in directional alignment with recent stock price underperformance, and the majority of equity awards are based on clearly-disclosed multi-year goals with no upside vesting potential. However, there are significant concerns regarding the structure and lack of key disclosures under the annual incentive determination process. Annual incentives are discretionarily determined, although guided by performance assessments that highlighted consistent metrics year-over-year, and this discretionary determination resulted in an identified pay-for-performance misalignment for the year in review. Further, the proxy lacks key disclosures such as target pay opportunities, per-metric weightings, and threshold, target or maximum goals. Investors generally prefer a more formulaic incentive determination process with discretion constrained and judiciously applied, with key disclosures that provide transparency into pay outcomes. Also concerning is the structure and lack of disclosure related to sizable time-vesting awards granted to non-CEO NEOs. Additionally, the company provided an inordinate amount of personal use of corporate aircraft perquisites to the CEO.	Yes	No	No
Bath & Body Works, Inc.	06/08/2023	Management	Yes	15	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. * Sarah Nash, who served as Executive Chair and Interim CEO during 2022 received a significant stock award that raises concerns. While the company provides a clear rationale for the award and why it was entirely time-based, the overall magnitude of the grant is of particular concern. Specifically, it resulted in her total pay being more than double total pay of the company's peer median CEO pay, which can be costly to shareholders in terms of overall compensation expense. * The CEO received excessive gross-ups related to relocation benefits. * The company provided an excessive personal use of corporate aircraft perquisite to the CEO. Baxter International Inc.	05/02/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. CEO pay declined significantly year-over-year and the annual incentive program was primarily based on objective metrics with reasonably rigorous target goals. In addition, the LTI was half performance-conditioned and measured over a multi-year period. It is also noted that the CEO's realizable pay shows directional alignment with the company's negative long-term stock price performance, and the LTI grant value decreased year-over-year. However, some concern is raised surrounding the lack of disclosure of certain performance targets under the long-term incentive program. While it is noted that targets and results are disclosed retrospectively, shareholders would benefit from greater transparency in the LTI.	No	No	No

Booking Holdings Inc.	06/06/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Following the failed 2022 say-on-pay proposal, the company engaged with shareholders, disclosed their feedback in the proxy statement, and made improvements to the FY22 and FY23 pay program to address investors' concerns. In addition, pay and performance are reasonably aligned for the year in review, and the annual incentive pool is funded based on financial performance goals, while the long-term incentives are primarily performance-conditioned. Certain concerns remain related to the FY22 program, such as the CEO's annual incentive target opportunity, similar metrics in the STI and LTI plans, and annual performance periods in the LTI. However, these concerns are mitigated by a significant reduction in compensation levels, the discretionary reduction of STI payouts, the addition of a PSU payout cap for negative absolute TSR results, and a return to multi-year performance periods for the 2023 PSUs. However, shareholders should continue to monitor the pay program as the company continues to undergo pay program changes.	No	No	No
BorgWarner Inc.	04/26/2023	Management	Yes	9	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the CEO received a significant tax gross-up relating to a perquisite reimbursement. Further, in the annual incentive program, the committee set both financial targets below last year's actual performance with limited rationale and also incorporated a new, subjective modifier that resulted in an increased payout for the year in review. These actions, coupled with increased CEO pay levels in the most recent two fiscal years, warrant continued investor monitoring.	Yes	Yes	No
Boston Properties, Inc.	05/23/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, but with caution. Some concerns persist with the significant weight of non-formulaic goals under the annual incentive program and goal rigor concerns under the LTI program. However, total CEO pay was flat year-over-year, LTI awards are at least half performance-based for all NEOs with clearly disclosed multi-year goals, and the quantitative annual incentive goals are clearly disclosed and appear rigorous. Moreover, performance LTI units have vested below target for the past three performance cycles, in alignment with the company's lagging shareholder returns. On balance, a pay-for-performance misalignment is mitigated for the year under review. Broadcom Inc.	04/03/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. While positive features are noted, including an annual incentive plan with clearly disclosed financial goals and entirely performance-based equity, certain negative factors raised significant concern. The annual bonus has the potential for a significant amount of committee discretion, and in FY22 the CEO's individual performance modifier increased the payout from 150 percent of target to 225 percent. In addition, the annual performance equity award targets merely median performance and the board also provided the CEO with an additional special award in FY22. Though smaller in value than the annual award, the performance period was just one year, specific goals were not disclosed, and directors determined that the goals were met just one month after grant. Investors may also note the CEO received another sizable special equity grant after the end of the fiscal year. Lastly, concerns are raised with respect to the CEO's excessive automobile perquisite. Burlington Stores, Inc.	05/17/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. While there are some concerns surrounding the use of an annual performance period in the LTI and goal setting in the STI, mitigating factors are present for the year in review. Specifically, the majority of the incentive program was performance based, and the committee exercised discretion to reduce the annual incentive award, resulting in a below-target payout for the CEO. Although investors would benefit from disclosure of forward-looking LTI targets, the company discloses the targets retrospectively and payouts are aligned with performance.	No	No	No

Cadence Design Systems, Inc.	05/04/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR the proposal is warranted, with caution. While pay and performance are reasonably aligned for the year in review, certain structural concerns in the pay program are noted, including the degree of discretion under the STI program and the significant upside potential on the CEO's triennial equity award. However, the FY22 grant target value is reasonable, forward-looking performance equity grant targets are clearly disclosed, and from this detailed disclosure it appears that each target requires significant outperformance in order to be achieved. There is a similar case in the annual bonus program, as performance targets were set above the prior year's actual performance, requiring year-over-year growth to achieve target payout. Though pay and performance were reasonably aligned, continued monitoring of these structural issues is warranted.	No	No	No

Caesars Entertainment, Inc.	06/13/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. A quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment has been identified for the year in review, and sufficient mitigating factors have not been identified. The increase in total CEO pay is primarily driven by a special, one-time equity award granted to the CEO. While it is positive that the CEO's one-time equity award is entirely performance-based, there is concern identified with respect to the relatively short sustainment period, particularly for a large, one-time award. Specifically, the stock price performance-vesting condition is based on exceeding certain share price hurdles for 20 consecutive days, without requiring long-term sustained stock price appreciation through the end of the performance period. Moreover, the company's off-cycle grant frequency raises concerns, as the CEO previously received an off-cycle award in August 2020. Additional concerns were identified, as a portion of PSUs vest based on annually set adjusted EBITDA goals. While the results are averaged at the end of the three-year performance period, the use of annually-set goals with an annual measurement under the LTI raises concerns. These concerns are magnified as it overlaps with the same metric, target and performance period under the STI program. Further, the relative TSR metric is not particularly rigorous, given that it targets merely median performance. The CEO continues to receive a relatively high base salary, which has an augmenting effect on incentive opportunities targeted as a percentage of salary. Lastly, concerns are also raised with respect to the inordinate amount of personal use of corporate aircraft perquisites to the CEO.	Yes	No	No

Capital One Financial Corporation	05/04/2023	Management	Yes	15	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	There are concerns raised by the lack of certain key features and disclosures with respect to the STI program, as well as by the degree of discretion involved in STI payout determinations. Some investors may prefer a more objective annual incentive structure, including reference to preset metric weightings and quantified target goals. While these issues warrant continued close monitoring, there are mitigating factors for the year in review. Specifically, the discretionary pay determinations have not resulted in a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment. Further, the CEO's long-term equity incentives are predominantly performance-conditioned with clearly disclosed multi-year goals that target above-median performance. On balance of these factors, a cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted. A quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment going forward may be met with increased scrutiny of pay program structure.	No	No	No
Carlisle Companies Incorporated	05/03/2023	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company maintains agreements that contain a modified single trigger change in control provision. Other problematic pay practices include the provision of an excessive amount of financial/tax planning-related perquisite to the CEO and the continued use of above-median benchmarking for target total compensation. Carnival Corporation	04/21/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Following low support for the 2022 say-on-pay proposal, the company engaged with shareholders, disclosed their feedback in the proxy statement, and made improvements to the FY22 and FY23 pay program to address investors' concerns. Specifically, disclosure of the incentive programs improved compared to the prior year, annual incentives now rely primarily on objective, pre-set goals, and long-term incentives were entirely performance-based. Additional improvements will be made for FY23, including the removal of the individual performance component from the annual incentives, and decoupling of metrics between the annual and long-term incentive plans. While certain concerns remain related to the FY22 plans related to limited individual performance disclosure, duplicate metrics in the STI and LTI plans, and annual performance periods in certain LTI awards, these concerns are mitigated by the removal of these elements in the FY23 awards. However, shareholders should continue to monitor the pay program as the company has undergone a leadership transition and continues to undergo pay program changes.	No	No	No

Citigroup Inc.	04/25/2023	Management	Yes	15	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	There are concerns raised by the degree of discretion involved in NEO annual incentive determinations and certain key features and disclosures that are lacking. Some investors may prefer a more objective annual incentive structure, including reference to preset target goals and pay opportunities. While these issues warrant continued close monitoring, there are sufficient mitigating factors. Specifically, CEO pay and company performance are aligned for the year in review. Further, the CEO's long-term incentives are predominantly performance-conditioned with clearly disclosed multi-year goals. Citizens Financial Group Inc.	04/27/2023	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Concerns continue to be raised by the heavy reliance on compensation committee discretion in determining total executive pay. That being said, there are mitigating factors for the year under review. Specifically, the use of discretion has not resulted in a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment, and the committee improved disclosure regarding core financial metrics used in assessing performance outcomes. Moreover, equity awards are largely performance-based and utilize a multi-year measurement period, and 2022 performance equity vesting outcomes were commensurate with longer term company performance. Given these circumstances, shareholders are advised to monitor the company's incentive pay structure, particularly should CEO pay and company performance become misaligned going forward.	No	No	No

Cleveland-Cliffs Inc.	05/17/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Following the prior year's relatively low say-on-pay support and subsequent engagement with shareholders, the compensation committee made commitments to not grant discretionary bonuses except for in extraordinary circumstances and changed its approach to target setting and evaluation of performance under the annual incentive plan, resulting in below target payouts during the year in review. Furthermore, long-term incentives remain primarily performance-conditioned, although shareholders may benefit from a more rigorous relative TSR metric.	No	No	No
CME Group Inc.	05/04/2023	Management	Yes	19	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Following a failed say-on-pay vote last year, the compensation committee demonstrated only a limited degree of responsiveness to shareholder concerns. In addition, an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment persisted in FY22. The CEO's total pay remained elevated largely due to a significant base salary increase, which is significantly higher than the median salary of peer CEOs. This base salary had the effect of also increasing his annual and long-term incentives that are targeted to a percentage of base salary. Further, although annual and long-term incentives are significantly performance-based, concern remains that the relative TSR metric under the long-term incentive program targets merely median performance and the proxy does not disclose a vesting cap if absolute TSR is negative. CSX Corporation	05/10/2023	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Following last year's low say-on-pay vote, the company contacted a substantial portion of its shareholders, disclosed details of those engagement efforts, and made several meaningful changes to the compensation program to address concerns. In addition, annual incentives were primarily determined by pre-set objective metrics, with clear disclosure of targets, per-metric weights, and actual results. Further, the committee did not apply discretionary adjustments, which was a noted shareholder concern, aligning payouts with quantifiable metrics. Moreover, half of long-term incentives were performance conditioned and measured over a multi-year period, and the percentage of PSUs will be increased in FY23.	No	No	No

The company granted several entirely time-based one-time equity awards during the year in review, including to the new CEO and it is not clear what percentage of the new CEO's FY23 equity award will be performance-conditioned. Furthermore, the compensation committee used its discretion to increase annual incentive payouts despite below threshold performance, although final payouts were still awarded well below target. DocuSign, Inc.	05/31/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. Although a number of positive features are noted in the annual pay program, the company made a number of problematic grants to new executives amid significant executive transition. The new CEO received a large time-vested equity grant upon appointment which merely utilizes a one-year vesting period. The new CEO also received a much larger performance equity grant that, although appears to utilize rigorous performance criteria, is significant in size, contributing to the $128 million in equity he received in FY23 (Public Fund Advisory Services calculations). Other new NEOs also received significant new-hire awards, though these consist entirely of time-vested equity that also utilize a relatively short vesting period. These other NEOs, on top of new-hire awards, also received retention awards in FY23, to which the proxy provides no disclosure into why retention grants to newly-hired NEOs would be necessary. Although the annual incentive program is sufficiently tied to rigorous objective performance criteria, there are significant concerns with the magnitude and structure of the long-term incentives. Ecolab Inc.	05/04/2023	Management	Yes	17	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Despite not receiving an annual incentive payout, a pay-for-performance misalignment was identified, largely because of an increase in the CEO's equity award value. Equity grants remained majority time-based, per Public Fund Advisory Services' valuation, and the CEO received a larger grant, both as a dollar value and as a number of shares/options, than in the prior year. Lastly, the committee made a sizable, time-based stock grant to another NEO for the second consecutive year.	Yes	No	No
Edison International	04/27/2023	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Although annual and long-term incentives are predominantly based on pre-set, objective performance metrics, the committee made discretionary adjustments to allow for annual incentive payouts that otherwise would have been forfeited. Additionally, the committee granted an additional special equity award upon the vesting of the special award granted in FY19. Investors generally expect for special awards to be used sparingly, and the magnitude of the CEO's special award in FY22 was excessive. In addition, the company lacks risk-mitigating provisions such as a clawback policy, stock ownership guidelines or holding period requirements for executives. Equity awards allow for auto-accelerated vesting upon a change-in-control event, and excessive differentials between CEO pay and the pay of other named executive officers at the firm.	Yes	No	No

Euronet Worldwide, Inc.	05/18/2023	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. There is some concern surrounding the LTI structure, as a relatively small portion of total equity awards vest based on a true, multi-year performance period. Additionally, the CEO's equity awards increased amid sustained TSR underperformance. However, equity awards are entirely performance-conditioned and forward-looking goals are disclosed. Additionally, the STI program is entirely based on an objective financial metric with a rigorous target and maximum payouts under the program are substantiated by generally strong financial performance in FY22. Continued close monitoring of the LTI program and equity award magnitude is warranted.	No	No	No

Expedia Group, Inc.	05/31/2023	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. A lack of at-risk, performance-based pay elements under the compensation program underscores a pay-for-performance misalignment for the year under review. Specifically, the company does not have a formal annual incentive program and NEOs received only fixed cash compensation for FY22. In addition, of the two NEOs that received performance-based equity awards in FY22, only one of those awards comprised a significant portion of the executive's equity mix. Further, the new CFO received a relatively large sign-on equity grant that lacks any performance conditions. These pay decisions are particularly concerning, given that investors increasingly prefer for a meaningful portion of executive incentive pay to be tied pre-set performance goals.	Yes	No	No
Extra Space Storage Inc.	05/24/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted although some concerns exist. The annual incentive plan lacks clear disclosure for the unweighted management goals. Further, there are concerns regarding the vesting rigor of PSUs for median performance which shareholders should continue to monitor. Nevertheless, a majority of the equity awards are performance-conditioned and measured over a multi-year period, and annual incentives are based on pre-set objective goals.	No	No	No
Exxon Mobil Corporation	05/31/2023	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. CEO Woods' compensation again increased year-over-year, as the company delivered record earnings in 2022. However, concerns remain with the structure of the company's incentive plans. Award values continue to rely heavily on the committee's subjective assessment of performance, although the company provides certain considerations for executive pay decisions in the proxy. In addition, equity awards do not carry forward-looking performance vesting criteria, though awards use long time-vesting periods. Nevertheless, for the year in review, these structural concerns were mitigated by strong financial performance and the alignment between pay and performance for the year in review. However, the program's design and the potential for significant committee discretion warrant continued close monitoring, particularly should pay and performance not remain closely aligned.	No	No	No

