B. NEW BUSINESS

1. Proxy Voting

a. Proxy Voting Reports

Proxy voting records of public equity managers for December 31, 2022

Retirement Administrator Jeff Wickman presented equity manager proxy votes for July 1, 2022 through December 31, 2022. The voting rationale is included for Dimensional Fund Advisors (DFA), State Street, Morgan Stanley and TimeSquare reports. Trustee Silberstein thanked staff for providing the reporting and pointed out one company, Advanced Drainage Systems, is in three different portfolios.

b. Proxy Voting Reports – Executive Compensation

Review and discuss the ISS executive compensation proxy voting reports for the Dimensional Fund Advisors and State Street Global Advisors portfolios

Proxy Voting Reports on executive compensation were presented for the DFA and State Street portfolios that Institutional Shareholder Services (ISS) votes for MCERA. Trustee Silberstein appreciated having the reasons for votes on executive compensation in the reports. He said it is good to see in a few cases corporations are being responsive to shareholder no votes by making changes to executive compensation packages that result in votes for those proposals. Trustee Silberstein observed that ISS is very methodical in outlining the reasons for its proxy votes.

Trustee Jones joined the meeting at 9:08 a.m.

Trustee Gladstern also expressed appreciation to Mr. Wickman, staff and the equity managers for providing the proxy reports to the Committee. She and Mr. Wickman noted ISS has made the information accessible for the Committee. Chair Cooper asked if the amount and format of proxy voting reporting is as the Committee prefers and this was agreed.

2. Governance Risk Report – Institutional Shareholder Services (ISS) – Jack Ferdon

Review and discuss the ISS quarterly Risk Assessment Report

Jack Ferdon, Senior Associate, Client Service and Consultants, with Institutional Shareholder Services (ISS), reviewed two Governance Risk reports, first for the quarter ending December 31, 2022 and then the quarter ending March 31, 2023. Mr. Ferdon pointed out that the Fidelity Institutional Asset Management (FIAM) emerging markets portfolio is now included in the report. Mr. Ferdon discussed companies on the Quality Score list that assesses corporate governance risk. Mr. Wickman provided a separate report showing which of MCERA's investment managers were investing in the companies on the Quality Score list along with MCERA's specific investment value. Mr. Ferdon said notable names on the Quality Score list include Oracle Corporation which has long been viewed as having excessive executive compensation plans. Another is Estee Lauder, in part due to unequal voting structures for company founders. Trustee Silberstein pointed out that Oracle Co-CEO's together are paid $260 million per year.

For consideration at October Committee meeting

Mr. Ferdon pointed out that FIAM voted against management on 15% of proposals, less often than does MCERA through the ISS Public Fund Policy. For MCERA portfolios overall about 70% of proxy votes are aligned with management. He said most votes against management are coming from the DFA and State Street portfolios. As is common and is driven by the Public Fund Policy recommendations, most votes against management are seen in executive compensation and audit proposals.

Mr. Ferdon discussed results of shareholder proposals, reporting that Sysco had a very high level of support for a proposal seeking a report on the company's use of plastic that passed. Other shareholder proposals passed were on the topics of shareholder meeting rights and shareholder ratification of changes in control agreements by executives, which he said is unusual.

Mr. Ferdon turned to the report for the first quarter of 2023. He noted the Quality Score in both quarters lists Infosys Ltd. due to compensation concerns about nondisclosure of performance targets in the executive bonus scheme. Mr. Ferdon highlighted a shareholder proposal seeking third-party review of Starbucks' bargaining rights that passed, which is unusual. He noted that Apple had no shareholder proposals that passed, including one seeking a report on pay gaps across race and gender that received 33% of voted shares. In conclusion, Mr. Ferdon noted the Universal Proxy Card is now in use and pointed out there will be more meetings in the second quarter of 2023 to discuss at the next Committee meeting.

3. Custom ISS Proxy Voting Guideline on Say on Pay (ACTION)

Consider and take possible action on proxy voting guideline regarding CEO pay

Mr. Wickman said at its last few meetings the Committee has discussed how proxy votes were cast on executive compensation packages. These discussions have focused on the increases to Chief Executive Officer (CEO) pay as compared to the company average worker. The Committee has observed that many public pension plans are setting higher thresholds for no votes on executive compensation based on the percentage of median pay. Currently ISS votes MCERA's Dimensional Fund Advisors (DFA) and State Street portfolios in accordance with the Public Fund Policy. At its October 4, 2022 meeting, the Committee directed staff to develop guidelines on CEO pay for consideration at the April 2023 meeting.

