Although some concerns are raised by the somewhat limited disclosure in the annual and long-term incentive programs, as well as the decision to adjust performance goals for mid-flight bonus awards with limited rationale. However, these concerns are mitigated as CEO Burwick remained subject to the unadjusted annual incentive objectives, earning no award payout in line with company performance. Moreover, annual and long-term incentives were sufficiently performance-based.

The Brink's Company	05/05/2023	Management	10	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Following the CEO transition, the new CEO's pay level was set much lower than his predecessor's compensation. While there are certain ongoing concerns regarding transparency in the incentive programs, including how individual performance impacts STI payouts and a lack of target disclosure for long-term incentive awards, there are also positive features identified for FY22. The STI payout to the new CEO was aligned with the financial performance targets and the committee increased the proportion of equity granted as performance shares. Lastly, LTI awards returned to a three-year performance period.

Although the revised consideration represents a discount to the unaffected price at current prices, the consideration appears to be reasonable, and the strategic rationale appears logical in that the parties expect to realize cost savings and revenue synergies. Moreover, the decline in share price of both companies appears consistent with headwinds facing the banking sector, and no shareholders have publicly expressed dissatisfaction with the deal.

The Gap, Inc.	05/09/2023	Management	14	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Annual incentives were primarily determined by pre-set financial metrics and target goals were set above the previous year's actual results. In addition, a majority of the annual-cycle equity awards are performance conditioned and measured over a multi-year period. While the interim CEO's long-term incentives were entirely time-vesting, this concern is somewhat mitigated given the short-term nature of his position and because a portion of his awards were granted in connection with his role as executive chairman. Further, NEOs did not receive payouts under the annual incentive program and closing-cycle PSUs were not earned, which is generally aligned with recent financial and TSR performance.

The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company	04/10/2023	Management	13	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted. While the compensation committee demonstrated sufficient responsiveness to last year's failed say-on-pay proposal, the pay-for-performance misalignment is only somewhat mitigated. Short- and long-term incentives are primarily performance-based, although some concerns are raised given that performance awards will continue to utilize one-year performance periods and equity award vesting is relatively short for retirement-eligible officers.

The ONE Group Hospitality, Inc.	05/17/2023	Management	4	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted due to an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment. The CEO's performance-based equity awards are subject to a retesting feature given that awards allocated to 12-month calculation periods when goals were not met may be earned in full at a later time. In addition, other NEOs received purely time-based equity awards, with certain awards vesting in full one year after grant. In addition, concerns are raised with respect to the company's use of above-median benchmarking which targets the CEO's total compensation at the 75th percentile of its peers, a lack of risk mitigators, the inclusion of single-trigger equity vesting acceleration and problematic modified single-trigger severance in existing change in control agreement.

TrustCo Bank Corp NY	05/18/2023	Management	12	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	There are certain issues that warrant continued monitoring, including that the pay program's reliance on relative measures and that the LTI is settled entirely in cash. However, there are significant mitigators for the year in review. Firstly, the STI is based entirely on financial metrics and the metrics all target outperformance, and the increase in the CEO's award is substantiated by strong relative performance. The LTI program is majority performance-based with multi-year goals that also target outperformance. On balance of these factors, a cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted.

Tutor Perini Corporation	05/17/2023	Management	12	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The compensation committee did not demonstrate adequate responsiveness to shareholder concerns following last year's failed say-on-pay proposal. After 12 consecutive failed votes, the committee provided only vague disclosure of engagement efforts, no specific new shareholder feedback, and did not disclose any new or upcoming pay program changes. Additionally, an unmitigated misalignment between CEO pay and company performance persists, as the CEO's base salary and target annual and long-term incentive awards remain relatively high. While the CEO's equity awards are 50 percent performance-conditioned, a portion of the award may be earned at target for merely median TSR performance and there is no cap on payouts if absolute TSR is negative. Lastly, concerns remain with respect to the magnitude of perquisites provided to the CEO.

Universal Insurance Holdings, Inc.	06/08/2023	Management	13	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The company made certain positive pay program changes, including a transition to a more formulaic STI structure, an increase in performance equity weighting and the lengthening of the performance period in the LTI program. While these changes are positive, they generally only apply to the CEO and executive chairman. Moreover, despite a reduction in the CEO's target compensation levels, the executive chairman's FY22 compensation was on par with CEO-level pay as a result of multiple equity awards granted in FY22. Concerns are also raised by the committee's decision to pay out a portion of the CEO's annual stock option grant in cash following elimination of stock options from the LTI program. While the committee provides a rationale for this decision, the rationale does not sufficiently mitigate concerns, and the cash payment in lieu of stock options does not appear to contain any vesting or performance conditions.