Fidelity National Information Services, Inc.	05/24/2023	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Following last year's low say-on-pay vote, the company contacted a substantial portion of its shareholders, disclosed specific details of engagement efforts, and made several meaningful changes to the compensation program to address concerns. In addition, annual incentives were entirely determined by pre-set financial metrics and long-term incentives were a majority performance conditioned. While some concern is raised by the FY22 PSUs' annual performance period, this concern is mitigated given the company's shift to a true multi-year performance period in FY23. Further, the newly appointed CEO's target compensation was set below her predecessor's, and below-target pay outcomes under both programs are generally aligned with company's financial and TSR performance. Short-term and long-term incentives are entirely performance-based and primarily tied to objective measures for most NEOs. Five9, Inc.	05/16/2023	Management	Yes	3	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. In connection with the CEO transition, the new CEO and several NEOs received relatively large equity grants resulting in a misalignment between executive pay and company performance, a significant portion of which was in time-vested equity. FLEETCOR Technologies, Inc.	06/09/2023	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The committee demonstrated poor responsiveness to last year's failed say-on-pay vote result, which marked the fourth failed vote result in six years. Further, an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment exists for the year in review. The STI and LTI lack disclosure of several quantified target goals, and a significant portion of the STI for non-CEO NEOs is based on somewhat vague and/or qualitative goals. Additionally, while the CEO did not receive equity awards following a front-loaded grant in 2021, other NEOs received majority time-vesting equity after accounting for additional time-vesting stock option awards. Lastly, performance equity utilizes an annual performance period and one LTI metric and performance period overlaps with the STI program.	Yes	No	No

Elevated CEO pay amidst lagging long-term returns and structural concerns with respect to the short- and long-term incentive programs underscore a pay-for-performance misalignment for the year under review. Individual performance goals account for a significant portion of annual incentives and disclosure of specific targets and achievements is limited. Further, a provision under the LTI program allowing PSUs tied to relative TSR to be earned at the minimum level despite below-threshold performance has resulted in minimum level payouts for the past two closing performance cycles, despite failure to achieve threshold relative TSR. After last year's say-on-pay proposal failed to receive majority support, the compensation committee demonstrated adequate responsiveness to shareholder concerns. In addition, a pay-for-performance misalignment exists for the year under review, but certain factors have been identified that mitigate the concern. There is some concern surrounding an increase in pay opportunities amidst long-term TSR underperformance, high maximum FY22 PSU opportunities and forward-looking LTI disclosure. However, annual incentives were tied to rigorous financial performance metrics and closing-cycle PSUs vested below target due to relative TSR underperformance. Changes to the long-term incentive program in FY23 will significantly lower the maximum payout opportunity for PSUs, and closing-cycle PSU disclosure improved, though investors may expect additional goal disclosure improvement. Henry Schein, Inc.	05/23/2023	Management	Yes	16	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as CEO pay and company performance are reasonably aligned at this time. Following the prior year's relatively low say-on-pay support, the company reintroduced PSUs for FY22, and further increased the portion of PSUs granted to the CEO and other NEOs for FY23. Furthermore, while shareholders would benefit from increased disclosure of the forward-looking performance targets underlying the PSU grants, performance targets are disclosed retroactively and annual incentive awards remain based primarily on an objective financial performance metric. Hologic, Inc.	03/09/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted given the alignment between pay and performance for the year in review. Annual and long-term incentives are primarily performance-based, with performance awards utilizing a multi-year performance period and a payout cap on TSR PSUs for absolute negative results. While the company disclosed the rationale for reduced targets, continued monitoring of the pay program is warranted as payout opportunities were concurrently reduced.	No	No	No
Honeywell International Inc.	05/19/2023	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. The compensation committee was sufficiently responsive to last year's low say-on-pay vote, engaging with shareholders and disclosing their feedback as well as making a commitment not to repeat the action investors found problematic. Further, sufficient positive factors were found to mitigate the pay-for-performance misalignment for the year in review. CEO pay was elevated partially due to the previous decision to adjust in-progress equity awards, but the committee limited the vesting of the closing cycle award, as promised. Annual incentives were primarily based on financial performance and long-term incentives were targeted to be half performance-based. The committee also returned to a three-year measurement period for performance equity.	No	No	No

Howmet Aerospace Inc.	05/17/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Following the prior year's relatively low say-on-pay vote and subsequent engagement with shareholders, the company entered into a new letter agreement with CEO Plant that will align his annual cash and equity awards to the schedule of other NEOs starting in FY23 and removes an entitlement to excessive change-in-control severance payments. Additionally, beginning in 2023 the company will revert performance-based equity grants to be measured over a three-year period rather than the average of three one-year periods. While these changes are reflective of shareholder feedback, Plant's letter agreement also continues to provide sizeable incentive award opportunities. Illumina, Inc.	05/25/2023	Management	Yes	34	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	Against	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Significant concerns are raised regarding the special, one-time stock options award made to the CEO. Specifically, the special awards do not carry performance vesting criteria, and these concerns are magnified by the size of the CEO's award, valued by the company at $12.5 million. Moreover, although the annual LTI is primarily linked to multi-year performance goals, the proxy does not disclose forward-looking EPS targets for the performance shares granted during the year under review, which prevents investors from fully assessing goal rigor. Ingersoll Rand Inc.	06/15/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. While annual incentives were based on financial performance, specific targets and actual quantified results were not disclosed, hindering investors' ability to analyze goal rigor. Further, for FY22, the committee used discretion to increase payouts, including to the CEO. More concerning however, is a special grant made to CEO Reynal, with limited rationale. While the award is contingent upon rigorous performance goals, the magnitude is outsized and grant values disclosed in proxy pay tables do not yet include additional stock options that were granted in early 2023. The award also appears to be made in addition to regular annual grants, as the CEO also received an annual equity award in FY22.	Yes	No	No

A majority of short- and long-term incentives are based on objective performance criteria, with performance targets set above corresponding targets and actual performance for the previous year. However, executives can receive target payouts of TSR-based PSUs for performance at the index median, which shareholders typically do not view as a particularly rigorous goal, and there does not appear to be a cap on payouts in the event that absolute TSR is negative. Invesco Ltd.	05/25/2023	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	There is some concern regarding the annual incentive award determination process, which incorporates a significant degree of discretion, and the lack of certain key disclosures, most notably threshold and maximum financial goals. However, these concerns have not contributed to a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment for the year in review and the decrease in CEO performance year pay is directionally aligned with generally weaker company performance in FY22. Additionally, the majority of long-term incentives are based on clearly-disclosed multi-year goals, the LTI's relative TSR metric targets outperformance and performance shares are capped at target if absolute TSR is negative. On balance, a cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Continued close monitoring of the incentive determination structure and pay outcomes is warranted, particularly given the recently announced CEO transition.	No	No	No
Invitation Homes, Inc.	05/17/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. A pay-for-performance misalignment is driven by the value of the CEO's "outperformance" equity award, which the company grants periodically, and which is supplemental to his regular annual LTI awards. Although the award is based on multi-year TSR goals, a "lock-in" feature allows at least a portion of the award to be earned at two different measurement dates, reducing the rigor of the award. Moreover, the FY22 outperformance award was granted one day after the end of the measurement period for his FY19 outperformance award, raising concerns over the use of frequent non-annual equity awards to boost pay opportunities. JBG SMITH Properties	05/04/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	The Compensation Committee demonstrated adequate responsiveness to shareholder concerns following last year's low say-on-pay vote result. The company engaged with investors following the annual meeting, specific shareholder feedback is disclosed, and changes to the compensation program, including changes to the STI program detailed in a supplemental filing, appear to address shareholder concerns. There are some pay program concerns which warrant continued close monitoring. Specifically, the structure of the STI program makes it difficult to assess goal rigor, and the rigor of appreciation-based LTIP units is questionable over the ten-year term of the award, particularly given that the structure replaces a relative TSR metric which targeted outperformance. Nevertheless, the STI is predominantly based on quantified goals, and the supplemental filing details some disclosure and structural improvements for the FY23 STI program (though this will be analyzed next year in the context of FY23 pay decisions). Further, half of LTI awards are performance-conditioned, and closing cycle equity awards vested below target, in line with company performance, mitigating pay-for-performance concerns. Accordingly, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Given certain STI and LTI concerns noted above and forward-looking pay program changes, continued close monitoring is warranted. However, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. There is an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment. The company's framework for determining total incentive pay incorporates a significant degree of committee discretion, lacks key disclosures, and provides for outsized pay opportunities for the CEO and president. Las Vegas Sands Corp.	05/11/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	Following low say-on-pay support last year, the board did not make any meaningful changes to address shareholders' expressed concerns. Moreover, there are persistent pay structure concerns that underscore a pay-for-performance misalignment. The CEO's base salary and target STI opportunity are outsized, and recent changes to the STI program reduce the importance of objective financial metrics. The regular LTI awards are based on the same short-term goals as the STI program, and the CEO's equity grant value was relatively large. There are also ongoing concerns regarding pay benchmarking practices, perquisites, and gross-ups. Several of the above concerns persist despite recent negative shareholder feedback on those issues. In light of these issues, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Shareholders are further advised to "withhold" votes from incumbent board members (see Item 1).	Yes	No	No

Annual and long-term incentives are primarily performance-based with the majority of performance shares utilizing multi-year performance periods. Some concerns remain under the STI related to goal rigor and disclosure of certain metrics, and under the LTI for the absence of an award cap for negative absolute TSR, relative awards that target median performance, and the annual performance period utilized in the PRSU award. Lennar Corporation	04/12/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. The company utilizes a co-CEO structure in addition to employing an Executive Chairman, whose total target pay opportunity is set above the pay of both CEOs. The concerns with this structure, which pays three executives at a CEO level, are further exacerbated by the annual bonus program, where payouts are not capped. The uncapped payouts in FY21 to each executive led to payouts at nearly double the total pay of peer CEOs, and year-over-year pay increases of over 50 percent. Although several positive changes were made to the incentive programs, shareholders may have expected a more significant reduction in total pay for its three highly paid executives.	Yes	Yes	No

Lincoln National Corporation	05/25/2023	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Concerns are raised regarding the rigor of FY22 STI and LTI goal setting, as well as the company's retention award grant practices: multiple NEOs received retention awards, with one executive receiving multiple such awards in one year. However, rigor concerns in the annual-cycle LTI program appear to be fully addressed by changes for FY23, annual incentives were entirely based on pre-set objective metrics, and both annual and long-term incentives paid out below target in line with company performance. Based on these factors, in particular recent improvements to pay quantum and structure for the new CEO, the quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment is mitigated. Moreover, as disclosed in an 8-K, the company recently eliminated a problematic good reason definition that entitled the new CEO to severance upon her resignation for any reason following a change-in-control. Continued monitoring of goal rigor and equity award practices is warranted.	No	No	No

Live Nation Entertainment, Inc.	06/09/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. The annual bonus program was based entirely on a financial metric, though a concern is noted regarding the relatively high base salary and target bonus opportunity for the CEO. Though the LTI grant was entirely in performance equity, the metric was identical to the STI, including the performance period, though this concern is partially mitigated by the relatively reasonable grant value. Of significant concern, however, are the awards made in recognition of entering into new employment agreements with the company by the CEO and one NEO, who each received a discretionary cash bonus of $6 million. On top of that, each received a large one-time equity grant with a value multiple times larger than the total CEO pay for the company's peer group. A large portion of each grant is time-based and the proxy lacks clear disclosure regarding the rationale for the size of the awards and other details necessary to assess them. Additionally, stock price goals do not require sustained performance above the target in order to vest, allowing the award to vest for any 60 nonconsecutive days the closing price exceeds the target over a five-and-a-half year period. The current structure could reward these executives for short-term or merely temporary increases in stock price. A vote AGAINST the proposal is further warranted because: * The company provided excessive personal aircraft use, personal/home security, and automobile-related perquisites to the CEO; * The total amount of perquisite compensation reported for the CEO is excessive; and * The company lacks risk-mitigating provisions such as a clawback policy, stock ownership guidelines, or holding period requirements for executives. Equity awards to all NEOs were majority time-vesting, with only the CEO and president receiving small PSU grants. Further, the portion of the CEO's equity awarded as performance units declined year-over-year. M&T Bank Corporation	04/18/2023	Management	Yes	18	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. There is some concern regarding the discretionary nature of the incentive determination process, and the lack of key disclosures. Additionally, the committee lowered the weighting of multi-year performance equity under the LTI program and certain LTI goals are not disclosed. However, these issues have not resulted in a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment for the year in review. Additionally, most of the metrics assessed for determining incentives were consistent and the largest component of CEO pay consists of performance-conditioned equity. Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc.	05/18/2023	Management	Yes	15	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A qualitative review of incentive pay programs reveals mostly positive features, though certain aspects of disclosure could be improved. However, there are significant concerns regarding the committee's decision to amend the CEO's outstanding PSU awards in connection with his announced retirement. This discretionary decision provides more favorable vesting treatment of his outstanding awards and resulted in an incremental value disclosure of more than $7 million and total CEO pay that is outsized at more than $32 million. Recent enhancements to retirement benefits are considered a problematic practice and the committee has not disclosed a compelling rationale. With the annual bonus earned at maximum in FY22, the CEO received a payout at four times his target bonus opportunity. In addition, the company amended FY22 equity awards, switching to stock price goals with only limited rationale explaining why the original goals were no longer appropriate. While the new goals require an increase in stock price, they were awarded after a rather steep decline in price. Lastly, other NEO pay is also relatively high, as compared to the median peer CEO. Morgan Stanley	05/19/2023	Management	Yes	16	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. There is some continuing concern regarding the impact of discretion in determining NEO incentive pay (which includes cash bonuses), and the lack of key disclosures, such as specific target and maximum award opportunities, pre-set target goals, and individual metric weightings. Additionally, the disclosed pay levels for the CEO's broad target total pay range increased significantly, which warrants continued monitoring. However, there are mitigating factors identified. In particular, CEO pay and company performance are reasonably aligned. Additionally, financial metrics considered under the performance assessment were generally consistent and the decrease in performance-year incentive pay is directionally aligned with somewhat weaker company performance year-over-year. Further, the large majority of equity awards are based on clearly-disclosed multi-year goals, and the relative metric now targets outperformance. Continued close monitoring of pay program structure and outcomes is warranted. A quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment going forward may be met with increased scrutiny of the incentive program structure in particular.	No	No	No