Mr. Wickman presented a proposal for custom guidelines on voting CEO pay packages to be implemented by ISS. Three pay proposal standards that are consistent with other public sector peers are: limiting CEO pay to 50, 75, or 100 times median pay. During 2022 if MCERA used these criteria to vote on CEO pay packages it would have voted no on 68%, 61%, and 53% of CEO pay packages, respectively.

The Administrator recommended that the Committee consider from a fiduciary perspective which of the three options best represents the prudent approach that is in the overall best interest of MCERA's members and beneficiaries. If approved by the Board, then ISS would be provided with the new guidance. Mr. Wickman also presented MCERA's Corporate Governance and Proxy Voting Policy, noting that the policy may require revisions based on action taken by the Committee.

Trustee Silberstein observed that executive compensation keeps going up, last year increasing about 20% on average, whereas median worker pay was up 4%, which was less than inflation. This increased executive compensation detracts from shareholder returns. He pointed out the University of California pension fund votes against 83% of executive pay packages and CalPERS votes against 46% of executive pay packages. According to MCERA's Proxy Voting and Corporate Governance Policy, executive pay should not be excessive and should be considered in relation to the compensation of other employees. Therefore, he believes that it is within MCERA's policy to instruct ISS to look at relative pay. Trustee Silberstein pointed out the ratio of executive compensation to worker pay used to be about 30 times and now it is in the thousands. He noted compensation varies from company to company, with the average employee wage being $60,000 per year. Trustee Silberstein suggested limiting executive compensation to 50 times median worker pay for smaller companies valued under $2 billion, and 100 times the median worker pay for companies larger than $2 billion. Trustee Gladstern supported this approach, noting that CEO pay is a major corporate governance issue in discussions at recent Council of Institutional Investors (CII) Conferences.

Chair Cooper asked for more detail on how peer systems handle executive compensation. In response, Mr. Wickman said a coalition of public pension systems including the California Public Employees' Retirement System (CalPERS), the California State Teachers' Retirement System (CalSTRS), and the San Francisco Employees' Retirement System (SFERS), are working together on these types of issues. In addition, it is common for County Employees Retirement Law of 1937 (CERL) systems to utilize ISS proxy voting recommendations. Whether or not CERL systems have added this level of detail to proxy voting is uncertain.

Chair Cooper discussed with Mr. Wickman the best approach for providing guidance to ISS on executive compensation and aligning that with the Corporate Governance and Proxy Voting Policy. Chair Cooper asked if custom guidelines for ISS would have a cost, and Mr. Wickman replied there would be additional cost for a custom policy.

It was M/S Silberstein/Gladstern to direct Institutional Shareholder Services to vote against Chief Executive Officer (CEO) pay packages that are more than 100 times the pay of the median worker in the corporation.

Discussion ensued, with Trustee Silberstein relating that Whole Foods raised wages for workers and narrowed the gap from executive pay, which was a boost for worker morale. Mr. Wickman noted the current Public Fund Policy bases executive compensation only on performance. Chair Cooper spoke to the importance of tying executive pay to performance and also considering the pay level for lower end workers. Trustee Silberstein noted some companies are adjusting pay according to shareholder views, and pension funds are looking at how tightly pay is related to performance. He indicated there is some kind of progress on this that will have an influence over time. He concluded that as fiduciaries, this guidance on executive pay is a step in the right direction.

For consideration at October Committee meeting

Trustee Jones said there should be more criteria to judge CEO compensation, adding CEO's are obtaining compensation based on the efforts of the employees. Trustee Silberstein agreed, explaining that the main criterion for executive pay is performance; considering the median worker pay is adding an additional dimension. Chair Cooper asked if 100 is the appropriate multiple of median pay and Trustee Silberstein indicated less than 100 may not be a suitable multiple in today's environment.

The motion passed by a vote of 4-0 as follows:

Trustee Gladstern requested that the Committee have a discussion about joining the collaboration among large California public pensions to pressure companies around corporate governance.

Trustee Silberstein mentioned a bill in the state legislature to divest from fossil fuels which CalPERS opposes. Mr. Wickman said the SACRS Legislative Committee is tracking that bill and will likely have an update at the SACRS Conference in May.