W&T Offshore, Inc.	06/16/2023	Management	6	Yes	Advisory Vote on Say on Pay Frequency	One Year	One Year	One Year	One Year	A vote for the adoption of an ANNUAL say-on-pay frequency is warranted. Annual say-on-pay votes are considered a best practice as they give shareholders a regular opportunity to opine on executive pay.
W&T Offshore, Inc.	06/16/2023	Management	7	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. While the committee engaged with investors following last year's low say-on-pay vote, specific concerns were not disclosed, nor was the breadth of the outreach. The lack of disclosure of specific shareholder feedback impedes an assessment of the committee's responsiveness. While the company made several changes to pay programs, without disclosed investor concerns, it is unclear if these changes were responsive. Further, for the year in review, pay-for-performance concerns are raised and CEO pay increased substantially. While the proxy discloses planned reductions in cash compensation for FY23, the CEO's long-term incentive opportunity will be increased and the proxy continued to disclose above-median benchmarking of his pay levels. Concerns are also raised regarding long-term incentives that target merely median performance. Lastly, concerns are raised with regards to the total amount of perquisite compensation reported for the CEO that is deemed excessive, notably corporate aircraft-related perquisite.
W&T Offshore, Inc.	06/16/2023	Management	8	Yes	Ratify Ernst & Young LLP as Auditors	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this item is warranted as the auditor's tenure at the company exceeds seven years.
W&T Offshore, Inc.	06/16/2023	Management	9	Yes	Increase Authorized Common Stock	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted given that the size of the proposed increase in the number of authorized shares of common stock is reasonable and there are no significant concerns about the company's past use of shares.
W&T Offshore, Inc.	06/16/2023	Management	10	Yes	Eliminate Supermajority Vote Requirement	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted given that the removal of the supermajority requirements would improve shareholder rights.

Washington Federal, Inc.	05/04/2023	Management	1	Yes	Issue Shares in Connection with Merger	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Although WAFD shares have declined since announcement, the WAFD price declines appear to be related to the pullback in the broader banking industry as a whole rather than a reaction to the proposed transaction. Moreover, the company's shares have outperformed the community bank index over the same period, the strategic rationale appears sound, and the merger is expected to generate cost savings and be accretive to earnings.

WisdomTree, Inc.	06/16/2023	Management	30	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	None	For	For	For	There is some concern surrounding the discretionary nature of incentive award determinations, the rigor of certain target goals, and majority time-based equity awards for certain NEOs. However, these issues have not contributed to a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment for the year in review. Additionally, the company provided enhanced disclosure of threshold and maximum goals under the incentive pool funding component, and the CEO's incentive was paid out at the funding level. Lastly, half of his equity awards are based on clearly-disclosed, multi-year goals. On balance, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Given the concerns noted above, continued close monitoring of the pay program structure is warranted. A quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment going forward may be met with increased scrutiny of discretionary pay determinations.
WisdomTree, Inc.	06/16/2023	Management	31	Yes	Adopt Shareholder Rights Plan	None	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the pill has a trigger of only 10 percent and shareholders' existing inability to act outside the annual meeting cycle raises concern about its potential use as an entrenchment mechanism.

Wolverine World Wide, Inc.	05/03/2023	Management	4	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. The company's incentive programs remain largely performance-conditioned. Annual incentives were mostly based on objective performance measures and payouts were earned below target in line with company performance. Equity awards are significantly performance-based subject to a multi-year performance period.

Xerox Holdings Corporation	05/25/2023	Management	10	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR the proposal is warranted. The STI program was largely based on pre-set objective metrics, financial metric disclosure was robust, and the below-target payout aligned with company performance. A majority of the LTI program was in performance-conditioned equity that utilizes a multi-year performance period. Concerns are noted regarding the lack of forward-looking goal disclosure as well as a promotional grant to the CEO and a new-hire grant to an NEO that did not utilize performance criteria, though a previous LTI grant did not vest when goals were unmet, which again was aligned with recent company performance.

XPO, Inc.	05/17/2023	Management	11	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. While the compensation committee sufficiently responded to last year's low say-on-pay vote, an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment is present for the year in review. First, concerns are raised regarding two highly paid executives, with the new CEO's pay and the executive chairman's compensation each outpacing the compensation of CEO peers. This is particularly concerning given above-median benchmarking concerns. Additionally, certain LTI awards maintained relatively short performance periods and concerns are raised regarding the structure of the CEO's promotion grant. Lastly, the company converted prior performance awards to RSUs in connection with the spin-off, resulting in significant value to NEOs without the achievement of performance criteria.

A. O. Smith Corporation	04/11/2023	Management	5	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company maintains agreements that contain excise tax gross-up provisions, as well as auto-accelerated equity vesting provisions. Concerns are also raised by the Compensation Committee's decision to discretionarily increase annual incentive payouts and its continued limited disclosure of annual incentive metric performance goals and actual results of the executive pay program.