Netflix, Inc.	06/01/2023	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	Following a failed say-on-pay vote result, the company disclosed its engagement efforts with shareholders, noted shareholder feedback, and made substantive changes to the pay program. This indicates sufficient responsiveness by the compensation committee. Nevertheless, there are ongoing concerns regarding the pay structure. Though improvements were made to ensure that base salaries for co-CEOs remain at a reasonable level, salaries for other NEOs may still be exceedingly large depending on their selected allocation of payment. In addition, equity awards, which remain a significant portion of executive pay, continue to lack pre-set performance vesting criteria, and the introduction of annual bonuses only covers the co-CEOs. Concerns are also raised with respect to the single trigger change-in-control provision embedded in legacy agreements, the excessive total amount of perquisite compensation reported for the CEOs including an inordinate amount of personal use of corporate aircraft and security-related perquisites, and the company's lack of risk mitigating provisions. Norwegian Cruise Line Holdings Ltd.	06/15/2023	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Following consecutive years of failed say-on-pay votes, the committee was adequately responsive to shareholders, as the company implemented several positive changes to address pay magnitude and structural concerns. Specifically, pay for the incoming CEO in FY23 is set to be approximately 50 percent below the current CEO's pay. In addition, incentive programs will be more heavily weighted on objective financial metrics, with an adjusted EPS metric in the LTI requiring outperformance. Further, other NEOs' LTI shifted to an equal mix of PSUs and RSUs in FY22, and PSUs will be based on a three-year performance period. While some concerns are raised surrounding the outgoing CEO's elevated pay and award structure, these concerns are somewhat mitigated by the upcoming changes noted above. In addition, some investors may question the committee's decision to grant certain one-time retention awards in FY22. Although the improvements mitigate certain concerns surrounding overall pay magnitude and program structure for the year in review, investors are advised to continue monitoring the company's pay decisions going forward. The former CEO and now current executive chairman received a significant front-loaded option grant intended to cover four years of equity awards. The magnitude of the executive chair grant is of particular concern as it alone is more than double total pay of the new CEO, who also received a front-loaded option grant, and when annualized is greater than total CEO pay at similar peer companies, which can be costly to shareholders in terms of overall compensation expense. Philip Morris International Inc.	05/03/2023	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	Following low support for the say-on-pay proposal last year, the compensation committee disclosed engagement efforts and feedback received from shareholders. However, the committee did not fully address a primary area of concern expressed by shareholders surrounding the problematic severance payment to a former CFO. Pinnacle West Capital Corporation	05/17/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR the proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned for the year in review. While some concerns are noted about incomplete forward-looking goal disclosure under the LTIP and the absence of a cap on payouts in the event of negative absolute TSR, the LTI program is predominantly performance based and the annual incentives are entirely conditioned on clearly disclosed pre-set objective measures. Pinterest, Inc.	05/25/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The CEO received new-hire equity awards that represented over six times the median total pay of company-selected peer CEOs, based on the company's valuation. Given the magnitude of the awards, pay-for-performance concerns are heightened. The company relied only on time-based awards for the equity awards. Shareholders prefer for new-hire awards to predominantly consist of performance-conditioned equity and utilize a multi-year performance period with robust disclosure of goal targets. Further, the proxy does not indicate that the awards are intended to cover multiple years of pay. Additionally, a new NEO received a sizable, entirely time-based, RSU award.	Yes	No	No

Playtika Holding Corp.	06/08/2023	Management	Yes	8	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. CEO total pay remains outsized compared to peers and is not substantiated by superior performance. Although the annual incentive program is based on a pre-set financial metric, the CEO's annual target cash opportunity is relatively high, and the NEOs continued to receive significant payouts under the retention bonus plan, a portion of which appears guaranteed. Additionally, while the long-term incentives were entirely based on performance, the PSUs utilize annual performance periods and goals for all four performance periods were lowered, with no compelling rationale provided. Additionally, the decision to offer a non-shareholder approved exchange program that allows NEOs to exchange underwater stock options for RSUs is considered problematic. Lastly, concerns are also raised with respect to the excise tax gross-up payment and single-trigger equity vesting acceleration in the event of a change in control, the excessive security-related perquisite provided to the CEO, and the tax gross-ups on certain executives' perquisites. Prologis, Inc.	05/04/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Although annual and long-term incentives are substantially performance-based, significant concerns remain with the overall complexity of the long-term incentive programs, the skyrocketing value of outperformance awards for the CEO and other NEOs, and the rigor of LTI and POP goals. In addition to resulting in a large jump in total performance year pay in FY22, the multiple long-term incentive vehicles and issues surrounding grant timing make it difficult for investors to determine and accurately compare pay year-over-year. Further, investors may not consider relative LTI and POP goals set at one percentage point above the index to be particularly rigorous. Concerns are raised surrounding the new CEO's one-time awards valued by the company at over $57 million. While half of the awards are performance based and require stock price outperformance, the remaining half is entirely time-based. Although the company discloses that these awards were designed to offset forfeited equity, it did not disclose which portion was considered make whole. In addition, NEO Dansey also received a large one-time performance option award, which, when combined with his annual and long-term awards, resulted in outsized total pay that is more than two times that of the company median peer CEO pay. In addition, concerns are raised surrounding the annual LTI for other NEOs, which is majority time based. Further concerns are identified surrounding a separation arrangement that will allow the former CEO, who was terminated without cause in May 2022, to receive certain CIC benefits if a merger closes by the end of 2023. ServiceNow, Inc.	06/01/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	Following a failed say-on-pay vote last year, the committee has demonstrated only a limited degree of responsiveness by responding to a primary shareholder concern regarding one-time awards, but the committee did not make meaningful structural improvements to the regular pay program to address shareholders' secondary feedback points. It is positive that the STIP was based primarily on financial metrics and the goals utilized were reasonable, even after a mid-year goal modification. However, there are continuing pay structure concerns that underscore a pay-for-performance misalignment. Specifically, the LTIP continues to utilize one-year measurement periods for primary metrics, with significant overlap to a STI metric and goal, and the CEO's LTI awards are relatively large in the year following a mega award. In light of these concerns, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted.	Yes	No	No

Simon Property Group, Inc.	05/04/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. A pay-for-performance misalignment exists for the year under review and mitigating factors could not be identified. The sharp increase in CEO pay was driven by a sizable, off-cycle discretionary cash bonus that lacks any performance- or time-vesting criteria. The structure of this sizable cash award is contrary to a pay-for-performance philosophy and the proxy lacks clear disclosure of the committee's rationale for the structure and magnitude of the award. Additionally, although the STI pool funding is tied to pre-set targets and a majority of LTIs are tied to performance goals, the proxy lacks disclosure of how performance translates into bonus pool funding levels, actual STI payouts are ultimately discretionary, and the proxy does not disclose forward-looking LTI goals.	Yes	No	No
Six Flags Entertainment Corporation	05/10/2023	Management	Yes	8	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. While there are some disclosure concerns under both incentive programs, annual incentives were primarily determined by pre-set objective metrics and below-target payouts generally aligned with the company's financial performance. While the use of front-loaded awards raises some concern, PSUs are measured over (and intended to cover) a three-year performance period. And although payout opportunities are high, performance goals appear rigorous, and the annualized amount of the awards somewhat mitigates concerns regarding opportunities. Nevertheless, close continued monitoring of future grants is warranted given the somewhat vague commitment to not grant additional awards during the performance period.	No	No	No
Skechers U.S.A., Inc.	06/12/2023	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The CEO receives an outsized salary, and three executives including the CEO received significant perks and associated tax gross ups. Although annual incentives are based on a financial metric, all executives are eligible to receive potentially significant awards, a concern underscored by the CEO's FY22 award of an amount more than four times the median. Moreover, although long-term incentives are half performance-based, half of PRSUs are earned based on annual performance periods, and relative TSR PSUs target merely median performance with no disclosed payout cap for negative absolute TSR.	Yes	No	No
Skyworks Solutions, Inc.	05/10/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR the proposal is warranted. The annual bonus program was entirely based on pre-set financial metrics with clear disclosure of payout formula and performance targets, while target goals appear rigorous. In addition, the LTI program was majority performance based, with a significant majority of the performance equity grant utilizing a multi-year performance period. While relative metrics target above median performance in order to vest, continued monitoring of the relative TSR metric payout is warranted, as the proxy does not disclose a cap on vesting if absolute TSR is negative over the performance period. The annual equity grant also has the potential for a relatively high payout if the maximum goal is achieved.	No	No	No

Sotera Health Company	05/25/2023	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Although annual incentives were primarily determined by a pre-set financial metric, significant concerns are noted as equity awards were entirely time-vesting, including the relatively large one-time retention awards. Splunk Inc.	06/21/2023	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. The compensation committee was adequately responsive to last year's low say-on-pay vote result. Further, the STI program was based on pre-set objective measures and paid out below target, which was in line with recent company performance. The LTI program was majority based on performance equity with multi-year performance periods with rigorous forward-looking goals disclosed. However, the company allowed a former NEO to retain a sizeable cash bonus they would have been contractually obligated to pay back upon a voluntary resignation. Such an enhancement is considered a problematic pay practice.	Yes	No	No
SS&C Technologies Holdings, Inc.	05/17/2023	Management	Yes	4	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. The committee was sufficiently responsive to last year's failed say-on-pay vote, incorporating shareholder feedback into redesigning both the annual and long-term incentive programs. Further, CEO pay for the year in review declined significantly and the new annual bonus program incorporated clearly disclosed financial metrics. However, given expected high pay opportunities for FY23 in the first year of the new equity program, investors are advised to closely monitor pay levels and performance going into next year.	No	No	No

Starwood Property Trust, Inc.	05/18/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. While many EMIs do not provide sufficient disclosure for shareholders to assess the say-on-pay proposal, STWD provides information on the magnitude of pay, breakdown of fixed/variable compensation, and performance metrics used to determine incentive pay. State Street Corporation	05/17/2023	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. There remains some concern regarding the incentive determination process which, although guided by performance assessments and target opportunities, is ultimately discretionarily determined. Further, the proxy lacks certain key disclosures, such as individual metric weightings and quantified, pre-set target goals. While this issue warrants continued close monitoring, there are mitigating factors. Most notably, pay and performance are reasonably aligned for the year in review. Additionally, key financial metrics considered were generally consistent with the prior year, and the majority of long-term incentives are based on clearly disclosed multi-year goals. Lastly, while certain goals underlying PRSUs granted in 2022 were adjusted after grant, the committee provides a reasonable rationale for this decision.	No	No	No

The Bank of New York Mellon Corporation	04/12/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. There is some concern surrounding the structure of a retention award to a transitioning executive, the considerable room for discretion in determining cash incentives, and the rigor of relative TSR PSUs. However, these issues have not resulted in a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment. In addition, the incentive program uses a financial metric with a disclosed weighting and goals, and the use of discretion was judiciously applied. Further, the majority of equity awards are based on clearly disclosed, multi-year goals, and closing-cycle PSUs vested below target. Continued close monitoring on the program structure and pay decisions is warranted. A quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment going forward may be met with increased scrutiny of the program. The Boeing Company	04/18/2023	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Increases to both the CEO's incentive program opportunities were made on the backdrop of negative short- and long-term TSR performance. Further, these increases have contributed to a misalignment between pay and performance for the most recent fiscal year. While annual incentives were based on a primarily quantitative scorecard, the committee may increase payouts based on a subjective assessment of individual performance, and the CEO's award was increased for FY22. Long-term incentives were half performance-based, but FY22 grants provide for an opportunity to reduce the premium price of the stock options if the company's TSR meets merely a median performance hurdle. Lastly, the company provided a large corporate aircraft perquisite to the CEO.	Yes	No	No

The Sherwin-Williams Company	04/19/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Although some annual incentive metric targets were lowered, year-over-year, annual incentives were entirely based on pre-set financial metrics with below-target payouts in line with performance and long-term incentives were predominantly performance based with forward looking metrics disclosed.	No	No	No
The Southern Company	05/24/2023	Management	Yes	17	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company provided excessive personal aircraft use and financial planning-related perquisites to the CEO. The Timken Company	05/05/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned and no significant concerns were identified at this time.	No	No	No
The TJX Companies, Inc.	06/06/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	Following last year's failed say-on-pay vote, the compensation committee disclosed shareholder engagement efforts and the specific feedback received. The committee further disclosed meaningful responsive actions, including a commitment to refrain from discretionary adjustments to in-flight LTI awards, and significant reductions in the weighting of the STIP's qualitative component. Further, CEO pay and company performance are aligned at this time, and a review of incentive pay programs reveals they are largely performance-based. However, shareholders would benefit from disclosure of forward-looking target goals for long-term equity and cash awards. In light of the above factors, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted.	No	No	No
The Toro Company	03/21/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned and no significant concerns were found at this time.	No	No	No
The Travelers Companies, Inc.	05/24/2023	Management	Yes	17	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Concerns continue to be raised by the heavy reliance on compensation committee discretion in determining annual incentive payouts and the lack of certain shareholder-friendly disclosures such as per-metric weightings and target pay opportunities. Investors increasingly prefer a more formulaic STI design with key disclosures that provide more transparency into the pay-for-performance linkage. However, there are mitigating factors for the year under review. Specifically, the use of discretion has not resulted in a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment. Further, key financial metrics considered were consistent and the committee introduced a cap on the CEO's maximum bonus opportunity, which is positive. Moreover, equity awards are majority based on clearly-disclosed multi-year goals, and closing-cycle PSU vesting outcomes are in line with longer term company performance. Continued close monitoring of the STI structure and payouts is warranted. A quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment going forward may be met with increased scrutiny of discretionary determinations and outcomes.	No	No	No
The Walt Disney Company	04/03/2023	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company provided a large corporate aircraft perquisite to the then-CEO.	Yes	Yes	No

Tractor Supply Company	05/11/2023	Management	Yes	10	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned at this time. The annual incentives were primarily based on a pre-set financial metric and half of the long-term incentives are targeted to be based on multi-year performance, although there is some concern about incomplete goal disclosure in the annual and long-term incentive plans.	No	No	No
Trane Technologies Plc	06/01/2023	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as CEO pay and company performance are reasonably aligned at this time. The majority of compensation is based on clearly disclosed financial performance objectives and the company targets half of equity awards to be conditioned on three-year performance goals.	No	No	No
TransDigm Group Incorporated	03/09/2023	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Following another low-say-on-pay vote, the compensation committee did not demonstrate sufficient responsiveness to shareholder concerns. Further, pay-for-performance concerns are again raised, including a discretionary adjustment to the annual incentive payout without compelling rationale and ongoing magnitude concerns with equity awards. Trimble Inc.	06/01/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	Support FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned. Annual incentives are entirely based on financial performance and reverted to an annual performance period in 2022. Although there is some concern about the LTIP structure, including the relative TSR metric, which targets merely the median with no disclosed cap on payouts in the event of negative TSR, the CEO's long-term incentives are primarily performance based and all performance equity utilizes a multi-year performance period.	No	No	No
Truist Financial Corporation	04/25/2023	Management	Yes	23	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	After a review of the company's compensation program and practices, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted, as pay and performance are reasonably aligned for the year in review. That being said, significant components of the pay program merely target median performance, which is not considered particularly rigorous.	No	No	No
Twilio Inc.	06/13/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. Although the company implemented a performance equity program that utilizes rigorous goals, a significantly positive development, other concerns remain. The new triennial grant structure locks certain concerning features into the pay program until the next grant, which include a relatively low percentage of the grant that was in performance equity (for a front-loaded grant) and the award only utilizing annualized performance periods. In addition, the grant value, even when annualized, is relatively large. NEO base salaries were also relatively high, and one NEO received a large sign-on award that lacked performance-conditioned equity.	Yes	No	No
Tyler Technologies, Inc.	05/11/2023	Management	Yes	9	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. The STI plan is based entirely on pre-set financial goals, and half the long-term incentives are performance-based.	No	No	No