There being no further business, Chair Cooper adjourned the meeting at 10:14 a.m.

2U, Inc.	06/06/2023	Management	3	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. In response to last year's low say-on-pay vote, the committee engaged with shareholders and disclosed the feedback received. In response, the company made positive changes to the FY23 pay program by increasing the proportion of FY23 PSUs in the LTI to 55 percent, and eliminating duplicate metrics in the STI and LTI programs. In addition, a supplemental filing disclosed that equity grants values for the CEO and other NEOs will be reduced by 40 percent in FY23. Accordingly, the compensation committee has demonstrated adequate responsiveness to last year's low say-on-pay vote result. While some concerns are noted surrounding the size and structure of the LTI, which utilizes annual performance measurement periods and a duplicate metric, these concerns are mitigated as the company will no longer have overlapping metrics in FY23, and target values will be reduced significantly. In addition, half of the CEO's PSUs are now based on three-year TSR relative to the Russell 3000 Index, with the target requiring outperformance. While the company made significant positive changes to the FY22 and F23 pay programs, shareholders should continue to monitor the structure of the LTI going forward.

The compensation committee adequately responded to shareholder concerns following last year's low say-on-pay vote result. The proxy provides clearly outlined shareholder feedback and concerns, and commensurate actions taken by the committee to increase the performance component of the LTI plan as well as plans to enhance disclosure under the STI plan relating to individual performance. Concerns regarding the misalignment between CEO pay and company performance are also sufficiently mitigated for the year under review. Financial measures comprise 80 percent of the STI and all measures had targets set above the prior year's actual results. The CEO's equity mix is also 75-percent performance-contingent, tied to multi-year, pre-set objectives.

Adaptive Biotechnologies Corporation	06/09/2023	Management	3	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. In response to last year's low say-on-pay vote, the committee engaged with shareholders and a recent supplemental filing disclosed additional details surrounding its outreach efforts and specific feedback received. In response, the company implemented certain positive changes to the pay program. In addition, concerns regarding the misalignment between CEO pay and company performance are mitigated for the year under review. CEO pay decreased significantly year-over-year, and the annual bonus program was primarily based on pre-set objective metrics, with clearly disclosed target goals and actual results. Further, the CEO's annual equity grant is now half performance conditioned and measured over a multi-year period.

Advanced Emissions Solutions, Inc.	06/13/2023	Management	10	Yes	Approve Issuance of Shares for a Private Placement	For	For	For	For	Shareholders are being asked to approve the automatic conversion of preferred shares that were issued to former Arq holders as merger consideration. Although the conversion will be significantly dilutive, the rationale behind the business combination appears sound, as it would enable the combined company to target new and diversified high-growth end markets served by both powder and GAC products. Moreover, there is a material downside risk of non-approval given the escalating financial penalties embedded in the terms of the preferred stock should it not be converted into common shares. In consideration of these factors, support for this proposal is warranted.

However, there are significant concerns surrounding the executive chairman's total pay exceeded that of the CEO, which includes a high base salary at $1.8 million. Further, there are significant goal rigor concerns, as the company lowered metric goals for the annual bonus for the second consecutive year, with awards paid out above target despite a discretionary reduction by the committee.

Ambac Financial Group, Inc.	06/22/2023	Management	8	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	Following last year's low support for the say-on-pay proposal, the committee demonstrated sufficient responsiveness to shareholder's disclosed concerns. However, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted due to an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment. The company increased the weighting of financial STI metrics for 2023 and the majority of annual LTI awards are based on clearly-disclosed, multi-year goals. However, the two financial STI metrics carried over from the prior year were set at less rigorous levels as compared to the prior year's results without a corresponding reduction in payout opportunity, and were achieved at maximum, contributing to an above-target payout for the CEO. Additionally, there are continuing concerns regarding the magnitude of the CEO's equity awards, which was on par with the median total pay of company-selected peer CEOs, which contains several firms significantly larger than the company in terms of revenue and market capitalization.