Abbott Laboratories	04/28/2023	Management	14	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. There are concerns surrounding incomplete disclosure in the proxy of actual achieved performance for the closing cycle PSUs, which does not allow for shareholders to fully evaluate the rigor of the program. In addition, the company continues to use an annual performance period in the LTI, and STI target goals were set below the prior year's actual results. However, there are mitigating factors for the year in review. Specifically, the majority of the incentive program was performance based, and total CEO pay declined year-over-year, partially due to the company utilizing discretion to award its CEO a below-target STI payout. In addition, only one-third of the PSU award can vest in each year, and there is no upside potential for the performance shares.
Abbott Laboratories	04/28/2023	Management	15	Yes	Advisory Vote on Say on Pay Frequency	One Year	One Year	One Year	One Year	A vote for the adoption of an ANNUAL say-on-pay frequency is warranted. Abbott Laboratories	04/28/2023	Shareholder	16	Yes	Reduce Ownership Threshold for Shareholders to Call Special Meeting	Against	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The company states that the current 20-percent ownership threshold to call for a special meeting is the lowest ownership threshold allowed by Illinois business law. Additionally, the one-year holding requirement that the proponent seeks to eliminate is not considered to be especially problematic.
Abbott Laboratories	04/28/2023	Shareholder	17	Yes	Require Independent Board Chair	Against	Against	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as it seeks the adoption of a policy that requires the board's chairman to be an independent director.
Abbott Laboratories	04/28/2023	Shareholder	18	Yes	Report on Lobbying Payments and Policy	Against	Against	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as a more comprehensive disclosure of the company's lobbying-related oversight mechanisms and trade association payments would help shareholders better assess the risks and benefits associated with the company's participation in the public policy process.

Abbott Laboratories	04/28/2023	Shareholder	19	Yes	Adopt Policy to Include Legal and Compliance Costs in Incentive Compensation Metrics	Against	Against	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted in light of the significant shareholder concerns recently raised regarding the company's exclusion of certain litigation-related costs from the executive compensation program, along with the potential increase in litigation expenses. Given that the proposal would provide the board with flexibility to adjust the application of the policy in individual circumstances, with an explanation to shareholders, the request is not viewed as overly prescriptive.

AbbVie Inc.	05/05/2023	Management	5	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the company provided an inordinate amount of personal use of corporate aircraft perquisites to the CEO. In addition, the total amount of perquisite compensation reported for the CEO is deemed excessive.
AbbVie Inc.	05/05/2023	Management	6	Yes	Eliminate Supermajority Vote Requirement	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted given that the reduction in the supermajority vote requirement enhances shareholder rights.
AbbVie Inc.	05/05/2023	Shareholder	7	Yes	Adopt Simple Majority Vote	Against	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. The elimination of supermajority vote requirements would improve shareholder rights and approval of this non-binding item may convey to the board that shareholders may wish for it to take additional steps to ensure they are removed.
AbbVie Inc.	05/05/2023	Shareholder	8	Yes	Report on Congruency of Political Spending with Company Values and Priorities	Against	Against	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, as more comprehensive information regarding the company's political, lobbying, and electioneering spending would enable shareholders to have a more comprehensive understanding of how the company oversees and manages risks related to its political partnerships.

Air Lease Corporation	05/03/2023	Management	12	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Annual incentives were primarily based on pre-set objective metrics and long-term incentives were majority performance-vesting, with closing-cycle PSUs forfeited in line with performance. However, there are significant concerns surrounding the executive chairman's total pay exceeded that of the CEO, which includes a high base salary at $1.8 million. Further, there are significant goal rigor concerns, as the company lowered metric goals for the annual bonus for the second consecutive year, with awards paid out above target despite a discretionary reduction by the committee.

Align Technology, Inc.	05/17/2023	Management	10	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. CEO pay declined year-over-year and a significant majority of the LTI grant was performance-based. While some goal rigor concerns are raised surrounding the relative TSR metric targeting merely median performance, vesting outcomes were reasonable, and the CEO's realizable pay shows directional alignment with the company's long-term stock price performance. In addition, short-term incentives were based primarily on objective metrics with rigorous target goals, resulting in no annual bonuses paid to NEOs following below-threshold performance.

Alliant Energy Corporation	05/23/2023	Management	5	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR the proposal is warranted as pay and performance are reasonably aligned at this time. Some concern is noted about a portion of the performance equity awards, which target median performance with no cap on awards in the event of negative absolute TSR. That being said, the long-term incentives are majority performance based, with all performance equity utilizing a multi-year performance period. Additionally, the annual incentive plan is predominately based on a pre-set financial metric.

Ally Financial Inc.	05/03/2023	Management	12	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted due to an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment. Notwithstanding a decrease in performance year pay and an LTI program under which half of awards are based on clearly disclosed multi-year goals, there are significant concerns surrounding the incentive determination process. The company's framework for determining total incentive pay (including STI awards) incorporates a significant degree of committee discretion and lacks key disclosures, such as category or individual metric weightings, quantified, pre-set goals, and target and maximum STI opportunities. This structure and the lack of key disclosures preclude an assessment of the merit and boundaries of total pay.