U.S. Bancorp	04/18/2023	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. There is some concern regarding the significant increase to the CEO's target STI opportunity, given sustained TSR underperformance, and the lack of complete disclosure of target goals and achieved results under the STI program. Additionally, the relative LTI metrics target the median, which is not considered particularly rigorous. While these issues warrant continued close monitoring, there are mitigating factors. Notably, pay and performance are reasonably aligned for the year in review. Additionally, STI funding is based on pre-set financial goals and the majority of equity awards vest based on multi-year performance. Lastly, three-year realizable pay is directionally aligned with TSR performance over the same period. Continued close monitoring of pay program disclosure and resulting payouts is warranted.	No	No	No
Uber Technologies, Inc.	05/08/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted due to the excessive amount of transportation and security-related perquisites provided to the CEO. Unity Software Inc.	06/07/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The compensation committee demonstrated poor responsiveness to low support for last year's say-on-pay proposal. Concerns are raised by the magnitude of pay for all non-CEO NEOs, who each received greater total compensation than both the CEO and the company's peer median CEO due to significant off-cycle equity grants, as well as by the predominantly time-vesting nature of FY22 equity awards. The CEO also continues to receive an entirely time-vesting long-term incentive of significant value, resulting in multiple executives paid at the level of a CEO for whom the majority of their compensation is fixed. Vertex Pharmaceuticals Incorporated	05/17/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. There continue to be concerns over the degree to which subjective assessments factor into the annual incentive, which also lacks fulsome disclosure. In addition, only 25 percent of the CEO's total performance year equity awards utilize multi-year performance conditions and the goals are not disclosed. However, these issues have not resulted in a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment for the year in review. Moreover, the above target annual incentive payout was aligned with improved financial performance and half of performance year equity is subject to performance conditions. Shareholders should continue to closely monitor these design and disclosure issues. Should a quantitative misalignment be identified moving forward, additional scrutiny may be warranted.	No	No	No

Walmart Inc.	05/31/2023	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	The incentive program is predominantly based on objective financial criteria and annual target goals appear reasonably rigorous. However, there are significant concerns regarding equity award structure, as the LTI program utilizes solely one-year measurement periods, rather than multi-year performance periods. This concern is heightened as the company uses an overlapping metric between the short- and long-term programs, which resulted in maximum achievement for same goal under both programs. While the company provides a rationale for its pay program structure, investors generally expect a majority of long-term awards to be tied to long-term, multi-year performance goals. Lastly, the CEO's personal use of corporate aircraft perquisite provided in the last fiscal year is considered excessive. In light of these concerns, the quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment is not mitigated and a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted.	Yes	No	No
Warner Bros. Discovery, Inc.	05/08/2023	Management	Yes	6	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted given that the company recently modified the CEO's employment agreement without removing the entitlement to a problematic modified single-trigger cash severance. In addition, an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment exists for the year in review. The CEO continues to receive a large base salary as well as annual bonus opportunity. The strategic goal portion of the annual bonus is poorly disclosed, along with actual performance. This is compounded in the LTI program, as certain overlapping metrics are used in both programs, including a relatively short performance period. Disclosure of strategic metrics remains relatively poor in the LTI program, which makes up the majority of the program. Concerns are also raised with regards to the inordinate amount of the CEO's personal use of corporate aircraft perquisites and the total amount of perquisite compensation reported for the CEO that is deemed excessive. Though some positive changes were made in response to shareholder feedback, some changes appear to be merely incremental improvements, which will be further analyzed in next year's report.	Yes	No	No
Waste Management, Inc.	05/09/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	After a review of the company's compensation program and practices, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted, as pay and performance are reasonably aligned at this time. Waters Corporation	05/23/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned for the year in review. Concerns are noted in the rigor of goal-setting in the STI and LTI programs. However, annual incentives are primarily based on financial metrics and half of the equity awards are performance based over a multi-year period.	No	No	No
Wayfair Inc.	04/25/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. While the CEO remains the lowest paid executive, there are significant concerns surrounding the structure of the pay program. Specifically, all other NEOs received relatively significant grants of entirely time-based equity, and executive pay was entirely fixed for the year in review following the elimination of the annual bonus program, raising concerns amid an extended period of financial underperformance. Moreover, the CEO was provided with a relatively large security perquisite of excessive value, with no clear rationale provided.	Yes	No	No

WEC Energy Group, Inc.	05/04/2023	Management	Yes	15	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned at this time. The annual and long-term incentives are primarily based on pre-set financial metrics and the long-term performance units utilize a multi-year performance period. That being said, some concerns remain regarding the TSR portion of the performance equity awards, which targets median performance and lacks a cap in the event of negative absolute TSR.	No	No	No
Wells Fargo & Company	04/25/2023	Management	Yes	14	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	There is some continuing concern regarding the annual incentive determination process, which is ultimately discretionary, paired with a lack of disclosed per-metric weightings and pre-set threshold, target and maximum goals. Additionally, base salaries for the CEO (and other NEOs) remain relatively high and the CEO's target total pay was increased during a period of long-term TSR underperformance. While these issues warrant continued close monitoring, there are mitigating factors. Notably, the discretionary annual incentive framework has not resulted in a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment. Additionally, the CEO's total incentive award was discretionarily reduced, and closing-cycle performance shares vested below target, each in directional alignment with shareholders' recent experience. Lastly, the majority of long-term incentives are based on clearly disclosed multi-year goals. On balance of these factors, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. A quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment going forward may be met with increased scrutiny of pay program structure.	No	No	No
Welltower Inc.	05/23/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. Though financial metrics in the annual bonus program appear rigorous and qualitative metric disclosure has improved, disclosure of each metric's payout percentage is lacking. Furthermore, though all financial metrics in the annual bonus performed below target, the final payout still exceeded target due to the performance of the qualitative portion of the award. Concerns are also noted in the annual LTI; though a significant portion of LTI is in performance-conditioned equity that utilizes a multi-year performance period, relative TSR goals merely target median and the maximum vesting opportunity is relatively high, no relative TSR vesting cap is disclosed if absolute TSR is negative, and forward-looking goals for one metric are not disclosed. More concerning, however, is with the existence of a special grant, which was granted one month after a special award granted in December 2022. Though the grant is entirely in multi-year performance equity with reasonably rigorous goals disclosed, the repeated use of special grants in close proximity is concerning, given the additive pay opportunities provided by off-cycle awards. Investors generally expect that special grants are infrequent.	Yes	No	No

Wynn Resorts, Limited	05/04/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR the proposal is warranted. In response to last year's low say-on-pay vote, the committee engaged with shareholders and disclosed the feedback received. In response, the company made positive changes to the FY23 pay program by increasing the proportion of FY23 PSUs in the LTI to 55 percent and providing additional disclosures in both the STI and LTI. In addition, the committee made certain assurances in a supplemental filing surrounding one-time awards and the structure of its incentive programs going forward. Accordingly, the compensation committee has demonstrated adequate responsiveness to last year's low say-on-pay vote result. While the committee did elect to reduce the proportion of annual equity awards that were performance-conditioned in FY22, the company provides a clear rationale for removing certain performance metrics, and as mentioned above, FY23 grants will be majority performance conditioned. In addition, while some concerns are raised surrounding forward-looking goals not being disclosed, the company improved its disclosure by providing closing cycle goals and actual performance, which is considered an improvement in the company's disclosure. Finally, the company provides additional details surrounding strategic goals in the annual incentive, and the majority of the program is based on clearly disclosed objective measures.	No	No	No

Xcel Energy Inc.	05/24/2023	Management	Yes	13	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. XPO, Inc.	05/17/2023	Management	Yes	11	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. While the compensation committee sufficiently responded to last year's low say-on-pay vote, an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment is present for the year in review. First, concerns are raised regarding two highly paid executives, with the new CEO's pay and the executive chairman's compensation each outpacing the compensation of CEO peers. This is particularly concerning given above-median benchmarking concerns. Additionally, certain LTI awards maintained relatively short performance periods and concerns are raised regarding the structure of the CEO's promotion grant. Lastly, the company converted prior performance awards to RSUs in connection with the spin-off, resulting in significant value to NEOs without the achievement of performance criteria.	Yes	No	No
Xylem Inc.	05/18/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company provided excessive relocation expense perquisite and related tax gross-ups to certain executives.	Yes	Yes	No
Yum! Further, there is some continuing concerns regarding the STI structure and goal rigor, which warrants continued close monitoring.	Yes	Yes	No
Zebra Technologies Corporation	05/11/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as CEO pay and company performance are reasonably aligned at this time and the majority of pay is conditioned on objective financial performance metrics. Nevertheless, some concerns remain regarding the lack of disclosure of specific performance targets under the annual incentive award, and the lack of forward-looking performance targets underlying the performance-conditioned equity awards.	No	No	No
Zimmer Biomet Holdings, Inc.	05/12/2023	Management	Yes	12	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	Following last year's low support for this proposal, the committee demonstrated adequate responsiveness to shareholders' concerns, by disclosing engagement efforts, transparent shareholder concerns, and certain commitments and pay program changes in response to these concerns. There is some concern surrounding LTI goal disclosure. However, the proxy provides forward-looking disclosure of one 2023 PSU relative metric target, which represents enhanced disclosure, requires outperformance, and caps vesting if absolute TSR is negative (although the weight is not disclosed). Additionally, the STI is predominantly based on clearly disclosed financial goals and the company's recent spinoff of ZimVie is a reasonable rationale for certain lowered targets. Further, the company targets half of LTI awards as multi-year performance equity. On balance of these factors, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Close continued monitoring of LTI disclosure is warranted.	No	No	No

Zoetis Inc.	05/18/2023	Management	Yes	9	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Some concerns remain regarding the STI and LTI programs. However, annual incentives were primarily based on pre-set financial metrics, and equity awards were targeted to be half performance-conditioned with a multi-year performance period and disclosed forward-looking targets. Zoom Video Communications, Inc.	06/15/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. Executives received large "refreshment" grants intended to cover four years of compensation and these grants lack pre-set performance criteria. In addition, some executives received grants intended to offset the lost value from a stock price decline on previous grants. Zscaler, Inc.	01/13/2023	Management	Yes	5	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. While performance targets for the annual incentive appear rigorous, a significant portion of the final payout was subjectively determined and disclosure around the determination of individual performance is lacking. In addition, the structure of the company's long-term incentive plan, which included setting performance goals annually for previously granted tranches of PSUs and utilizing goals that overlap entirely with the annual incentive program, lacked a long-term focus and resulted in payouts for similar accomplishments in both programs. Disclosure around a new PSU goal structure used for FY22 promotion grants is limited, reducing transparency into the rigor of the goal. Finally, the magnitude of the promotion grants was outsized and added to already substantial equity grant values for the NEOs who received them.	Yes	No	No

Contested Meetings Overview

Company	Ticker	ISS Governance QualityScore	Meeting Date	Position Value (USD)*	ISS Recommended Slate	Slate Voted	Key Takeaways
Illumina, Inc.	ILMN	10	25-May-2023	537,263.5	Dissident	Dissident	> There are concerns surrounding the magnitude and structure of one-time equity awards made to the CEO.
Alkermes Plc	ALKS	2	29-Jun-2023	415,956.9	Dissident	Dissident	> The company is incorporated in Ireland but is a U.S. domestic issuer as defined by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, and the proposals at this meeting have been evaluated under U.S. policy. > Sarissa Capital, an 8.5 percent shareholder, has nominated three candidates to the 11-member board. > Although Alkermes' total shareholder return has outperformed peers, its valuation has improved, it has kept R&D expense in check, and there have been recent enhancements in governance, the board has not restrained SG&A spending, delivered profitability improvements, or generated a positive return on investment. In consideration of an arbitration outcome earlier this month that is expected to deliver substantial revenue gains, the dissident has made a compelling case for incremental change to improve profitability and avoid misuse of a windfall. > Shareholders are recommended to vote on the dissident's BLUE card to: > support dissident nominee Sarah Schlesinger > withhold support from management nominee Richard Gaynor, dissident nominee Alex Denner, and dissident nominee Patrice Bonfiglio > support all management nominees other than Gaynor
Exelixis, Inc.	EXEL	3	31-May-2023	402,335.8	Dissident	Dissident	Despite the continued use of two cards, this is a proxy contest that has been resolved. The company is directly supporting two of the dissidents' three nominees on its card to replace two incumbent directors that will not stand for re-election at the 2023 AGM. The third and final incumbent director targeted by the dissident stepped down more recently and the company has indicated in a press release that it "will not contest" the election of the dissident's third candidate, David Johnson. As a result, there are currently 11 nominees for 11 board seats. However, the company has not revised its card, ostensibly for cost reasons and concerns about potential delays. As a result, the dissident has not withdrawn its card. Shareholders are recommended to vote for the eight incumbent directors and three dissident nominees (no longer contested) on the dissidents' (White) card.
Masimo Corporation	MASI	4	26-Jun-2023	146,484.5	Dissident	Dissident	> Politan Capital Management, which is a 9.0 percent shareholder, is seeking two seats on the five-member classified board. > In February 2022, the company announced the acquisition of Sound

							United, a consumer audio company. Although Sound United had a price tag of just over $1 billion, nearly $5 billion of market cap was immediately wiped away. After the dissident expressed interest in board representation in September, the company adopted a poison pill and amended advance notice provisions. The dissident filed a lawsuit challenging the advance notice provisions, along with elements of the CEO's employment contract. The board rescinded the amended advance notice provisions in February, and announced a series of governance developments in March. These included a plan to expand from five to seven members, which was postponed and has been submitted to a shareholder vote at this meeting (Item 6). The board has committed to add dissident nominee Michelle Brennan as the sixth director if the proposal is approved and both incumbent nominees are reelected. > Announcement of the Sound United acquisition demonstrated a severe disconnect between the board and shareholders. The transaction was not necessarily indefensible when viewed in isolation, but it changed the fundamental nature of the company that investors had bought into, and blindsided them in the process. Shareholders had no safety net, as the corporate governance framework had been structured to disenfranchise rather than empower them, and the board has since demonstrated a profound disregard for their interests. These and other factors evidence a fundamental lack of accountability to the investor base. As such, the dissident has made a case for change. Votes for dissident nominees Michelle Brennan and Quentin Koffey are warranted on the dissident (BLUE) card. > The compensation committee was adequately responsive to shareholder concerns following last year's low say-on-pay vote. In addition, the annual and long-term incentive programs are sufficient performance based.
WisdomTree, Inc.	WT	5	16-Jun-2023	98,885.7	Dissident	Dissident	ETFs Capital, which together with Lion Point Capital reached a settlement with WT last year to appoint two directors, expanding the board to nine members, is running a repeat campaign this year to appoint three directors. ETFs, which is controlled by Graham Tuckwell, sold its European business to WT in 2018 for cash, common shares, and preferred shares and currently holds approximately 10.2 percent through ownership of common shares and 18.3 percent on an as-converted basis together with the preferred stock as a result of this transaction. Given mixed TSR and historical operating performance, lingering questions about the balance of power on the board, and the decision to not re-nominate a director who joined last year as part of the settlement, shareholders would benefit from more independent voices on the board to ensure oversight of strategy and execution. Shareholders are recommended to vote on the dissident's card FOR dissident nominees Aust and Pankopf and company nominees Blake, Mielke, Naidoo, and Steinberg, and WITHHOLD votes from company nominees Neuger and Salerno, as well as dissident Tuckwell. Annual incentives are ultimately discretionarily determined and equity awards for certain NEOs were majority time-based, which warrants continued monitoring. However, pay and performance are reasonably aligned, the CEO's incentive was paid out at the funding level, and half of his equity

Pitney Bowes Inc.	PBI	4	09-May-2023	65,358.1	Dissident	Dissident	awards were based on clearly-disclosed multi-year goals. Shareholder support for the poison pill is not warranted as the pill has a trigger of only 10 percent and shareholders' existing inability to act outside the annual meeting cycle raises concern about its potential use as an entrenchment mechanism. > Hestia Capital Partners, which is an 8.4 percent shareholder, has nominated five directors to what will be a nine-member board after the AGM. > The company announced several board changes after launch of the dissident's campaign, including the departure of three incumbent directors at this meeting. In addition, the board appointed two new directors and is supporting one of the dissident's nominees (Katie May). > The company has spent the past decade navigating a transformation, pursuant to which it has trimmed and refocused legacy businesses while building out an ecommerce operation (GEC), which is positioned as the primary growth driver. Although elements of the process have arguably met with a degree of success, GEC has consistently failed to progress in line with self-established expectations. As a result, operational performance has deteriorated, TSR has steadily declined, and the leadership team has lost credibility. > Fundamentally, this is a contest between parties espousing competing visions for GEC, the future of which will likely have a more significant impact on the health and direction of the company than any other factor. The company has failed to convince shareholders that GEC is now on the right path, and despite recent refreshment, there are ongoing concerns with board leadership and composition. As such, the dissident has made a case for change. With that said, the bar for a control slate is high, and the dissident has not cleared it outright. By establishing a board with six new independent directors (four dissident nominees and the two new management nominees), and removing the incumbent directors with the most concerning links to management, there would be a mandate from shareholders for objective thinking about the future of GEC, and no apparent hurdle to exercising effective oversight. > Votes for dissident nominees Milena Alberti-Perez, Todd Everett, Katie May, and Kurt Wolf, and management nominees Steven Brill, Mary Guilfoile, Sheila Stamps, Darrell Thomas, and Marc Lautenbach, are warranted on the dissident (WHITE) card.
First Foundation Inc.	FFWM	4	27-Jun-2023	24,101.5	Management	Management	> Driver Management Company, a 0.6 percent shareholder, has nominated one candidate for election to replace incumbent director John Hakopian. > The company has a history of long-term positive TSR and operational performance, and appears to have taken decisive actions in response to rapidly increasing interest rates. While the company's actions did not make it immune to the effects of the current crisis impacting regional banks, it appears to be better positioned to weather the current rate environment. In light of these factors, the dissident has not presented a case that change is warranted at this time.