American Equity Investment Life Holding Company	06/08/2023	Management	6	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Annual and long-term incentives were sufficiently performance-based for the year in review, but there are significant concerns with a special equity award granted to the CEO. The award is entirely based on achieving share price goals; however, the structure may result in vesting without requiring long-term sustained share price appreciation through the end of the performance period. Additionally, the award provides for vesting of the first tranche upon a CIC even if no performance goals are achieved. The award is also relatively large, follows another special award granted in late 2020 and early 2021, and there is no indication based on proxy disclosure that the 2022 special award covers, or offsets, future pay. In light of these concerns, the quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment is not mitigated. Additionally, the committee provided problematic severance benefits to an NEO in connection with a departure that is not clearly disclosed as involuntary. Specifically, the NEO received continued vesting of equity awards, which appears to be a discretionary enhancement. Providing enhanced equity treatment in connection with a departure that is not clearly disclosed as involuntary in considered problematic.

Bank of Hawaii Corporation	04/28/2023	Management	15	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. The CEO's target equity value is relatively high, and some concern exists regarding the use of similar metrics between the annual and long-term incentive programs. However, annual and long-term incentives are substantially tied to rigorous performance goals, and performance shares are limited to target payout and appear to require more rigorous performance at target than annual incentives. Concern regarding the magnitude of an NEO's front loaded equity award is mitigated given that the award is entirely performance-based, with rigorous relative goals over a four-year performance period, the NEO is ineligible for any other annual long-term awards during the performance period, and the annualized amount of the award over four years is not excessive. Given these factors, pay-for-performance concerns are mitigated for the year under review. However, continued monitoring of the pay program is warranted given the CEO's relatively high pay, and investors would benefit from improved disclosure surrounding future signing and make-whole awards.
Bank of Hawaii Corporation	04/28/2023	Management	16	Yes	Advisory Vote on Say on Pay Frequency	One Year	One Year	One Year	One Year	A vote for the adoption of an ANNUAL say-on-pay frequency is warranted. Annual say-on-pay votes are considered a best practice as they give shareholders a regular opportunity to opine on executive pay.

Barnes Group Inc.	05/05/2023	Management	12	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted. After last year's failed say-on-pay vote, the company engaged with investors, shareholder feedback was adequately disclosed in a supplemental filing, and changes to the program adequately address shareholder concerns. In addition, although a pay-for-performance misalignment exists for the year under review, sufficient mitigating factors have been identified. The new CEO's large cash and equity award was a make-whole award, with the equity portion entirely in the form of performance-conditioned options. Annual and long-term incentives were sufficiently performance-based, and annual incentives paid out below target, in line with performance. While some concern exists with respect to LTI goal rigor, changes for FY23 will address those concerns.

While the CEO's bonus opportunities were increased, annual incentives were primarily determined by pre-set objective metrics and the disclosure around performance goals and actual results improved. Cadence Bank	04/26/2023	Management	5	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	There is some concern surrounding median target setting for certain PSU metrics and a reduction in performance share weighting. However, CEO pay declined substantially following last year's one-time retention and integration awards, and the annual and long-term incentives were entirely based on objective metrics with forward-looking disclosure of goals. Accordingly, the quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment is mitigated. However, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted, as the compensation committee demonstrated poor responsiveness to last year's low say-on-pay vote. Although the proxy provides some details about meetings with shareholders, certain engagement details are lacking. Further, the proxy does not disclose any specific shareholder feedback, which makes it impossible to ascertain what actions would be responsive to shareholders' concerns as evidenced by last year's low say-on-pay vote result.

Calix, Inc.	05/11/2023	Management	5	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Although the STI and LTI programs grant awards entirely based on pre-set financial performance metrics, the annual equity grant is based on performance over a single annual performance period, raising concerns regarding the pay program's relatively short-term focus. Moreover, executives' FY22 equity awards were majority time-vesting as a result of significant off-cycle equity awards granted in entirely time-based stock options, undermining the program's link between pay and performance as well as raising concerns regarding the magnitude of total compensation for multiple NEOs. Finally, the CEO received a promotional award entirely in time-vested equity. Promotional awards are exceedingly rare, and large grants that lack any pre-set performance criteria are disfavored by investors.

Although the board did not conduct an auction process, the lack of additional bids since the announcement of the transaction partially mitigates this concern. Moreover, the offer represents a premium to the unaffected price, the cash consideration provides liquidity and certainty of value to CSII shareholders, and there appears to be downside risk of non-approval given the stock's outperformance since the unaffected date.

Although equity awards will automatically accelerate upon the merger close, cash severance is double trigger and reasonably based. In addition, no excise tax gross-ups are payable.