Alphabet Inc.	06/02/2023	Management	14	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. A number of concerns are noted in the annual pay program for non-CEO NEOs. First, an annual bonus program was established based on ESG goals. However, pre-set goals were not disclosed, with the proxy only noting performance achievements after the fact, with the award appearing to pay out based on the committee's discretionary assessment of performance. Though the ESG bonus payout was halved at the committee's discretion due to "macroeconomic conditions," NEO base salaries were increased in FY22 and are relatively high. Further concerns are noted in the annual LTI program, which inexplicably switched to an LTI mix predominantly in time-vested equity in FY22, with no rationale for the change disclosed in the proxy. On top of that, two NEOs received equity grants with values in excess of the total median CEO pay for the company's peer group. The relative TSR target was non-rigorous and no vesting cap was disclosed if absolute TSR were to be negative over the performance period. CEO Pichai received a triennial equity grant in FY22, which, even on a per-year annualized basis, was relatively large compared to peers. Merely 60 percent of the award was in performance equity, half of which utilized a two-year performance period. Though the target goal was rigorous, in situations where an equity grant is intended to cover multiple years of equity, shareholders prefer that a significant percentage of the grant be in performance equity with a long-term performance period. Additionally, due to a combination of award structure and total magnitude, even with relative TSR performing well-below target, CEO Pichai would realize substantially more pay than a significant portion of his CEO peers, undermining a pay-for-performance philosophy. Lastly, concerns are raised as CEO Pichai's security costs remain exceedingly large, and a sufficient explanation is not provided in the proxy for these costs.

Alphabet Inc.	06/02/2023	Shareholder	19	Yes	Report on Risks Related to Fulfilling Information Requests for Enforcing Laws Criminalizing Abortion Access	Against	Against	For	For	A vote FOR this resolution is warranted, as additional information on the potential risks and costs associated with proposed or enacted state policies that restrict reproductive healthcare would allow shareholders to better assess how the company is managing such associated risks.

Alphabet Inc.	06/02/2023	Shareholder	26	Yes	Amend Bylaws to Require Shareholder Approval of Certain Provisions Related to Director Nominations by Shareholders	Against	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The proposal language may result in a bylaw amendment that is both overly restrictive of the board's ability to amend the bylaws, and not necessarily in the interest of shareholders. Further, there does not appear to have been any problematic bylaw amendment unilaterally adopted by the board that would suggest a need to impose the restrictions sought by this proposal.
Alphabet Inc.	06/02/2023	Shareholder	27	Yes	Adopt Share Retention Policy For Senior Executives	Against	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as the more rigorous guidelines recommended by the proponent may better address concerns about creating a strong link between the interests of top executives and long-term shareholder value.

Alteryx, Inc.	05/17/2023	Management	5	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted, given insufficient mitigating factors for the pay-for-performance misalignment. The CEO received a one-time grant of PSUs that, while tied to rigorous stock price hurdles over a seven-year period, is exceptionally large and is not intended to replace annual LTI grants. In addition, concerns exist regarding the use of overlapping metrics between the short- and long-term incentive programs and the short performance period of annual PSUs, as well as the addition of a short-term incentive payout mid-cycle. Moreover, the company exchanged outstanding underwater stock options without prior shareholder approval.

Altria Group, Inc.	05/18/2023	Management	14	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted although some concerns are noted. The increase in the CEO's incentives were largely due to the transition from end-to-end to overlapping cycles which will end after the FY21-FY23 cycle. In addition, the company targets above median benchmarking for the CEO's total compensation; however, this does not appear to cause a pay-for-performance misalignment at this time. In addition, annual incentives are primarily based on pre-set financial goals, and a majority of the long-term incentives were performance-based and measured over a multi-year performance period.

Amazon.com, Inc.	05/24/2023	Management	13	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Following last year's low say-on-pay vote, the compensation committee engaged with shareholders, disclosed specific feedback, and provided further details surrounding the company's compensation programs and long-term strategy. However, the company did not make material changes to the compensation program to address shareholder concerns. In addition, while CEO Jassy's pay declined following the prior year's mega promotion award, consisting only of base salary and certain perquisites, a review of the pay program reveals persistent concerning features. Specifically, compensation for other NEOs consisted primarily of time-vesting restricted shares, with incentive programs lacking objective performance metrics and quantified goals. In addition, the magnitude of an NEO's recent $41 million grant is concerning, as it comes only one year after he received an $81 million sign-on grant. Lastly, concerns remain with respect to the inordinate amount of security-related perquisite provided to certain executives.

American Express Company	05/02/2023	Management	16	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	The increase in CEO pay is primarily driven by a one-time equity award valued by the company at $15 million. On the positive side, the award requires significant TSR appreciation to vest. However, the sustainment requirement period is relatively short and may reward short-term spikes in share price without long-term sustained share price appreciation. Additionally, although annual LTI awards are predominantly based on rigorous, clearly disclosed goals, there are significant concerns regarding STI program structure and disclosure. The majority of the corporate component is based on goals for which quantified targets are not disclosed. The proxy also does not disclose threshold or maximum goals for any metrics, individual metric weightings, nor sufficient details around the CEO's individual performance component (which was achieved at maximum). Lastly, concerns remain with respect to the excessive personal use of corporate aircraft perquisite provided to the CEO. In light of the concerns noted above, the quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment is not mitigated and a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted.

The board's severance plan document establishes a reasonable limit on cash severance. However, the proxy does not disclose a policy or requirement that payments in excess of amounts provided under the plan are subject to shareholder approval. Without such a requirement, shareholders do not have adequate assurances that the company's current practice safeguards against excessive severance payments.