							> Votes for all management nominees are recommended and withhold votes are recommended on dissident nominee Allison Ball.
Blue Foundry Bancorp	BLFY	8	18-May-2023	13,616.7	Management	Management	The Committee to Preserve Stockholder Value, a group of investors led by Lawrence Seidman that owns 6.3 percent of BLFY, has nominated two candidates to the nine-member board. This proxy contest follows a Vote No campaign by Seidman against the equity plan proposal and all director nominees at the 2022 AGM. The non-employee directors' and CEO's compensation was relatively high due to equity grants in connection with the mutual-to-stock conversion. The director grants were one-time in nature, and it is relatively common for NEOs to receive larger awards following a company becoming a publicly-traded entity. In addition, short-term incentives were primarily performance-based. These factors mitigate the high director pay and pay-for-performance misalignment during the year in review. Notwithstanding profitability underperformance relative to peers, and taking into account TSR since the IPO, the mitigation of the pay-for-performance misalignment, and the relatively sparse detail of the dissident's arguments, the dissident has not made a compelling case that board change is necessary at this time. Support is therefore warranted for the management nominees. The proposed merger with a wholly-owned subsidiary has no economic or ownership impact, but will remove the supermajority vote requirement to amend the governing documents and declassify the board beginning with the 2027 AGM.
Broadwind, Inc.	BWEN	3	23-May-2023	9,529.1	Management	Management	> WM Argyle Fund LLC, which owns 1.0 percent of BWEN common shares, has nominated three directors to the seven-member board. > BWEN has spent the past several years diversifying its operations, and, after two years of macro challenges, the core wind market is poised to benefit from a recently-passed law that is expected to increase demand and enhance visibility. BWEN has already booked its first win in this new environment, announcing the largest wind tower order in company history in January. The dissident launched its campaign a week after the order was announced, citing concern with the ability of leadership to execute and take advantage of industry tailwinds. The dissident initially sought to overhaul the entire board, before reducing its slate to three nominees. > The dissident has not presented a compelling case for change. It is true that performance over longer horizons is disappointing, and that BWEN has historically struggled with profitability. However, this will be the first chance for the incumbent leadership team to demonstrate the cumulative result of its diversification efforts in a favorable setting. Thus far, the market has reacted positively to the wind tower order, operational performance has since been promising, and it appears that recent board additions were appropriate. Ultimately, there is insufficient evidence to conclude that the board is not properly configured to oversee BWEN as it seeks to capitalize on industry tailwinds. As such, votes for all management nominees on the management card are warranted.

AmeriServ Financial, Inc.	ASRV	26-May-2023	9,175.8	Management	Management	> Driver Management company, a shareholder with an approximate 8.6 percent stake, has nominated three candidates for election on the nine-member board, to replace incumbent director Daniel Onorato, who is standing for election for the first time, and new company nominees Richard Bloomingdale and David Hickton. > The company determined that Driver's nominations were invalid and has filed suit in Pennsylvania state court seeking declaratory judgement that it properly rejected Driver's nominees and that Driver has no right to nominate candidates at this annual meeting. Driver filed a countersuit in U.S. District Court seeking declaratory judgement that its nominations were valid and that the annual meeting be postponed until after the court cases are resolved. A ruling in either case is not expected before the annual meeting. The company has stated that unless the dissident's nominations are determined to be valid, the nominations and proposals will be disregarded and votes cast in favor of the dissident nominees or proposals will not be counted. > Given the uncertainty regarding the outcome of the court cases, ISS is proceeding with our analysis on an uncontested basis. In the event the courts find in favor of the dissident, the company will have to file a new proxy card and may have to delay the annual meeting, and ISS will conduct a proxy fight analysis. The question of whether Driver's nominations and proposals are valid is a matter for the courts. If the company wins its lawsuit and Driver's nominations are found invalid, the board will be vindicated on that point. However, if the company loses its lawsuit, which would demonstrate that it sought to nullify appropriately nominated candidates - it could be interpreted as further validation of Driver's case. > Votes for management nominees Bloomingdale, Hickton, and Onorato are warranted at this time. > The board lacks racial/ethnic diversity. > The elimination of cumulative voting (Item 2) is not warranted, as appropriate safeguards such as a majority voting standard for director elections with a plurality carveout and proxy access for shareholders have not been put in place, and given the backdrop of a disputed proxy contest.

MARIN COUNTY EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT ASSOCIATION (MCERA) CREDIT CARD POLICY

Adopted: March 14, 2018
Amended: October 14, 2020
Reviewed: October 31, 2023

It is the policy of Marin County Employees' Retirement Association (MCERA) to account for the proper usage of MCERA credit cards for purposes of conducting MCERA business. The MCERA Retirement Administrator shall be responsible for the issuance, accounting, monitoring, and retrieval of all credit cards issued to MCERA, and in general for overseeing compliance with this policy.

1. PURPOSE

There is a need to establish a clear, accountable and enforceable MCERA Credit Card Policy. The purpose of this policy is to set guidelines for the use of credit cards issued to MCERA staff. In addition, the relevant cardholder's responsibility statement issued by the financial institution (i.e. Bank of America) and the cardholder's agreement govern the use of the MCERA credit card. The MCERA credit card purchasing option will significantly reduce the costs associated with low dollar purchases; the time involved in making low dollar purchases; and the amount of paperwork needed to make low dollar purchases, requisitions and purchase orders processed.

2. SCOPE

This credit card policy is intended to provide clarity and understanding of the legal framework (statutes, Board policies and other applicable rules and regulations) for MCERA credit card acquisition, usage and oversight, as follows.

- a. Any MCERA employee responsible for making credit card purchases using MCERA funds must comply with this credit card policy.
- b. The credit card policy included herein applies to all MCERA employees.
- c. This MCERA credit card policy will be used to establish uniform policy governing all MCERA credit card expenditure of funds.

3. STANDARD

a. Background

MCERA has chosen to document its Credit Card program for credit card use by authorized MCERA staff. MCERA has issued this MCERA credit card policy and procedure to guide the users of the MCERA credit card.

This document contains policies and procedures to be followed by MCERA employees whose duties require them to perform MCERA credit card transactions. The contents of this document is applicable to all MCERA staff performing duties as part of their role at MCERA.

Staff who are involved in MCERA credit card transactions should be familiar with this policy and procedure. This document should be readily available to MCERA employees as a reference in carrying out their day-to-day usage of the MCERA credit card and in training new MCERA employees with credit card transaction roles.

b. Accountability

The MCERA credit card is to be used for official MCERA business only, and may not be used for personal purchases.

MCERA credit cards may be issued to three authorized employees of MCERA: Clerk of the Board of Retirement, Senior Accounting Assistant, and Retirement Administrator, and Procurement Agent as designated by the Retirement Administrator. Cardholders are responsible for the physical security of the card, the credit card number, and all charges appearing on the monthly statement of the card provided by MCERA under their name. Although no other individual may use the card or be provided with the credit card number, another person may pick up merchandise ordered by the cardholder.

The MCERA credit card is issued to a Cardholder for use by the person, on behalf of MCERA, only. Generic cards cannot be issued. The MCERA credit card must be used only by the Cardholder of official MCERA business only. No other MCERA employee, family member, supervisor, or person may use the card.

c. Prohibited MCERA Credit Card Purchases

Prohibited credit card purchases include, but are not limited to, the following transactions. Exceptions may only be granted by the Retirement Administrator in writing. If the Retirement Administrator seeks an exception to this policy, it may be granted in writing only by the Chair of the Board of Retirement.

- Reprographic services;
- Capital assets;
- Professional services;
- Wire transfer, money order;
- Direct marketing insurance services;
- Financial institutions: annual cash advance, automatic cash advance;
- Non-Financial institutions; foreign currency, money orders, traveler's check;
- Security brokers/dealers;
- Overpayments;
- Savings bonds;
- Timeshares;
- Betting, casino gaming chips, off-track betting;
- Political organizations;

B.3.a

- Religious organizations;
- Court costs, alimony, child support;
- Fines;
- Bail and bond payments;
- Tax payments;
- Government loan payments; and
- Other restrictions as defined in the procedures or determined by the Purchasing Agent.

d. Purchasing Methods

Cardholders may use the MCERA credit card to purchase goods in person, by telephone, by FAX, by mail or electronically over the Internet. The MCERA credit card may be used at any business establishment that accepts a VISA credit card as a form of payment. If a vendor does not accept VISA and would like to become a VISA authorized merchant, they should contact their preferred financial institution.

The MCERA credit card may be used by MCERA instead of traditional purchasing methods, to make low dollar purchases of items where no other advantage in price, terms, or delivery time can be gained by Purchasing's buyer involvement. Most items under $1,000 may be purchased using the MCERA credit card as long as the vendor accepts a VISA credit card.

If a cardholder uses the MCERA credit card to purchase goods or services for his or her business needs, the ~~Accounting Unit Manager~~ Chief Financial Officer— Approving Official (AO), must provide written pre-approval for such a purchase.

e. Roles and Responsibilities

The MCERA credit card program has two levels of organizational responsibility as described below.

Bank of America – Bank of America is the contractor that provides the MCERA credit card to the MCERA cardholders.

MCERA Retirement Administrator – For purposes of the MCERA credit card program, the Retirement Administrator has the duty and responsibilities to add, change or delete Cardholders. The MCERA Retirement Administrator is the final approver attesting that all charges on the monthly Cardholder statement are allowable purchases per MCERA policies and procedures.

MCERA Approving Official (AO) – For purposes of the MCERA credit card program, the Chief Financial Officer serves as the AO and up to three cardholders, Clerk of the Board of Retirement, Senior Accounting Assistant Accountant, and Retirement Administrator. In the absence of the AO, the MCERA Retirement Administrator or the MCERA Assistant Retirement Administrator will serve as the alternate AO.

B.3.a

The MCERA Retirement Administrator has designated the MCERA ~~Accounting Unit Manager~~Chief Financial Officer to be the AO for pre-auditing invoices supporting the MCERA credit card purchases.

- The AO will attest that all charges on the monthly Cardholder statement are allowable purchases per MCERA policies and procedures.
- The duties and responsibilities of the AO are:
 - a. Ensure the Accounting Unit receives ~~To receive~~ all ~~supporting~~ documentation supporting the Cardholder's monthly statements ~~for review~~. The AO must account for each Cardholder's monthly activity by comparing the received information with the Approving Official Summary Report;
 - b. To review all payment documents, supporting receipts and invoices to ensure items being purchased match by item and amount what is shown in the monthly Cardholder's billing statement;
 - c. To determine that purchases are in accordance with MCERA policies;
 - d. To verify the Cardholder has reconciled the supporting documentation to the monthly billing statement and has authorized the charges by signing and dating the bottom of the statement;
 - e. ~~Once everything has been validated, the AO will authorize payment by signing the bottom of the monthly billing statement;~~
 - f. To ~~submit a signed~~review and approve the MCERA Invoice for payment processing ~~at least ten working days~~ prior to the payment due date in Munis.
 - g. To retain supporting documents of MCERA credit card transactions, Cardholder monthly statements, and other documents related to the MCERA credit card.
 - h. When requested, to provide documents and information during the annual random MCERA audit.

Cardholder – The Cardholder is responsible for ensuring that the MCERA credit card is used in accordance with all MCERA and Bank of America regulations, policies, and procedures. The Cardholder will receive prior approval from the Retirement administrator before charging any education or travel related expenses associated with their work at MCERA.

- The Cardholder is also responsible for:
- The physical security of the card and the card number;
- Accumulating Cardholder copies of sales drafts, charge slips and any supporting documentation;
- Reconciling receipts and charge slips to the monthly billing statement; and
- Sending ~~reconciled and signed~~ monthly statements s and receipts/supporting documentation to ~~the AO~~Accounting for review and processing.

Revocation of Privileges: The MCERA credit card privileges may be revoked at any time, upon direction of the MCERA Retirement Administrator. The MCERA credit card privileges will be revoked if the Cardholder continuously misuses the credit card.

B.3.a

Improper purchases, frequent lost receipts, not maintaining supporting documentation, and/or not complying with the intent and details of the MCERA credit card program are examples of misuse.

Intentional use of the MCERA credit card for other than official MCERA purposes may result in immediate cancellation of the Cardholder's MCERA credit card, and possible disciplinary action.

MCERA Invoice Processor – is responsible for

- compiling supporting documentation received from the Cardholders for each credit card and;
- creating a Summary Report of transactions and GL coding for the AO;
- entering MCERA invoices and all supporting documentation in MUNIS for review and approval for payment.

MCERA Invoice Approver L1 – is responsible for reviewing and approving MCERA invoices in MUNIS. Additionally, he/she must ensure that the entries are correct and all supporting documentation is attached-

f. Card Appearance

The MCERA credit card is a standard VISA card issued by Bank of America. The card has Marin County Retirement both printed and embossed on it. The MCERA credit card is embossed with the individual Cardholder's name.

g. Spending Limits

MCERA establishes the maximum single transaction limit and maximum monthly amount of not more than $5,000 respectively for each Cardholder. MCERA may decrease this limit as warranted. If the monthly amount of $5,000 will be exceeded the Cardholder will seek prior written approval from the Retirement Administrator before making any purchases over the monthly maximum, or by the Chair of the Board of Retirement if such written approval is sought by the Retirement Administrator.

Most items under $1,000 may be purchased using the MCERA credit card as long as the vendor accepts a VISA credit card. With the exception of conference registrations, Board Workshops and travel related to education and official duties of the Board of Retirement or MCERA staff, all other items purchased over $1,000 must be approved by the ~~Accounting Unit Manager~~ Chief Financial Officer in consultation with the Retirement Administrator.