Central Pacific Financial Corp.	04/27/2023	Management	13	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. While there are some concerns regarding the increased pay opportunities for the CEO and goal rigor under both the annual and long-term incentive programs, sufficient mitigating factors have been identified or the year in review. The appointment of a new CEO in early 2023 was accompanied with a recalibration of target opportunities for FY23. In addition, the STI program is predominantly based on pre-set, objective goals, and the company provided enhanced disclosure of individual performance considerations. Further, half of LTI awards are based on multi-year goals, and vesting for the relative TSR component is now capped at target if absolute TSR is negative. The company also included retrospective disclosure for closing-cycle awards, which provides additional insight into the pay-for-performance linkage.

Although the pay-for-performance misalignment is sufficiently mitigated at this time as the annual incentive program was largely based on pre-set objective measures and half of the equity awards is performance-based. However, the company made a sizable cash severance to a NEO upon his retirement, which does not appear to be involuntary. This is considered a problematic pay practice.

Compass Minerals International, Inc.	02/15/2023	Management	11	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. Annual incentives are performance-based, with clearly disclosed goals, and long-term incentives are also predominantly performance contingent. While certain concerns are raised regarding the goal-setting for performance equity awards, FY22 grants were entirely performance contingent and the closing cycle grants were earned below-target. However, investors should continue to monitor long-term incentives given the increase in the value of equity awards as well as the expected removal of certain performance criteria for FY23 grants.

Dun & Bradstreet Holdings, Inc.	06/15/2023	Management	11	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted in light of an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment. Although the annual incentive program is sufficiently tied to rigorous objective performance criteria, there are significant concerns with the magnitude and structure of the long-term incentives. Specifically, retention grants to the NEOs were outsized and, in addition the NEOs' annual LTI grants for FY22, significantly elevated pay for four of the five NEOs, including the CEO. Further, although FY22 equity grants were entirely tied to performance conditions, the performance shares utilized a short-one year period and the option grant share price hurdle does not require sustained performance.

Eagle Bancorp, Inc.	05/18/2023	Management	11	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	The compensation committee demonstrated adequate responsiveness to last year's low support for the say-on-pay proposal. Nevertheless, there are ongoing concerns that underscore the quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment. Specifically, the magnitude of the CEO's pay opportunities remains very large, even after a recent reduction. There are also concerns regarding the structure and disclosures of the STI program, including a lack of clarity as to the quantified performance results that will result in maximum payouts. Further, while performance equity utilizes rigorous multi-year goals, some shareholders may object to the large grant size in light of sustained negative shareholder returns. In light of these concerns, a vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted.

Ecovyst Inc.	05/10/2023	Management	4	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted. The compensation committee demonstrated only limited responsiveness to shareholder concerns following last year's low say-on-pay support. In addition, significant concerns are raised with the pay program for fiscal 2022, given that a majority of equity awards are time-vesting, NEOs received significant additional time-vesting retention awards with a short vesting period, and forward-looking performance goals were not disclosed. These concerns are somewhat mitigated given that the CEO's pay significantly decreased, the company will return to an equity pay mix that is at least half performance-based, performance awards were either forfeited or earned below target in line with performance, and the short-term incentive program is entirely performance-based. Continued monitoring is warranted with respect to the use of retention awards as there is no firm commitment regarding such grants being used only in extraordinary circumstances, or for such grants to be performance-based in the future.

Element Solutions Inc	06/06/2023	Management	9	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Although annual and long-term incentives are predominantly based on pre-set, objective performance metrics, the committee made discretionary adjustments to allow for annual incentive payouts that otherwise would have been forfeited. Additionally, the committee granted an additional special equity award upon the vesting of the special award granted in FY19. Investors generally expect for special awards to be used sparingly, and the magnitude of the CEO's special award in FY22 was excessive. In addition, the company lacks risk-mitigating provisions such as a clawback policy, stock ownership guidelines or holding period requirements for executives, Equity awards allow for auto-accelerated vesting upon a change-in-control event, and excessive differentials between CEO pay and the pay of other named executive officers at the firm.

Although the offer represents a premium to the unaffected price, it represents a discount of 52.2 percent to the trailing one-year high closing price. Although concerns are noted regarding the management's rollover agreement, the board appears to have conducted an adequate sale process and there appears to be downside risk of non-approval, evidenced not just by outperformance relative to the index since announcement, but by questions about the company's ability to continue as a going concern on a standalone basis.