American International Group, Inc.	05/10/2023	Management	11	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. There are significant concerns surrounding the magnitude and structure of a large off-cycle award granted to the CEO in connection with entering into a five-year employment agreement. On the positive side, the award has a relatively long five-year cliff vesting period. However, the award, which was granted amid back-to-back increases in target LTI opportunities, lacks performance-vesting criteria. With respect to regular incentive awards, some concern is raised by the STI program structure, as awards may be substantially increased by discretionary assessments of individual performance and have been for the CEO's awards for consecutive years. Further, the relative TSR metric in the LTI program, although not heavily weighted, provides for target vesting for below median performance against a relatively small peer group. Lastly, concerns are also raised with respect to the excessive corporate aircraft perquisite provided to the CEO.

American International Group, Inc.	05/10/2023	Shareholder	13	Yes	Require Independent Board Chair	Against	For	For	For	Two major components at the top of every public company are the running of the board, and the executive responsibilities of running of the company's business. There should be a clear division between the head of the company, and the chair of the board. When there is no clear division of independence between the executive and board branches of a company, poor executive and/or board actions often go unchecked to the ultimate detriment of shareholders. A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as it seeks the adoption of a policy that requires the board's chairman to be an independent director.

Annaly Capital Management, Inc.	05/17/2023	Management	11	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	There is some concern regarding the total incentive award determination process, as the scorecard contains certain features that add complexity for investors attempting to assess the pay-for-performance linkage. Additionally, the target goal for one metric is only described in vague terms and individual metrics appear to receive guaranteed minimum scores regardless of the level of performance achievement. While these issues warrant continued close monitoring, there are mitigating factors. For FY22, the committee introduced a total threshold score under which no awards will be made, and discretionarily reduced awards to below target to align with company performance. Further, half of LTI awards are earned based on clearly disclosed multi-year goals, and relative metrics under the scorecard and LTI program target outperformance and cap payouts if absolute TSR is negative. On balance of these factors, a vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Continued close monitoring of the scorecard structure and pay outcomes is warranted.

Antero Resources Corporation	06/06/2023	Management	5	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. The committee elected to increase the pay benchmark for all executives to the 75th percentile, contributing significantly to the pay for performance misalignment identified for the year in review as the target value of the CEO's annual-cycle award more than doubled, year-over-year. The granting of significant off-cycle awards in half time-vesting equity to all executives further increased pay magnitude, while performance equity used primarily annual performance periods and set less rigorous goals for a metric shared with the annual incentive. Moreover, the committee set certain annual incentive targets lower than the prior year's performance and utilized their discretion to further increase actual payouts without a compelling rationale.

APA Corporation	05/23/2023	Management	12	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. The compensation committee sufficiently responded to last year's relatively low say-on-pay vote result with improvements to the annual and long-term incentive programs and improved disclosure. In addition, there are certain factors that mitigate a pay-for-performance misalignment for the year under review, including the company's strong TSR and financial performance, improved transparency under the annual incentive program, a reduction in the CEO's target LTI award value, and LTI awards that are majority tied to multi-year performance metrics. Continued monitoring of the program is warranted given concerns surrounding short- and long-term goal rigor and lack of complete disclosure of LTI goals.

Applied Materials, Inc.	03/09/2023	Management	11	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	Concerns continue to be raised regarding the annual incentive program, which are at least half based on strategic metrics and lack disclosure of metric objectives and some performance results, precluding analysis of program rigor. Nevertheless, pay and performance are reasonably aligned, with annual incentive awards paid out below target and at least half of long-term incentives granted in performance equity with three-year goals. A vote FOR this proposal is therefore warranted, although shareholders may wish to continue monitoring the annual incentive program.

Archer-Daniels-Midland Company	05/04/2023	Shareholder	15	Yes	Require Independent Board Chair	Against	Against	For	For	Two major components at the top of every public company are the running of the board, and the executive responsibilities of running of the company's business. There should be a clear division between the head of the company, and the chair of the board. When there is no clear division of independence between the executive and board branches of a company, poor executive and/or board actions often go unchecked to the ultimate detriment of shareholders. A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as it seeks the adoption of a policy that requires the board's chairman to be an independent director.

Bank of America Corporation	04/25/2023	Management	15	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. This marks the first time in several years in which a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment has been identified at BAC. On the positive side, CEO performance year pay decreased in directional alignment with recent stock price underperformance, and the majority of equity awards are based on clearly-disclosed multi-year goals with no upside vesting potential. However, there are significant concerns regarding the structure and lack of key disclosures under the annual incentive determination process. Annual incentives are discretionarily determined, although guided by performance assessments that highlighted consistent metrics year-over-year, and this discretionary determination resulted in an identified pay-for-performance misalignment for the year in review. Further, the proxy lacks key disclosures such as target pay opportunities, per-metric weightings, and threshold, target or maximum goals. Investors generally prefer a more formulaic incentive determination process with discretion constrained and judiciously applied, with key disclosures that provide transparency into pay outcomes. Also concerning is the structure and lack of disclosure related to sizable time-vesting awards granted to non-CEO NEOs. Additionally, the company provided an inordinate amount of personal use of corporate aircraft perquisites to the CEO.