4. QUALITY ASSURANCE/IMPROVEMENT

INTRODUCTION

The Marin County Employees' Retirement Association ("MCERA") was established to provide retirement benefits to county employees and other local public agencies. The Board of Retirement (the "Board" and/or the "Board of Retirement") is comprised of the County Director of Finance, four members appointed by the County Board of Supervisors, four members elected by the membership, plus one alternate retiree and one alternate safety member. The Director of Finance may also designate a deputy, who is employed under the Director of Finance's authority, to act in his or her place and stead on the Board or any of its committees.

MCERA was organized in accordance with the provisions of California's 1937 County Employees Retirement Law ("1937 Act"). The powers and duties of the Board of Retirement are set forth in the 1937 Act and in Article XVI, section 17, of the State Constitution. This document provides a framework for the investment of the assets of MCERA. The Board of Retirement has established a standing Investment Committee, which is composed of all members of the Board of Retirement ("Investment Committee" or "Committee"). As set forth in the Investment Committee's Charter, the Committee has been delegated all investment authority of MCERA as set forth therein. The purpose of the Investment Policy is to assist the Board, through the Investment Committee, in effectively supervising and monitoring the assets of MCERA (the "Plan" or the "Fund"). Specifically, it will address the following issues:

- The general goals of the investment program;
- The policies and procedures for the management of the investments;
- Specific asset allocations, rebalancing procedures and investment guidelines;
- Performance objectives; and
- Responsible parties.

The Investment Committee establishes this investment policy in accordance with applicable local, State, and Federal laws. The Board and Committee members exercise authority and control over the Plan, by setting policy which the Staff executes either internally or through the use of external prudent experts. The Board and Committee oversee and guide the Plan subject to the following basic fiduciary responsibilities:

- Solely in the interest of, and for the exclusive purpose of, providing benefits to participants and their beneficiaries, minimizing contributions thereto, and defraying reasonable expenses of administering the Plan.
- Invest and manage Fund assets as a prudent investor would, by considering the purposes, terms, distribution requirements, and other circumstances of the Fund. In satisfying this standard of care, the trustees shall exercise reasonable care, skill, and caution.
- Diversify the investments of the Plan so as to minimize the risk of loss and to maximize the rate of return, unless under the circumstances it is clearly prudent not to do so. Diversification is applicable to the deployment of the assets as a whole.

B.3.b

This policy statement is designed to allow for sufficient flexibility in the management oversight process to capture investment opportunities as they may occur, while setting forth reasonable parameters to ensure prudence and care in the execution of the investment program.

DRAFT

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

The policies and procedures of MCERA's investment program are designed to maximize the probability that the investment goals will be fulfilled. Investment policies will evolve as Fund conditions change and as investment conditions warrant.

Asset Allocation Policy

MCERA adopts and implements an asset allocation policy that is predicated on a number of factors, including:

- A projection of actuarial assets, liabilities and benefit payments and the cost of contributions;
- Historical and expected long-term capital market risk and return behavior;
- An assessment of future economic conditions, including inflation and interest rate levels; and
- The current and projected funding status of the Plan.

This policy provides for diversification of assets in an effort to maximize the investment return of the Plan consistent with market conditions. Asset allocation modeling identifies asset classes the Plan will utilize and the percentage that each class represents of the total Fund. Due to the fluctuation of market values, positioning within a specified range is acceptable and constitutes compliance with the policy. It is anticipated that an extended period of time may be required to fully implement the asset allocation policy, and that periodic revisions will occur. MCERA's Staff and external consultants will monitor and assess the actual asset allocation versus policy and will evaluate any variation deemed significant.

The Board and Committee will implement the asset allocation policy (i) through the use of investment managers to invest the assets of MCERA in accordance with the investment guidelines incorporated into the investment management agreements executed with MCERA and/or (ii) through its investment in limited liability partnerships, limited liability corporations, commingled funds, group trusts or other commonly used investment vehicles, which invest allocated assets in accordance with the governing documents for the investment vehicle. When appropriate, passive management strategies may also be utilized.

INVESTMENT GOAL STATEMENT

The Plan's general investment goals are broad in nature. The objective shall be to efficiently allocate and manage the assets dedicated to the payment of Plan benefits and administrative expenses. The following goals, consistent with the above described purpose, are adopted:

- The overall goal of MCERA's investments is to provide Plan participants with retirement, disability, and death and survivor benefits as provided for under the County Employees Retirement Law of 1937 (CERL) and California Public Employees' Pension Reform Act of 2013 \(PEPRA\), as applicable. This will be accomplished through a carefully planned and executed long-term investment program.
- MCERA's assets will be managed on a total return basis. While MCERA recognizes the importance of the preservation of capital, it also adheres to the principle that varying degrees of investment risk are generally rewarded with compensating returns.
- The total portfolio over the long term will be expected to:
 1. Meet or exceed a long-term total portfolio real (above inflation) return commensurate with the target asset allocation contained in Appendix A to this document (annualized, net of fees, over a full market cycle, normally defined as 5-7 years);
 2. Meet or exceed the assumed actuarial rate of return over long-term periods; and
 3. Meet or exceed a weighted index of the total Plan's asset allocation policy and component benchmarks over rolling five-year periods by an appropriate amount (annualized, net of fees, over a full market cycle).
- MCERA's Investment Policy has been designed to produce a total portfolio, long-term real return. Consequently, prudent risk-taking is warranted within the context of overall portfolio diversification to meet this goal. The investment activities are designed and executed in a manner that serves the best interests of the members and beneficiaries of the Association.
- All transactions undertaken will be for the sole benefit of MCERA's members and beneficiaries and for the exclusive purpose of providing benefits to them, minimizing contributions to the Plan and defraying reasonable associated administrative expenses.
- MCERA has a long-term investment horizon, and utilizes an asset allocation plan that encompasses a strategic, long-run perspective of capital markets. It is recognized that a strategic long-run asset allocation plan implemented in a consistent and disciplined manner will be the major determinant of the Plan's investment performance.

Investment recommendations and subsequent actions are expected to comply with "prudent expert" standards. Board and Committee members are expected to comply with "prudent investor" standards.

Manager Utilization and Selection

The selection of investment managers is accomplished in accordance with all applicable local, State and Federal laws and regulations. Each investment manager and consultant functions under a formal contract which delineates responsibilities and appropriate performance expectations. A formal set of investment guidelines and investment administrative requirements for each investment manager has been established and is provided as an addendum to this document. With regard to investment in limited liability partnerships, limited liability corporations, commingled funds, group trusts or other commonly used investment vehicles, the management of the relevant investment vehicle and the investment guidelines will be as set forth in the fund's legal documentation.

Manager Authority

The Plan's investment managers, unless otherwise noted in their contract, shall have designated discretion to direct and manage the investment and reinvestment of assets allocated to their accounts in accordance with this document; applicable local, State and Federal statutes and regulations; and individual management investment plans and executed contracts. Commingled investments, including but not limited to investments in mutual funds, trusts, limited liability partnerships, limited liability corporations, group trusts or other commonly used investment vehicles, are expected to comply with the guidelines established in the governing documents or fund prospectus.

The Board, Committee, and Staff will consider the comments and recommendations of consultants in conjunction with other available information in making informed, prudent decisions.

Proxy Voting

MCERA acknowledges that the ownership of equities requires proxies to be voted. MCERA commits to managing its proxy voting rights with the same care, skill, diligence and prudence as is exercised in managing its other assets. As responsible fiduciaries, the Board of Retirement will exercise its proxy voting rights in the sole interest of the Plan's members and beneficiaries in accordance with all applicable statutes and MCERA's Proxy Voting and Corporate Governance Policy.

Securities Lending

The Board and/or Committee may authorize the execution of a "Securities Lending Program" which will be performed by the Plan custodian or qualified third-party securities lending agent(s). The program will be established by a written agreement authorized by the Board and/or Committee and monitored and reviewed by the Staff.

The following are the general guidelines for the securities lending program:

1. The lending program may be implemented through the use of agent lenders or principal lenders;

B.3.b

2. The lenders may lend financial securities including, but not limited to, U.S. and non-U.S. equities, corporate bonds, and U.S. and non-U.S. government securities;
3. If an agent program is implemented, the agent shall have full discretion over the selection of borrowers and shall continually review the creditworthiness of potential borrowers through extensive analysis of relevant information;
4. All loans shall be fully collateralized with cash, government securities or irrevocable bank letters of credit;
5. Cash collateral received from securities borrowers will be deposited upon receipt in a pre-approved short-term investment vehicle or vehicles;
6. Loans of U.S. securities are initially collateralized at 102% of the market value of the borrowed securities if the borrowed securities and the collateral are denominated in the same currency and at 105% if the borrowed securities and the collateral are denominated in different currencies. As the market value of the collateral falls below 102% (105%) of the market value of the borrowed securities, the borrower is marked to market each business day using yesterday's closing prices, subject to the lending agent's de minimis rules of change;
7. Securities on loan should be marked-to-market on a daily basis to assess adequacy of collateralization;
8. The lender shall provide periodic performance reports to MCERA;
9. The securities lending program should in no way inhibit the portfolio management activities of the other investment managers of the system;
10. Staff shall be responsible for making an annual report to the Board and/or Committee on securities lending activity; and
11. All other operational aspects of MCERA's securities lending program are hereby delegated to Staff.

Derivatives and Leverage

MCERA's investment managers may be permitted under the terms of individual investment guidelines to use derivative instruments to implement market decisions and security positions and to control portfolio risk. Derivatives are contracts or securities whose returns are derived from the returns of other securities, indices or instruments including, but not limited to, futures, forwards, options, swaps and options on futures. Examples of appropriate applications of derivative strategies include hedging interest rate and currency risk, rebalancing portfolio exposures, securitizing Fund level and manager cash, maintaining exposure to a desired asset class while effecting asset allocation changes and adjusting portfolio duration for fixed income. Portfolio liabilities associated with investments (i.e. mortgage forward bond purchases, futures, in-the-money short puts, reverse repurchase agreements, etc.) shall be backed by cash equivalents or deliverable securities.

MCERA's investment managers are not allowed to utilize derivatives for speculative purposes. All derivatives must be backed by collateral in the form of deliverable securities equal to or greater than the value of the total derivative exposure. In no circumstances can individual managers borrow funds to purchase derivatives. No derivatives positions can be established that create portfolio characteristics outside of portfolio guidelines. Managers must ascertain and carefully monitor the creditworthiness of any third parties involved in derivative transactions.

Rebalancing

~~Staff shall, on an ongoing basis in accordance with market fluctuations, rebalance the Fund's portfolio so as to remain within the range of targeted allocations and distributions among investment managers and asset allocations.~~ MCERA has a long-term investment horizon and utilizes an asset allocation plan that encompasses a strategic, long-run perspective of capital markets. It is recognized that a strategic long-run asset allocation plan implemented in a consistent and disciplined manner will be the major determinant of the Plan's investment performance. MCERA's overlay manager reviews the plans strategic asset allocation on a daily basis and automatically rebalances the allocation back to target ranges.

In addition to the overlay program, staff will monitor asset weights in the Fund's portfolio and conduct a physical rebalance as necessary to remain within the ranges of the targeted asset allocations identified in the Fund's asset allocation plan.

~~MCERA will not attempt to time rises or falls in equity or bond markets by moving away from long-term targets.~~

~~Systematic rebalancing, implemented~~The fund will systematically rebalance when the asset classes move outside their target ranges or when significant cash flows occur.; Rebalancing will not be used to maintain or to move asset allocations within these appropriate ranges ~~time rises or falls in equity or bond markets by moving away from long-term targets.~~

GENERAL INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES AND GUIDELINES

Equity Portfolios

Each equity investment manager retained by MCERA will follow a specific investment style and will be evaluated against a specific market index that represents their investment style. In addition, in the case of active managers, investment results may also be compared to returns of a peer group of managers with similar styles. Benchmarks for the various equity portfolios may include the following indices as well as those proposed by the managers reviewed by the Staff and approved by the Investment Committee or Board:

Domestic Equity Portfolio – Russell 3000 Index

Large Cap Stocks – Russell 1000 Index

Small Cap Stocks – Russell 2000 Index

International Equity Portfolio – MSCI ACWI ex-US IMI Index

International Large Cap Stocks – MSCI EAFE Index

International Small Cap Stocks – MSCI EAFE Small Cap Index

International Emerging Markets Stocks – MSCI Emerging Markets Free Index

General equity guidelines for active managers include the following:

- American Depositary Receipts (ADRs) and foreign securities listed on a major US stock exchange or on the NASDAQ are permitted if specified in the manager's guidelines.
- Convertible securities may be held in equity portfolios and shall be considered equity holdings.
- Securities must be traded on a regulated stock exchange, or listed on the NASDAQ or a comparable foreign market operation.
- Forward or futures contracts for foreign currencies may be entered into for hedging purposes or pending the selection and purchase of suitable investments in, or the settlement of, any such securities transactions only in international equity portfolios.

 - The use of borrowed funds
 - Short sales or margin sales

Fixed Income Portfolios

The fixed income portfolios will be managed on a total return basis, following specific investment styles and evaluated against specific market indices that represent a specific investment style or market segment. In addition, investment results may also be compared to returns of a peer group of managers investing with a similar style. The benchmarks for the various fixed income portfolios may include the following indices:

Fixed Income Portfolio – Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index

U.S. Core Plus Fixed Income – Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index

General fixed income guidelines include the following:

- Unless specified in the manager's guidelines, the minimum average quality rating of the securities in any portfolio will maintain an average weighted credit quality of not more than 2 rating notches below the benchmark's average weighted credit quality, at all times. For the avoidance of doubt, if the benchmark is rated AA-, then 2 notches below would be A.
- Ratings method: The ratings method used to test both the benchmark's average credit rating and the portfolio's average credit rating will be "split to the highest rating" of the three major rating agencies.
- Derivatives, including forward or futures contracts for foreign currencies, may be used to hedge the portfolio, or to effect portfolio management decisions in a timely, cost-effective manner. Borrowed funds shall not be used.
- An individual investment manager's portfolio shall have an effective duration between 75% - 125% of the effective duration of the appropriate index, unless a broader range is permitted with the specific manager guidelines in the Appendix.
- The following transactions are prohibited unless specifically authorized by the Investment Committee or Board or by the specific manager guidelines in the Appendix:
 - Private placements (except 144As);
 - Interest Only CMOs, Principal Only CMOs, inverse floaters and any tranche that has a leveraged component embedded in the structure.

Real Estate Portfolios

The Real Estate portfolios will be managed on a total return basis, through a combination of income and appreciation, following specific investment styles and evaluated against a specific market index. In addition, investment results may also be compared to returns of a peer group of managers investing with a similar style. The benchmark for the various Real Estate portfolios may include the following index:

Real Estate Portfolio – NFI-ODCE Equal Weighted Index (Net)

Core Real Estate – NFI-ODCE Equal Weighted Index (Net)

- All investments in real estate shall be managed by external advisors.
- MCERA may invest in real estate through diversified institutional commingled vehicles. The vehicles can be limited liability partnerships, limited liability corporations, group trusts or other commonly used investment vehicles.
- The vehicle's manager(s) will have discretion with respect to the management of the fund's investment program, operating within the parameters delineated in the fund's legal documentation.

Real Assets Portfolio

The real assets portfolio will be managed on a total return basis, following specific investment styles and evaluated against specific market indices that represent a specific investment style or market segment. In addition, investment results may also be compared to returns of a peer group of managers investing with a similar style. The benchmarks for the various real assets portfolios may include the following indices:

Treasury Inflation Protected Securities – Bloomberg U.S. TIPS Index

Commodities – Bloomberg Commodities Index

Global Natural Resources Equity – S&P Global Natural Resources Index

Real Estate Investment Trusts – Dow Jones U.S. Select Real Estate Securities Index

- MCERA may invest in real assets through separate accounts or diversified institutional commingled vehicles.
- The vehicle's manager(s) will have discretion with respect to the management of the fund's investment program, operating within the parameters delineated in the fund's legal documentation.