Enstar Group Limited	06/01/2023	Management	13	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Base salaries for the CEO and other select NEOs are high and contribute to large STI opportunities. Additionally, pre-set target goals are not disclosed for the majority of the restructured STI program. Further, the committee extended the performance period and term of an in-flight CEO equity award shortly before the end of the original performance period, which circumvents a pay-for-performance outcome. Accordingly, the quantitative pay-for-performance misalignment is not mitigated. There are also problematic pay practices identified for the year in review. The committee amended the CEO's employment agreement that increases the potential magnitude of a change-in-control payment in respect of the amended award, even if performance conditions are not achieved. Moreover, the amended employment agreement maintains a separate problematic single trigger change-in-control cash payment, which is akin to single-trigger severance.

The CEO's base salary is relatively high and continues to grow, while the annual bonus payout is based entirely on the compensation committee's discretion. Furthermore, concerns are raised with respect to the problematic provisions embedded in the company's existing change-in-control agreements with certain executive officers, such as excessive severance basis, modified single-triggered cash severance payment, and excise tax gross-up; the sizable perquisites provided to the CEO, and the company's lack of risk mitigating features that may benefit shareholders.

Euronet Worldwide, Inc.	05/18/2023	Management	4	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	A vote FOR this proposal is warranted, with caution. There is some concern surrounding the LTI structure, as a relatively small portion of total equity awards vest based on a true, multi-year performance period. Additionally, the CEO's equity awards increased amid sustained TSR underperformance. However, equity awards are entirely performance-conditioned and forward-looking goals are disclosed. Additionally, the STI program is entirely based on an objective financial metric with a rigorous target and maximum payouts under the program are substantiated by generally strong financial performance in FY22. Continued close monitoring of the LTI program and equity award magnitude is warranted.

Farmer Bros. Co.	01/12/2023	Management	12	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. While the compensation committee demonstrated sufficient responsiveness to a certain degree following last year's low say-on-pay support, the pay-for-performance misalignment is not mitigated at this time. The CEO's pay is relatively high during a period of poor long-term stock performance. While the bonus program is entirely performance-based, the CEO's performance awards are based on the same performance metric which appears to be measured annually during the performance period. When short- and long-term awards are based on the same performance metrics, this could result in duplicative payouts for the same performance. The performance goals for the long-term awards were also not disclosed.

Fastly, Inc.	06/14/2023	Management	5	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted as relatively large one-time equity awards to the new CEO contributed to a misalignment between executive pay and company performance during the year in review. Furthermore, the majority of the company's regular equity awards are time-based, and PSUs utilize a short one-year performance period with the same metrics as the annual incentive awards, thereby awarding executives twice for the same performance.
Fastly, Inc.	06/14/2023	Management	6	Yes	Approve Grant of Performance Based Stock Options to Artur Bergman	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. There are concerns regarding the magnitude of the proposed option award, which effectively locks in CEO-level pay opportunities for multiple years to a non-CEO executives. The structure restricts the board's ability to meaningfully adjust future pay levels or incentive metrics. In addition, one tranche does not utilize a rigorous target goal. Lastly, investors may question the need for another sizable stock award to a CEO who owns a substantial portion of the company's stock.

FirstCash Holdings, Inc.	06/08/2023	Management	5	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	For	For	For	There are some concerns raised by the relative TSR metric, in both the STIP and LTIP, that targets merely median performance. Further, the company does not disclose most forward-looking LTIP targets, which impedes a full assessment. However, the STIP was based entirely on objective performance measures and the larger awards are substantiated by improved performance. Further, the majority of the LTIP awards were performance-conditioned with a multi-year measurement period, and goals are disclosed retrospectively for closing cycle awards. On balance of these factors, a cautionary vote FOR this proposal is warranted.

G-III Apparel Group, Ltd.	06/08/2023	Management	15	Yes	Advisory Vote to Ratify Named Executive Officers' Compensation	For	Against	Against	Against	A vote AGAINST this proposal is warranted. Following low say-on-pay support last year, the board did not make any meaningful changes to address shareholders' expressed concerns. Further, an unmitigated pay-for-performance misalignment exists for the year in review. Although CEO pay declined in FY23, concerns remain with the structure of the STI, which has the potential to provide for outsized bonuses. In addition, while these awards are based on a financial metric, the selected metric does not require year-over-year improvement. Further, while CEO Goldfarb and NEO Aaron's LTI is entirely performance based, some concern is also raised surrounding the lack of forward-looking goals.