While the company provides a clear rationale for the award and why it was entirely time-based, the overall magnitude of the grant is of particular concern. Specifically, it resulted in her total pay being more than double total pay of the company's peer median CEO pay, which can be costly to shareholders in terms of overall compensation expense. * The CEO received excessive gross-ups related to relocation benefits. * The company provided an excessive personal use of corporate aircraft perquisite to the CEO.

There should be a clear division between the head of the company, and the chair of the board. When there is no clear division of independence between the executive and board branches of a company, poor executive and/or board actions often go unchecked to the ultimate detriment of shareholders. A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as it seeks the adoption of a policy that requires the board's chairman to be an independent director.

CEO pay declined significantly year-over-year and the annual incentive program was primarily based on objective metrics with reasonably rigorous target goals. In addition, the LTI was half performance-conditioned and measured over a multi-year period. It is also noted that the CEO's realizable pay shows directional alignment with the company's negative long-term stock price performance, and the LTI grant value decreased year-over-year. However, some concern is raised surrounding the lack of disclosure of certain performance targets under the long-term incentive program. While it is noted that targets and results are disclosed retrospectively, shareholders would benefit from greater transparency in the LTI.

Berkshire Hathaway Inc.	05/06/2023	Management	16	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Two NEOs continue to receive large base salaries of $16.0 million each and overall pay is not clearly linked to company performance. Pay disclosure is minimal, leaving shareholders with little information to assess decisions regarding, or committee oversight of, compensation determinations for executives. Concerns are also raised with regards to the CEO's large security-related perquisite and the company's lack of risk mitigating provisions.
Berkshire Hathaway Inc.	05/06/2023	Management	17	Yes	Advisory Vote on Say on Pay Frequency	Three Years	One Year	One Year	One Year	A vote for the adoption of an ANNUAL say-on-pay frequency is warranted. Annual say-on-pay votes are considered a best practice as they give shareholders a regular opportunity to opine on executive pay.
Berkshire Hathaway Inc.	05/06/2023	Shareholder	18	Yes	Report on Physical and Transitional Climate-Related Risks and Opportunities	Against	For	For	For	A vote FOR the proposal is warranted as shareholders would benefit from corporate-level disclosure on the climate risks the company judges as material and plans to mitigate those risks.
Berkshire Hathaway Inc.	05/06/2023	Shareholder	19	Yes	Report on Audit Committee's Oversight on Climate Risks and Disclosures	Against	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted at this time because the enhanced disclosure would allow shareholders to assess the board's governance and risk oversight mechanisms in place to protect the company from potentially adverse regulatory requirements and market changes related to the energy transition.
Berkshire Hathaway Inc.	05/06/2023	Shareholder	20	Yes	Report If and How Company Will Measure, Disclose and Reduce GHG Emissions	Against	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted at this time because the requested report would allow shareholders to evaluate emissions from Berkshire's insurance group, and the report may help the company prepare for state climate regulations.
Berkshire Hathaway Inc.	05/06/2023	Shareholder	21	Yes	Report on Effectiveness of Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Efforts	Against	For	For	For	A vote FOR this resolution is warranted due to: * The absence of information regarding comprehensive company diversity-related policies, programs or metrics; and * The potential benefits for shareholders of increased reporting of diversity-related efforts and program effectiveness.
Berkshire Hathaway Inc.	05/06/2023	Shareholder	22	Yes	Require Independent Board Chair	Against	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as it seeks the adoption of a policy that requires the board's chairman to be an independent director.

Annual incentives are primarily based on pre-set objective goals. In addition, performance shares that rely on a multi-year performance period were added to the long-term incentive awards. However, the majority of long-term incentives continue to lack performance criteria. In light of the controlling interest of the CEO and his family in the company, the compensation plan warrants continued monitoring.

Biogen Inc.	06/26/2023	Management	12	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. A pay-for-performance misalignment for the year under review is mitigated given that annual and long-term incentives are sufficiently tied to objective performance measures, although continued monitoring is warranted given goal rigor and disclosure concerns under the annual incentive program. However, the compensation committee did not demonstrate sufficient responsiveness to last year's say-on-pay vote result. Specifically, the company does not disclose any shareholder concerns or specific feedback and the committee did not take any specific actions in response to the nearly half its shareholders opposing last year's say-on-pay.

WITHHOLD votes for audit committee members John Coffey, Douglas Hawthorne, Edward Carey Joulilian IV, Stanley Lybarger, and Peggy Simmons are warranted for failing to effectively oversee risk for all shareholders given the significant pledging activity at the company, the lack of a rationale regarding such pledged position, and the lack of any pledging policies or plans to unwind the pledged shares. Booking Holdings Inc.	06/06/2023	Management	12	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Following the failed 2022 say-on-pay proposal, the company engaged with shareholders, disclosed their feedback in the proxy statement, and made improvements to the FY22 and FY23 pay program to address investors' concerns. In addition, pay and performance are reasonably aligned for the year in review, and the annual incentive pool is funded based on financial performance goals, while the long-term incentives are primarily performance-conditioned. Certain concerns remain related to the FY22 program, such as the CEO's annual incentive target opportunity, similar metrics in the STI and LTI plans, and annual performance periods in the LTI. However, these concerns are mitigated by a significant reduction in compensation levels, the discretionary reduction of STI payouts, the addition of a PSU payout cap for negative absolute TSR results, and a return to multi-year performance periods for the 2023 PSUs. However, shareholders should continue to monitor the pay program as the company continues to undergo pay program changes.