B.3.b

- The investment objective of the real assets program is to create a portfolio of high-quality real assets investments that will enhance long-term investment performance, meet inflation objectives, and diversify the asset base for the entire MCERA investment portfolio.

Private Equity Portfolios

MCERA will invest in private equity through institutional closed-end, finite-life commingled private equity fund-of-funds vehicles. The fund-of-funds vehicles will be limited liability partnerships, limited liability corporations, group trusts or other commonly used investment vehicles.

- Private equity investments will consist primarily of limited partnership investments in diversified private equity portfolios (e.g., venture capital, acquisition, special situation, subordinated debt, restructuring funds, and others).
- The vehicle's manager(s) will have discretion with respect to the management of the fund-of-funds investment program, operating within the parameters delineated in the investment vehicle's legal documents.
- The investment objective of the private equity allocation is to achieve consistent positive real returns and to maximize long-term total return net of fees within prudent levels of risk through capital appreciation and diversification.
- While the investment guidelines of each investment vehicle will be determined by the fund-of-funds legal documentation, the fund's manager, in managing the portfolio, should take prudent care.

Opportunistic Portfolio

MCERA may invest in opportunistic investments that will vary by assignment. Performance objectives or guidelines will be defined by MCERA in its retention of managers or selection of suitable investments and will be evaluated to test progress toward attainment of longer-term goals.

- MCERA may invest in opportunistic investments through separate accounts and diversified institutional commingled vehicles which may include limited liability partnerships, limited liability corporations, group trusts or other commonly used investment vehicles.
- The manager(s) will have discretion with respect to the management of the separate account or fund's investment program, operating within the parameters delineated in the separate account or fund's legal documentation.
- The investment objective of the opportunistic allocation is to achieve consistent positive real returns and to maximize long-term total return net of fees within prudent levels of risk through capital appreciation and diversification.

Short Term Investment/Cash Equivalents

MCERA is restricted from investing short term funds and cash equivalents in investment vehicles other than the Treasurer's Pool, the State Pool and the STIF funds maintained at the custodian bank. Retirement funds shall be invested in investments with an average maturity of one year or less.

Any exemption from these general guidelines requires prior written approval from the Board or Investment Committee.

Policy Implementation Overlay

The Board or Investment Committee may retain a "policy overlay manager" to rebalance portfolio exposures, bridge exposure gaps during transitions, 'securitize' Fund level cash, and securitize residual cash positions held by each manager. The policy overlay manager may use futures or swaps, when appropriate, to gain market exposure on existing cash positions. The manager will not use futures or other derivative instruments for speculative purposes.

INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT POLICY

MCERA will utilize externally managed portfolios based on specific styles and methodologies. The manager will acknowledge in writing, as more particularly set forth in Appendix B, that they are fiduciaries to MCERA with respect to the assets they manage and/or invest on MCERA's behalf, and will have discretion and authority to determine investment strategy, security selection and timing within their asset class and subject to the Policy guidelines and any other guidelines specific to their portfolio. Performance of the portfolio will be monitored and evaluated on a regular basis relative to each portfolio component's benchmark return and relative to peer groups of managers with similar investment styles where applicable.

Investment managers, as prudent experts, will be expected to know MCERA's investment policies (as outlined in this document) and any specific guidelines for their portfolios, and to comply with those policies and guidelines. It is each manager's responsibility to identify policies that may have an adverse impact on performance, and to initiate discussion with Staff toward possible amendment to said policies through Board or Investment Committee action.

The Investment Committee and Staff will also review each investment manager's adherence to its investment policy, and any material changes in the manager's organization (e.g., personnel changes, new business developments, etc.). The investment managers retained by MCERA will be responsible for informing the Investment Committee and Staff of all such material changes on a timely basis.

Investment managers under contract with MCERA shall have discretion to establish and execute transactions with established regional and national securities broker/dealers as needed. Unless otherwise authorized by the Board or Investment Committee, these investment managers must obtain the best available prices and most favorable executions with respect to all of the portfolio transactions as market conditions permit.

Unless specifically authorized by the Board or Investment Committee, the following transactions will be prohibited: short sales; selling on margin; "prohibited transactions" as defined under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA); transactions that involve a broker acting as a "principal", where such broker is also the investment manager who is making the transaction, and any or all investment activities forbidden by the SEC or other applicable governing bodies.

Selection Criteria for Investment Managers

Criteria will be established for each manager search undertaken by MCERA, and will be tailored to MCERA's needs in such a search. In general, eligible managers will possess attributes including, but not limited to, the following:

- The firm must be experienced in managing money for institutional clients in the asset class/product category/investment style specified by MCERA.

B.3.b

- The firm must display a record of stability in retaining and attracting qualified investment professionals, as well as a record of managing asset growth effectively, both in gaining and retaining clients.
- The firm must have an asset base sufficient to accommodate MCERA's portfolio. In general, managers should have at least $100 million of discretionary institutional assets under management, and MCERA's portfolio should make up no more than 20% of the firm's total asset base. Exceptions shall be made on a case-by-case basis.
- The firm must demonstrate adherence to the investment style sought by MCERA, and adherence to the firm's stated investment discipline.
- The firm's fees should be competitive with industry standards for the product category.
- The firm must comply with the "Duties of the investment managers" outlined herein and conform to the CFA Institute standards for performance reporting.

Criteria for Investment Manager Termination and Watchlist

MCERA reserves the unilateral right to terminate a manager at any time for any reason. The occurrence of certain events will result in specific actions being taken. This section describes these events, the course of action that will be taken and the responsible parties. It also establishes a "Watchlist" as a means of monitoring and evaluating managers who meet any of the items identified under the Criteria For Investment Manager Termination. If a manager is on the Watchlist no additional assets will be allocated to the manager until the manager has been removed from the Watchlist, provided however that if the Investment Committee determines, after review and discussion with staff and its Investment Consultant, that it is appropriate and in alignment with the other goals established under this policy to make additional funds to a manager on the Watchlist then the Committee can vote to direct the staff to take this action. The Investment Committee will determine where to invest any additional assets that would otherwise have been allocated to the manager. Each manager on the Watchlist will be monitored closely by Staff and the Consultant and may be required to make special presentations to the Investment Committee and Staff if requested. MCERA may place a manager on the Watchlist at any time and when it is deemed warranted due to improved conditions, a manager may be removed from the Watchlist.

Illegal or Unethical Practice. The manager will report this event in writing to the Retirement Administrator not later than the close of the business day following discovery of the illegal or unethical practice. The Retirement Administrator will inform the Investment Committee in writing of this practice as soon as administratively possible. If the illegal or unethical practice has a material adverse effect upon the MCERA portfolio, or any attempt was made by the manager to hide this practice, the manager will normally be terminated upon review and action by the Investment Committee. If the practice is procedural and has been properly referred to the appropriate regulatory authorities, the Retirement Administrator will recommend to the Investment Committee whether or not to terminate the manager.

Guideline Violation. The manager will report any guideline violation in writing to the Retirement Administrator not later than the close of the second business day following discovery along with the manager's proposed remedy. If the violation results in a loss to MCERA, the manager will compensate MCERA for this loss. If the manager refuses to correct this violation, or if other violations occur, the Retirement Administrator may recommend termination of the manager to the Investment Committee. Guideline violations that have been corrected will be reported to the Investment Committee at their next regular meeting. Violations that have not been corrected, or violations that persist, will be reported to the Investment Committee as soon as administratively possible.

Deviation from Investment Process. If the Retirement Administrator determines that the manager has deviated materially from its stated investment process or philosophy, the Retirement Administrator will report to the Chair of the Investment Committee as soon as possible. The Retirement Administrator may also recommend termination of the manager, as soon as administratively possible, to the Investment Committee.

Loss of Key Personnel or Change in Ownership. The manager will inform the Retirement Administrator in writing within 24 hours following the loss of key personnel or a change in ownership. Loss of key personnel may result in termination of the manager. A material change in the ownership of the manager may result in the termination of the manager. The Retirement Administrator will make a recommendation regarding termination to the Investment Committee as soon as administratively possible.

Lack of Cooperation with Reasonable Requests. The manager is required to provide information, attend meetings and comply with other reasonable requests. Failure to do so may result in a recommendation to terminate the manager.

Underperformance. MCERA understands the cyclical nature of investment performance and the potential for its investment managers not to meet objectives over short-term periods. While it is not the Investment Committee's intention to terminate a manager for short-term underperformance relative to objectives, the Investment Committee has implemented the following process as a means of monitoring and evaluating managers that have experienced performance difficulties in the short-term to assess the impact on longer-term performance.

If a manager trails its relevant benchmark by more than 100 basis points (net of fees) and ranks in the bottom quartile of its peer universe (gross of fees ranking) for the trailing three years, or if a manager trails its relevant benchmark (net of fees) or ranks below median of its peer universe (gross of fees ranking) for the trailing five years, then the manager may be placed on the Watchlist.

If the underperformance of a manager on the Watchlist persists over a reasonable period in the future (as defined by the Staff, Investment Committee and Consultant based on the unique circumstances surrounding the manager and current market conditions), the Investment Committee may and will consider termination.

Procedures Following the Initiation of Watch Status.

The watch period will be established for a one-year total duration.

If at the end of the watch period, performance has improved to above-benchmark and/or above the manager median over a market cycle, the manager will be removed from the Watchlist.

If at the end of the watch period, the manager is underperforming the manager may be terminated or remain on the Watchlist for a period defined by the Investment Committee.

Unlike open-end funds and separate accounts for public market securities which are more easily liquidated, exiting open-end or closed-end commingled funds for private markets may have liquidity constraints. For these reasons, the Watchlist and terminating procedures used for traditional public market vehicles are not applicable for private market vehicles. Staff with the assistance of the Investment Consultant will make appropriate recommendations for exiting such positions.

PRIVATE EQUITY POLICY

MCERA's private equity investments allocation will consist primarily of limited partnership investments in diversified private equity portfolios (e.g., venture capital, acquisition, special situation, subordinated debt, and restructuring funds and others). MCERA will invest in private equity through institutional closed-end, finite-life commingled private equity fund-of-funds vehicles. The fund-of-funds vehicles will be limited liability partnerships, limited liability corporations, group trusts or other commonly used investment vehicles. Investments directly in stand-alone corporate finance limited partnerships and direct investments in companies are not currently considered appropriate. The vehicle's manager(s) will have discretion with respect to the management of the fund-of-funds investment program, operating within the parameters delineated in the fund's legal documentation. The investment manager of the fund-of-funds will acknowledge in writing by side letter or otherwise that they are Plan fiduciaries and will acknowledge having read and understood the guidelines set forth in this section of the Investment Policy Statement and any other guidelines specific to their portfolio as more particularly set forth in Appendix C.

To maintain an appropriate funded status on a net asset value basis, MCERA may be required to make periodic commitments to additional fund-of-funds vehicles managed by either the same or different fund-of-funds managers. MCERA's staff will work with the investment consultant and the managers to determine appropriate commitment timing and amounts and present a recommended plan to the Investment Committee annually.

To ensure adequate access and diversification, MCERA may utilize multiple fund-of-funds providers. There is no specific limit on the number of vendors to be utilized. However, to avoid unnecessary administrative burdens, MCERA will limit the number of vendors employed to the extent practical. Only those firms committed to providing ongoing access to the private equity arena through fund-of-funds offerings, who have a demonstrated record of investing client funds in top tier private equity partnerships and who limit assets accepted for management to sums that can in fact be committed in top tier funds will be considered.

MCERA recognizes that many well-qualified fund-of-funds providers make direct private equity investments within the fund-of-funds vehicle (e.g. secondary or co-investments). Such investments are permissible provided that they constitute a comparatively small portion of the total fund-of-funds' asset base (typically less than 35%).

Investment Objectives

The investment objective of the private equity allocation is to achieve consistent positive real returns and to maximize long-term total return within prudent levels of risk through capital appreciation and diversification. MCERA's holdings will be professionally managed on a cash-to-cash basis and will have broad exposure to key private corporate finance strategies (e.g., venture capital, acquisition, special situation, etc.), with allocations to the various strategies diversified in a manner consistent with institutional private equity programs generally.

Selection Criteria for Private Equity

Partnership Selection

As requested by MCERA, the investment consultant shall develop a proposed “Manager Candidate Profile” that will serve as the basis for evaluation of potential fund-of-funds providers consistent with MCERA’s investment policy. This document will specify the minimum selection criteria for potential vendors and also detail preferred characteristics. The consultant will then evaluate prospective candidates and submit a listing of those firms that appear to best meet the requirements and preferences. Staff and consultant will discuss these candidates and identify those that should be advanced for Board and/or Investment Committee consideration. Ultimately, the Investment Committee will determine which firms shall be retained.

The targeted private equity investments will be fund-of-funds vehicles that are commingled, closed-end, and finite-life limited liability entities.

Due to the inevitability of short-term market fluctuations that may cause variations in the investment performance, it is intended that the performance objectives outlined below will be achieved by the fund-of-funds over the life of the vehicle(s), generally 15 years. The Investment Committee will evaluate the Funds’ interim performance to test progress toward attainment of these longer-term goals. However, it is understood that there are likely to be short-term periods during which performance will deviate from expectations. Minimum expectations are as follows:

- For policy benchmarking purposes, over the long-term (rolling 10-year periods) the private equity portfolio is expected to generate returns in excess of the combined benchmark, consisting of 60% Russell 3000 and 40% MSCI ACWI ex-US IMI, employing a time-weighted return calculation.
- The private equity portfolio and manager returns will also be measured employing a dollar-weighted, internal rate of return (IRR) calculation and benchmarked against relevant peer group information from a recognized private equity database provider. The portfolio will also be benchmarked employing standard private equity performance ratio measures: Total Value to Paid-In Capital (TVPI) and Distributed Value to Paid-In Capital (DPI). IRR and ratio performance should be above median relative to recognized private equity industry peer database returns. Measures should be focused on returns net of all partnership fees and expenses.

Attainment of these objectives does not guarantee future investment by the Investment Committee in a specific manager’s fund-of-funds vehicles, nor does failure to achieve these guidelines ensure a lack of future investment support for follow-on vehicles. Providers are selected at the discretion of the Investment Committee.

In addition, the following stipulation(s) apply:

B.3.b

- The investment manager of the fund-of-funds vehicle shall be a Bank or a registered investment advisor under the Investment Advisors Act of 1940 (1940 Act).
- If the fund-of-funds vehicle provides distributions in cash or securities, the Fund will opt to receive cash.

Reporting Requirements

Reporting requirements will be governed by the fund-of-funds legal documentation, which at a minimum will provide for quarterly unaudited financial statement and other relevant investment holdings related exhibits, and annual audited financial statements and relevant investment holdings-related exhibits.

It is expected that the fund-of-funds investment managers will meet with the Board or Investment Committee as reasonably requested and at least annually.

Coordination with Total Fund Performance Reporting

MCERA relies on its custodian to generate short-term time-weighted performance statistics. This information is utilized by the Fund's investment consultant to evaluate ongoing investment performance. An integral part of the performance evaluation is a comparison of the total Fund's return in relation to a policy benchmark index comprised of market indices weighted in the same manner as the Fund's strategic asset allocation policy.

Given the private market nature of private equity investments and the long lead-time associated with such investments, a public market equity index shall be used in lieu of the private equity database return set forth in Appendix B for the private equity component of the total portfolio. The index used shall be a composite of the equity component of MCERA's total policy benchmark: 60% Russell 3000 and 40% MSCI ACWI ex-US IMI.

DUTIES OF RESPONSIBLE PARTIES

Duties of the MCERA Board of Retirement and Investment Committee

The Board of Retirement has the responsibility for administration of MCERA for the benefit of plan participants. In the interest of efficient and prudent administration of MCERA and investment of its assets, the Board of Retirement has delegated its responsibilities with respect to the investments to the Investment Committee, which consists of all members of the Board of Retirement. Although it is not the intent of the Investment Committee to become involved in the day-to-day investment decisions, the Investment Committee or its designee(s) will adhere to the following procedures in the management of MCERA's assets:

- A formal review of MCERA's investment structure, asset allocation and financial performance will be conducted annually or more frequently as the need arises. The review will include recommended adjustments to the long-term strategic asset allocation to reflect any changes in applicable regulations, long-term capital market assumptions, actuarial assumptions or MCERA's financial condition.
- The Investment Committee shall review MCERA's investments quarterly, or as needed, to ensure that policy guidelines continue to be met. The Investment Committee shall monitor investment returns on both an absolute basis and relative to appropriate benchmarks and peer group comparisons. APPENDIX A

MCERA'S LONG-TERM STRATEGIC ASSET ALLOCATION TARGETS AND RANGES

The strategic asset allocation targets have been developed as a function of the returns and risks of various asset classes and a rigorous analysis of MCERA's liabilities, taking into account the Board and Investment Committee's risk tolerance and long-term objectives. As asset class values change over time, deviations from the asset allocation targets may occur. Rebalancing the portfolio may be necessary to return the asset class allocations to targeted weights so as to ensure that the Board's intended strategy is consistently maintained over time. Rebalancing actions are the responsibility of the Staff and shall be reported to the Board or Investment Committee on a periodic basis.

Staff is authorized and directed (in the normal course of events) to act in accordance with this policy. Where particular circumstances arise and Staff determines rebalancing is not prudent, because doing so may generate unnecessary costs or otherwise not be in the best interests of MCERA, a full report of the actions taken or not taken shall be made to the Board or Investment Committee at the earliest opportunity.

MCERA's actual asset allocation shall be reviewed at the end of each quarter at a minimum and shall be based on current asset valuations. Estimated values may be used when current asset valuations are not available.

By using statistical models and employing a diversified portfolio strategy, MCERA seeks to create an efficient frontier, which is an optimal portfolio profile that accomplishes the lowest possible level of risk for a certain level of return. While asset allocation targets are an essential part of MCERA's investment policy, the inputs used to develop these benchmarks are not known with certainty. Indeed, the targets were derived using estimates of future returns and estimates of the risk of loss for each asset class. Because future results are only estimates based on historical returns and volatility for each asset class, a range of different allocations other than the target percentage may be statistically identical in risk-return terms to the targeted benchmark even though the actual allocations may be outside of the targeted percent. Thus, the efficient frontier is really a range of targeted allocations, rather than a strict target percent of asset allocations in a portfolio. In other words, the portfolio is on the efficient frontier if the allocations to each asset class are within a range around the target allocations.

The strategic policy asset allocation and rebalancing triggers are set out in the table below:

Asset Class	Target Percent	Allowable Range
US Equity	32.0%	28.0% - 36.0%
Large Cap Core	24.0%	21.0% - 27.0%
Small Cap Core	8.0%	6.0% - 10.0%
Non-US Equities	22.0%	19.0% - 25.0%
International Large Cap Value	6.6%	5.6% - 7.6%
International Large Cap Growth	6.6%	5.6% - 7.6%
International Small Cap Core	4.4%	3.9% - 4.9%
International Emerging Markets	4.4%	3.9% - 4.9%
Fixed Income	23.0%	20.0% - 26.0%
U.S. Core Plus Fixed Income	23.0%	20.0% - 26.0%
Real Assets	7.0%	4.0% - 10.0%
Treasury Inflation Protected Securities	1.75%	1.5% - 2.0%
Commodities	1.75%	1.5% - 2.0%
Global Natural Resources Equity	1.75%	1.5% - 2.0%
Real Estate Investment Trusts	1.75%	1.5% - 2.0%
Real Estate	8.0%	4.0% - 12.0%
Private Equity	8.0%	0.0% - 12.0%*
Opportunistic	0.0%	0.0% - 5.0%

* MCERA acknowledges that because of the nature of private equity investment, it may take several years to fund the private equity allocations and during the initial funding period, its allocation to private equity in market value terms may fall below the 8% target. During the initial funding period, as a proxy for private equity, MCERA intends to keep the assets committed to private equity partnerships invested in domestic and international equity. The result will be overweights in both of these asset classes relative to the long-term targets described above.

The following principles apply when asset allocations are outside the allowable ranges noted above:

1. Cash held by MCERA and cash awaiting investment in private equity investments or other alternative investments may be securitized with exchange-traded futures to a Fund policy mix by MCERA's overlay manager. The use of derivative instruments is permitted as long as it does not create economic leverage in the portfolio and the instruments comply with the Derivatives section of this investment policy.

2. In order to rebalance as efficiently as possible and save transactions costs, allocations may be brought back within the allowable range rather than exactly to the target percentage. On the first business day of each month, target allocations will be reviewed to determine if they have been materially breached. If a reallocation is required staff will, within one business day, notify the impacted manager(s) and implement required rebalancing subject to any requirements by the fund.
3. Private market portfolios, such as Real Estate, Private Equity, and certain Opportunistic allocations, because of their illiquid nature, are very costly to rebalance. MCERA's Staff will make reasonable attempts to keep these asset classes within the allowable ranges defined above. Given their illiquidity, the risk of these asset classes moving outside of the allowable ranges for an extended period is heightened. In these cases, MCERA's Staff will document a plan to rebalance the allocations within the allowable ranges in the most timely and cost-efficient manner possible given market and other conditions. ~~It is noteworthy that the risk of these asset classes drifting outside of the efficient frontier is mitigated by the relatively small exposure to these classes as a percentage of the entire portfolio.~~
4. When physical securities are traded, assets will be moved between investment managers in accordance with the following principles:
 - a) Assets will be taken from investment managers in the overweight asset class(es) with consideration given to asset class structure, investment manager target weights, and confidence in the investment managers themselves. With respect to private market allocations, the illiquid nature of these classes will be taken into account and trading will normally be avoided where possible.
 - b) Primary emphasis should be on significantly different asset classes (e.g. equity vs. fixed income).
 - c) Assets will be directed to investment managers in the underweight asset class(es) with consideration given to the same factors listed above.

DIMENSIONAL FUND ADVISORS (DFA)
DOMESTIC SMALL CAP EQUITY
STATEMENT OF OBJECTIVES, GUIDELINES & PROCEDURES

Investment Approach

The strategy will be invested in a broadly diversified portfolio of companies that are generally in the lowest 10% of total market capitalization or companies whose market capitalizations are smaller than the 1,000th largest U.S. company, whichever results in the higher market capitalization break, in each case as reasonably determined by Manager at the time of purchase. In general, with respect to companies eligible for purchase the higher the relative market capitalization of the U.S. small cap company, the greater its representation in the Managed Assets. Manager may also adjust the representation within the Managed Assets of an eligible company, or exclude a company, after considering such factors as market capitalization, free float, momentum, trading strategies, liquidity, profitability, and other factors that Manager determines to be appropriate, given market conditions.

MCERA Performance Objectives

- Exceed the return, net of management fees, of the Russell 2000 Index (the “Benchmark”) over a complete market cycle.
- Perform in the top half of a peer universe of small cap core equity managers over a complete market cycle.

Investment Guidelines

- The use of foreign equity instruments which trade on U.S.-based exchanges or on NASDAQ, including American Depositary Receipts (ADRs), are acceptable as domestic equity investments

B.3.b

- Securities in the Benchmark are permitted.
- Any security purchased or received in a corporate action is permitted.
- If not otherwise permitted herein, the use of other non-U.S. equity securities is prohibited. Notwithstanding the foregoing, securities of companies listed on exchanges or markets in the United States are permitted.

- DFA shall not purchase stock (or securities convertible into stock) of any single issuer if the purchase would cause this portfolio to include more than 5% of the outstanding voting stock, or more than 5% in (market) value of all outstanding securities of single issuer (assuming all shares are converted).
- Other than in connection with a corporate action, DFA shall not purchase private placements unless authorized in writing by the Board or Investment Committee.

Any material violation of these Investment Manager Guidelines shall be corrected promptly upon discovery and provided that a reasonable market exists.

Any material violation of these Investment Manager Guidelines shall be corrected promptly upon discovery, provided that in the event that the correction requires the buying and/or selling of securities, the Manager shall execute such purchase or sell trades of the applicable securities in an orderly fashion based upon prevailing market conditions.

Reporting Requirements

I. BACKGROUND AND PURPOSE

In accordance with its plenary authority and fiduciary responsibilities over the administration of MCERA and actuarial services as provided in the California Constitution, Art. XVI, section 17 and the County Employees' Retirement Law of 1937 (Gov. Code sec. 31450, et seq.), including without limitation, Government Code sections 31453 and 31454.1, and the California Public Employees' Pension Reform Act of 2013 (Gov. Code sec. 7522, et seq.), including without limitation Government Code section 7522.30, the Board of Retirement of MCERA ("Board") has adopted actuarial assumptions at least every three years based upon the analysis, valuation, and recommendation of MCERA's actuary ("actuarial valuation").

The Board adopts such assumptions based upon the information gathered through its experience studies, which are conducted by MCERA's actuary approximately every three years, or other recommendation of the actuary.

The Board has determined that MCERA's actuarial economic assumptions set forth in the actuarial valuations should also be set forth in Board Policy.

II. POLICY

The actuarial assumptions that are included in MCERA's actuarial valuation as of the end of each fiscal year, which valuations have been adopted by the Board, include long-term actuarial economic assumptions relating to the following: investment rate of return (also referred to as the discount rate); projected wage increases; projected pensionable payroll growth; projected growth in inflation; and cost of living adjustments. The Board adopts the assumptions based on the findings and recommendations in MCERA's most recent Experience Study and the recommendations of its actuary as deemed appropriate.

B.3.c

The MCERA actuary will present recommendations for actuarial economic assumptions in the Experience Study for consideration by the Board. Based on the actuarial economic assumptions adopted by the Board, the actuary develops the actuarial valuation. The actuary will present a draft valuation and recommendations to the Board no later than April of each year as a non-action item. The Board will consider those recommendations and provide direction as to the valuation being prepared. The actuary will present its final recommended valuation to the Board for adoption no later than May of that year.

The economic assumptions that the Board adopted are set forth in the attached Appendix A. Those assumptions will remain in effect until the effective date of new actuarial economic assumptions adopted by the Board, which will be automatically incorporated into Appendix A of this Policy without further Board action.

III. POLICY REVIEW

The Retirement Board shall review this Policy annually in conjunction with its adoption of its actuarial valuation. The Policy may be amended from time to time by majority vote of the Board.

For purposes of this policy, “portable electronic devices” are any devices having the capability to store, record, and/or transmit text, images/video, or audio data. Examples include, but are not limited to: cellular phones, personal digital assistants, tablets, electronic watches, laptops, e-readers, netbooks, and notebooks.

I. PURPOSE

This policy is intended to set forth the authorization and limitations of use of MCERA portable electronic devices. In addition, this policy provides for the systematic review of the portable electronic devices.

II. SCOPE

These guidelines apply to all MCERA board members and staff.

III. BACKGROUND

MCERA board packet material is extensive. Copying, delivering and producing the packet material is costly and requires significant staff time that could be used on other MCERA business. MCERA would like to facilitate the electronic access and usage of documents by allowing board and staff to use MCERA portable electronic devices to retrieve, store, edit and read board meeting materials.

Portable electronic devices are a security risk because, being portable, they are at risk for loss, theft, or other unauthorized access, and they may contain confidential or privileged MCERA information, including, without limitation, private member and beneficiary information as well as confidential and proprietary information of alternative investment managers.

B.4.a

Email and other written communications by MCERA Board and staff members discussing or otherwise conducting MCERA business constitute public records that are subject to inspection unless protected by the California Public Records Act from disclosure. If personal devices are used for official communications, as the California Supreme Court concluded in the 2017 City of San Jose v. Superior Court decision, MCERA Board and staff members will be required timely to respond to requests for their email communications regarding MCERA business in response to any California Public Records Act requests for such communications.

IV. POLICY

1. Board members and staff understand that their authorization to periodically use MCERA portable electronic devices, associated equipment and software (“MCERA portable electronic devices”) is limited to and for the sole purpose of conducting MCERA business. Board members and staff further understand that they have no expectation of personal privacy with regard to their use of such devices. MCERA reserves the right to enter, search and monitor any MCERA portable electronic devices without advanced notice for any reason including but not limited to monitoring work flow or productivity, investigating theft, disclosure of confidential business or proprietary information, or personal use or abuse of the MCERA portable electronic devices or the MCERA or Marin County (“County”) systems.
2. MCERA portable electronic devices are not solely assigned to individual Board Members and staff but are resources to be used on an as needed basis and may be rotated among Board Members and staff in accordance with MCERA’s business needs. MCERA is entitled to and will require such devices to be returned to MCERA for routine maintenance and to ensure that they are being used only in a manner that is consistent with this policy.
3. MCERA portable electronic devices are not for the personal use of the Board member or staff employee or any other person or entity. Board members and staff will not permit anyone else including, but not limited to, the Board member’s or staff’s family and/or associates, to use MCERA property.
4. Any MCERA portable electronic devices purchased for use by MCERA will have security settings pre-established on the device before it is provided to trustees or staff for use. The security settings will protect the device, as much as possible, from unauthorized intrusions and unauthorized use. Users of the portable devices should not modify security settings or add software to the device that has not been authorized by MCERA.
5. Board members and staff should consult with the MCERA Retirement Administrator prior to downloading or installing any software onto any MCERA portable electronic devices.

B.4.a

6. Board members and staff who have an assigned portable electronic devices are responsible for the security of the device, all associated equipment and all data. Board members and staff must report (i) any lost or stolen portable electronic equipment or data and (ii) any attempted or actual unauthorized access, use, disclosure or destruction of data, however nominal, to the MCERA Retirement Administrator as soon as discovered or reasonably suspected.
7. Authorized Users may remotely access MCERA's information maintained and work-related websites using portable electronic devices. Remote access will be maintained by Marin County and coordinated with MCERA.
8. The General Prohibited Uses of Electronic Media (Section M) set forth in the County's Electronic Media¹ policy are incorporated by this reference into this policy.
9. To the extent possible Board members and staff should use a secure WIFI connection to access information and avoid public locations or "hot spots."
10. MCERA Board and staff members will limit their discussions regarding, and other conduct of, MCERA business by email to their MCERA email accounts, which communications also shall comply with requirements of the Ralph M. Brown Act (e.g., no serial meetings). If MCERA Board or staff members discuss, or engage in other conduct of, MCERA business on their private (non-MCERA) email accounts, they will be required to respond substantively to MCERA staff within five (5) business days regarding any California Public Records Act request for such email communications.
11. Every Board and staff member must acknowledge in writing that he or she has read, understood and will comply with all terms of this policy before that individual may be provided with any MCERA portable electronic devices.
12. This policy will also be added to those that are subject to annual Affirmation as to Key Policies by all Board members and certain staff members.

V. PORTABLE ELECTRONIC DEVICE REVIEW

The electronic device will be reviewed by staff every three to five years to consider whether to recommend to the Board the upgrade of either the software or the hardware.