BorgWarner Inc.	04/26/2023	Management	9	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as the CEO received a significant tax gross-up relating to a perquisite reimbursement. Further, in the annual incentive program, the committee set both financial targets below last year's actual performance with limited rationale and also incorporated a new, subjective modifier that resulted in an increased payout for the year in review. These actions, coupled with increased CEO pay levels in the most recent two fiscal years, warrant continued investor monitoring.

Boston Properties, Inc.	05/23/2023	Management	12	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, but with caution. Some concerns persist with the significant weight of non-formulaic goals under the annual incentive program and goal rigor concerns under the LTI program. However, total CEO pay was flat year-over-year, LTI awards are at least half performance-based for all NEOs with clearly disclosed multi-year goals, and the quantitative annual incentive goals are clearly disclosed and appear rigorous. Moreover, performance LTI units have vested below target for the past three performance cycles, in alignment with the company's lagging shareholder returns. On balance, a pay-for-performance misalignment is mitigated for the year under review. However, given the concerns noted, future close monitoring is warranted, particularly with respect to incentive pay outcomes.

While positive features are noted, including an annual incentive plan with clearly disclosed financial goals and entirely performance-based equity, certain negative factors raised significant concern. The annual bonus has the potential for a significant amount of committee discretion, and in FY22 the CEO's individual performance modifier increased the payout from 150 percent of target to 225 percent. In addition, the annual performance equity award targets merely median performance and the board also provided the CEO with an additional special award in FY22. Though smaller in value than the annual award, the performance period was just one year, specific goals were not disclosed, and directors determined that the goals were met just one month after grant. Investors may also note the CEO received another sizable special equity grant after the end of the fiscal year. Lastly, concerns are raised with respect to the CEO's excessive automobile perquisite.

Burlington Stores, Inc.	05/17/2023	Management	5	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. While there are some concerns surrounding the use of an annual performance period in the LTI and goal setting in the STI, mitigating factors are present for the year in review. Specifically, the majority of the incentive program was performance based, and the committee exercised discretion to reduce the annual incentive award, resulting in a below-target payout for the CEO. Although investors would benefit from disclosure of forward-looking LTI targets, the company discloses the targets retrospectively and payouts are aligned with performance.

Cadence Design Systems, Inc.	05/04/2023	Management	12	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR the proposal is warranted, with caution. While pay and performance are reasonably aligned for the year in review, certain structural concerns in the pay program are noted, including the degree of discretion under the STI program and the significant upside potential on the CEO's triennial equity award. However, the FY22 grant target value is reasonable, forward-looking performance equity grant targets are clearly disclosed, and from this detailed disclosure it appears that each target requires significant outperformance in order to be achieved. There is a similar case in the annual bonus program, as performance targets were set above the prior year's actual performance, requiring year-over-year growth to achieve target payout. Though pay and performance were reasonably aligned, continued monitoring of these structural issues is warranted.

Caesars Entertainment, Inc.	06/13/2023	Management	10	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST the proposal is warranted. A quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment has been identified for the year in review, and sufficient mitigating factors have not been identified. The increase in total CEO pay is primarily driven by a special, one-time equity award granted to the CEO. While it is positive that the CEO's one-time equity award is entirely performance-based, there is concern identified with respect to the relatively short sustainment period, particularly for a large, one-time award. Specifically, the stock price performance-vesting condition is based on exceeding certain share price hurdles for 20 consecutive days, without requiring long-term sustained stock price appreciation through the end of the performance period. Moreover, the company's off-cycle grant frequency raises concerns, as the CEO previously received an off-cycle award in August 2020. Additional concerns were identified, as a portion of PSUs vest based on annually set adjusted EBITDA goals. While the results are averaged at the end of the three-year performance period, the use of annually-set goals with an annual measurement under the LTI raises concerns. These concerns are magnified as it overlaps with the same metric, target and performance period under the STI program. Further, the relative TSR metric is not particularly rigorous, given that it targets merely median performance. The CEO continues to receive a relatively high base salary, which has an augmenting effect on incentive opportunities targeted as a percentage of salary. Lastly, concerns are also raised with respect to the inordinate amount of personal use of corporate aircraft perquisites to the CEO.

Capital One Financial Corporation	05/04/2023	Management	15	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	There are concerns raised by the lack of certain key features and disclosures with respect to the STI program, as well as by the degree of discretion involved in STI payout determinations. Some investors may prefer a more objective annual incentive structure, including reference to preset metric weightings and quantified target goals. While these issues warrant continued close monitoring, there are mitigating factors for the year in review. Specifically, the discretionary pay determinations have not resulted in a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment. Further, the CEO's long-term equity incentives are predominantly performance-conditioned with clearly disclosed multi-year goals that target above-median performance. On balance of these factors, a cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted. A quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment going forward may be met with increased scrutiny of pay program structure.

Carnival Corporation	04/21/2023	Management	12	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Following low support for the 2022 say-on-pay proposal, the company engaged with shareholders, disclosed their feedback in the proxy statement, and made improvements to the FY22 and FY23 pay program to address investors' concerns. Specifically, disclosure of the incentive programs improved compared to the prior year, annual incentives now rely primarily on objective, pre-set goals, and long-term incentives were entirely performance-based. Additional improvements will be made for FY23, including the removal of the individual performance component from the annual incentives, and decoupling of metrics between the annual and long-term incentive plans. While certain concerns remain related to the FY22 plans related to limited individual performance disclosure, duplicate metrics in the STI and LTI plans, and annual performance periods in certain LTI awards, these concerns are mitigated by the removal of these elements in the FY23 awards. However, shareholders should continue to monitor the pay program as the company has undergone a leadership transition and continues to undergo pay program changes.

A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as it seeks the adoption of a policy that requires the board's chairman to be an independent director.

A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as it seeks the adoption of a policy that requires the board's chairman to be an independent director.

Church & Dwight Co., Inc.	04/27/2023	Shareholder	15	Yes	Require Independent Board Chair	Against	Against	For	For	Two major components at the top of every public company are the running of the board, and the executive responsibilities of running of the company's business. There should be a clear division between the head of the company, and the chair of the board. When there is no clear division of independence between the executive and board branches of a company, poor executive and/or board actions often go unchecked to the ultimate detriment of shareholders. A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as it seeks the adoption of a policy that requires the board's chairman to be an independent director.

Citigroup Inc.	04/25/2023	Management	15	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	There are concerns raised by the degree of discretion involved in NEO annual incentive determinations and certain key features and disclosures that are lacking. Some investors may prefer a more objective annual incentive structure, including reference to preset target goals and pay opportunities. While these issues warrant continued close monitoring, there are sufficient mitigating factors. Specifically, CEO pay and company performance are aligned for the year in review. Further, the CEO's long-term incentives are predominantly performance-conditioned with clearly disclosed multi-year goals. Moreover, the prior closing cycle long-term incentives were not earned when operational threshold goals were not achieved. On balance of these factors, a cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted. A quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment going forward may be met with increased scrutiny of pay program structure.
Citigroup Inc.	04/25/2023	Management	16	Yes	Amend Omnibus Stock Plan	For	For	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted because the company's three-year average burn rate is excessive.

The board's current policy that requires shareholder approval of certain change of control severance payments lacks key disclosures for shareholders. Citigroup Inc.	04/25/2023	Shareholder	19	Yes	Require Independent Board Chair	Against	Against	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as shareholders would benefit from a policy requiring more independent oversight of management in the form of an independent chairman.

Citizens Financial Group Inc.	04/27/2023	Management	14	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Concerns continue to be raised by the heavy reliance on compensation committee discretion in determining total executive pay. That being said, there are mitigating factors for the year under review. Specifically, the use of discretion has not resulted in a quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment, and the committee improved disclosure regarding core financial metrics used in assessing performance outcomes. Moreover, equity awards are largely performance-based and utilize a multi-year measurement period, and 2022 performance equity vesting outcomes were commensurate with longer term company performance. Given these circumstances, shareholders are advised to monitor the company's incentive pay structure, particularly should CEO pay and company performance become misaligned going forward.

Cleveland-Cliffs Inc.	05/17/2023	Management	11	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. Following the prior year's relatively low say-on-pay support and subsequent engagement with shareholders, the compensation committee made commitments to not grant discretionary bonuses except for in extraordinary circumstances and changed its approach to target setting and evaluation of performance under the annual incentive plan, resulting in below target payouts during the year in review. Furthermore, long-term incentives remain primarily performance-conditioned, although shareholders may benefit from a more rigorous relative TSR metric.

CME Group Inc.	05/04/2023	Management	19	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Following a failed say-on-pay vote last year, the compensation committee demonstrated only a limited degree of responsiveness to shareholder concerns. In addition, an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment persisted in FY22. The CEO's total pay remained elevated largely due to a significant base salary increase, which is significantly higher than the median salary of peer CEOs. This base salary had the effect of also increasing his annual and long-term incentives that are targeted to a percentage of base salary. Further, although annual and long-term incentives are significantly performance-based, concern remains that the relative TSR metric under the long-term incentive program targets merely median performance and the proxy does not disclose a vesting cap if absolute TSR is negative.

Colgate-Palmolive Company	05/12/2023	Shareholder	15	Yes	Require Independent Board Chair	Against	Against	For	For	Two major components at the top of every public company are the running of the board, and the executive responsibilities of running of the company's business. There should be a clear division between the head of the company, and the chair of the board. When there is no clear division of independence between the executive and board branches of a company, poor executive and/or board actions often go unchecked to the ultimate detriment of shareholders. A vote FOR this proposal is warranted as it seeks the adoption of a policy that requires the board's chairman to be an independent director.
